

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1st, 1859.

NUMBER XL.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION

Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers. Railway Village, JOSIAH BARBOCK. West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE. Milton, CHARLES BRICK. Dorchester, ORIN P. RACON. Weymouth, F. A. KINGSBURY. Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELY. South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER. Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHOM DREW.

Miscellaneous.

The Poverty Cure.

Mrs. Durand was an invalid. For years she had been a victim to a complicated and baffling disease, which, for want of a better name, was christened by her physicians and friends, "nervous debility."

The slightest excitement or exertion left her utterly prostrated and weary, and every nerve and muscle in her system kept her painfully conscious of their existence. The luxuries that surrounded her were only to her a realization of the fable of the cup of Tantalus. True, she had an elegant carriage, fine horses, and many servants, but the fatigue of riding out was far greater than the pleasure of a ride, and she rarely attempted it. She had a fine library, but books she had not cared much for, and if she had loved reading, her eyes were so weak as to put that amusement out of the question. An extensive and choicely kept conservatory was a part of Mr. Durand's establishment, but the odors of the flowers made his invalid wife faint and sick; she had no taste for fancy work—that busy idleness which saves so many women from ennui. Embroidery, crochet, knitting, and netting, she had tried in turn, and each tired her and made her head ache. Her three children generally paid her a visit once a day; but it would be difficult to decide which enjoyed it least, or was more pleased to have it over—the boys or the mother. The children were glad to escape from the hushed, gloomy chamber, every thing they did seemed to be out of place and wrong, so constantly were they checked for being boisterous or troublesome; and Mrs. Durand experienced a sensation of relief when she kissed them all, and sent them safely marshaled out of the room by their nurse; for she had a comfortable consciousness that she had done her duty, and that she had seen the last of them for one day at least.

After this morning visit, she had nothing to do but to lean her aching head wearily back on the pillow and ease-chair until her physician's coming aroused her from her listlessness for a few moments. This call, and a brief one from her husband, just before dinner, were all that varied the monotony of her life.

Mr. Durand was a kind man, and reasonably fond of his wife; he had spared no pains or expense to restore her to health; he had made no objection to her trial of the pathies—Allopathy, Homoeopathy, Hydropathy; and had only shrugged his shoulders, when, as a last resort, Healing Mediums were called to the rescue. He had gratified her every whim; had taken her to every variety of climate; without a word of remonstrance had visited all the Springes far and near, in search of that health which was no where to be found, until at last, after going around the whole circle of remedies in vain, it had been Mrs. Durand's own proposal to remain at home under the care of her own family physician.

Meanwhile, as his wife's malady, though incurable, seemed not at all likely to prove fatal, Mr. Durand's anxiety, which at first had been extreme, died away. It grew to be a matter of course, that Maria should be sick, and his daily call and this stereotyped diagnosis became equally habitual.

Well, how do you feel to-day, Maria? No better—with a sigh. My head is as bad as ever. Sorry to hear it. A pause—then a glance at his watch. It is near dinner time. Good night, Maria. I wish you would sit at the table with me.

This conversation, almost without a variation, had been repeated day after day, until it was as much a part of Mr. Durand's life as his dinner and his cigar, the evening's paper, and the quiet rubber of whist with a few cronies that followed it.

The lonely evenings Mrs. Durand spent as she did her lonely days, reclining in her chair on a lounge; her thin white hands, shaded by exquisite and costly lace, folded and lying idly in her lap, while with half shut eyes she gave herself up to sad reveries.

It seemed almost like a dream to her to look back, as she often did, to the time when, a rosy, plump and joyous country maiden, she had raked hay, made butter and cheese, washed dishes, and even scrubbed the white floor of her aunt's neat kitchen. Her small hands, now so white and soft, had been red and hard once; her transparent cheek had been sun-burned and brown, but her rustic beauty had won the heart of the city merchant, whom business brought for a few weeks to the neighborhood of Mapleton, and not many months later she became his wife.

City life was entirely new to Maria Durand, and for a few seasons she had enjoyed it to the full. Parties, the opera, and all sorts of gaieties succeeded each other, until suddenly her health failed. And now, so young, while life held out to her a cup overflowing with a delicious and intoxicating draught, one drop of bitterness had poisoned it all. It was hard, indeed, and poor Maria Durand shed many scalding tears, as in the solitude of her own room, she contrasted the present with the past.

She had plenty of time for such reflections, for the calls of her many friends, and the inquiries for the health of "dear Mrs. Durand," had grown less and less frequent, until they had almost entirely ceased, and she who had been at one time a reigning belle—admired, flattered and envied—was now forgotten.

The circle in which Mrs. Durand had moved was not unusually heartless, but sickness is a test which never fails to distinguish the counterfeit from the genuine friendship, and it must be confessed that few human beings have a fountain of sympathy which will sustain a drain of four or five years in one direction without at times running dry.

As if conscious of this, isolade are very apt to make up for the deficiencies of others by bestowing all their own sympathies on themselves; absorbed in their own sufferings, they forget all others. Mrs. Durand was no exception to this general rule, or she would have observed that her husband was growing pale, thin, wrinkled and care worn.

He was strangely absent-minded; he came up to her room after dinner several times, and sat there silent and moody; if she addressed him, he replied at random, and she made no attempt at conversation.

She was lying on her couch one evening, when Mr. Durand entered the room. She did not look up; she hardly spoke—for she had felt unusually ill all day, and her head was still throbbing painfully. Her husband approached and stood by her side.

Maria, said he, I should like to talk with you a little, if you are able to bear it.

Something in his voice startled her; she looked up, and for the first time saw how haggard and changed he had grown.

What is it? she cried, starting up. How fearfully pale you look. The children?

Are perfectly well, he replied.

Has anything happened to you, Robert?

She asked. Maria, he said, hardly heeding her words, I am ruined—a bankrupt.

He buried his face in his hands, and his whole frame shook with emotion. In an instant his wife's arms were around his neck, her kisses on his brow, and her voice whispered words of comfort.

But you, dear Maria, he said, feeble as you are, what is to become of you? I could bear it myself; but to think of you and the children—it almost unman me.

Is all lost? she asked. I fear so. My honor, thank God, will remain unstained; but nothing will be left after the payment of my debts.

And how did it happen?

Her husband briefly told her of his misfortunes, which were mainly owing to losses at sea—for he was largely engaged in navigation; he rehearsed his struggles, told of his sleepless nights and anxious days, and Maria listened with moistened eyes and parted lips.

My own dear husband! she said, at last, kissing him fondly, and what are your plans for the future?

I have made none as yet. I have been overwhelmed in the present trouble. The future looks dark, indeed. When I think of you, in ill health, requiring every comfort, and yet feel that I shall be unable to supply your wants.

He stopped, for his voice was choked with emotion.

Do not speak so sadly, Robert. The future to me does not look dark. You made your own fortune; you can do it again; and as for me, if I have lived in luxury many years, I do not forget that I was once a poor country lass, and lived very happy without the many appliances of wealth that you have bestowed upon me. Dear Robert, let us submit with a good grace to our present troubles.

Mr. Durand shook his head sadly. You speak lightly, Maria, of giving up luxuries, forgetting that they have grown to be necessities to you. If you were strong and well, it would be different; even then it would be hard to exchange this house for one suited to our income, or rather lack of income, and, instead of having servants to do our bidding, to wait not only on yourself but on others.

It is very pleasant to be waited on, I admit, said Mrs. Durand, but I can do without it; and I have not forgotten how to sweep, and make beds, and bake. Try me, and you shall see that I am as good a cook as your French artiste. We will be happy, yet, Robert. Riches are comfortable but poverty shall not make us miserable.

Cheered in spite of himself by his wife's spirit, Mr. Durand began to talk of the future, and the evening, which began so gloomily ended quite pleasantly.

Robert Durand felt already like a new man; his wife's sympathy lightened the load which had well nigh crushed him, and he set about the settlement of his business with fresh courage.

From the wreck of his fallen fortune, he came out with a large stock of self-respect—for no man could charge him with dishonorable conduct—and a very small stock of capital with which to begin the world anew.

Mrs. Durand, meantime, was not idle. It was her part to see to the settlement of the domestic affairs, and though head and limb ached, yet she never complained. But to her surprise, her sleepless nights vanished—what opiate had failed to do, the magic of fatigue accomplished; and when at last the family were settled in a small but comfortable house, though she was very tired she yet felt that she was really better than she had been for a long time.

As months passed, her appetite, which had been capricious and variable, became natural and regular, and she gradually yielding to hold upon her, her thin features became rounded, her figure gained plumpness, and at last a faint color tinged her cheeks. In one short hour, the invalid, Mrs. Durand, was transformed into a fresh-looking matron.

With her health her spirits returned, and the children astonished her one day by telling her that they loved her a great deal better than they used to, because she was so nice, which adjective, when she pressed for its interpretation, was further explained to mean that she didn't tell them to keep still all the time, and she baked them nice cakes, and she told them stories, and she looked a great deal prettier.

This latter compliment, Mr. Durand, who had been a listener to the conversation, emphatically pronounced to be true enough. And she as good as she is pretty, little folks, he added, at the same time passing his arm around her waist.

Mrs. Durand looked up with a smile. We are not so very miserable, after all, she said shyly. Her husband's only answer was a closer embrace.

Years had passed, and Mr. Durand was again a rich man; once more his wife was mistress of a fine establishment—once more she attended and gave parties. But now she sat among the older people, and looked on to see her girls and boys enjoy, with all the zest of youth, the music and dancing.

She was still a healthy, comely matron, whose sparkling eyes, blooming cheeks, and luxuriant hair, many a younger woman envied.

She was sitting one evening at a party with a knot of friends, when a pale young creature joined them.

She looked so listless, so feeble and miserable, that Maria's thoughts at once reverted to her own past—for Mrs. Tyler seemed a perfect counterpart of what she had been at her age. So absorbed was she in her own thoughts, that she hardly heeded the conversation around her, till the mention of her own name startled her.

I was telling Mrs. Tyler, continued Mrs. Lorimer, that she reminded me of you when you were so ill so many years ago. It was the water cure, I think, that restored your health; was it not, Mrs. Durand?

No, Mrs. Lorimer; it was the poverty-cure. The what? cried a chorus of voices.

The poverty-cure, repeated Mrs. Durand. It was not very pleasant to take, but it restored me to health.

You are talking in enigmas; pray explain, said Mrs. Tyler, roused to a little animation.

Thus pressed, Mrs. Durand gave, briefly, the history of that period of her life which followed their reverse of fortune.

As she concluded her story, her husband joined the group to conduct her to the supper-room.

Rising, and taking his arm, she said: And so I regained my health; but that is not all for which I have to thank the poverty-cure.

How they make Coffee in France.

A cup of French coffee seems to have the effect to put Americans into ecstasies; yet a few of them are thoughtful enough to obtain from their French brethren the process by which the delicious beverage is decocted.—Of this few is a Backeye writing from Paris, who supplies the desired information.

In the first place it is scorching in a hollow cylinder, which is kept constantly revolving over a slow fire, and not a grain allowed to burn. Secondly, it is ground very fine, and thirdly when it is to be used, a portion of this placed in a finely perforated pan or cup, which exactly fits into the top of the boiler, coffee pot or any vessel you wish to use.—Boiling hot water is then poured on, and it percolates gradually through, carrying with it all the essential principles of the coffee.

As soon as percolation is completed, the pan is removed containing all the grounds, and then boiling hot milk is added to the infusion, and your coffee is made. It is brought on the table in bowls, with a knife and spoon, and a little willow basket of bread. The servant then places by your plate a tea dish, on which are two or three lumps of white sugar, always of a certain size, and you sweeten to your liking. In no instant is your coffee boiled, and this is one reason why the cafe au lait and cafe noir are so much admired by all who take them.

Longevity Promoted.

To a great extent, our life is in our own hands, although it is the prevailing fashion of the times to regard death, especially if it is premature, or if the person dying of any age occupies a position of influence and usefulness, as a "mysterious dispensation of Providence," when, in reality, "Providence" had nothing to do with it; had no direct agency in the matter; only indirectly in having founded the laws of our being. When men die short of eighty or an hundred years, it is the result of violated laws, and not of any fault on their own part.

If a sedentary man eats a hearty meal late in the day, or a laborious man does the same thing after long fasting and protracted exertion, ending in great bodily fatigue, and is attacked in the night with cramps, cholera, or cholera morbus, or other form of looseness of bowels, ending in death the next morning, there is no "mystery" in that. The man is his own destroyer, and in that destruction his Maker had no agency.

A man in the prime of life enters a crowded omnibus, after a long or rapid walk, which has induced free perspiration, the air appears alone to him almost suffocating, and with an insanity, resulting from detached scraps of knowledge about the advantages of pure air, he opens the window and the breeze is delicious; but before he is aware of it he finds himself chilled, and wakes up in the morning with acute throat disease, inflammation of the lungs or violent fever; or the magazine of impending consumption has been fired, and he wilts, and waste and dies—by his own hand,—from ignorance of the fact, that no air of any coach, or conveyance or crowded room, is a thousandth part as injurious or dangerous to a new comer, as the purest air that was ever breathed, if it comes with a draft upon one who is perspiring and remains in a still position.

The most talented and useful clergyman in the land, whose influence is widening and deepening every day for good, carrying all before him by the power of his eloquence, but after an unusual effort in which the heart, as well as the brain and body, all have been brought into an exhausting requisition, all heated and perspiring and debilitated, he feels it his duty to attend some urgent call, and hastes away into the cold, raw, damp air, the bleak wind whistling fiercely by, and in a week, in the midst of usefulness, he is laid in the grave, by peritonitis (abdominal inflammation, or quincy, or pleurisy—his own destroyer, for he acted as if he were made of iron, instead of flesh and blood. He threw his life away, in an indistinct impression that he was doing a good work, a miracle would be wrought for his protection; and because the laws of nature were allowed to take their natural course, it is deemed a "wonderful and mysterious dispensation of Providence," and we cry "His ways are past finding out."

A woman holds on her lap a lovely child. It was born perfect, fair and beautiful, but the aristocratic mother has not the stamina to feed it, for the natural fountain is short of a full supply, and ale and beer, and the universal milk punch are swilled by the pint and quart a day, to "make milk." But just in proportion as it is alcoholic, it is nutritive, it creates an appearance of flesh, strength, and thrift, but all as unreal and transient as Jones' gourd, and the child, by the excitement thrown to the head, dies of water on the brain; or if by virtue of the father's more robust and vigorous constitution and temperament, infancy and youth are survived, the instinct for excitement planted in the first year wakes up again at maturity, and the young lady wastes her intellect in the stimulus of novel reading, or the young man destroys intellect and body, too, in yielding to the fires of liquor and of license; and suddenly as the bank deposit of a spendthrift gives out, so suddenly is exhausted the vital force and he dies at his toilet, in his chair, at the table, or on the street, of "heart disease" the coroner's jury reports; a "mysterious dispensation of Providence" is the response from another direction. The true verdict is, "died by a mother's folly, committed twenty years ago!"

Great men are gentle. God is love. His way of removing his children from their lower home, is in tenderness, for he has appointed that in the habitual exercise of moderation, all the parts of the human machine shall wear out equally, one not faster than another—one no sooner than another; all gradually cease; all fail at the same instant; one worn out function does not cease its operation, while another in its full vigor arrives to go on without it; hence the universally observed fact is, that the very old die gently, without a struggle, and scarce a pang; die as an infant fails to sleep amid its mother's lullaby: "like as a shock of corn in his season."

So fades a summer cloud away,
So sinks the gale when storms are o'er;
So gently shuts the eye of day,
So dies a wave along the shore."

Hall's Journal of Health.

The Great Eastern.

This mammoth vessel, about to arrive at Portland, is thus described in the Boston Journal: "The Journal compares its size with well known localities, as follows:—

It is easy enough to give the exact dimensions of this naval monster, but hard to realize her vastness, after all. Perhaps we can get a better idea of it by comparison with some familiar objects. Thus her length, 691 feet, would enable her to take on her deck then allow a dozen feet of passage way at each end. If the Quincy Market (585 feet), were put on deck, there would still be room for Faneuil Hall, though the corners of these bulky freights might be troublesome. But as to breadth, old Faneuil would leave three feet to spare and the market 33. Four State Houses (173 feet long), could hardly be taken on board, because the fourth would stick out over the end of the vessel just one foot. If any one has a curiosity about the depth of the hull, let him remember the beautiful circle of lights near the ceiling of the Boston Theatre, and then understand that he looks upward through a distance (24 feet,) of four feet less than he would in gazing from the keel of the Leviathan to her upper deck. If one of her paddle wheels were pinned up against the side of the Athenaeum building, (60 feet high) it would leave only two feet above and below uncovered.

Stores to be supplied ship Great Eastern, for 800 first class passengers for the voyage out and home, says 21 days.

2,400 lbs prime Cumberland hams, 2,400 do prime smoked Wilt's bacon, 1,800 do finest white biscuit, 16,000 finest flour, 1,200 do Patna rice, 1,500 split green peas, 2,400 do refined sugar, 3,500 do fine raw sugar, 500 do fine black tea, 100 do fine green tea, 650 do fine roasted coffee, 2,400 do fresh butter, 600 do lard, 2,400 do cheese, 30 jars pickled tripe, 800 do new currants, 800 do mercantile raisins, 800 do valencias, 450 do figs, 400 lbs mustard, 60 do black pepper, 40 do white pepper, 20 do Cayenne. 150 jars salt, 250 boxes red herrings, 900 prime pickled ox tongues, 300 prime smoked ox tongues, 400 quarter tins Sardines, 400 half tins do, 100 bottles anchovies, 200 lbs candied peel, assorted, 500 pots breakfast paste, 500 two lbs jars marmalade, 220 dozen bottled fruits, 250 pint bottles sauces, 200 do Curry powder, 50 jars Curry paste, 200 pints capers, 200 pints salad oil, 50 bottles celery seed, 50 do dried herbs, 600 lbs mince meat, 40 do assorted spices, 80 do Julien au gras, 200 do Macaroni, 200 do vermicelli, 2,000 shell almonds, 2,000 do Barcelona nuts, 800 do French plums, 30,000 eggs 150 lbs condensed egg, 50 jars Malt vinegar paste, 100 tins yeast, 150 lbs hops 300 do malt, 100 lbs chocolate, 200 do dates, 500 do prunes, 450 bottles olives, 2,500 lbs wine biscuit and rusk, 1,200 lbs ginger nuts, 1,000 do Normandy pippins, 50 jars preserved ginger, 400 do arrow root, 400 do sage, 400 do tapioca, 500 packages groats, 40 dozen lemons, 40 do isinglass, 30 do gelatine, 100 Jordan almonds, 18 dozen assorted agencies, 20 lbs Curraway seed, 20 dozen baking powder, 200 lbs pearl barley, 6 dozen pints mushrooms, 80 tons of ice, to be kept in a fit and proper house provided by the ship, in which the following meats, poultry, game, fish, vegetables, milk, fruit, &c., &c., are to be properly packed: 6,000 lbs. mutton,

4,000 do beef, 2,000 do pork, 200 do sausages, 600 calves' feet, 300 legs of beef for soups, 4,000 fowls, 2,000 ducks, 500 geese, 300 turkeys, 600 pigeons, 600 grouse, 600 partridges, 300 hares, 600 ox tails, 120 calves' heads, 120 sucking pigs, 300 rabbits, fresh fish in any quantity assorted, 900 gallons of milk and 150 do of cream, green fruit of all descriptions, 100 lbs crystallized fruits, 100 do orange and lemon rings, 75 do root cakes.

This is for first class passengers only, and does not include preserved meats, oysters, wine, beer or liquors, nor any thing for the ship's company.

Profanity Rebuked.

The Rev. Samuel Wesley, father of the celebrated John Wesley, once went into a coffee-house, in London, for some refreshment. There were several gentlemen in a box at the other end of the room, one of whom, an officer of the guards, swore dreadfully. The rector saw that he could not speak to him without much difficulty; he therefore desired the waiter to give him a glass of water. When it was brought, he said aloud:

Carry it to you gentleman in the red coat, and desire him to wash his mouth after his oath.

The officer rose up in a fury; but the gentlemen in the room laid hold of him, one of them crying out:

Nay, Colonel, you gave the offence; you see the gentleman is a clergyman; you know it is an affront to swear in his presence.

The officer was thus restrained, and Mr. Wesley departed.

Some years after, being again in London, and walking in St. James' Park, a gentleman joined him who, after some conversation, inquired if he recollected having seen him before. Mr. Wesley replied in the negative. The gentleman then recalled to his mind the scene in the coffee-house; and added:

Since that time, sir, I thank God, I have feared an oath; and as I have a perfect recollection of you, I rejoiced at seeing you, and tude to God and to you.

A Hearty Laugh.

After all, what a capital, honest, jolly, glorious thing a good laugh is! What a tonic! What a digester! What a febrifuge! What an exorciser of evil spirits! Better than a walk before breakfast or a nap after dinner. How it shuts the mouth of malice and opens the brow of kindness! Whether it discovers the gums of age, the grinders of folly or the pearls of beauty; whether it racks the sides and deforms the countenance of vulgarity, or duple the visage or moisten the eye of refinement—in all its phases, and on all faces, colorizing, relaxing, overwhelming, convulsing, throwing the human countenance into something appropriate to Billy Burton's transformation; under every circumstance, and everywhere a glorious thing. Like "a thing of beauty," it is a "joy forever." There is no remorse in it. It leaves no sting, except in the sides, and that goes off. Even a simple unparticipated laugh is a great affair to witness. But it is seldom single. It is more infectious than scarlet fever. You cannot gravely contemplate a laugh. If there is one laughter and one witness, there are forthwith two laughter. And so on. The convulsion is propagated like sound. What a thing it is when it becomes epidemic.

Gluttony.

Solomon tells us that a glutton shall come to poverty; warns us not to be among the riotous eaters of flesh; and even bids us put a knife to our throats if we be men given to appetite. Is there no less desperate remedy?

Lord Byron once told a companion that if some demi-god would dictate to us just how much we ought to eat, it would put an end to half the miseries of the race.

Jonathan Edwards—we see noting in his Diary: "I find that I can not be convinced in the time of eating, that to eat more would be to exceed the bounds of temperance, though I have had two years' experience of the like, and yet three minutes after I have done, I am convinced of it. But yet again, I over eat, thinking I shall be somewhat faint if I leave off then; but when I have finished, I am convinced again of excess, and so it is from time to time. I have observed that more really seems to be the truth, when it is according to my inclination, than when otherwise."

Jefferson says that no man ever repents eating too little.

Sir Isaac Newton often dined on a penny's worth of bread.

Abernethy cured his indigestion and regained his flesh, by going into the country, where he could get good milk and eggs, and living upon it three times a day, with no drink but ginger-water. On this quality of

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY, HAVING returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stearns's Variety Store, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING,

Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of

Gold and Silver Watches,

Feb, Cut and Vest Chains,

LOCKETS,

Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted,

Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,

Gents' Pins and Studs,

FINGER RINGS,

Together with a large assortment of

Silver and Plated Ware,

Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a

LARGER STOCK

than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted as represented.

Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.

3-4 Coffin Plates Engraved—22

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.

Quincy Oct 24

at

ATTENTION.

The Largest and Most Complete

ASSORTMENT OF

HARDWARE

DOORS,

SASHES, &c., &c.,

Every offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon

Bailey, Carver & Co.

Having recently made large additions to our

</

Poetry.

There's Joy for You and Me.

The sunlight glads the mountain top
And glows upon the plain,
The tall corn nodding plays
Before the breeze again;
The hedges are bespoken with blooms,
Most beautiful to see,
There's life and love in everything,
And joy for you and me.

Come forth, and bring our new-born boy,
Where we may undisturbed pursue
Sweet nature's mystic book;
Where holding silent intercourse
With bird, and flower, and tree,
Our fancy's bark may glide adown
The stream of paradise.

Come forth, and bring our new-born boy,
Where we may undisturbed pursue
Sweet nature's mystic book;
Where holding silent intercourse
With bird, and flower, and tree,
Our fancy's bark may glide adown
The stream of paradise.

Come forth, and lean on my arm,
A gentle stroll we'll take,
Where foxglove hangs in strings of bells
Among the forest brake;
Where earl, lark and blackbird flood
The air with minstrelsy,
There's life and love in everything,
And joy for you and me.

Treasures of Thought.

If thou hast thrown a glorious thought
Upon life's common ways,
Should other men the gain have caught,
Fret not to lose the prize.

Great thinkers, often thou shalt find,
While fully plundered fame,
To thy rich store the crowd is blind,
Nor knows thy very name.

What matters that, if thou unveil,
The soul that God has given,
Not in the world's mean eye to fail,
But in the sight of Heaven?

If thou art true, yet in these lurks
For fame a hidden sign;
To nature go, and see how works
That handmaid of the sky.

Her own deep beauty she forgets
In fall of germs and seeds,
Not gazing herself,
Her flowers along her weeds.

She hides, the modest leaves between,
She loves untroubled rest;
Her richest treasures are not seen
By any eye but God's.

Accept the lesson. Look not for Reward; for out that chase
All selfish ends, and ask no more
Than to fulfil thy task.

Rest.

He does well who does his best;
Is he weary? let him rest;
Brothers! I have done my best,
I am weary—let me rest.

After toiling, oft in vain,
Battled, yet to struggle faint;
After toiling long, to gain
Little good, with niggard pain.

Let me rest—but by no law,
Where the hedge-side roses grow;
Where the little daisies grow;
Where the winds are coming now.

Where the footpath rustles gold;
Where the breeze how'd popular nod;
Where the old woods whisper God;
Where his pencil paints the sod.

Where the wedded thistles sing;
Where the young bird tries his wing;
Where the evening plover sings;
Near the rattle's rusty spring.

Where, at times, the trumpet's roar,
Shaking distant sea and shore,
Still will rave around and o'er,
To be heard by no more!

Then, beneath the breezy west,
Tired and thankful, let me rest—
Like a child, that sleepeth best
On its mother's breast.

One by One.

One by one thy duties wait thee,
Let thy whole strength go to each;
Let no future dream elude thee,
Learn thou what this work can teach.

One by one (bright gifts from Heaven)
Joys are sent thee here below;
Take them readily when given,
Ready, too, to let them go.

One by one thy griefs shall meet thee,
Do not fear an armed band;
One will fade when others greet thee,
Shadows passing through the land.

Anecdotes.

A humorous divine, visiting a gentleman whose wife was none of the most amiable, overheard his friend say:
If it was not for that stranger in the next room, I would kick you out of doors.
Upon which the clergyman stepped in and said:
Pray, sir, make no stranger of me.

Little Johnny was the pride and pet of his parents—a bright, blue-eyed six-year-old. His father, one morning, after reading a chapter in the Bible, asked him what a famine was. His quick reply was:
A cob without any corn on it.

In a small party, the subject turning on matrimony, a lady said to her sister:
I wonder, my dear, you have never made a match; I think you want the brimstone.
To which she replied:
No, not the brimstone; only the spark!

A promising boy, not more than five years old, hearing some gentlemen at his father's table discussing the familiar line—"An honest man's the noblest work of God," said he knew it wasn't true. His mother was better than any man that was ever made.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, fifth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. What ever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending from parents to children upon the third and fourth generation; indeed, it seems to be the lot of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or acrid matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which renders the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous tubercles, but they have less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by its taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by it.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alternative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eruptions and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Lascr, or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Bores, Ulcers, Pruritus, and Itch, Tetter, and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworms, Rheumatism, Syphilis, and Mercurial Diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Debility, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIALIZED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSICIAN.

are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their purgative properties search and cleanse and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of these properties, the laxative effects of these pills, with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and invigorating.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis any American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Headache, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Action of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Dropsy, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from declining and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the people no longer hesitate what medicine to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

PREPARED BY

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.

LOWELL, MASS.

FOR SALE BY

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, and all Medicine Dealers.

Quincy, Aug 6

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY.

HAVING returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stearns's Variety Store, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING.

Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of

Gold and Silver Watches,

Fob, Cuff and Vest Chains,

LOCKETS,

Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,

GENTS' Pins and Studs,

FINGER RINGS,

Together with a large assortment of

Silver and Plated Ware,

Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail price. He will also keep a

LARGER STOCK

than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted as represented.

Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.

22-Carat Plates Engraved.

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.

Quincy Oct 24

GEORGE WHITE,

Counsellor and Attorney at Law,

No. 5 Tremont Street,

BOSTON.

Quincy, March 5.

NATHANIEL WHITE,

—HAS FOR SALE—

LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

—ALSO—

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood.

QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

BOWDITCH'S

Quincy and Boston

EXPRESS.

OFFICE—39 & 40 South Market Street,

And 48 Liberty Square,

BOSTON.

SLATE AT DANIEL BAXTER & CO'S,

NIGHTINGALE'S PROVISION STORE,

AND THE HANCOCK HOUSE.

All orders, thankfully received and promptly attended to.

Quincy, Jan 22

New Arrangement.

FURNALD'S

QUINCY EXPRESS

LEAVES BOSTON, DAILY.

AT 2 12 O'CLOCK, P. M.

38 South Market St. and 3 Washington St.

Quincy, June 5

KENISON & FOLLETT,

JOBBER AND COMMISSION DEALERS IN

Butter, Cheese, and Eggs,

Beans, Dried Apples,

AND COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Cellar, 19 Merchant Row, Boston

GEORGE W. KENISON,

GEORGE D. FOLLETT.

Jan 15

W. M. BABBITT, M. D.,

Homeopathic Physician.

HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

OFFICE HOURS:

7 to 8 A. M. 12 to 1 P. M.

Quincy, Sept. 11.

LIVERY STABLE.

AT Hardwick's Express Stable, on Hancock

street, near the Quincy Patriot Printing

Office, new and excellent CARRIAGES

for individuals or parties, on the very best terms

Transportation of Merchandise, Furniture,

&c., attended to with care and despatch.

The traveling public accommodated with good STABLES, at all times.

Good Drivers furnished, if desired.

Every effort will be made to serve patrons,

and a share of support is respectfully solicited.

Hardwick's Boston Express.

PARTICULAR attention given to the purchase of Goods and to the transportation of them, and valuable PACKAGES, CARRIAGES,

Dispatch in the collection of Notes, Drafts,

and Bills.

All orders, thankfully received, and carefully and expeditiously attended to.

Hours of Departure.

From Quincy—8 o'clock, A. M.

From Boston—2 o'clock, P. M.

OFFICES IN BOSTON—34 Court Square,

(Railroad Exchange,) and 40 South Market

street.

Quincy, April 9

LIVERY STABLE.

THE subscriber having purchased the establishment of George J. Jones, on Hancock street, and made additions thereto, is prepared, at the old stand, to accommodate his friends

and the public with

Horses and Carriages.

PLEASURE PARTIES furnished with teams

and drivers, or single carriages, at the shortest

notice.

Personal attention given to the business, and a liberal support from the public solicited.

DAVID E. ROBY.

Quincy, Nov. 13.

Paper Hangings.

JUST received, and for sale by the Subscribers, an assortment of Paper Hangings, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere, by

GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 26

Boot and Shoe Findings!

KNIVES, NAILS, PEGS, BRISTLES,

THREAD, AWLS, KITTLES,

RASPS, BUFFERS,

TACKS, &c.

A good Assortment—low for Cash.

J. FRANKLIN BURRELL.

Quincy, March 12

Burnett's Cocaine.

FOR preserving and beautifying the Hair,

and rendering it dark and glossy. Thom-

son's Golden Lustrate. The German Toilet

Balm, and various other hair preservatives, for sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, June 26.

Salt Pork.

FIRST rate article of Salt Pork packed by

the subscribers for sale by the barrel or smaller quantities to suit purchasers. cheap for cash.

GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, Dec 6.

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Household, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate them.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,

WILLIAM S. MORTON,

TREASURER,

ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

SECRETARY,

STEPHEN BATES,

DIRECTORS,

Quincy, Milton,

William S. Morton, Charles Brock,

Israel W. Munroe, Dorchester,

Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,

Whitcomb Porter, Cabasset,

Stephen Bates, Solomon J. Beal,

William B. Duggan, Hingham,

Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gay,

R. B. Leachars, South Hingham,

Randolph, Alfred Loring,

Royal W. Turner, North Bridgewater,

South Braintree, Sumner A. Hayward,

Apollos Randall, Barnstable,

Dedham, George Marston,

Jonathan A. Cobb,

References, by permission:

HON. GEORGE T. HIGGLOW, of Boston,

HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, JR., of Boston,

HON. AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield,

HON. JAMES MARSH, of Randolph,

HON. SIMON LINCOLN, of Hingham,

HON. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., "

OFFICE:

Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple

April 1.

GROCERIES, FLOUR,

AND

ATTENTION.
The Largest and Most Complete ASSORTMENT OF HARDWARE
DOORS
BLINDS
SASHES, &c. &c.,
Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon
Bailey, Carver & Co.
Having recently made large additions to our stock of
BUILDING MATERIALS, are prepared to furnish them at prices to compete with the times.
CHEAPER THAN EVER!!
We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.
DOORS,
SASHES,
BLINDS,
WINDOW GLASS,
NAILS,
SHEET LEAD,
FRAMING PINS,
WINDOW FRAMES,
DOOR BELLS,
SCREWS,
&c., &c.
PORTICE LOCKS,—in a great variety.
ISO—Pad, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash
Locks;
PORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S
LATCHES;
Steel, Glass, Mineral and Manganese Knobs;
BLAKE'S BUTTS,
AND AXLE PULLEYS,
A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.
Wrought, Fancy Plate,
STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;
SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;
Ramon's Patent Lever Blind Fastenings—Crown's Improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of high Fastenings.
Foster's Patent Window Supporter,
the best thing ever used in the place of weights;
DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.
DON'T FORGET
AT THE OLD STAND OF
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 22. if
Hall's Great
SCROFULAR REMEDY.

THIS Purely Vegetable Preparation is pleasant
and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, raising neither vomiting nor purging. It acts directly upon the primary cause of disease
regulates the bowels, removes all vitiated secretions, giving healthy action to the liver and correcting the stomach. It overcomes that debility of Languor which is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and renovates and restores the vital energy and Physical Strength.
In thousands of cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous Humors, such as Scurvy, Rheumatism,
Scald Head, Tumors, Ulcers, Bores, Abscesses, Asthma, Coughs, Catarrhs, Rheumatism, Fever,
Sores, White Swellings, Dropsy, Boils, Baler's Itch, Piles, Old Sores, and all diseases which manifest themselves by Eruptions on the Skin, it has been used with the most gratifying success, after every other known remedy has been tried and failed to afford relief.
It is also an effective cure for Liver Complaint,
Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Costiveness and Derange-
ment of the Urinary Organs.
It is an infallible remedy for irregularities and other diseases peculiar to FEMALES, such as Weakness and Pain in the Back, Strangury, Affection of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart,
Dizziness and Headache.
It can be given with perfect safety and most desirable results in all cases, to any person from infancy to old age.
Made and sold by WM. SMITH HALL, Sole
Proprietor, Quincy, Mass., to whom all orders
must be addressed. Sold also by Redding & Co.,
No. 8 State street; Geo. C. Goodwin, No. 99
Union street, Boston, and all Druggists and Medicine Dealers throughout the United States.
Mrs. E. HAYDEN, AGENT,
Quincy, Dec. 13. ly
C. C. JOHNSON,
Druggist and Apothecary,
GOODNOW'S BUILDING,
CORNER of Hancock and Granite streets,
keeps constantly on hand a large assortment
of Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs,
Fancy Articles, Perfumery, Havana Cigars,
Foreign Fruits and Swedish Leeches.
Physicians' Prescriptions,
Carefully compounded, with neatness, accuracy
and despatch, and warranted of the purest quality.
Quincy, Nov. 13. if
THE MOUNTAIN DEW!
The Most Splendid Hair Dressing
in the world.
$100 REWARD!
THE above reward will be paid to any one
that will produce so good an article, for all
the purposes of a hair dressing.
For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN, C. C. JOHN-
SON, and by Dealers in Perfumery everywhere.
Geo. C. GOODWIN & CO., M. S. BURS
& CO., Wholesale Agents, Boston.
July 16. if

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXII. QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 8th, 1859. NUMBER XLI.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.
JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.
CONDITIONS.
Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.
No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrearages, unless at the option of the publisher.
Advertisements are accepted and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged
until ordered out.
The privilege of annual advertisements is limited
to their own immediate business.
Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will be received early attention.
AGENTS.
The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.
Railway Village, JOSHUA BABCOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BECK.
Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON.
Weymouth, F. A. KINGSEY.
Arlington, JOSEPH CLEVELY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERHARD DEWE.

Miscellaneous.
Boston Correspondence.
Boston, Sept. 29, 1859.
A glance at European news.—The Great Eastern—China War revived.—Sickness of the Pope of Rome and Bey of Tunis.—Unsettled condition of European Govern- ments.—California.—Massachusetts State Election.—Governor Banks.—General But- ler.—School Reform Party in Massachu- setts.
The European news of the present week are highly important and exciting. The explosion on board the Great Eastern Steamship by which many persons were killed and wounded is the theme of conversation here in all circles. By some, the accident is re- garded as a bad omen, and many are doubt- ful of her ever crossing the Atlantic in safety. Her sailing day is now protracted to October 28th next, and is the source of great disap- pointment to the good people of Portland, who expected and prepared for her about this time. In consequence of the Chinese diffi- culties, England is to send a strong naval reinforcement to the Chinese waters, and France has ordered twelve thousand men to be in readiness to depart. The king of Sar- dinia continues popular. Deputations from Parma and Modena had waited on him, sol- iciting to be annexed to his kingdom. Italian matters generally, are in an unsettled con- dition. The Pope of Rome is said to be dan- gerously sick. His death would produce much political commotion in Southern Europe. The Bey of Tunis is also very ill. Within a short time there is to be important changes in European governments, whether for better or worse, remains to be seen. It would not be surprising to see a general war in Europe within one year. The elements of strife and jealousy manifest a tendency that way. Even our own country is not safe from the evils of war; our position with England is extremely delicate on the Central American and Island of San Juan matters. Wise negotiations will alone save us from hostilities with Great Britain.

The latest advices from California, repre- sent business as dull, and except for mining operations, the inducements there for labor or trade, are no better than in Massachusetts. The State Campaign is now fairly open for the election of State officers. Governor Banks continues popular, and with the Re- publican ticket, will be re-elected by a great majority. There are a few of his party that seem disaffected, and would have wished to nominate some one else in his stead, but the opposition was small. The administration of the Governor has been characterized with such marked ability and desire to promote the best interests of our time-honored Com- monwealth, that he has a fast hold on the confidence and esteem of its people, apart from partizan lines. From present appear- ances, his only competitor, is to be the Hon. B. F. Butler, the Democratic nominee. A gen- tleman of fine talents and highly respected, he will receive some forty thousand votes for Governor. General Butler is a native of New Hampshire; a graduate, I think, of Brunswick College,—and the sole arbiter of his fortune and fame. Having, like Web- ster, Banks, Wilson, Governor Briggs, &c., started a poor boy, and worked his way up to positions of honor. A third nomination for Governor may be made by the American party, but the vote throughout the State, would, from present appearances, be not over five thousand. A fourth nomination has been talked of for Governor and a new State ticket, by the friends of Free School Educa- tion, opposed to the abolition of the School District System, the giving such plenary powers to School Committees, "to do as they please," in all cases of school affairs; and urging a more equitable distribution of the School Fund from the State. But this new anti School Committee party, will prob- ably make not much of a demonstration at the coming election; so sound as many of their views may be in the management of our great School System of Education. x.

The Boy Heroes
When Kentucky was an infant State, and before the foot of civilization had trodden her giant forests, there lived upon a branch of the Green River, an old hunter by the name of Slater. His hut was upon the southern bank of the stream, and save a small patch of some dozen acres that had been cleared by his own axe, he was shut up by dense forests. Slater had two children home with him—two sons, Philip and Daniel—the former fourteen and the latter twelve years of age. His elder children had gone South. His wife was with him, but she had been for several years an almost helpless cripple from the severe attacks of rheumatism.

It was early in the Spring and the old hunter had just returned from Columbia, where he had been to carry the produce of his winter's labor, which consisted mostly of furs. He had received quite a sum of money and had brought it home with him. The old man had for several years been accumulating money, for civilization was rapidly approach- ing him, and he meant that his children should start on fair terms with the world.

One evening, just as the family were sit- ting down to the frugal supper, they were attracted by a sudden howling of the dogs, and as Slater went to the door to see what was the matter, he saw three men approach- ing.

He quickly quieted the dogs, and the strangers approached the door. They asked for something to eat, and for lodgings for the night. John Slater was not a man to re- fuse a request of that kind and he asked the strangers in. They set their rifles behind the door, unsling their packs, and room was made for them at the supper table. They represented themselves as travellers bound west, intending to cross the Mississippi in search of a settlement.

The new comers were far from being agreeable or prepossessing in their looks, but Slater took no notice of the circumstance, for he was not one to doubt any man. The boys, however, did not like their appearance at all, and quick glances which they gave each other told their feelings. The hun- ter's wife was not at the table, but she sat in her great easy chair by the fire.

Slater entered into conversation with the guests, but they were not very free, and after a little while the talk dwinded to oc- casional questions. Philip, the elder of the two boys, noticed that the men cast uneasy glances about the room, and he watched them narrowly. His fear had become excited, and he could not rest. He knew that his father had a large amount of money in the house, and his first thought was that these men were there for the purpose of robbery.

After supper was over, the boys quietly cleared off the table, then went out of doors. It had become dusk, or rather the night had fairly set in, for there was a moon two-thirds full, shining down upon the forest.

Daniel, said Philip, in a low whisper, at the same time casting a look over his shoul- der, what do you think of these 'ere men?

I'm afraid they are bad ones, returned the younger boy.

So am I. I believe they mean to steal father's money. Didn't you notice how they looked around.

Yes.

So did I. If we should tell father what we think, he would laugh at us, and tell us we were perfect scare-crows.

But we can watch 'em, but do not let them know it.

The boys held some further conversation, and then going to the dog-house, they set the small door back, so that the hounds might spring forth if they were wanted. If they had desired to speak to their father about their suspicions, they had no chance, for the strangers sat close to him all the evening.

At length, however, the old man signified his intention of retiring, and rose to go out of doors to see the state of affairs without. The three followed him, but they did not take their weapons. The old lady was asleep in her chair.

Now, whispered Philip, let's take two of father's rifles up to bed—we may want them. We are as good as men with the rifle.

Daniel sprang to obey, and quickly as possible the boys slipped two rifles from their pockets behind the great stove chimney, and then hastened back and emptied the priming from the stranger's rifles, and when their father and the strangers returned they had resumed their seats.

The hunter's cabin was divided into two apartments on the ground floor; one of them in the end of the building being the old man's sleeping room, and the other room in which the company at present sat. Overhead there was a sort of scaffolding reaching only half way over the room below it, and in the opposite end of the building from the little sleeping apartment of the hunter. A rough ladder led up to the scaffolding, but it was all open to the room below.

Spare bedding was spread upon the floor of the kitchen for the three travellers, and after everything had been arranged for their com- fort, the boys went to their beds, and the old hunter retired to his little room.

The boys thought not of sleep, or if they did, it was only to avoid it. Half an hour passed away, and they could hear their father snore. Then they heard a movement from those below. Philip crawled silently forth where he could peep down through, and saw by the rays of the moon, one of the men take several pieces of raw meat and moving to- wards the window, he shoved the sash back and threw the pieces of flesh to the dogs. Then he went back to his bed and laid down.

At first the boy thought this might be thrown to the dogs to divert their attention; but when the man laid down, the idea of poisoning flashed through Philip's mind.— He whispered his thoughts to his brother. The first impulse to little Daniel, as he heard that his poor dogs were to be poisoned, he was about to cry out, but a sudden pressure from the hand of his brother kept him quiet.

At the end of the boy's bed, was a dark window, a small square door, and as it was directly over the dog-house, Philip resolved to go down and save the dogs. The under- taking was a dangerous one; for the least noise would arouse the villains, and the con- sequence might be fatal. But Philip Slater found himself strong in heart, and he deter- mined upon the trial. His father's life might be in his hands. This thought was a tower of strength itself.

Philip opened the window without moving from his bed, and it swung on its hinges with- out noise. Then he threw off the sheet and tied the corner of it to the staple by which the window was hooked. The sheet was then lowered on the outside, and carefully the brave boy let himself out upon it. He enjoined his brother not to move, and then he slid noiselessly down. The hounds had just found the meat, but they drew back at their young master's beck, and Philip gather- ed all the flesh up. He easily quieted the faithful brutes, and then quickly tied the meat in the sheet.

There was a light ladder standing near the dog-house, and setting this up against the building, Philip made his way back to his little loft, and when safely there he pulled the sheet in after him.

The strangers had not been aroused, and with a beating heart the boy thanked God. He had performed an act, simple as it may appear, at which many a stout heart would have quailed. The dogs growled as they went back to their kennel, and if the stran- gers heard them, they thought the poor ani- mals were growling over the feast they had found.

At length the hounds ceased their noise and all was quiet. An hour passed away and so did another. It must have been near midnight when the men moved again, and the lad Philip saw the rays of a candle flash up through the crack of the floor on which stood his bed. He would have moved to the crack where he could peep down, but at that moment he heard a man upon the ladder. He uttered a quick whisper to his brother, and they both lay perfectly still. The fel- low seemed perfectly satisfied that they were asleep, for he soon returned to the ground floor, and then Philip crept to the crack. He saw the men take knives and he heard them whispering:

We'll kill the old man and woman first, and then we'll hunt the money. If those little brats up there (pointing to the scaffold) wake up, we can easily take care of them, said one.

But we must kill them all, said another of the villains.

Yes, returned the speaker, but the old ones first.

Down the ladder, quick! he whispered to his brother. Down, and start up the dogs! Run for the front door and throw it open—it isn't fastened. Oh, do let the dogs into the house as quick as you can! I'll look for father while you go!

Daniel quickly crawled out through the little window, and Philip seized a rifle and crept to the head of the scaffold. Two of the villains were just approaching the door of his father's room. They had set the candle down on the floor, so that its light would fall into the bed room as the door was opened. Philip drew the hammer of his rifle back, and rested the muzzle upon the edge of the board. One of the men had his hand upon the latch. The boy heard uttered a single word of heartfelt prayer, and then he pulled the trigger. The villain, whose hand was upon the latch, uttered one sharp, quick cry, and then fell upon the floor. The bullet had passed through his brain.

For an instant the two remaining villains were confounded, but they quickly compre- hended the nature and position of their en- emy, and they sprang for the ladder. They did not reach it, however, for at that instant the out-door was flung open and the hounds—four in number—sprang into the house. With a deep, wild yell, the animals leaped upon the villains, and they had drawn them upon the floor just as the old hunter had come down from his room.

Help us! help us, father! cried Philip, as he hurried down the ladder; I've shot one of them! They are murderers, robbers! Hold 'em! hold 'em! the boy continued, clapping his hands to the dogs.

Old Slater comprehended the nature of the scene in a moment, and sprang to the spot where the hounds had the two men on the floor. The villains had both lost their knives, and the dogs had so wounded them, they were incapable of resistance. With much difficulty the dogs were called off, and the two men were lifted to a seat. There was no need of binding them, for they needed some more restorative agent, as the dogs had made quick work in disabling them. After they had been looked to, the old man cast his eyes about the room. They had rested a moment on the body of him who had been shot, and then turned upon the boys. Philip had told him all that had transpired. It was some time before the old hunter could crowd the whole truth upon his mind; but as he gradually comprehended it all, a soft, grateful, proud look, broke over his bronzed features, and he held his arms out to his sons.

Noble, noble boys! he uttered, as he clasped them to his bosom. God bless you for this! Oh, I dreamed not you had such hearts.

For a long time the old man gazed on his boys in silence, while tears of love and grati- tude rolled down his cheeks, and his whole face was lighted up with the most joyous, holy pride.

Long before daylight, Philip mounted the horse, and started for the nearest settlement, and early in the afternoon, the officers of jus- tice had the two wounded men in charge, while the body of the third was removed. They were recognized by the officers as criminals of notoriety; but this was their last adventure, for the justice they had so long outraged fell upon them and stopped them in their career.

Should any of our readers chance to pass down the Ohio river, I beg they would take notice of a large white mansion which stands upon the southern bank, with a wide forest park in front of it, and situated some eight miles west of Owensburgh. Ask your steamboat captain who lives there, and he will tell you—"Philip Slater & Brother, retired fur merchants." They are the Boy Heroes of whom I have been writing.

Instinct of Appetite.

We constantly notice, at our own table, that a child will be ravenously fond of a par- ticular dish, and after a while turn from it. The reason is, that there was a constituent in the much-loved food which the system re- quired, and which it drank up greedily until it was fully supplied, and then instinct would receive no more. A thirsty man, like the arid soil, drinks in the water, until the one is full and the other is saturated, and then the water is refused or rejected. The soil will not receive it, and it flows off; and when a man has enough, he becomes nausea- ted if he tries to drink more. To most per- sons, water has a very disagreeable taste, if it is attempted to be forced.

The practical conclusion to be drawn from these facts is simply this: Do not force your children or yourselves to take one sin- gle mouthful of any food or drink which they do not like. In sickness or health, consult the instinct of the app- etite, and yield to them implicit and instant obedience. There is sometimes a morbid appetite, and if indulged in freely, injurious, if not fatal effects may follow; but in the most of these cases, even, we prefer to believe that it is the quantity which does the harm, and not the quality; so that we are in the habit of saying to some classes of dyspeptics, "Eat what you most crave; but if you find that it is uniformly followed by some disagreeable feelings, in- stead of discarding that article of food, take half as much the next time, and continue to diminish the quantity until it is found out how much of its favorite dish Nature can take with perfect impunity. If a spoonful only can be taken with perfect impunity, give Nature that spoonful as long as she craves it."

Most of us can call to mind cases where a craved dish or drink was most imperatively forbidden, under fear of death, if indulged in; and yet, the patient in desperation, has gotten up in the night, satisfied the appetite, and recovered from that hour. We advise the safer plan; take a very little at a time of what is so earnestly craved, and gradually feel the way along to an amount which Na- ture will bear. Physicians may rest assured that if the instincts of the invalid and the convalescent were more closely observed and studied, they would be more successful, with less medicine.—Dr. W. W. Hall.

We Die Daily.

The bodies of animals are continually un- dergoing a series of invisible changes of sub- stance, of which they are entirely uncon- scious. We look at our hand to-day, as we write, and we fancy it has the same sub- stance as it was yesterday, or last year—as it was ten years ago. The form of each finger, of each nail, is the same. Scars made in our infancy are still there; nothing altered or obliterated; and yet it is not the same hand. It has been renewed over and over again since the days of our youth. The skin and flesh, and bone, have been frequently re- moved and replaced. And so it is, more or less, with our whole body. The arms and limbs that sustained us in our school-boy struggles were long since consigned to the dust, and have perhaps lived over again more than once in plant, or flower, or animal. In from three to five years, the entire body is taken out and built in again with new mate- rials. A continued activity prevails among the living agencies to which this hidden work is committed. Every day a small part is carried away, just as if a single brick were every day taken out of an old wall, or a single wheel out of a watch, and its place supplied by another. The body, therefore, requires con- stant supplies, at every period of its life, of all those things of which its several parts are built up.—North Brink Review.

Earth's Fashions.

Earth's fashions never changes. Glorious, too, the sky above her, in its vesture of fade- less blue and studding of blazing brilliants. The race run mad after new fashions, and brains are racked for new styles. But earth wears the one she wore six thousand years ago. It annually fades, and leaf and bloom drop from its field, but the mysterious alche- my of the season retouches the garments with the same varied and beautiful coloring. Not a leaf, or blade, or flower, has changed. The sky has the same blue, and the stars are as bright as when they sang together in the morning of creation. The lilies of the valley; they toil not, neither do they spin—yet the creation of art cannot vie with their beauty. How calmly and how grandly Nature marches on to the music of the winds, the streams, the songs of birds, and the falling of the rain, her night journeys lit by the "lamps on high," and the sunbeams of the days glisten- ing on her peaceful armor of flowers and foliage. We are glad that earth's fashions never changes.

Do the Right Thing.

Whenever you are in doubt which of two things to do, let your decision be for that which is right. Do not waver, do not parley, but square up to the mark, and do the right thing. Boy! when you divide that apple with your little sister, be careful not to keep the largest half yourself. Young man! don't sneak out of the basement door because you wish to escape your father's eyes. Maiden! let not the most trifling deceit pass current in those little acts which make the sum of your life.

No matter who you are, what your lot or where you live, you cannot afford to do that which is wrong. The only way to obtain happiness and pleasure yourself, is to do the right thing. You may not always hit the mark, but should, nevertheless, always aim at it, and with every trial your skill will in- crease. Whether you are to be praised or blamed for it by others; whether it will seemingly make you richer or poorer, or whether no other person than yourself knows of your action, still, always, and in all cases, do the right thing. Your first lesson in this will grow easier, until finally doing the right thing will become a habit, and to do a wrong will seem an absolute impossibility.

Ventilation.

There is always a draught through key- holes and window crevices, because as the external air is colder than the air in the room we occupy, it rushes through the window crevices to supply the deficiency caused by the escape of the warm air up the chimney. If you open the lower sash of a window, there is more draught than if you open the upper sash. The reason of this is because if the lower sash be opened, cold air will rush into the room and cause a draught inward; but if the upper sash be opened the heated air of the room will rush out, and of course there will be less draught inward.

A room is best ventilated by opening the upper sash, because the hot, ventilated air, which always ascends towards the ceiling, can escape more easily. The wind dries damp linen, because dry wind, like a sponge, imbibes the particles of vapor from the sur- face of the linen as fast as they are formed. The hottest place in a church or chapel is the gallery, because the heated air of the building ascends, and all the cold air which can enter through the doors and windows keeps to the floor till it has become heated.

Special attention should be given to the ventilation of sleeping-rooms; for pure air and an abundance of it are, if possible, more necessary when we are asleep than when we are awake. Sleeping-rooms should be large, high and airy, more especially in warm lat- itudes, and in situations where the windows have to be closed at night on account of mal- aria.

Seeking Information.

Can you direct me to the — Hotel? in- quired a gentleman with a carpet bag, of a burly Hibernian, standing on the step of a railroad station.

Faith, was the reply, it's jist I can do the same. You see, you jist go up that strate, till you come to Thaddy O'Mulligan's shop, then—

But I don't know where Thaddy O'Mul- ligan's shop, as you call it, is.

O faith, why didn't I think of that? Well, then, your honor must keep on till ye git to the apple woman's stand, on the corner of the brick church it is, and keep that on the right, and go till you get to the sign of the big watch, and mind you don't fall down there away; then you kape on a little farther till ye come to a big tree, and after that you turn to the right or left, but by the bones of St. Patrick, I don't know which.

The traveler turned in despair to a long, lank Jonathan, who was standing whittling close by, and made the same inquiry.

Maybe ye're going to put up there? queried Jonathan.

Yes, I intend to.

Did you come from far off?

Yes from Philadelphia, was the impatient reply; but can you tell me where the—

Got any more baggage? said the imper- turbable Yankee.

No, this is all, said the traveler, convinced that the only way to get the direction was to submit to the questioning.

Going to stay long?

Couldn't say, was the reply, in rather a crusty manner. But I am in a hurry, and would like to be directed—

Wait a minute. I reckon you are a mar- ried man, ain't you?

No, I am not; and now I won't answer anything more till you have answered.

Well, squire, said the Yankee, coolly, I'd like to oblige you, but the truth is, I have never been in the town before, myself.

In less than a minute, a carpet bag with a man attached was seen hurrying away from that vicinity. He didn't find asking direc- tions, of any particular advantage.

Scolding.

"A little girl, not six years of age, screamed out to her little brother, who was playing in the mud,—

Bob, you good-for-nothing little scamp, come right into the house this minute, or I will beat you till the skin comes off.

Why, Angelina, Angelina dear, what do you mean? where did you learn such talk? exclaimed the mortified mother, who stood talking with a friend.

Angelina's childish reply was a good com- mentary upon this manner of speaking to children:

Why, mother, you see we are playing, and he's my little boy, and I'm scolding him just as you did me this morning; that's all.

Her tone and manner corresponded, as they usually do. Fretting and scolding must neces- sarily have a different dialect from their opposites. The influence upon the daughter was unmistakable. Yet the mother never supposed that like was producing like in the child, until she was thus keenly rebuked.—Happy Home.

Death.

As life approaches extinction, insensibility supervenes—a numbness and disposition to repose, which do not admit of the idea of suffering. Even those cases where the ac- tivity of the mind remains to the last, and where nervous sensibility would seem to continue, it is surprising how often there has been observed a state of happy feeling on the approach of death. "If I had strength enough to hold a pen, I would write how easy and delightful it is to die," were the last words of the celebrated William Hunter, during his last moments.

Montaigne, in one of his essays, describes an accident which left him so senseless, that he was taken up for dead. On being restored, however, he says: "Methought my life only hung upon my lips; and I shut my eyes to help thrust it out, and took a pleasure in languishing and letting myself go." A writer in the Quarterly Review, records that a gentleman who had been rescued from drowning, declared that he had not experienced the slightest feeling of suffocation. The stream was transparent, the day brilliant, and as he stood upright, he could see the sun shining through the water, with a dreamy consciousness that his eyes were about to be closed on it forever. But he neither feared his fate nor wished to avert it. A sleepy sensation, which soothed and gratified him, made a luxurious bed of a watery grave.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, October 8th, 1859.

"BORN TO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

PRICE AND LOSS OF LIVES. Through the kindness of Lewis Bass, Esq., Coroner in this town, we learn the following sad and painful particulars of a fire that took place at Neponset Village, on Thursday evening last. A house occupied by John Spear, Jr. and Wm. Harris, and owned by the former, was discovered to be on fire, by a domestic left by Mr. Harris and wife to take care of their children—a boy of seven, and a girl of three—while they attended a religious meeting. The servant fled from the house as soon as she discovered it on fire, leaving the children behind, and before they were rescued the fire was extinct. The house was nearly destroyed, and is insured in Dorchester.

SINGING SCHOOL. The meeting at Lyceum Hall, on Wednesday evening last, to make arrangements for a Singing School, was well attended. The course will commence on Tuesday evening next, at 7 1/2 o'clock, which will be free to all "who can sing or wish to learn."

Such an opportunity was never offered before! Do not fail to avail yourself of it. Mr. Perkins needs no recommendation; he is sufficiently recommended himself. He is gentlemanly in his deportment, while his style, and manner of teaching, are admirable. He evidently understands his business, and is just the man we want. Go and see for yourself.

A NEW LIGHT. "Dr. GREEN'S Self-Generating Lamp." Mr. Caleb Packard has purchased the right of this new invention, and is the sole agent for this place. We are writing by one of a five ft dimension, which burns with a most pleasant and agreeable flame; not painful to the eye—but with a rich mellow light, like a miniature reflector of the great orb of day. Its construction is very simple—easily kept in order, and with very little labor may always be in readiness for use. It readily consumes the most common fluids, and may be moved or carried about with perfect safety. For an editor's sanctum, domestic purposes generally, or the workshop and counting room, we should think it an indispensable article. We are of the Dr.'s opinion, that it is destined eventually, to supersede many of those now in use—particularly the Kerosene. There are many objections to this kind of lamp, which we do not recollect of setting stated before. Its towering chimney renders it unsuitable for mechanical and other business pursuits. It is also very liable to get out of order. Many cases have we witnessed, where after hours of patient trial, it has been set aside in despair, another substituted in its place, of less pretensions, but of better make, and superior qualities. And then the odor thrown off from the article by which it is fed, is very offensive to the olfactory, except those brought up in the atmosphere of a gas house. It is said to generate a gas, which if inhaled, is very unhealthy; producing an irritation of the lungs—a tickling sensation—which we have often experienced, but at the time, attributed it to an affection of another kind. In the article here offered, all these difficulties are obviated. A cheap, safe, and economical light is promised, backed by strong recommendations, and numerous testimonials, setting forth its excellent qualities, which it would seem might satisfy the most credulous.

Mr. Packard has a large assortment on hand, at his extensive warehouse, corner of Hancock and Granite streets, which adds additional lustre to his other large and rich stock of goods, to all of which, an examination by the public is respectfully solicited.

BITTEN BY A RATTLESLAKE. A Mr. Hunt, (whether a citizen of this town or not we cannot say,) while riding one day this week at the west part of this village, observed a Rattlesnake lying across the highway: he struck the reptile with his whip, and supposing it dead, attempted to raise it, when he was severely bitten in his finger. His hand and arm were terribly swollen before he sought medical assistance. Dr. Pattee has him under his care, and we are pleased to learn that he is likely to recover. Quite a medical achievement.

READER, if you are troubled with piles, sores of any description, rheumatism, or burns, get a box of MR. MOTHER'S SALVE, it will cure you. See advertisement.

NEW INVENTION. Dr. Wm. Smith Hall, of this town, has invented a new Churn, of which, in our humble estimation, supersede many now in the market. Mr. H. appears to have turned his ingenuity to good account. Any improvement in this important article of domestic use, will be hailed with joy and rapture by every dairy-maid throughout the breadth and width of the country. Who that is familiar with the duties of the farmhouse, does not recollect the old barrel Churn, with its up and down dasher—the many hours of toil which they have spent over it of a summer's morning, and the interest which they have watched the first formation of the little greasy globules—the turning point, which would release them from their wearisome labors. Times have altered since we were a boy; what was then considered a drudgery is now relieved of half its weight, by the light of science. Every improvement, therefore, which saves labor, must be admitted a benefit to the community. The following description, will furnish a key of the mechanical advantages claimed by Dr. Hall in his new invention:

This Churn is composed of a square box, in which is a perpendicular hollow shaft, to which is attached hollow and solid arms, radiating at right angles from the shaft. By the side of the shaft, but not attached to it, is a frame of stationary transverse bars. On the top of the shaft is a rotary fan; when the shaft revolves, the fan forces a current of air down through the shaft and out through the hollow arms, which produces a vertical action upon the cream; at the same time a transverse action is produced by the rotary motion of the solid arms; the transverse stationary bars preventing in a great measure the rotary motion of the cream; the rotary arms passing between the bars, causes, in connection with the vertical action produced by the air, a thorough agitation of every part of the cream. At the same time, the whole of the inside arrangement is made of wood, and is so constructed that it makes but two pieces, and is easily cleaned and not liable to get out of order.

LADIES' DRESS GOODS. We take pleasure in calling the attention of our lady readers to the advertisement of Blake & Co., No. 5 Tremont Row, Boston. They have just received from the New York Auctions a superb stock of Fall Silks and Silk Robes, which they are offering at the smallest advance on the first cost. Their selections have been made with special attention to the New England first class trade, and ladies may be assured of finding, in their stock, all the most desirable and stylish patterns. These goods have just come from the Paris markets, and are every thing that can be desired, in style and quality. Their facilities for buying in New York, enable them to offer to their customers great inducements for purchasing; and we commend all those in want of Silks, Shawls, Capes, &c., to an examination of their stock before purchasing elsewhere. See their advertisement in to-day's paper.

For the Patriot.
A Word about "Clerical Councils."

MR. EDITOR: If the good old town of Quincy is not a paradise of pious and devout Christians, it is not for the lack of "Clerical Councils" held therein. Now, I mean to tell you at once, that I do not like these clerical councils. I like the clergy well enough, individually—I mean in their own place—but generally speaking, these "Councils" are used for the purpose of befogging the people, or white-washing the black sheep among themselves. I do not know whether that one was a "Mutual" or "ex-Parte"—the result, I think, is the same. I do know, if the old Society takes its advice and consents to do all that is cunningly implied therein, they are greater fools than I take them to be. Here they are first ordered to white-wash the character of their late most estimable pastor. Then they are asked to fall down on their knees and beg humbly his pardon for having offended him; and finally, they are asked to deliver up to the other party, all and everything which they hold as a Church and Parish. And for what? What concessions are to be made on the other side? Why none at all—but take possession, and laugh in their own sleeve; and probably tell the old Society—to go about its business.

Now Sir, I'm a reconciliation man, out and out. People will quarrel sometimes, especially on politics and religion; but why should good citizens and good neighbors keep tossing hot poker at each other, without any real cause? And why should a handful go here, and a handful go there, as long as one house is big enough for both to worship in.

If any one can make anything more out of the "Result" than I have stated above, I should be glad to know it. And yet these Reverend gentlemen prate about mutual affection, Christian kinship, and the things that make for peace. Heaven save the mark.

THEOLOGICALS.

THE MEDICINA. prepared by Mrs. Wood, on Cottage Avenue, we are gratified to learn, continues to preserve its high character, and to gain on the public favor, as a most infallible remedy for bilious complaints, and diseases arising from any irregularity in the digestive organs. It is a powerful assistant of Nature in all such disorders.

Fall style Mole Skin Hats, for sale at C. Gill & Co.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE. We learn that at a recent meeting of the Board of Selection and School Committee, of this town, in Convention, Mr. George H. Locke was chosen School Committee in the place of C. I. Badger, resigned.

Good fitting Boots and Shoes, at C. Gill & Co.

Special Notices.

NOTICE. The Members of the Hancock Light Guards, are hereby notified to meet at their Armory, this SATURDAY EVENING, October 8th, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

EDWARD A. SPEAR, Clerk.

NOTICE. A meeting of the American Republican party, of Quincy, will be held in the Lyceum Room, on MONDAY EVENING, Oct. 10, at 7 1/2 o'clock, for the purpose of choosing delegates to attend a Convention to be held in Taunton, Oct. 12, for the nomination of a Senator for the East Norfolk Senatorial District; also to attend a Convention to be held at Braintree, Oct. 10th, to nominate a Senator for the East Norfolk Senatorial District; also to attend a Norfolk County Convention for the nomination of County officers.

GEORGE SAVIL, Sec. Town Com.

Quincy, Oct. 8.

EAST NORFOLK DISTRICT SENATORIAL CONVENTION. A Convention of the legal voters of the East Norfolk Senatorial District, comprising the towns of Braintree, Milton, Quincy, Randolph, Stoughton, and Weymouth, who are opposed to the present National Administration, are requested to elect Delegates to a District Convention, to be held at the Town House, in Braintree, on WEDNESDAY, the 19th instant, at 3 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Senator from said District.

The several towns are requested to send each one Delegate, and one additional Delegate for every two hundred voters, according to the last State Census, which will entitle Braintree to four, Milton to three, Randolph to six, Quincy to seven, Stoughton to five, and Weymouth to nine Delegates.

SAMUEL BARCOCK,
GEORGE L. GILL,
JAMES HUMPHREY,
SAMUEL W. CURTIS,
JOHN S. LITTLEFIELD,
FRANCIS A. HOBART,
Quincy, Oct. 8.

NOTICE. The Annual Meeting of the ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION for the choice of Officers and other business, will take place at Barker's Hall on MONDAY EVENING, Oct. 10, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

A full attendance is requested.
Per order, C. H. PORTER, Sec'y.

FRAGMENT SOCIETY. The Annual Meeting of the Fragment Society will be held at the house of Mrs. Lunt, on WEDNESDAY, Oct. 12, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

All those wishing to become members are requested to be present.

Honorary members are desired to send in their annual subscriptions.

A. WHITNEY, Secretary.
Quincy, Oct. 1.

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING.
Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.

In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall,
Mr. George Atkins, of Boston, will speak to-morrow.

Quincy, Oct. 8.

BUSINESS NOTICE. The subscribers hereby give notice that their places of business will be closed at 8 o'clock, every evening, excepting Saturday, from October 1, 1859 to April 1, 1860.

Edwidge Clapp, Bristol & Whitney
Nathan Aborn, Quincy Store Co.
C. Gill & Co., Caleb Packard, B. F. Messervey, John C. Holden, N. B. Funnell, J. P. Barrell, Miss Susan Reed, Mrs. A. J. Kennison, Miss M. A. French, Joseph W. Lombard, Thomas Dodds, John Russell, D. D. King, John Dinegan, John A. Holden, Quincy, Sep. 24.

Deaths.
In Fremont, (Mr.) Sept. 28, of consumption, Mrs. Eliza M., wife of Mr. George M. Pierce, of this town, aged 40 years.

THE NEW STYLES ARE NOW READY AT THE
ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,
158 Washington St., Boston.

Macaular & Williams,
158 Washington St. Boston.

LOST.
A MERSCHAUM Tube, for which a liberal reward will be paid to the finder by leaving it at THIS OFFICE.

SHAWLS.
E. CLAPP now offers a large lot of beautiful Shawls at very low prices.
Give him a call soon.

Quincy, Oct. 8.

Leave Your Orders.

At prices to correspond with the times.

FALL & WINTER MILLINERY GOODS,
Varying in Quality and Price.

Bonnets.—In pretty styles, colored and white. Straw, from 50 cents to $1. Those at 50 cents are a Decided Bargain.

Ribbons.—One hundred new pieces in beautiful colors and high colors from 17 to 50 cents per yard. Also a great variety of narrow ribbons, prettily for children's bonnets, and dress trimmings from 10 to 16 cents.

Flowers.—I have the largest variety ever before in Quincy, of French and American manufacture, at prices varying from 10 to 50 cents.

Bonnet Velvets.—From 2 to 24 per yards. I have also another material which I will make into bonnets for 3 to 50.

Satin.—In good variety of colors, desirable this season with lace and flowers for Misses' Bonnets.

Feathers.—I have a good assortment of different colors and prices; some as low as 25 cts.

Laces and Edgings.—In different quality and prices.

Ruches.—made by hand. Also the joined laces at a low price—some Very Nice which would make a splendid trousseau.

Those leaving orders for any style of Bonnet, trimmed satin, silk or velvet—we will endeavor to give satisfaction, both in price and style of goods.

Bonnets made over and repaired in the best manner.

Velvet Ribbons.—by the piece or yard, all widths, at low prices.

Children's Cap-crown Satin Hoods.—made to order. Also, Ladies' Hoods and Head-dresses.

Dress Caps.—from 25 cents to $1 50—Black and White.

Cheerful.—of different colors, soft and wired.

Black Lace Veils.—in pretty styles; with the usual assortment of Mourning Furnishings Goods; Silk and Cape Bonnets, Veils, Collars, Gloves, by the yard, Alpine and Cape for Veils of lace, &c.

Glove Cloths. in every material used for that purpose.

ROOMS.—Goodnow's Building, Corner of Hancock and Granite streets.

A J. KENISON.

Quincy, Oct. 8.

List of Letters,

Remaining in the Quincy Post Office, Oct. 1st, 1859.

Adams Thomas
Arnold Joseph
Allen Frances Miss
Bemis George
Britten James
Brown George

Cook Robert
Clark John S.
Cary John J.
Cary Mary Miss
Clapp Louisa D.
Cheon Eliza C. Miss

Daniels John Durston Hugh
Downey Patrick 2
Dow Lorenzo
Dinan Catherine

Eldrey Wm
Elroy M. Miss
Frome August
Foil John
Finnigan Thomas
Fisk Louisa

Glover J W
Goodnow Geo S
Golden John
Gregory Walter
Gibbden Harry M

Haws A G
Heyer John
Howley William
Harriman Samuel
Holman Louis
Holpin Michael
Hooie J M Mrs
Hayward Juliette

James J Henry—2
Jones Wm G
Keller P C
King Thomas

Persons calling for these letters, will please say they are advertised.
GEORGE BAXTER, Postmaster.
Quincy, Oct. 8.

Administratrix's Sale.
BY virtue of a License from the Court of Probate and Insolvency for the County of Norfolk, granted the first Tuesday of October, A. D. 1859, will be sold at Public Auction on MONDAY, October 24th, 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon on the premises, a Lot of Land containing about one-fourth acre with a Dwelling house thereon, situated in Weymouth, and bounded as follows: Northernly by land of George Nash, Easternly by Front street, Southernly by a public way, and Westernly by land of George F. Nash, deceased, being a part of the premises owned by the late George F. Nash, deceased. The same to be sold subject to the widow's right of dower therein.

SARAH J. NASH, Adm'x.

Weymouth, Oct. 8.

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribing heretofore, appointed Administratrix of the Goods and Estate of late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Stone Cutter, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

ANTONIO OTT,

WM. B. DUGGAN, Administratrix.

Quincy, October 8th, 1859.

To Fruit Growers.

150,000
Fruit & Ornamental Trees,
PLANTS, ETC.,

COMPRISING Pear, Apple, Cherry, Peach, Plum, Quince, Deciduous, and Evergreen Trees, Shrubs, Roses, Athanas, Honey-suckles, Grape Vines, Currants, Gooseberries, Strawberries, Rhubarb, Asparagus, Buckthorn, &c. For sale by WALKER & CO., Roxbury, Mass.
A lot of EXTRA SIZED Pear and Apple Trees can be furnished. Catalogues sent to applicants.
Roxbury Oct 8

Administratrix's Sale.

BY virtue of, and pursuant to, a License from the Court of Probate and Insolvency, in and for the County of Norfolk, will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY, the 31st day of October, current, at three o'clock P. M., the following parcel of Real Estate, which was owned and occupied by at the time of his decease, to wit:—A parcel of land with a Mansion House, Shop, Barn, and buildings thereon, situate on Sanford street, Dorchester, and bounded North on said street, West and South on land of a Church, West also on land of Bridges. Said Estate is subject to mortgages and incumbrances which will be stated at the time of sale.

JOSEPH RIPLEY.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, Adm'x.
Dorchester, Oct. 8th, 1859.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk ss. Probate Office, Oct. 1. A. D. 1859.

A Instrument purporting to be the last Will of late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, having been presented for Probate by Lewis Bass, the person named therein as Executor thereof.

JONATHAN BASS,

Ordered, That said EXECUTOR notify all persons interested therein that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a Court of Probate, to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the Twenty-ninth day of October, A. D. 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, by publishing this Order, either successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate and Insolvency.
Quincy, Oct. 8.

BURNS, &c.

MES' Lotions for burn, scalds, cuts, bruises, toothache, chilblains, &c., &c.
For sale by
Quincy, Sept. 18.

To Let,

A NEW and beautiful Hall, recently fitted up by the Quincy Stone Division, No. 73, Sons of Temperance, and occupied by them, will be let on reasonable terms, to individuals, parties, or societies.

For Terms, &c., apply to
Quincy, Sept. 17.

RUSSIA SALVE
VEGETABLE OINTMENT
Has been used and sold in Boston for the last thirty years, and its virtues have stood the test of time.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES RUINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CANCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EYES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ITCH.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PILES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD HEAD.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES NETTLE RASH.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CUTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES TLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FISTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUMATISM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES INGROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER STINGS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ERUPTIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FROZEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WENS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BOILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLESH WOUNDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FIRES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BRUISES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHAPPED HANDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPRAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SWELLED NOSE.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ERYSIPELAS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES LAME WRIST.
Bites of Venomous Reptiles are instantly cured by this

EXCELLENT OINTMENT.
EVERY MOTHER WITH CHILDREN, and all Heads of Families, should keep a Box in the cupboard, or on the shelf, which is handy to use in all cases.

CASE OF ACCIDENT.
Price, 25 Cents per Box.
Put up in large size metal boxes, with an engraved wrapper, similar to the above engraving, and which none are genuine.

Sold in the United States and Canada by all well-known Country Druggists, at most of the Patent Medicines, Druggists, and by

Redding & Co., Proprietors,
No. 8 State Street, Boston.

Cheap! A Good Chance.
J. F. BURRELL has a few pairs of those Boots, which he will sell for $1 62.

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the former price $1 88, which he will sell for $1 58.
Men's Congress Boots—Old Price $2 00—for $1 75.

Ladies' Misses' and Children's Boots and Shoes for sale and warranted.

Next Door to Quincy Market House.
HANCOCK STREET.
Quincy, March 12.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

ELEGANT STOCK OF DRY GOODS!
5 TREMONT ROW, BOSTON.

BLAKE & CO.

INVITE the attention of the public to their large and new Stock of

Rich Fall Silks,
AND SILK ROBES,
Shawls, Capes, Cloaks, Cloaking, and Velvets.

Printed Tibets.
CASHMERES, DELAINES, VALENTIAS, &c.

We have just opened a CLOAK MANUFACTORY of our own, and our stock of Cloak, Talmas, &c., is unsurpassed. Garments made to order and warranted.

Having purchased largely from the recent New York Auctions, we are prepared to give the public great bargains in Dry Goods, particularly in SILKS.

BLAKE & CO.
5 TREMONT ROW, BOSTON.

Opposite head of Hanover Street, BOSTON

Sept. 24

NEW ATTRACTIONS!

ANOTHER NEW FEATURE AT

CHAPMAN'S

DAGUERRETYPE SALOON,

Washington sq.—opposite the Hancock House.

The Photograph Art Revised.

AND SUCCESSFULLY PRACTISED.

THE subscriber, ever grateful for past favors, takes this method of informing his friends and patrons, that since his return, he has materially enlarged his business, by adding New and more Extensive Instruments.

ALSO—Securing the services of an EMINENT AND EXPERIENCED OPERATOR, that he is now prepared to execute as good as can be done by any other artist in the country; and at prices never than usually charged in the city. In this department we admit of no rival.

PHOTOGRAPH WORK,

Having been so long before this community, and so universally known in the profession, any further allusion on that point we deem unnecessary. Our only object in this notice, is, to call the attention of the public to this new branch of our business, which for beauty and excellence, we have numerous testimonials from the highest authority—and specimens, which we invite all to examine. Our expenses thus far, in making the necessary arrangements, has been considerable; but we felt justified in running this risk, in the belief that we were serving the public, and that our labors ultimately would be crowned with success. If we should be so fortunate, our stay may be considered permanent, otherwise it will be short. The Photograph Art must be seen to be appreciated, we, therefore, again extend a general invitation to all, to pay us an early visit.

Quincy, Sept. 24

DANIEL CHAPMAN.

if

Partnership Notice.

THE subscribers having formed a Partnership with a view to carry on the Wholesale and Black-and-white business under the name of Tirrell & Sons, at the stand heretofore occupied by Charles P. Tirrell, on Hancock street in Quincy, where the patrons of the Old Stand and the public generally are invited to leave their orders which will be promptly attended to.

CHARLES P. TIRRELL,
QUINCY TIRRELL,
C. PHILLIP TIRRELL.

Quincy, May 25.

Refreshment Saloon.

ELEGANT STOCK OF DRY GOODS!

5 TREMONT ROW,
BOSTON.

BLAKE & CO.

ATTENTION of the public to their large and new stock of

Rich Fall Silks,
and silk robes.

Rich and New Styles.

Printed Thibets.

SHIMMERES, DELAINES,
VALENTIAS, &c.

have just opened a CLOAK MANUFACTORY of our own, and our stock of Cloak, Tailor, &c., is unsurpassed. Garments made to order and warranted.

Having purchased largely from the recent New York Auctions, we are prepared to give the public bargains in Dry Goods, particularly in

BLAKE & CO.

5 TREMONT ROW,
Boston, Mass.

Opposite head of Hanover Street, BOSTON

NEW ATTRACTIONS!

ANOTHER NEW FEATURE AT

CHAPMAN'S

GUERRETYPE SALOON,

on Shington Sq., opposite the Hancock House.

The Photograph Art Revived

AND SUCCESSFULLY PRACTISED.

HE subscriber, ever grateful for past favors, takes this method of informing his and patrons, that since his return, he has materially enlarged his business, by adding new and more

Extensive Instruments.

LSO—Securing the services of an EM-PIRE, that he is now prepared to execute as well as any other artist in the city, and at prices lower than usually charged in the city. In this department we can be done by any other artist in the

city, and at prices lower than usually

charged in the city. In this department we can be done by any other artist in the

city, and at prices lower than usually

charged in the city. In this department we can be done by any other artist in the

city, and at prices lower than usually

charged in the city. In this department we can be done by any other artist in the

city, and at prices lower than usually

charged in the city. In this department we can be done by any other artist in the

city, and at prices lower than usually

charged in the city. In this department we can be done by any other artist in the

city, and at prices lower than usually

charged in the city. In this department we can be done by any other artist in the

city, and at prices lower than usually

charged in the city. In this department we can be done by any other artist in the

city, and at prices lower than usually

charged in the city. In this department we can be done by any other artist in the

city, and at prices lower than usually

charged in the city. In this department we can be done by any other artist in the

city, and at prices lower than usually

charged in the city. In this department we can be done by any other artist in the

city, and at prices lower than usually

charged in the city. In this department we can be done by any other artist in the city, and at prices lower than usually

Administratrix's Sale.

BY Virtue of a License from the Court of Probate, of Norfolk County, granted the fourth Tuesday of August, A. D. 1859, to the said Public Auction, on TUESDAY, November 1st, 1859, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises, a parcel of Land with the Buildings thereon, situated in Quincy, and bounded and described as follows:—Southly on land of Job Faxon, Easterly on Summer Street, Northerly on Liberty Street, and Westerly on land of Thomas J. Nightingale, being the premises owned by the late John Curran.

ELIZABETH CURRAN, Adm'x.

Quincy, Oct 1

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscrber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

JAMES NEWCOMB,

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Stone Contractor, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having claims against the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to OLIVER T. NEWCOMB, Administrator.

Quincy, Oct 1

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

OF

REAL ESTATE.

Will be sold at Public Auction, on the premises, on MONDAY the twenty-fourth day of October next, at 10 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of satisfying a certain mortgage, made by Leonard L. Perry to the Quincy Loan Fund Association, dated twentieth day of July, A. D. 1858, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Lib. 25, fol. 40, for default of the payment thereof and by virtue of the power of sale therein contained, the land and premises therein described in said mortgage, and all benefit and equity of redemption thereof, the same consisting of a certain lot of land with buildings standing thereon, situate in Quincy, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Southly on South Street, beginning at a stake forty feet from land of George T. Bigelow, then measuring eighteen rods, Easterly on land of Melville L. Atwood, seven rods and twelve feet, thence running Westerly about one rod, thence running Northerly about four rods, thence

Westerly on land of S. R. & C. H. Edwards, fourteen rods, thence Southly to the point of beginning, nine rods and six feet, by and by that part of the aforesaid mortgaged premises, which has been released by the said association, which part is bounded and described as follows, to wit: beginning at a stake on South Street, forty feet from land of George T. Bigelow, and adjoining land of S. R. & C. H. Edwards, and running south and South Street ten rods and ten feet, thence running in a North-easterly direction thirteen rods and eleven feet, adjoining land of said Leonard L. Perry, thence North westerly on land of S. R. & C. H. Edwards eight rods and fifteen feet, thence South westerly nine rods and eight feet to South Street, and running south and South Street ten rods and ten feet, thence running in a North-easterly direction thirteen rods and eleven feet, adjoining land of said Leonard L. Perry, thence North westerly on land of S. R. & C. H. Edwards eight rods and fifteen feet, thence South westerly nine rods and eight feet to South Street, and running south and South Street ten rods and ten feet, thence running in a North-easterly direction thirteen rods and eleven feet, adjoining land of said Leonard L. Perry.

Terms made known at the time and place of sale.

L. CONGDON, Secretary.

W. W. BAXTER, Auctioneer.

Quincy, Sept. 24, 1859

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

THE undersigned, citizens of the town of Weymouth, in this Commonwealth, respectfully ask your Honorable body, to enact a law, that shall upon certain conditions, allow the County Commissioners of the Counties of Norfolk and Plymouth to lay out the following road, to wit: from the intersection of the County Highway, to the intersection of the County Highway, and from the intersection of the County Highway, to the intersection of the County Highway.

E. S. BEALS and others.

Weymouth, Sep. 24

Commissioners' Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned have been legally appointed by the Hon. Judge of Probate and Escheator of the County of Norfolk, to receive and collect the taxes on the land and buildings thereon, situated in Quincy, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: Southly on South Street, beginning at a stake forty feet from land of George T. Bigelow, then measuring eighteen rods, Easterly on land of Melville L. Atwood, seven rods and twelve feet, thence running Westerly about one rod, thence running Northerly about four rods, thence

Westerly on land of S. R. & C. H. Edwards, fourteen rods, thence Southly to the point of beginning, nine rods and six feet, by and by that part of the aforesaid mortgaged premises, which has been released by the said association, which part is bounded and described as follows, to wit: beginning at a stake on South Street, forty feet from land of George T. Bigelow, and adjoining land of S. R. & C. H. Edwards, and running south and South Street ten rods and ten feet, thence running in a North-easterly direction thirteen rods and eleven feet, adjoining land of said Leonard L. Perry, thence North westerly on land of S. R. & C. H. Edwards eight rods and fifteen feet, thence South westerly nine rods and eight feet to South Street, and running south and South Street ten rods and ten feet, thence running in a North-easterly direction thirteen rods and eleven feet, adjoining land of said Leonard L. Perry.

Terms made known at the time and place of sale.

L. CONGDON, Secretary.

W. W. BAXTER, Auctioneer.

Quincy, Sept. 24, 1859

Notice!

THE Selectmen will meet in their Room, in the Town House the Second and Last SATURDAY, in every month, from 3 to 5 o'clock, P. M., until further notice. Persons having business with the Town will please present it on those days.

Quincy, May 7.

$50 Reward.

WHEREAS several fires have been set in the woods in Quincy the past ten days, either carelessly or maliciously, the above reward will be paid to any person who will give such information as will convict the person or persons who set said fires.

And the above reward will be paid to any person who shall detect any one setting fires as above, on conviction of the offender, until the first day of March next.

DANIEL BAXTER, Selectmen.

EDMUND POPE, of Quincy.

J. JAMESON, of Quincy.

Quincy, May 6th, 1859.

Assessors' Notice.

THE Assessors of the Town of Quincy, give notice that they have delivered to Charles A. Cummings, Collector of Taxes, a correct list of the Taxes, together with a warrant in due form of law for collecting and paying in the same, and by a vote of the Town, all persons who shall pay their Taxes on or before the first day of September next, a discount of four per cent. will be made. And the Collector is required to pay interest on all taxes not paid to the Treasurer on or before December 1st, 1859.

DANIEL BAXTER, Assessors.

EDMUND POPE, of Quincy.

J. JAMESON, of Quincy.

Quincy, July 2.

Fruit Jars.

PATENT Air-tight Glass Fruit Jars for preserving Fresh Fruits, Vegetables, &c.

For sale by

MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, July 23.

DRESSMAKING.

MISS L. C. KELLY, begs leave to inform her friends and former customers, that she has returned to town, and renewed her business of

DRESSMAKING!

(Opposite Mr. Adams' Shop)

Where she hopes by unceasing attention to her business, that she will be enabled to merit a share of that patronage which has hitherto been so liberally bestowed on her. She would have no objection to work in families by the day or week.

She would also add, that during the past four months, she has made herself acquainted with all the Modern Improvements in Dressmaking.

Quincy, Sept. 10

Now's the Time to Subscribe

THE

NEW YORK WEEKLY,

A HANDSOME QUARTO PUBLICATION,

BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED,

IS NOW UNIVERSALLY ACKNOWLEDGED TO BE

The Best Story Paper

IN THE WORLD.

AMONG ITS

REGULAR CONTRIBUTORS

will be found the names of some of

THE BEST MALE AND FEMALE

WRITERS IN THE UNITED STATES.

Such writers as

JUSTIN JONES, (HARRY HAZEL.)

AGNES J. DUGANNE,

WILLIAM EARLE BURNER,

HARRY HAZELTON,

JAMES REYNOLDS,

FRANCIS S. SMITH,

MRS. MARY J. HOLMES,

HELEN FOREST GRAVES,

MARY C. VAUGHAN,

MARGARET VERNE,

ANNA RAYMOND,

EDNA MAYVILLE,

Write for it regularly, while a score of other well-known writers occasionally contribute to its columns.

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY

has now engaged a force of talent that cannot be rivaled by any establishment in the world.

Notices of the Press.

Never before has any new candidate for public labor in the Literary World received such flattering notices from the Press. From all quarters, our editorial brethren have cheered us up by speaking of our enterprise in a manner to stimulate our vanity, and to excite the envy of our rivals.

GENERAL CHARACTER

OF THE NEW YORK WEEKLY.

THE WEEKLY is designed more especially as a first-class STORY PAPER,

in which we intend to give our readers a such selection of the Best Stories ever published in the United States! The aim and object of these productions will be to inculcate useful knowledge under the pleasing guise of fiction, or to teach great moral lessons through the same means. We shall never publish a work of mere tendentiousness, or of the kind to injure the morals or taste of the reader. Every issue of the New York Weekly will contain short Sketches of Life and Manners, Noting of Travel and Adventure, Short Stories, Humorous Gleanings, Poetry, Editorials, &c. &c. &c.

As specimens of our serials, we would point to

A. J. H. DUGANNE'S Great Story

GARIBALDI,

THE HERO OF ITALY.

HARRY HAZEL'S

EXCITING INDIAN ROMANCE,

THE MUTE SPY!

FRANCIS S. SMITH'S

INTENSELY INTERESTING DOMESTIC STORY,

MARY J. HOLMES,

THE CHILD OF CHARITY!

While, as specimens of our standing department, we point with pride to

OUR BALLADS OF THE BIBLE,

admitted by all to be the most classically written and beautiful scriptural poems ever produced.

OUR KNOWLEDGE BOX,

in which is weekly contained a number of paragraphs of the greatest importance to house-keepers and others.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS,

an interesting mélange, ranging "from grave to gay, from lively to severe."

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,

prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.

OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,

OUR IDEAS OF INTEREST, &c., &c., &c.

In a word, its Editors will use their best endeavors to get up just such a paper as will eventually find its way to every fireside in the land—that shall be a welcome visitor wherever it goes—equally popular in the workshop and the office—at the fireside of the farmer, or in the counting-room of the merchant—a paper that parents can, with safety, place in the hands of their children without note or comment, feeling certain that its influence will be to stimulate their minds to the pursuit of knowledge, or lead them to abhor vice and

Our Circulation Prospects

The NEW YORK WEEKLY has gone up to a circulation which places it second in point of circulation in the list of publications of the day. There is but one weekly publication in the world having a larger circulation than the WEEKLY. The indications are, at present, that the circulation of the WEEKLY will soon reach half a million—When the newsmen were taking tens, they are now taking hundreds of copies. This is the general effect among the Five Thousand News Agents who are now selling the NEW YORK WEEKLY, while from nearly every Post Office in the country, we are daily getting subscriptions and orders for specimens.

How and where to get the Weekly.

Wherever there is a News Agent, get the paper from him. By so doing you do not run the risk of losing your money through the Post Office, or having to pay for what you will never get. If the paper you are buying from the Agent stops, you do not lose advance subscriptions, sent to a place where you have no means of looking after it. We trust the day is not far distant when every town, large enough to sustain a Post Office, will have its News Agency.

OUR TERMS.

The price of the NEW YORK WEEKLY

Four CENTS, but where Agents have to pay extra freight or postage, a higher price is necessarily charged. When sent by mail, the price will invariably be $2 a year, in advance.

Subscriptions taken for three months. Two copies will be sent for one year for $3, four copies for $5, eight copies for $12. Postmasters and others who get up clubs of ten, and send us $15 at one time, will be entitled to an extra copy for their trouble. The bills of all solvent banks taken in part for subscriptions. Canada subscribers must send twenty-five cents extra with every subscription, to pre-pay the American postage.

All letters and communications, in relation to the Editorial or Business Departments of the NEW YORK WEEKLY, must be addressed to

STREET & SMITH,

EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS,

22 Beekman Street, New York.

Sept. 3.

3m

YOU HAD BETTER TRY

My Mother's Salve.

THIS CELEBRATED PREPARATION has obtained an enviable and world-wide reputation for its great curative properties, and has been the agent for relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve"

IS A PERFECT CHEMICAL COMPOUND, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses HEALING, SOOTHING AND PAIN-RELIEVING VIRTUES.

never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve"

IS SAFE AND EFFECTUAL, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a permanent cure.

"My Mother's Salve"

Is a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve"

Is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it, and commended it to their friends as a test of its worth. Directions for Using

Poetry.

Only a Year.

BY MRS. HARRIET STOWE.

One year ago—a ringing voice,
A clear blue eye,
And clustering curls of sunny hair,
Too fair to die!

Only a year—no voice, no smile,
No glance of eye,
No clustering curls of golden hair,
Far but to die!

One year ago—what loves, what schemes,
Far into life!
What joyous hopes, what high resolves,
What generous life!

The silent picture on the wall,
The bust stone,
Of all that beauty, life and joy,
Remain alone.

One year—one year—one little year,
And so much gone!
And yet the even flow of life
Moves calmly on.

The grave grows green, the flowers bloom fair
Above that head;
No sorrowing curls of leaf or spray
Says he is dead.

No pause or hush of merry birds
That sing above,
Tells us how calmly sleeps below
The form we love.

Where hast thou been this year, beloved?
What hast thou seen?
What visions fair? what glorious life?
Where hast thou been?

The veil! the veil! so thin! so strong!
'Tis not us and thee;
The mystic veil! when shall it fall
That we may see?

Not dead, not sleeping, not even gone;
But present still,
And waiting for the coming hour
Of God's sweet will.

I and of the living and the dead—
Our Savior dear,
We lay in silence at thy foot
This sad, sad year.

My Philosophy.

Bright things can never die,
Even though they fade;
Beauty and minstrelsy
Deathless were made;
What though the summer day
Passes to sea away;
Behold not the moon's soft ray
Shines the night?

Bright things can never die,
Said my philosophy;
Pleasures, though they pass by,
Leaves us the light.

Kind words can never die,
Cherished and blessed;
God knows how deep they lie
Stored in the breast.
Like childhood's simple rhymes
Said over a thousand times,
Aye, in all years and climes,
Distant and near.

Kind words can never die,
Said my philosophy;
Drop in the soul they lie,
God knows how dear.

Childhood can never die,
Wracks of the past
Lie on the memory
Even to the last.
Many a happy thing,
Many a dreamy scene,
Flow on Time's ceaseless wing,
Far, far away.

Childhood can never die,
Said my philosophy;
Wracks of the past
Live on for aye.

Sweet fancies never die,
They leave behind
Some fairy legacy
Stored in the mind.

Some happy thought or dream,
Pure as day's earliest beam,
Kissing the gentle stream,
In the lone glade.

Yet though these things pass by,
Said my philosophy,
Bright things can never die,
Even though they fade.

Anecdotes.

A little ragged urchin, begging in a city,
was asked by a lady who had filled his basket,
if his parents were living?
Only dad, marm, said the boy.
Then you've enough in your basket, now,
to feed the family for some time, said the lady.

Oh, no, I haven't neither, said the lad for dad and I keeps five boarders; he does the house-work, and I do the market.

Booth, the tragedian, had the misfortune to have his nose broken by Tom Flyn some years since. A lady once said to him—
I like your acting, and beautiful reading,
Mr. Booth, but I cannot get over your nose.
No wonder, madam, replied he, the bridge is gone!

John, you seem to gain flesh every day;
the grocery business must agree with you.—
What did you weigh last?
Well, Simon, I really forget, but I believe it was a pound of butter.

That was a horrible affair, the murder of Dean, and the sealing up of his remains in a tin box!
What Dean? asked half a dozen voices at once.

Why Sar-dean, of course, was the pungent reply.

Shall I have your hand? said an exquisite to a belle, as the dance was about to commence.

With all my heart, was the soft response.

Mr. S. is your customer B. a man to be trusted?
I know of none more so. He is to be trusted forever—he never pays.

Boot and Shoe Findings!
KNIVES, NAILS, PEGS, BRISTLES,
THREAD, AWLS, RIFLES,
RASP, BUFFERS,
TACKS, &c.
A good Assortment—low for Cash.
J. FRANKLIN BURRELL.
Quincy, March 12

LIVERY STABLE.
THE subscriber having purchased the establishment of George J. Jones, on Hancock street, and made additions thereto, is prepared, at the old stand, to accommodate his friends
and the public with

Horses and Carriages.
PLEASURE PARTIES furnished with teams
and drivers, or single carriages, at the shortest
notice.
Personal attention given to the business, and a liberal support from the public solicited.
Quincy, Nov. 13.

LIVERY STABLE.
AT Hardwick's Express Stable, on Hancock
street, near the Quincy Patriot Printing
Office, new and excellent CARRIAGES,
with good and safe HORSES, furnished to individuals or parties, on the very best terms.
Transportation of Merchandise, Furniture,
&c., attended to with care and despatch.
The traveling public accommodated with
good STABLEING, at all times.
Good Drivers furnished, if desired.
Every effort will be made to serve patrons,
and a share of support is respectfully solicited.

Hardwick's Boston Express.
PARTICULAR attention given to the purchase of Goods and to the transportation
of them, and valuable Packages.
Dispatch in the collection of Notes, Drafts,
and Bills.
All orders thankfully received, and carefully and expeditiously attended to.

Hours of Departure.
From Quincy—8 o'clock, A. M.
From Boston—2 o'clock, P. M.
OFFICES IN BOSTON—34 Court Square, (Railroad Exchange), and 40 South Market
street.
Quincy, April 9

BOWDITCH'S
Quincy and Boston
EXPRESS.
OFFICE—39 & 40 South Market Street,
and 48 Liberty Square,
BOSTON.

SLATE AT DANIEL BAXTER & CO'S,
NIGHTINGALE'S PROVISION STORE,
AND THE HANCOCK HOUSE.

All orders, thankfully received and promptly attended to.

Quincy, Jan 22

New Arrangement.
FURNALD'S
QUINCY EXPRESS
LEAVES BOSTON, DAILY,
AT 2 12 O'CLOCK, P. M.

38 South Market St. and 3 Washington St.
Quincy, June 5

KENION & FOLLETT,
JOBBER AND COMMISSION DEALERS IN
Butter, Cheese, and Eggs,
Beans, Dried Apples,
AND COUNTRY PRODUCE.
Cellar, 19 Merchant Row, Boston
GEORGE W. KENISON,
GEORGE D. FOLLETT.
Jan 15

W. M. BABBITT, M. D.,
Homeopathic Physician!
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
OFFICE HOURS:
7 to 8 A. M. 12 to 1 P. M.
Quincy, Sept. 11.

GEORGE WHITE,
Counsellor and Attorney at Law,
No. 5 Tremont Street,
BOSTON.

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—HAS FOR SALE—
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand
—ALSO—
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.
July 10, 1852.

Paper Hangings.
JUST received, and for sale by the Subscribers, an assortment of Paper Hangings, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere, by
GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, March 26

Burnett's Cocaine.
FOR preserving and beautifying the Hair,
and rendering it dark and glossy. Thom-
son's Golden Lustrate. The German Toilet Balm, and various other hair preservatives, for sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, June 26.

Salt Pork.
FIRST rate article of Salt Pork packed by
the subscribers for sale by the barrel or smaller quantities to suit purchasers, cheap for cash.
GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Dec. 6.

Removal.

THE SUBSCRIBER HAS REMOVED TO GOODNOW'S BUILDING!
Corner of Hancock and Granite Sts.
Where he will continue to keep his usual large and well selected stock of

Plain and Fancy Silks,
Shawls, Dress Goods of every variety,
Domestic and Housekeeping Goods,
Gloves, Hosiery, Trimmings,
Embroideries and Fancy
Goods, &c.

GENTS' AND BOYS' CLOTHING AND FURNISHING GOODS!!
Boots, Shoes, Rubbers, &c., &c.

A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF
FURNITURE
Constantly on hand. Mattresses and Feathers of every quality. Carpets, Paper Hangings Crockery, and all the household and Britannia Ware all of which will be offered at

Very Low Prices for Cash.
He takes this opportunity to thank the citizens of this and neighboring towns for the very liberal patronage which they have given him, and would be happy to see them at his new location, where he will offer such inducements as will secure their continued and increased favors.

CALEB PACKARD.
Quincy, Jan 23

Something New.
WE have just added to our stock of PAPER
HANGINGS, a large lot of the latest styles, received direct from the manufacturers,
which we shall sell cheap.

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, March 26

National Police Gazette.
THIS Great Journal of Crime and Criminals is in its Twelfth Year, and is widely circulated throughout the country. It contains all the Great Trials, Criminal Cases, and appropriate Editorials on the same, together with information on Criminal Matters, not to be found in any other newspaper.

For Subscriptions, $2 per annum; $1 for six months, to be remitted by subscribers, (who should write their names and the town, county and state where they reside plainly.)
GEORGE W. MATSELL & CO.,
Editors & Proprietors of the National Police Gazette.
New York City, Apr 25

Pure Cider Vinegar.
800 GALLONS PURE CIDER VIN-EGAR, made on the farm formerly owned by B. V. French, now in store and for sale by the barrel or smaller quantity, by
GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Aug. 15

GROCERIES, FLOUR,
—AND—
PROVISIONS!

THE Subscriber would respectfully invite the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to call and examine his stock of Groceries, Flour and Provisions, where they will find a good assortment of the lowest wholesale prices.
A few more chests of Old Hyson Tea at 25 cents per pound.
500 Tubs of prime dairy Butter.
200 Bushels of Chenango and Long Red Potatoes.
All those in want of Goods will find it for their interest to call and examine, as they will find a good assortment of the lowest wholesale prices.
Goods delivered to any part of the Town free of expense.

H. VINAL,
at the Old Stand of Faxon & Brothers.
Quincy, Oct. 27.

Insurance against Fire.
Farmers, Mechanics, Householders, Traders,
Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra-hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.
Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance,
will be promptly attended to.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insures Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.
Farmers, Mechanics, Householders, Traders,
Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra-
hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.
Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance,
will be promptly attended to.

WILLIAM S. MORTON,
TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE,
SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES,
DIRECTORS.

Quincy, Milton,
William S. Morton, Charles Brock,
Israel W. Munroe, Dorchester,
Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,
Whitcomb Porter, Cohasset,
Stephen Bates, Solomon J. Beal,
William B. Duggan, Hingham,
Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gay,
R. B. Leach, South Hingham,
Randolph, Alfred Loring,
Royal W. Turner, North Bridgewater,
South Braintree, Sumner A. Hayward,
Apollis Randall, Barnstable,
Dedham, George Marston,
Jonathan A. Cobb.

References, by permission:
Hos. GEORGE T. BIGFLOO, of Boston,
Hos. JOSIAH QUINCY, JR., of Boston,
Hos. AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield,
Hos. JAMES MAQUIRE, of Randolph,
Hos. SOLOMON LINCOLN, of Hingham,
Hos. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy,
JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., "

OFFICE:
Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple
April 1.

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY,
HAYDEN returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one floor north of David B. Ste-son's Variety Store, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING,
Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of

Gold and Silver Watches,
Fob, Cut and Vest Chains,
LOCKETS,
Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted,
Coral and Mosiac Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,
Gents' Pin and Studs,
FINGER RINGS.
Together with a large assortment of

Silver and Plated Ware,
Clocks and Fancy Goods.
Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a

LARGER STOCK
than ever offered before in Quincy.
All Goods warranted as represented.
Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.
Gilt Coffin Plates Engraved—25

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.
Quincy Oct 24

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it permeates the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, dis-ordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending from parents to children, and the third and fourth generations. It is indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which renders the blood, deprives the energies of life, so that scrofulousness destroys not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quart of all our simple scrofulous; in their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it.
To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorize it by healthy food and exercise.
Such a medicine we supply in

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical
skill of our times can devise for this every kind of prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have
been discovered for the expurgation of this foul
disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the
system from its destructive consequences.
Hence it should be employed for the cure of
not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Erysipelas,
and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Eczema,
Roses, or Erysipelas, PIMPLES, PESTILES,
BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER
and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM,
RHEUMATISM, SPITILICUS and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and,
indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA-
TED BLOOD. The popular belief
in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth,
for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid,
without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical
skill of our times can devise for this every
kind of prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have
been discovered for the expurgation of this foul
disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the
system from its destructive consequences.
Hence it should be employed for the cure of
not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Erysipelas,
and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Eczema,
Roses, or Erysipelas, PIMPLES, PESTILES,
BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER
and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM,
RHEUMATISM, SPITILICUS and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and,
indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA-
TED BLOOD. The popular belief
in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth,
for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The
particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid,
without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical
skill of our times can devise for this every
kind of prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have
been discovered for the expurgation of this foul
disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the
system from its destructive consequences.
Hence it should be employed for the cure of
not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Erysipelas,
and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Eczema,
Roses, or Erysipelas, PIMPLES, PESTILES,
BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER
and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM,
RHEUMATISM, SPITILICUS and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and,
indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA-
TED BLOOD. The popular belief
in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth,
for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The
particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid,
without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical
skill of our times can devise for this every
kind of prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have
been discovered for the expurgation of this foul
disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the
system from its destructive consequences.
Hence it should be employed for the cure of
not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Erysipelas,
and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Eczema,
Roses, or Erysipelas, PIMPLES, PESTILES,
BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER
and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM,
RHEUMATISM, SPITILICUS and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and,
indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA-
TED BLOOD. The popular belief
in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth,
for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The
particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid,
without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical
skill of our times can devise for this every
kind of prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have
been discovered for the expurgation of this foul
disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the
system from its destructive consequences.
Hence it should be employed for the cure of
not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Erysipelas,
and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Eczema,
Roses, or Erysipelas, PIMPLES, PESTILES,
BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER
and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM,
RHEUMATISM, SPITILICUS and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and,
indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA-
TED BLOOD. The popular belief
in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth,
for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The
particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid,
without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical
skill of our times can devise for this every
kind of prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have
been discovered for the expurgation of this foul
disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the
system from its destructive consequences.
Hence it should be employed for the cure of
not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Erysipelas,
and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Eczema,
Roses, or Erysipelas, PIMPLES, PESTILES,
BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER
and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM,
RHEUMATISM, SPITILICUS and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and,
indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA-
TED BLOOD. The popular belief
in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth,
for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The
particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid,
without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical
skill of our times can devise for this every
kind of prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have
been discovered for the expurgation of this foul
disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the
system from its destructive consequences.
Hence it should be employed for the cure of
not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Erysipelas,
and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Eczema,
Roses, or Erysipelas, PIMPLES, PESTILES,
BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER
and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM,
RHEUMATISM, SPITILICUS and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and,
indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA-
TED BLOOD. The popular belief
in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth,
for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The
particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid,
without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical
skill of our times can devise for this every
kind of prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have
been discovered for the expurgation of this foul
disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the
system from its destructive consequences.
Hence it should be employed for the cure of
not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Erysipelas,
and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Eczema,
Roses, or Erysipelas, PIMPLES, PESTILES,
BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER
and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM,
RHEUMATISM, SPITILICUS and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and,
indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA-
TED BLOOD. The popular belief
in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth,
for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The
particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid,
without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical
skill of our times can devise for this every
kind of prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have
been discovered for the expurgation of this foul
disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the
system from its destructive consequences.
Hence it should be employed for the cure of
not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Erysipelas,
and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Eczema,
Roses, or Erysipelas, PIMPLES, PESTILES,
BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER
and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM,
RHEUMATISM, SPITILICUS and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and,
indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA-
TED BLOOD. The popular belief
in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth,
for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The
particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid,
without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical
skill of our times can devise for this every
kind of prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have
been discovered for the expurgation of this foul
disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the
system from its destructive consequences.
Hence it should be employed for the cure of
not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Erysipelas,
and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Eczema,
Roses, or Erysipelas, PIMPLES, PESTILES,
BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER
and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM,
RHEUMATISM, SPITILICUS and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and,
indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA-
TED BLOOD. The popular belief
in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth,
for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The
particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid,
without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical
skill of our times can devise for this every
kind of prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have
been discovered for the expurgation of this foul
disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the
system from its destructive consequences.
Hence it should be employed for the cure of
not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Erysipelas,
and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Eczema,
Roses, or Erysipelas, PIMPLES, PESTILES,
BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER
and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM,
RHEUMATISM, SPITILICUS and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and,
indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA-
TED BLOOD. The popular belief
in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth,
for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The
particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid,
without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical
skill of our times can devise for this every
kind of prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have
been discovered for the expurgation of this foul
disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the
system from its destructive consequences.
Hence it should be employed for the cure of
not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Erysipelas,
and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Eczema,
Roses, or Erysipelas, PIMPLES, PESTILES,
BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER
and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM,
RHEUMATISM, SPITILICUS and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and,
indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA-
TED BLOOD. The popular belief
in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth,
for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The
particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid,
without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical
skill of our times can devise for this every
kind of prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have
been discovered for the expurgation of this foul
disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the
system from its destructive consequences.
Hence it should be employed for the cure of
not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, and the design of the medicine, which is given, often is to produce it. And have not those of us, who have been sensible of being spiritually sick, experienced its healing influences in a still higher and truer sense? Have not the oil and wine been poured on our broken hearts and wounded spirits by the hand of Him whose "touch is gentle as the morning light?" We awake, and ascribe the effect to sleep. But what has been done? What can it do? Let us look beyond the cloud with which our Heavenly Father veils his mysterious acts of never-ceasing mercy.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, October 15th, 1859.

Mount Wollaston Bank.

At the Annual Meeting of this flourishing and well-conducted Institution, held in the Banking House, on Monday, October 31, instant, the following gentlemen were elected Directors for the year ensuing, viz:

Messrs. Lewis Bass, William S. Perry, Joseph B. Whitteker, Joseph W. Robertson, Francis M. Johnson, Daniel P. Nye, Franklin Curtis, William S. Morton, John Quincy Adams, and Edward Turner.

It was voted that the Board consist of ten Directors, instead of nine, as heretofore. Messrs. J. Q. Adams and E. Turner, are new members. The declaration of the Hon. Charles Francis Adams for re-election as Director and President of the Bank since its incorporation, over six years past, was received by the meeting of Stockholders with sincere regret.

A series of resolutions were offered by Mr. Lewis Bass, Jr., expressive of the thanks to, as well as the high approbation of the Stockholders, in the consummate ability, faithfulness, and integrity of Mr. Adams in the discharge of all his duties as the President of Mount Wollaston Bank. An amendment was offered by G. F. Thayer, Esq., of Boston, soliciting Mr. Adams to sit for his portrait, the same to be placed in the Banking House as a deserved tribute of respect and gratitude to the Honorable gentleman. The Resolves as amended, were unanimously adopted. Mr. Adams retired as President of the Bank by reason of his election to Congress, which assembles the first Monday of December next, and during its session will reside with his family at Washington.

At a meeting of the Directors, held 11th instant, Francis M. Johnson, of this town, was elected President of the Bank for the ensuing year. Mr. Johnson is favorably known as a successful and enterprising merchant, well skilled in banking matters, and we doubt not will discharge the duties of his new office with ability and to the satisfaction of the Stockholders.

For the Patriot.

Clerical.

On Monday last, at the largest legal parish meeting of the First Congregational Society, held for a long time, the Rev. Charles Noyes, of Cambridge, received an unanimous and enthusiastic vote to settle over this ancient, religious society, on a salary of thirteen hundred dollars. This must be very gratifying to the gentleman who has received the call, as well as the parish, who are so fortunate in getting a young man of so great promise and talent, and he is the only candidate out of the many who have preached here since the death of the late lamented, Dr. Lunt, who has received the unanimous wish and cordial consent of the Society to settle among us. This is still more encouraging, when we know it has been brought about in spite of the many obstacles that have been thrown in the way, by false reports that have been circulated abroad, to prevent the mutual and harmonious agreement of all parties. It is a long time before the Parish will be caught at a kidnapping again.

For the Patriot.

Ecclesiastical.

ACCEPTANCE OF THE "RESULT OF COUNCIL," BY THE SOCIETY.

Whereas, It is alleged that certain Records appearing upon our books, together with certain publications, are in the way of the union of Orthodox Congregational Christians in Quincy.

Although we feel that a statement of facts were called for, at the time, yet, with the hope, that such action is now proposed, will tend to harmony.

Voted, That all imputations upon the character of Mr. Clark, or his friends, are rescinded; and all published censures, for which this Society may be responsible, are hereby withdrawn; with the understanding that, as explained by Council, we do not thereby, imply, that those published statements are untrue.

KEEP IT IN THE HOUSE. We are all liable to accidents, and it therefore behooves us to be prepared for them. Redding's Russia Salve is a certain remedy for all kinds of cuts, wounds, burns, scalds, &c. Sold everywhere for twenty-five cents a box.

Our readers will please notice the advertisement of Messrs. Chandler & Co.'s splendid stock of goods in to-day's paper. Of their readiness and ability to please their customers, their extensive sales are sufficient proof.

My Mother's Salve is now universally acknowledged to be the best ever prepared. Piles, sore eyes, chapped hands, sore lips, boils, &c., are cured by its use in a very short time. See advertisement.

Boston Correspondence.

Boston, Oct. 13, 1859.

Bird's Eye view of Foreign News—Fatal Duels in California—Political Matters—Elections—General Butler's Letter—Massachusetts Democracy all Douglas' Men—Councillor Hon. J. M. K. Churchill; his popularity—Candidates for the Senate—William S. Morton, Esq.; his prospects for Senatorial honors—City Matters—Amusements—United States National Horse Fair.

The Foreign news to the 28th ultimo, is not of great importance. The Great Eastern, will probably not be got to sea in October. Will she ever be here? The London papers are still harping on the San Juan affairs. The liberty of the press in France is to be further constrained. But the experiment is dangerous for the French Emperor as the history of France the present century will show. No definite treaty of peace has yet been signed between France and Austria. But an European Congress will soon be held at Brussels for that purpose, involving the settlement of Italian affairs. Dates from China have been received to August 10th. Our American Minister, Mr. Ward, seems to have involved himself in some trouble by giving "aid and comfort" to the English forces, while engaged in hostilities with the Chinese. His position should be that of strict neutrality. It is rumored that Mr. Ward has arrived at Peking, where he may make matters all right. Advice from Calcutta, is to August 22d. Matters were horrid dull there, freights declined from ten to seven dollars. The Japanese are accused of attempting to evade their treaty with the English. The British Government has signed a protest and stopped the trade. The people of Japan like those of China, are treacherous and untrustworthy. The English markets are quoted as generally dull, but without material change. In fact, it is apparent that there is a universal dullness in business throughout the commercial world.

The California Steamer North Star, arrived at New York, yesterday, with seven hundred passengers, a half million in treasure, with news to 20th ult. United States Senator Brodwick was killed in a duel near San Francisco, by Judge Terry, on the 13th; and on the 16th, another duel was fought between Doctor Preston Goodwin and a Col. Gatewood, in which the former was killed. Thus, two distinguished men, throwing their lives away by a false code of honor, and making the pathway of the murderer through life, one of sorrow and shame. Ex-Chief Justice Terry is in jail to be tried as a murderer.

Returns are coming in of the elections in Ohio and Pennsylvania. Ohio is probably gone for the Republicans, as was expected. The politics of Pennsylvania is so mixed up that it is hard to tell which party will triumph. The Republican and opposition gains are very large.

Our own State election is quietly drawing near, with the general expectation that Governor Banks and his party will sweep the stakes, by a majority large enough for all practical purposes. General Butler's Letter of acceptance as candidate for Governor, has attracted more than usual attention. He contends that there has been for many years past a growing centralization of State power in our annual legislation. Our Schools must be placed under a State Board of Education. Our ancient School District and County lines abolished. Commissioners with full offices to regulate Banking, Insurance, charitable matters, and almost every thing that concerns the daily business of life. He thinks that towns and small districts, which used to be styled "Little Democracies," are fast losing their ancient rights, and that power, is in good truth, "stealing from the many to the few." On these matters your Correspondent has no comments to make, presuming, that the intelligent readers of the Quincy Patriot will judge for themselves. In National politics it is very evident that Mr. Butler and three-fourths of the New England Democracy, are favorable to Judge Douglas, as a candidate for the Presidency. The proceedings of the Council and Senatorial nominations in our State are coming in daily. The Hon. J. M. K. Churchill, of your District, was probably re-nominated yesterday, at Taunton, for Councillor, by the Republican party. In his ability and fitness for that honorable station, he has fully answered the expectation of his constituents. Those of our citizens, (I care not what party) who have had occasion to do business with him at the Council Chamber, will bear me record in saying that he has ever been found gentlemanly and prompt in the discharge of duty. His re-election if nominated, is sure. William S. Morton, Esq., of your town, is named here as a prominent candidate for the Senate of the Eastern Norfolk District: the Convention to be held at Braintree, on Wednesday next. The present incumbent is a worthy man, but having been twice run for the office of Senator, he may, by the principle of rotation, be succeeded by Mr. Morton. It would be a matter of sincere congratulations to his numerous friends here, to see him (Mr. Morton) returned to the Senate the coming winter. It is admitted on all hands he has made a good representative, and he will be found at the Senate Board a faithful and efficient member. Quincy having but one State Senator for forty years past, is now entitled to that distinction.

The weather has been pleasant during the week and our city quite lively. A large portion of our citizens who have sojourned temporarily in the suburbs through the warm weather, having returned home for the winter. The places of amusement are better patronized than was expected by reason of the general dullness of business. The Italian Opera at the Boston Theatre, has had a great run. They are about leaving for Havana. The National Horse Fair at the United States Agricultural Fair Grounds, is daily attended by a large number of people, and to 1-3 of horse-racing is quite interesting.

Special Notices.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS. The Democrats of Quincy are hereby notified to meet at the Lyceum Room, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, October 19th, at 7 1/2 o'clock, for the purpose of electing Delegates to attend the East Norfolk Senatorial District Convention, which meets in Quincy on the 25th instant. Per order of the Committee. Quincy, Oct. 15.

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING. Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon. In Johnson's (Harpoon) Hall, Mr. Loveland will speak to-morrow. Quincy, Oct. 15.

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION at Barker's Hall, on MONDAY EVENING, Oct. 17, at 7 o'clock.

Question for Debate. Should the Webster Statue remain in its present position. Per order C. H. PORTER, Sec'y. Quincy, Oct. 15.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION. The Democrats of the East Norfolk Senatorial District, comprising the towns of Quincy, Braintree, Weymouth, Randolph, Stoughton, and Milton, are requested to choose Delegates to attend a Convention, to be held in the Town Hall, Quincy, on THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25th, at 2 o'clock, P. M., to nominate a candidate for Senator, and to attend to such other business as may come before the Convention. Per order, DISTRICT COMMITTEE, Quincy, Oct. 15.

EAST NORFOLK DISTRICT SENATORIAL CONVENTION. A Convention of the legal voters of the East Norfolk Senatorial District, comprising the towns of Braintree, Milton, Quincy, Randolph, Stoughton, and Weymouth, who are opposed to the present National Administration, and the aggressions of the Slave Power, and who are in favor of the general policy of the present State Administration, are requested to elect Delegates to a District Convention, to be held at the Town House, in Braintree, on WEDNESDAY, the 19th instant, at 3 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Senator from said District. The several towns are requested to send one Delegate, and one additional Delegate for every two hundred voters, according to the last State Census, which will entitle Braintree to four, Milton to three, Randolph to six, Quincy to seven, Stoughton to five, and Weymouth to nine Delegates.

SAMUEL BABCOCK, E. Norfolk District Senatorial Committee. Quincy, Oct. 8.

Marriages.

In this town, 9th instant, by Rev. Q. Whitney, Mr. Francis Beal, of Dorchester, to Miss Susan Nightingale.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 12th inst., Lillian A., daughter of Mr. Samuel E. and Mrs. Ellen Johnson, aged 15 months and 6 days. In Tampa, Florida, Mrs. Jane Spear, widow of Capt. James Spear, formerly of this town.

Clayvoyance.

MRS. DAVIS, the celebrated Clayvoyant and Healing Medium of Chelsea, will be at the house of Edward Hall, on Granite street, in this town, Oct. 25th and 26th, where she will examine and give all necessary advice to the invalids needing her services. Quincy, Oct. 15.

Administrator's Sale.

BY virtue of and pursuant to a License from the Court of Probate and Insolvency, in and for the County of Norfolk—Will be sold at Public Auction on TUESDAY, the 8th day of November current, at three o'clock, in the afternoon, the following parcel of Real Estate, which was owned and occupied by

ASA POPE,

at the time of his decease, to-wit:—A parcel of Land containing half acre, with an excellent variety of Fruit Trees in bearing order, Grapevines, &c., with a good House, Barn, Shop, and other buildings thereon, situate on Granite street, in Quincy, and bounded as follows:—Southerly on the street, easterly on land of Josiah Wm. Torrey, northerly on land of Josiah Jones, northerly on land of Charles Marsh. The said premises is situated in the centre of Quincy, within two minutes' walk of the Railroad Depot, and offers a rare chance for any person to obtain a valuable place with a small capital.

OZIAS M. POPE, Adm'r. Quincy, Oct. 15th, 1859.

TREES.

THE SUBSCRIBER HAS A VERY LARGE STOCK OF Fruit, Ornamental and Evergreen Trees,

COMPRISING A Large Collection of all the rare, and curious, hardy Ornamental Trees from Europe.

Also—a large quantity of Pear Trees of large growth, at his grounds at Wollaston Park, (near Wollaston Depot) North Quincy.

R. B. LECHARS. Quincy, Oct. 15.

To the Honorable the County Commissioners for the County of Norfolk.

YOUR Petitioners, inhabitants and legal voters in the Town of Weymouth, respectfully represent that public convenience and necessity require the location and construction of a public highway in said Weymouth, from a point on Oak Street near the dwelling-house of Allen Vining, and running in a westerly direction to a point on Pleasant Street, near the house of Ezra Reed. We therefore ask your Honorable Board to examine the route, locate, and cause to be constructed the said road, according to the form of the Statutes in such cases made and provided, and as in duty bound will ever pray.

APPELTON HOWE, and fifteen others.

Weymouth, Oct. 10th, 1859.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. At a meeting of the County Commissioners, begun and held at Dedham, within and for said County of Norfolk, on the Fourth Tuesday of September, A. D. 1859.

ON the Petition aforesaid, Ordered that the County Commissioners will meet at the South Weymouth Station of the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad, in Weymouth, in said County, on THURSDAY the Seventeenth day of November next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition, and hear and act thereon.

And that an attested copy of said petition, with this order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Weymouth, to be posted up at least before the time appointed for said view, and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed at Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said view, and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in said Weymouth, fourteen days at least before said view, that all persons and corporations interested for or against said petition may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

A true copy of the original Petition on file and order thereon.

Attest: EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

Oct. 15.

To the Honorable Board of Commissioners for the County of Norfolk.

WE the undersigned, citizens of the Town of Quincy, County of Norfolk, do hereby petition your Honorable Board, to locate, lay out, and construct a public highway, to-wit:—That you will lay out and construct a public highway, from where the Quincy Patriot Office now is, on said Hancock Street, to its terminus on School Street, also to lay out and widen School Street, from said junction with Hancock Street to Summer Street, and make such other alterations as you may deem expedient.

WILLIAM S. PATTEE, WILLIAM S. PERRY.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. At a meeting of the County Commissioners, begun and held at Dedham, within and for said County of Norfolk, on the Fourth Tuesday of September, A. D. 1859.

ON the Petition aforesaid, ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Town Hall in Quincy, in said County, on MONDAY, the twenty-first day of November next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., and thence proceed to view the route described in said petition, and hear and act thereon.

And that an attested copy of said petition, with this order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Quincy, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said view, and also that like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed at Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said view, and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in said Quincy, fourteen days at least before said view, that all persons and corporations interested for or against said petition may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

A true copy of the original Petition on file and order thereon.

Attest: EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

Oct. 15.

NORFOLK, ss. At a meeting of the County Commissioners holden at Dedham, on the Fourth Tuesday of September, A. D. 1859.

UPON the petition of the inhabitants of the Town of Braintree, by D. H. Bates, N. H. Hunt, and Philip Cane, the selected Delegates authorized, representing that Franklin Street, leading from a point on Washington Street, near the carriage manufactory of Warren Mansfield, to the terminus of said street, has been so worked for travel, that it is in a state of utter disrepair, and to require its location anew, and requesting the Commissioners to view and locate it anew, establish its boundary lines and make such alterations in the course and width thereof, as said Delegates and petitioners may deem proper, having been first given to all persons and corporations interested.) the County Commissioners met at the Town House in Braintree, on the first day of November last, and then there viewed the premises, and heard all parties to the said petition, and said case was continued and adjourned from time to time till this meeting, and said Commissioners admit that public necessity and convenience require that said road be located anew, its lines established, and that alterations be made therein.

N. P. SAFFORD, County.

SETH MANN, 2d, County.

LUCAS FOND, Commissioners.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss.

On the Adjournment aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Town House in Braintree, in said County, on MONDAY, the twenty-first day of November next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., and thence proceed to view said way, relocate and establish the boundary lines thereof, and make such alterations therein, and take such other action in relation to said Adjournment as by law they may be authorized to do; and that an attested copy of said Adjournment, with this Order thereon, be served upon all parties to the said petition, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said day of meeting; and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said day of meeting; and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in Braintree, fourteen days at least before said day of meeting, that all persons and corporations interested, may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

A true copy of the Adjournment on file, and order thereon.

Attest: EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

Oct. 15.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, now holden at Boston within and for the County of Suffolk.

RESPECTFULLY represent your petitioners, JOSIAH QUINCY, CHARLES F. ADAMS, and others, that they constitute a majority in interest of the stockholders of a corporation duly established under and by virtue of the laws of this Commonwealth, by an act of incorporation passed March 11, 1852, said Corporation being entitled the "Proprietors of the Neponset Bridge"; that said corporation was established for the purpose of building and maintaining a bridge across the Neponset River, and a turnpike connected therewith; that in and by said act of incorporation a toll was granted to the said corporation, to continue for seventy years from the opening of said bridge; at the end of which term the said bridge was to be delivered up for the use of the government; and that said term of seventy years from said opening will expire in the month of October, 1873.

And your petitioners further represent, that by an act of Legislature of this Commonwealth, passed May 26, 1857, the said corporation were empowered to convey to the County Commissioners of Norfolk their franchise, road, bridge and all the rights in said way; that the debts of said corporations are all paid; that there are no outstanding liabilities, and that after the payment of the expenses of this application, there will be a small balance in the hands of the Treasurer, which your petitioners believe will belong to the Commonwealth.

Your petitioners therefore submit that the purpose for which the said corporation was established has been fully accomplished, and that the further continuance thereof is useless. Your petitioners therefore pray, that this Honorable Court will decree the dissolution of the said corporation, according to the statute of this Commonwealth, and order that the balance which may remain in the hands of the Treasurer, as aforesaid, be paid over to the Treasurer of this Commonwealth.

JOSIAH QUINCY, CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS, CHARLES E. MILLER, N. H. EMMONS, Ex'or & Trustee, JAMES H. FOSTER, S. M. QUINCY, for petitioners.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

SUFFOLK, ss.

March Term, 1859.

On the foregoing petition, it is ordered, that the petitioners give notice to all persons interested to appear before the Justices of this Court, to be held at Boston, within and for said County of Suffolk, on MONDAY, the nineteenth day of December next, in adjournment from the first Tuesday of October next, by publishing an attested copy of said petition and of this order thereon, once a week for three weeks successively, in the Norfolk County Journal and the Quincy Patriot, two newspapers printed in the County of Norfolk, and in the Boston Advertiser, a newspaper printed in said Boston; the last publication to be thirty days, at least, before said nineteenth day of December next; that they may then and there show cause why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

By the Court, GEORGE C. WILDE, Clerk.

Sept. 2d, 1859.

A true copy of said petition and of the order thereon.

Attest: GEORGE C. WILDE, Clerk.

Oct. 15.

RICHARD'S HIMSELF AGAIN!

A. J. GRIFFIN

IS YET AT HIS

OLD STAND,

66 Hanover Street,

WHERE HE HAS JUST RECEIVED AN

IMMENSE STOCK

OF—

French, English and American

DRY GOODS!

WITH ORDERS TO SELL THE

SAME WITHOUT DELAY.

See the Prices! See the Prices!

10,000 Jozen Fine Ribbed WOOL HOSE,

for 17 cts a pair or $2 a dozen.

1000 doz Chenille Scarfs for 25 cts each or

$3 a dozen.

1900 pairs Mackinaw Wool Blankets for

$1 88 a pair.

1500 do Large Size do $2 25 a pair.

1100 do " do for $1 50 to $8 per pair.

10,000 pairs KID GLOVES for 25 to 50 cts

with all the higher grades in the same ratio.

21,000 yards SILK 6 1/2 to 1 1/2 to 50 cents a yard.

There are HIGH LUTHER and SEASON-

ABLE GOODS, and cheap at 75 cents and $1

also, EVERY QUALITY and STYLES of SILK, to the richest and best in the market.

SUPERB SILK ROBES,

OF EVERY COLOR, VERY CHEAP.

CLOAKS

In Great Variety, from $2 50 to $50.

Shawls from 75 cts to $75.

Also, a lot of ELEGANT FRENCH CHE-

NILE SHAWLS, CHEAP!

HOOP SKIRTS,

A genuine article, for 50 CENTS and upwards,

or about HALF PRICE!

DRESS GOODS,

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION

— AT —

AUCTION PRICES!

HERE ARE GOODS TO SUIT THE MIL-

LION, from the Low Priced Prints to the Most

Beautiful and Costly SILKS brought to this country! EVERYBODY IN WANT OF

DRY GOODS

WILL FIND THIS

THE DEPOT FOR BARGAINS.

66 Hanover Street, Boston.

A. J. GRIFFIN.

Oct. 15.

Magnificent Exhibition

OF—

RICH DRESS GOODS!

CHANDLER & CO.,

6 & 8 SUMNER STREET, BOSTON.

Invite the attention of purchasers to their

LARGE IMPORTATION OF

DRESS GOODS,

which are now open, for

Ladies', Misses, and Children's Wear,

Embracing every variety of fabrics, from the richest material to the more common; in

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL DESIGNS,

CONSISTING OF

Magnificent Exhibition OF RICH DRESS GOODS!

CHANDLER & CO.,
6 & 8 SUMNER STREET, BOSTON.

Have the attention of purchasers to their LARGE IMPORTATION OF
DRESS GOODS,
which are now open, for Ladies, Misses, and Children's Wear,
embracing every variety of fabrics, from the richest material to the more common in
NEW AND BEAUTIFUL DESIGNS,
CONSISTING OF ELEGANT SILKS, in new and choice designs, and in rich and beautiful colorings—for walking, formal and party dresses—which have been manufactured expressly for them, and many of the styles are not to be found in any other house in the country.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.
FOULARD SILKS.
RICHAIR POPLINS, in all the new styles and designs, manufactured expressly for them, by the French, in all quantities.
VELVETS, in all the new styles, in all
quantities.
RICHAIR POPLINS, in all the new styles and designs, manufactured expressly for
them, by the French, in all quantities.
VELVETS, in all the new styles, in all
quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.
FOULARD SILKS.
RICHAIR POPLINS, in all the new styles and designs, manufactured expressly for
them, by the French, in all quantities.
VELVETS, in all the new styles, in all
quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
BLACK SILKS and SILK ROBES, which
will be sold at a low price—some very nice
and elegant styles, in all quantities.

Leave Your Orders.

At prices to correspond with the times.

I HAVE received a splendid assortment of

FALL & WINTER

MILLINERY

GOODS,

Varying in Quality and Price.

Bonnets—in pretty styles, colored and white
Straw, from 50 cents to $1. Those at 50 cents are a decided bargain.

Ribbons—one hundred new prices in beautiful styles and high colors from 17 to 50 cents per yard. Also a great variety of narrow ribbons for children's bonnets, and dress trimmings
from 10 to 16 cents.

Flowers—I have the largest variety ever before in Quincy, of French and American manufacture, at prices varying from 10 to 50 cents.

Bonnet Velvets—From 2 to $4 per yard. Any color desired that I have not may be obtained on order.

Bonnets—will be made from this material in GOOD STYLE, trimmed with feathers and flowers as low as $4.00, or higher prices as wished.
I have also another material which I will make into bonnets for 2 to $3.50.

Satin—in good variety of colors, desirable
this season with lace and flowers for Misses.
Bonnet.

Feathers—I have a good assortment of different colors and prices; some as low as 25 cts.

Laces and Edgings—in different quality and prices.

Bonnet—made by hand. Also the joined bonnet at a low price—some very nice which would make a splendid hat.

Those leaving orders for any style of Bonnet—trimmed with straw, satin silk or velvet—we will deliver to give satisfaction, both in price and style of work.

Bonnet made over and repaired in the best manner.

Velvet Ribbons—by the piece or yard, all widths, at low prices.

Children's Cap-crown Satin Hoods—made to order. Also, Ladies' Hoods and Headdresses.

Dress Caps—from 25 cents to $1.50—Black and White.

Cheerful—in different colors, soft and wired Black Lace Veils—in pretty styles; with the usual assortment of Mourning Furnishings
Gloves, Silk and Cape Bonnets, Veils, Collars
Gloves, Capes, etc., in all quantities.

Grave Cloths, in every material used for that purpose.

ROOMS—Goodman's Building, Corner of Hancock and Granite streets.

Quincy, Oct 8

A. J. KEMISON.

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Quincy, Oct 8

Administratrix's Sale.

BY virtue of a License from the Court of Probate and Insolvency for the County of Norfolk, granted the first Tuesday of October, A. D.
1859, will be sold at Public Auction on MON-DAY, October 24th, 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon on the premises, a Lot of Land containing about one-fourth acre with a Dwelling house thereon, situated in Weymouth, and bounded as follows: Northernly by land of George Nash, Easterly by Front Street, Southernly by a public way, and Westerly by land of George E. Nash, deceased, being a part of the premises owned by the late George E. Nash, deceased. The same to be sold subject to the widow's right of dower therein.
SARAH J. NASH, Adm'x.
Weymouth, Oct 8

Administratrix's Sale.

BY virtue of a License from the Court of Probate and Insolvency for the County of Norfolk, granted the first Tuesday of October, A. D.
1859, will be sold at Public Auction on TUESDAY, November 1st, 1859, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises, a Lot of Land containing about one-half acre, situated in Quincy, and bounded as follows: Northernly by land of John Paxon, Easterly by Front Street, Southernly by land of Thomas J. Nightingale, being the premises owned by the late John Curran.
ELIZABETH CURRAN, Adm'x.
Quincy, Oct 1

Administratrix's Sale.

BY virtue of, and pursuant to, a License from the Court of Probate and Insolvency, in and for the County of Norfolk, granted the first Tuesday of October, 1859, will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY, the 31st day of October, current, at three o'clock P.M., the following parcel of Real Estate, which was owned and occupied by

JOSEPH RIPLEY.

At the time of his decease, to wit: A parcel of land with a Mansion House, Shop, Barn, and buildings thereon, situated on Sandford street, Dorchester, and bounded North on said street, West and South on land of Churchill, West also on land of Bridges. Said Estate is subject to mortgages and encumbrances which will be stated at the time of sale.

NATHANIEL E. SAFFORD, Adm'x.
Dorchester, Oct 8th, 1859.

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

ANTONIO OTT,

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Stone
Contractor, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands against the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit
the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

WM. B. DUGGAN, Administrator.
Quincy, October 5th, 1859.

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of
the Goods and Estate of

JAMES NEWCOMB,

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Stone
Contractor, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands against the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit
the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

OLIVER T. NEWCOMB, Administrator.
Quincy, Oct 1

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk ss. Probate Office, Oct. 1, A. D. 1859.

An Instrument purporting to be the last Will
of

JONATHAN BASS,

late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, having been presented for Probate by Lewis Bass, the person named therein as Executor thereof.

Ordered, That the said EXECUTOR notice be given to all persons interested therein that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at the Court of Probate, to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the Twenty-fourth day of October,
A. D. 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, by publishing this Order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate
Quincy, Oct 5

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

OF

REAL ESTATE.

WILL be sold at Public Auction, on the premises, on MONDAY the twenty-fourth day of October next, at five o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of satisfying a certain mortgage, made by Leonard L. Perry to the Quincy Loan Fund Association, dated twentieth day of July, A. D. 1855, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Lib. 285, Fol. 16, for default of the payment thereof and by virtue of the power of sale therein contained, the land and premises thereon described in the said mortgage, and all benefit and equity of redemption thereof, the same consisting of "a certain lot of land with buildings standing thereon situate in Quincy, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Situate on South Street, beginning at a stake four feet from land of George T. Bigelow, there measuring eighteen rods, Easterly on land of Melville H. Arnold, seven rods and twelve feet, thence running Westerly about one rod, thence running Northerly about four rods, thence Westerly on land of S. R. & C. H. Edwards, fourteen rods, thence Southerly to the point of beginning, nine rods and six feet," less by that part of the aforesaid mortgage premises, which part thus released of the aforesaid described premises is bounded and described as follows, to wit:
beginning at a stake on South Street, forty feet from land of George T. Bigelow, and adjoining land of S. R. & C. H. Edwards, and running on said South Street ten rods and ten feet, thence running in a North-easterly direction thirteen rods and eleven feet, adjoining land of said Leonard L. Perry, thence North-westerly on land of S. R. & C. H. Edwards eight rods and four feet, thence running South-westerly nine rods and eight feet to South Street; the premises to be sold being the same now occupied by said Leonard L. Perry.

Terms made known at the time and place of sale.

L. CONGDON, Secretary.
W. W. BAXTER, Auct.
Quincy, Sept. 24th, 1859.

Copartnership Notice.

THE subscribers having formed a Copartnership will hereafter carry on the Wheelwrighting and Blacksmithing business under the name of Turrell & Stone, at the stand heretofore occupied by Charles P. Turrell, on Hancock street, in Quincy, where the patrons of the Old Stand and the public generally are invited to leave their orders which will be promptly attended to.

CHARLES P. TURRELL,
QUINCY TURRELL,
C. PHILLIP TURRELL.

Quincy, May 25.

$50 Reward.

WHEREAS several fires have been set in the woods in Quincy the past ten days, either carelessly or maliciously, the above reward will be paid to any person who will give such information as will convict the person or persons who set said fires.
And the above reward will be paid to any person who shall detect any one setting fires
as above, on conviction of the offender, until the first day of March next.
DANIEL BAXTER, Selection
EDMUND POPE, of Quincy.
Quincy, May 6th, 1859.

Assessors' Notice.

THE Assessors of the Town of Quincy give notice that they have delivered to Charles
A. Cummings, Collector of Taxes, a correct list of the Taxes, together with a warrant in the form of law for collecting and paying in the same, and by a vote of the Town, all persons who shall pay their Taxes on or before the first day of September next, a discount of four per cent. will be made. And the collector is required to pay interest on all taxes not paid in to the Treasurer
on or before December 1st, 1859.

DANIEL BAXTER, Assessors
EDMUND POPE, of Quincy.
Quincy, July 2.

Fruit Jars.

PATENT Airtight Glass Fruit Jars for preserving Fresh Fruits, Vegetables, &c.
For sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy, July 22

ELEGANT STOCK OF

DRY GOODS!

5 TREMONT ROW,
BOSTON.

BLAKE & CO.

INVITE the attention of the public to their large and new Stock of

Rich Fall silks,
AND SILK ROBES,
shawls, Capes, Cloaks, Cloaking, and Velvets,
RICH AND NEW STYLES

Printed Thibets.

CASHMERE, DELAINES,
VALENTIAS, &c.

We have just opened a CLOAK MANU-FACTORY of our own, and stock of Cloak, Tal-lows, &c., is unsurpassed. Garments made to order and warranted.

Has been purchased largely from the recent New York Auctions, we are prepared to give the public great bargains in Dry Goods, particularly in SILKS.

BLAKE & CO.
5 TREMONT ROW,
Opposite head of Hanover Street, BOSTON
Sept. 24

DRESSMAKING.

MISS L. C. KELLY, begs leave to inform her friends, and former customers, that she has returned to town, and renewed her business of
DRESSMAKING!
ON FRANKLIN STREET,
(Opposite Mr. Adams' shop)

Where she hopes by attending attention to her business, that she will be enabled to merit a share of that patronage which has hitherto been so liberally bestowed on her. She would have no objection to work in families by the day or week.
She would also sell, at a discount, all the goods months, she has made herself acquainted with the Modern Improvements in Dressmaking.

Quincy, Sept. 10

Cheap! A Good Chance.

JOE F. BIRRELL has a few pairs of the famous "F. B. Birrell" Thick Solid Calf Congress
Boots, which he will sell for $4.62

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the
former price $1.58, which he will sell for $1.08

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 22d, 1859.

NUMBER XLIII.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

Two Dollars per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then Three Dollars will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher. Advertisements are received at the usual rates, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisements is limited to their own immediate business. Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers. Railway Village, JOSHUA BARCOCK. West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE. Milton, CHARLES BRECK. Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON. Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELY. South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER. Brookline, (N. Y.), GERSON DREW.

LIVERY STABLE.

At Hardwick's Express Stable, on Hancock St., near the Quincy Patriot Printing Office, near and excellent CARRIAGES, with good and safe HORSES, furnished to individuals or parties, on the very best terms. Transportation of Merchandise, Furniture, &c., attended to with care and despatch. The travelling public accommodated with good STABLES, at all times. Good Drivers furnished, if desired. Every effort will be made to serve patrons, and a share of support is respectfully solicited.

Hardwick's Boston Express.

PARTICULAR attention given to the purchase of Goods and to the transportation of them, and valuable Packages. Dispatch in the collection of Notes, Drafts, and Bills.

All orders thankfully received, and carefully and expeditiously attended to.

Hours of Departure.
From Quincy—5 o'clock, A. M.
From Boston—2 o'clock, P. M.

Offices in Boston—34 Court Square, (Railroad Exchange,) and 40 South Market Street.
Quincy, April 9

New Arrangement.

FURNALD'S QUINCY EXPRESS
LEAVES BOSTON, DAILY.
AT 12 O'CLOCK, P. M.
38 South Market St. and 3 Washington St.
Quincy, June 5

BOWDITCH'S Quincy and Boston EXPRESS.

OFFICE—39 & 40 South Market Street, And 48 Liberty Square.

BOSTON.
SLATE AT DANIEL BAXTER & CO.'S, NIGHTINGALE'S PROVISION STORE, AND THE HANCOCK HOUSE.

All orders thankfully received and promptly attended to.
Quincy, Jan 22

GEORGE WHITE,
Counsellor and Attorney at Law,
No. 5 Tremont Street,
BOSTON.

Quincy, March 5.

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—HAS FOR SALE—

LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick & Sand

—ALSO—
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

KENISON & FOLLETT,
JOBBER AND COMMISSION DEALERS IN

Butter, Cheese, and Eggs,

Beans, Dried Apples,

AND COUNTRY PRODUCE.
Cellar, 19 Merchant Row, Boston

GEORGE W. KENISON,
GEORGE D. FOLLETT.

Jan 15

W. M. BABBITT, M. D.,
Homœopathic Physician:
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

OFFICE HOURS:
7 to 8 A. M. 12 to 1 P. M.
6 to 7 P. M.

Quincy, Sept. 11.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Miscellaneous.

The Dacotah's Captive.

BY BEN PERLEY POORE.

While the Spanish Colonist ravaged the southern portion of North America in quest of gold, and the English planted the germs of self-government on the eastern coast, the French were but the agents of home merchants who enjoyed a monopoly of the various traffic, and were sustained in the enjoyment of it by the strong arm of military power.

To the trading association in particular, we owe the discovery of the Mississippi, by the son of one of the members, the intrepid La Salle. In his day, lead was first discovered within the present limits of the State of Iowa, but the noted Julien De Buque was the first to learn the Indians to collect the ore, and convert it into use. He was not only a brave, but crafty man, and after his death the savages in compliance with his dying wish, deposited his remains upon the summit of a high cliff overhanging the "Father of Waters," securing the mouth of the mausoleum with a massive leaden door of a ton in weight. They burned his dwelling and erased every trace of civilized life around his settlements except the orchards planted with his own hands. Vandal whites afterwards cut up the door to sell, but the name of Du Buque will ever be remembered in Iowa.

Years passed away. The white flag of France no longer waved over the Mississippi valley, and the bold frontiersman advancing on the foremost wave of civilization, crossed the river in quest of lead ore, game and fertile soil. One of the first settlements thus established, was formed by a party from Kentucky, led by the grand sire of the younger generation—old Joe Bates, a noble specimen of the frontiersman. Seventy winters had whitened his long locks, but he was still hale and hearty, able to wield an axe with any of his sons, or to draw bead on a rifle with that fatal accuracy of aim which had enabled him to render good service at the battle of New Orleans. Selecting a good locality on the very shore of the Mississippi, old Joe and his sons built a log cabin, surrounded by a blockade to keep off the Dacotahs. Then they surrounded a "clearing" with a worn fence, deadening the standing trees by the fatal axe circle, and planted corn. When their corn was well above the ground and freed from weeds, they began to prospect for lead.

Thus far they had seen no Indians, and began to flatter themselves that the Redskins had left the country to their peaceful possession, but the wily savages had kept a constant watch upon their movements. Perhaps, had they confined themselves to agricultural labors, the intruders might have gone on unmolested, especially as the Dacotahs wished to conciliate the United States government into a profitable treaty, but when pickaxes were wielded in search of lead ore, the destruction of the pale faces was resolved upon in council. The first object of savage vengeance was the oldest, Frank Bates, who had built him a cabin about five hundred yards from "headquarters," despite the warning of old Joe. Frank, however, had no fear of Indians, and lived with his wife and their babe in great happiness until one summer's night, when he was awakened by the loud barking of his dogs. Springing from his bed, he looked through an opening in the logs, and saw to his horror, at least fifty Dacotahs, in full war costume, evidently seeking the easiest way to force an entrance into the cabin. Arousing his wife, he raised a cellar trap-door, and was about to send her down, when the child he had left in the bed began to cry.

I cannot leave my babe said she. Nay, he exclaimed, I will take care of the boy, and almost forcing her down into the small cellar, he closed the unhinged door, over which he drew a large chest. Then seizing his rifle and hatchet, he took the infant and ascended to the loft of the cabin, pulling up the ladder after him. A moment more, the door was forced from its hinges, and the Dacotahs entered eager for their prey. But Bates did not remain to watch their movements, for, lashing his boy to his shoulders, he cautiously opened a shutter in the gable end of the loft, and seeing that no Indians were beneath, jumped to the ground, rifle in hand.

Ere he had traversed his little garden, the air resounded with the blood-chilling tones of the war-whoops and a volley of arrows rained round the fugitive. Happily only one struck him, and that in the fleshy part of the arm, so that he kept on straining every nerve to reach the stockade around his father's cabin. But ere he had gone many paces, a gigantic Indian overtook him. Turning, like a stag at bay, he faced his antagonist, knocked him down with the butt of his rifle, and then sped on his way. But now, to his horror, he saw a large body of Dacotahs around his father's dwelling, as he approached, firing over on to the roofs of the cabins with arrows to which burning tow was attached.

He paused, but the cries of his boy aroused him to a sense of his own danger and his wife's perilous situation. Directing his steps towards the river, where he found his dug-out safely moored, he soon was paddling across the river to a settlement where there was a large number of whites.

Day had scarcely dawned on the succeeding morning, before twenty miners, good men and true, were ready to accompany him across the river. They cared no more for Dacotahs than for prairie dogs, and acted upon the spur of the moment, regardless of consequences. Crossing above his residence, young Bates led them towards his clearing; but on arriving there nothing remained of his house but a mouldering pile of ashes. His beloved wife had evidently perished in the flames, for among the ashes and charred beams in the cellar they found some blackened bones. Just then they were joined by old Joe Bates and two of his younger sons armed to the teeth. They were delighted to see Frank alive for they had feared that the columns of smoke that had arisen from his cabin was his monument, but now they directed their best to console with him in their rough way. He said but little, but secretly vowed to avenge his wife's death, and well did he keep his word. To have seen him, no one would have supposed that the mild looking, slender built Frank Bates, was an incarnate demon in a fight with the Dacotahs, yet within a year after his cabin was burnt, he had twenty scalps hanging at his girdle. Vengeance seemed his only thought, his life's desire.

For some time after this outrage, the Dacotahs kept away from the miners, but at last they came prowling about, and the miners resolved to have a brush with them. Who was so competent to lead the company as the sworn enemy of the Redskins, Frank Bates? The party engaged two Winnebagoes as guides, and then struck into the forest, following a recent trail. The third night of their journey the weary leader insisted on standing sentry, and about midnight the crack of his rifle awakened every sleeper. In an instant every man was on his feet with rifle in hand, ready to repel any lurking foe, but a low whistle from Frank announced that there was no danger. Morning came, and as the party crowded around the sentinel to learn the cause of the alarm, he merely pointed to what appeared to be a huge bear. A nearer approach to the object discovered to their astonishment the grim visage of a dead Dacotah, enveloped in the skin of a gigantic Bruin, who, thus disguised, had attempted to reconnoitre the position of the frontiersmen.

Frank now felt assured they were near their enemy, and followed their trail in silence, on the alert for their foe. On reaching the summit of a knoll, they saw the village before them—a collection of high conical tents, made of dressed buffalo skins sewed together and ornamented with rude representations of the battle or chase. On the outskirts were the squaws engaged in the laborious occupations which fall to their lot. Their infants, lightly bound to straight strips of bark, were tied to small bent birches, which gently danced them to sleep, and the boys of the village, with bow and arrow, were firing at the representation of a Kansas hunter. In the centre of the village, before the towering tent of the chief, sat the braves, smoking their tomahawk pipes with social gravity.

The white men looked at the priming of their rifles, but their sharp hunting knives between their teeth, and with a deafening yell, rushed down through the frightened squaws, ere the Dacotahs could comprehend what caused the alarm. Dashing into the startled group of warriors with fierce war-whoops, they dealt destruction around them. The chief was the first slain, bravely defending himself and encouraging his warriors, who nobly struggled to avenge his death, but all in vain.

Frank Bates fought like a demon, but was at one time nearly a victim to a stalwart warrior. But on glancing at his opponent, Frank recognized a guy red handkerchief around his head his marriage gift to his wife. This added renewed vigor to his body, and increased activity to his fury, as he seized his assailant with his left arm, lifted him from the ground, and at the same time with nervous force thrust his knife into his heart.

This decided the battle, for the surviving Dacotahs, panic struck at the sudden attack, rushed to the spot where the horses were tethered and escaped into the forest. Upwards of fifty dead warriors remained on the bloody field and others grievously wounded, but not a single white man was seriously injured.

The women and children fled to the woods, and the whites found an abundance of plunder, comprising blankets, rich furs, horses, dried meat and tents. But Frank Bates felt sad at heart, for the sight of this memento of his wife made him fear that she had been tortured before perishing in the flames. Night came on, and feeling positive that he could not sleep, he volunteered to keep watch. It was a bright moon-light night, and as he was passing his solitary round, planning new schemes of vengeance, he heard a light step approach him from a thicket.

Frank, at first, raised his rifle to shoot down the intruder, but a secret influence led him to call out, "Who comes?"

Are you a white man? was the reply, in tones that produced an indescribable effect upon the stout-hearted pioneer.

Yes—and you? I am Frank Bates' wife, who was taken prisoner over on the Mississippi, and as she spoke, she approached nearer.

The rifle fell to the ground, and Frank stood as if under the influence of a magic spell. His hands were convulsively clenched, his hair stood erect on his head, a shiver ran through his frame, and he tottered back several paces. But not so the female, who had recognized her husband as she threw herself into his arms.

Frank! my own Frank! do you not know your wife?

Yes, it was. It was his long mourned bride, her features stamped with sorrow, but still retaining her early beauty. Mutual explanations followed, and when the delighted wife learned the safety of her boy, all her hardships vanished. It now appeared that when the Indians had entered Bates' house, they found a keg of whiskey, which they drank freely, and then plundered everything, removing the chest in their researches. Soon two of them quarrelled for the handkerchief, Bates had seen the day previous, and drawing scalp knives, one speedily received a mortal stab, and fell directly upon the trap door, through which the blood ran upon the hidden wife. She, believing it came from the veins of her husband, shrieked aloud, thus betraying her place of concealment. Dragging her forth, her captors bound her, then rifling the cabin, applied the torch to the roof of the slain Dacotah was consumed, and over his bones, Bates had mourned as for those of his wife.

This day they packed the plunder upon what horses the Dacotahs had left, and started for their homes, which they regained in safety. The proceeds of Frank Bates' share of the spoils enabled him to rebuild his house, but this time close to that of his father's, and enclosed with a high stockade. The Dacotahs, however, never returned, and in course of time were driven to the far West. Frank Bates is now one of the wealthiest land-holders in Iowa, a member of the State Senate, Judge of the County Court, and Major General of Militia. Time has dealt leniently with him and his wife, but neither forgets her captivity. Their son never passes the scene of his father's flight on that memorable night, without feeling a renewed sense of his filial obligations, and a deeper love for his boyhood's home.

Gutta Percha.

In its crude state, Gutta Percha has no resemblance whatever to India Rubber, nor are its chemical or mechanical properties the same, nor does the tree from which it is taken belong to the same family of trees, or grow in the same soil; yet, from the fact that it can be dissolved and wrought into water-proof wares, many, not informed upon the subject, have inclined to the belief that the two materials are identical, or very nearly the same. But nothing could be more erroneous, as may be seen by the following comparisons:

Gutta Percha is produced from the Isopandra or Gutta tree; is a sap of a brownish color, which, when exposed to the air, soon solidifies, and forms the Gutta Percha of commerce. It is a fibrous material, much resembling the inner coat of white oak bark, is extremely tenacious, and without elasticity or much flexibility; may be melted and cooled any number of times without injury for further manufacture; is not injured by coming in contact with grease or other fatty substances; resists the action of sulphuric, muriatic, and nearly every other acid; is a non-conductor of electricity, as well as of heat and cold. When exposed to boiling water it contracts and becomes soft like dough, when it may be moulded into any desirable shape, which it will retain when cool; has an exceedingly fine oily grain, and is not an absorbent, but a perfect repellant of water.

India Rubber, or Caoutchouc, is produced from a milk white sap, taken chiefly from the Seppocia Calueta tree, which soon coagulates, when the whey is pressed out, or dried off by heat—the residue is the India Rubber of commerce. It is of a soft gummy nature, not very tenacious and astonishingly elastic. When reduced to a liquid by heat it appears like tar, and is unfit for further manufacture. By coming in contact with grease or other fatty substances, it is soon decomposed, and ruined for further use. If brought in contact with sulphuric, muriatic, and other acids, it soon chars it. It is a conductor of heat, cold, and electricity; exposed to the action of boiling water it does not lose its elastic properties, increases in bulk and cannot be moulded; is not a perfect repellant of water, but more or less absorbent.

The term "Vulcanized" is applied to fabrics of Gutta Percha or India Rubber, which have been cured or tanned, by submitting them to a high degree of artificial heat; the object being to change the nature of the gum, so it will not afterward be affected by heat and cold. Gutta Percha is vulcanized for the purpose of giving it elasticity and pliability, and is entirely free from unpleasant odor; will not decompose and become sticky under any circumstances. When exposed to friction, it wears away dry; is still a non-conductor, and by vulcanization is not injured in its incomparable repellant properties.

India Rubber is vulcanized to reduce its elasticity, and give it more firmness than is natural to the crude material.

A Wine Bath.

An American traveller in the streets of Paris seeing the words, "Wine baths given here," exclaimed:

Well! these French are a luxurious people. Then with true Yankee curiosity and the feeling that he could afford whatever any one did, walked in and demanded a Wine Bath.

Feeling wonderfully refreshed after it and having to pay but five francs, he asked, in some astonishment, how a wine bath could be afforded so cheaply. His sable attendant, who had been a slave in Virginia, and enjoyed a sly bit of humor, replied: Oh, massa, we jest pass it along into nadder room, where we git baths at four francs.

Then you throw it away I suppose. No, massa; den we sends it lower down, and where these French folks does change minds who ant so berry particular, who will bathe in it after this, at two francs a head. Den, massa, we lets the common people hab it at franc apiece.

Then of course you throw it away, exclaimed the traveller, who thought this was going even beyond Yankee profit.

No, indeed, massa, was the indignant reply, accompanied by a profound bow; no, indeed, massa, we are not so extravagant as that comes to; we jest bottles it up den, and sends it to 'Merica, for champagne!

Pure Air.

Whatever renders the blood impure, tends to originate consumption. Whatever makes the air impure, makes the blood impure. It is the air we breathe which purifies the blood. And as, if the water we use to wash our clothing is dirty, it is impossible to wash the clothing clean, so if the air we breathe is impure, it is impossible for it to extract the impurities from the blood.

What, then, are some of the more prominent things which render the air impure? It is the nature of still water to become impure. Running water purifies itself. Air in motion, drafts of air, are self-purifiers. Thus it is, that the air of a close room becomes impure inevitably. Thus it is, that close rooms brings consumption to countless thousands. Hence, all rooms should be so constructed as to have a constant draft of air passing through them. The neglect of it murders myriads. A man of ordinary size renders a hoghead of air unfit for breathing, consumes its blood-purifying qualities every hour, so perfectly, that if a man could breathe a full breath of his own, the next instant after its expiration, without any intermixture with the outer air, he would be instantly suffocated. Hence, sleeping in close rooms, even though alone, or sitting for a very short time in a crowded vehicle, or among a large assembly, is perfectly corrupting to the blood. Close bedrooms makes the graves of multitudes.—Hall's Book of Consumption.

Unsuccessful in this Life.

I confess that increasing years will bring with them an increasing respect for those who do not succeed in life, as those words are continually used. Heaven is said to be a place for those who have not succeeded upon earth; and it is surely true that celestial graces do not best thrive and bloom in the hot blaze of worldly prosperity. Ill success sometimes arises from superabundance of qualities in themselves good—from a conscience too sensitive, a taste too fastidious, a self-forgetfulness too romantic, a modesty too retiring. I will not go so far as to say, with a living poet, that "the world knows nothing of its greatest men," but there are forms of greatness, or at least of excellence, that die and make no sign; there are martyrs that miss the palm but not the stake; there are heroes that miss the laurel, and conquerors without the triumph.—Hilliard

Large and Small Ships.

Many persons, when reading accounts of the Great Eastern, will naturally inquire why people build such immense vessels; why not be satisfied with smaller ones? The following considerations will, in an unscientific way, exhibit some of the reasons for so doing.

A large vessel offers less resistance to headway in proportion to her tonnage, than a smaller one. To make this plain, suppose two vessels of exactly the same model, and moving at the same rate of speed, but one of them being twice as long, twice as wide, and twice as deep as the other, then the resistance to headway which each meets, may be represented by the area produced by multiplying its breadth and depth together, so that the resistance of the one would be to that of the other as four to one; and their carrying power may be represented by the product of their length, breadth, and depth, therefore, the one could carry eight times as much as the other. If the linear dimensions of the one were three times as great as those of the other, its carrying power would be twenty-seven times as great, and so on.

Also, the larger a vessel is, the less she is affected by the waves; and, if she be long enough, she can pass over the waves without diverging from the direct line of her motion, while a smaller vessel has to sail up and down, leaping from the crest and plunging into the trough, so that she is constantly changing the direction of her motion to some extent, and thereby losing momentum.

And, moreover, a large vessel requires fewer hands to work her, in proportion to her tonnage—fewer officers and fewer men—therefore, her expenses are comparatively less.

There are some drawbacks, however, for a large vessel is not easily steered or managed; its length gives great leverage to increase the resistance to the helm, while the momentum of so large a body prevents it readily changing the direction of its motion; it consequently must make a large sweep in turning.

Out-of-Door Exercises.

There is probably not another people to be found that takes so little exercise "out-of-door" as those living in the cities and large towns of the Northern States. This in-door confinement is the direct occasion of two great evils,—impaired health and a destruction of vivacity. To be healthful and cheerful, much time should be passed in the sun-light, where oxygen may be inhaled without stint. Stay in the house, shop, store, office, study, sanctum, or other confinement, where carbonic acid gas and other impurities are breathed and breathed again and again, and it would be very extraordinary if such persons always maintained cheerful hearts, and enjoyed good health.

Among the Germans in Fotherland, (and it may be true of them here) their constant cheerfulness and gaiety would be a marvel to our sad, grumbling people, out of temper, because out of health and out of spirits. Early in the morning, from four o'clock until ten in the evening, the thoroughfares in and about the cities of Germany are thronged with lads and lasses, wending their way to the public gardens and other places of resort, where social pleasures are freely enjoyed, and the heart is made glad, and the health and vigor of the body improved and preserved.

When the men and women have finished their work, or business, they, too, go forth for amusement. And what is worthy of note, the ladies are not afraid of being browed by the sun's rays and the health-giving breezes. They will spend hours in the sunlight, daily, and do marvel that any should object to such an airing.

Can any one wonder at the superior robustness and cheerfulness of the women of Germany, Italy, and other European countries, over the women of the northern cities of our country, after contemplating the difference in their habits?

Mothers should encourage their daughters, especially, to take much exercise in the open air, and do not compel them to take measured, boarding-school steps. Allow them to run, skip and hop, as if they were really alive and full of joy and life.

Any girl from the age of ten to twenty years, who is in the possession of ordinary health, should so accustom herself to walking, as not to be dependent on the cars or the omnibuses in case she desires to visit Mount Auburn or any other desirable place of resort within six miles. Yet as daughters are now brought up, it would be difficult to find a girl of the period of life indicated, that could walk to Mount Auburn and back without endangering health, and perhaps life.

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insures all kinds of Property, real and personal, on favorable terms, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Agents, Mechanics, Householders, Traders, and all Owners of Property not extra charge, are solicited to patronize this Company, which will be made to accommodate them, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON,
TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE,
SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES,
DIRECTORS.

Quincy, Charles Brock,
W. Munroe, Dorchester,
C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,
C. Porter, Cohasset,
J. Bates, Solomon J. Beal,
J. B. Duggan, Hingham,
J. Curtis, Ebenezer Gay,
L. Clark, South Scituate,
R. W. Turner, North Bridgewater,
J. W. Randall, Sumner A. Hayward,
J. A. Cobb, Barnstable,
George Johnston.

References, by permission:
GEORGE F. HEDGECOCK, of Boston,
JOHN H. QUINN, Jr., of Boston,
AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield,
JAMES MARQUET, of Randolph,
SALMON L. ANDERSON, of Hingham,
CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy,
JOSHUA BRIGMAN, Esq., of Quincy.

OFFICE:
Huntington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple and 11.

To Boot and Shoe MANUFACTURERS.

We wish to call your attention to the following Goods, which we are prepared to sell on terms favorable to all parties.
K. and C. and C. and C. finished especially, K. and C. and C. and C. for Congress cases, all wood, Italian and Silk and Cotton Wares, etc.

Quincy, Mass., 25, and 26, and 27, and 28, and 29, and 30, and 31, and 32, and 33, and 34, and 35, and 36, and 37, and 38, and 39, and 40, and 41, and 42, and 43, and 44, and 45, and 46, and 47, and 48, and 49, and 50, and 51, and 52, and 53, and 54, and 55, and 56, and 57, and 58, and 59, and 60, and 61, and 62, and 63, and 64, and 65, and 66, and 67, and 68, and 69, and 70, and 71, and 72, and 73, and 74, and 75, and 76, and 77, and 78, and 79, and 80, and 81, and 82, and 83, and 84, and 85, and 86, and 87, and 88, and 89, and 90, and 91, and 92, and 93, and 94, and 95, and 96, and 97, and 98, and 99, and 100, and 101, and 102, and 103, and 104, and 105, and 106, and 107, and 108, and 109, and 110, and 111, and 112, and 113, and 114, and 115, and 116, and 117, and 118, and 119, and 120, and 121, and 122, and 123, and 124, and 125, and 126, and 127, and 128, and 129, and 130, and 131, and 132, and 133, and 134, and 135, and 136, and 137, and 138, and 139, and 140, and 141, and 142, and 143, and 144, and 145, and 146, and 147, and 148, and 149, and 150, and 151, and 152, and 153, and 154, and 155, and 156, and 157, and 158, and 159, and 160, and 161, and 162, and 163, and 164, and 165, and 166, and 167, and 168, and 169, and 170, and 171, and 172, and 173, and 174, and 175, and 176, and 177, and 178, and 179, and 180, and 181, and 182, and 183, and 184, and 185, and 186, and 187, and 188, and 189, and 190, and 191, and 192, and 193, and 194, and 195, and 196, and 197, and 198, and 199, and 200, and 201, and 202, and 203, and 204, and 205, and 206, and 207, and 208, and 209, and 210, and 211, and 212, and 213, and 214, and 215, and 216, and 217, and 218, and 219, and 220, and 221, and 222, and 223, and 224, and 225, and 226, and 227, and 228, and 229, and 230, and 231, and 232, and 233, and 234, and 235, and 236, and 237, and 238, and 239, and 240, and 241, and 242, and 243, and 244, and 245, and 246, and 247, and 248, and 249, and 250, and 251, and 252, and 253, and 254, and 255, and 256, and 257, and 258, and 259, and 260, and 261, and 262, and 263, and 264, and 265, and 266, and 267, and 268, and 269, and 270, and 271, and 272, and 273, and 274, and 275, and 276, and 277, and 278, and 279, and 280, and 281, and 282, and 283, and 284, and 285, and 286, and 287, and 288, and 289, and 290, and 291, and 292, and 293, and 294, and 295, and 296, and 297, and 298, and 299, and 300, and 301, and 302, and 303, and 304, and 305, and 306, and 307, and 308, and 309, and 310, and 311, and 312, and 313, and 314, and 315, and 316, and 317, and 318, and 319, and 320, and 321, and 322, and 323, and 324, and 325, and 326, and 327, and 328, and 329, and 330, and 331, and 332, and 333, and 334, and 335, and 336, and 337, and 338, and 339, and 340, and 341, and 342, and 343, and 344, and 345, and 346, and 347, and 348, and 349, and 350, and 351, and 352, and 353, and 354, and 355, and 356, and 357, and 358, and 359, and 360, and 361, and 362, and 363, and 364, and 365, and 366, and 367, and 368, and 369, and 370, and 371, and 372, and 373, and 374, and 375, and 376, and 377, and 378, and 379, and 380, and 381, and 382, and 383, and 384, and 385, and 386, and 387, and 388, and

If not accustomed to walking, begin by exercising moderately, increasing a little every day, until you are able to walk three, six or twelve miles a day.

The pleasures of life will be greatly enhanced by exercising as now indicated, or in other no less efficient way. It is no unusual thing for girls to begin to lose the freshness and beauty of girlhood—that delightful period of life—before they get out of their teens. Take our advice, providing it meets the approval of your mothers, and you will preserve and magnify the priceless graces of girlhood as of womanhood—health, beauty, and cheerfulness—and secure that which every body desires, a long, healthful, happy and useful life.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, October 22d, 1859.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SICK CARE WE."

ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION. At the Annual Meeting of the Adams Literary Association, the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:

President—E. W. Marsh.
Vice President—F. M. Johnson.
Secretary—C. H. Porter.
Treasurer—J. Jameson.
Librarian—W. P. Barker.
Directors—H. F. Barker, G. A. Brackett, A. F. Nightingale, C. A. Howland, H. T. Horne.

Trustees—J. B. Lake, H. C. Rodgers, G. A. Barker, C. A. Spear, E. B. W. Bass.

THANKSGIVING BALL. We learn that all the necessary arrangements are being made to have a grand ball at the Hancock House, in this town, on Thanksgiving evening, and there is no doubt but what it will be a pleasant affair, as "mine host" intends to do his best, to make it agreeable to all.

EXAMINE FOR YOURSELF. Prof. Spencer commenced a course of lectures, in the Town Hall, last evening. His aim is to illustrate clearly all the mysterious demonstrations of the various forms of Modern Spiritualism, and show that they can be traced to natural, philosophical and scientific principles. Also to change water into wine, the rod to a serpent, and to cure deafness, tobacco chewing, and many other diseases and vices, all for fifteen cents.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK FOR NOVEMBER. has received with its usual punctuality. The Number before us is one of the best of the series; it is a collection of literary gems, and with jewels, by the artists' most exquisite skill. The opening story, "Picking up in the Pine Woods, or Fishing and Flirting at Thunder Bay," is a tale rich in incident and adventure; succeeded by an admirable "Letter to a Lady, on things which she ought to know," containing excellent advice and much valuable information; also, "The Old Valentine," or an old love revived, a pathetic tale; "Letters from Rio de Janeiro," a bird's-eye view of the manners and customs of that people; "Human Judgment;" "What Precious Stones are made of;" "Carriage Friends," or a renewal of old acquaintances; "Those Thanksgiving Presents, or Penny Wise or Pound Foolish;" "A Title Lost, or a Heart Won;" with the natural enquiry, "Why don't Ladies Learn to Cook?" a chapter of "Receipts, for the culinary department;" "Original Poetry;" "Scrap from the Editor's Table;" "Literary Notices;" "Musings from the Editor's Arm Chair," etc. etc., is some of the excellent reading matter, adapted to the mental appetites of all classes, which is to be found in this number.

The illustrations, also, are rich, and many of them. The two first—"The Old Valentine," and "Trial of Effie Deans," are two of the finest steel engravings. In the Ladies' department, a superb plate of fashion is given; "A Diagram for Dressing Children," a nursery instructor; "Lessons for Embroidery;" "Drawing," etc., with a neat and pretty architectural design, for a rural cottage. Mr. Godey appears to touch and introduce into his Magazine, regardless of labor and expense, all subjects, which he thinks will be useful and entertaining to his numerous readers.

The work we are pleased to learn is steadily on the increase; this we thought impossible; for where in the length and breadth of the country is not Godey already known? or the family were his Magazine, has not found a welcome, and the name of the publisher become a cherished household word. Messrs. Gill & Co. are the agents for this town; their facilities are such, that they are enabled to furnish it by the year, or for a shorter term, promptly, on the day of publication.

NEW FLOUR.—A SUPERIOR BRAND.—H. Vinal, on Hancock Street, opposite the Orthodox Church, has just received a large supply of Western flour, manufactured from new wheat. We have used it in our family and can, therefore, testify to its excellence for all domestic purposes. We know of no greater luxury than good bread; and we know now where to get the material to make it. When properly made, it is in truth the staff of life. But when manufactured from the stale and impure articles with which our markets abound, requiring its weight in alkalis to render it palatable, its nutritious qualities are destroyed, and is, therefore, unfit for use. For a pure article; conveniently done up, call at the store of Mr. Vinal.

Boston Correspondence.

Boston Oct. 20, 1859.

Insurrection in Virginia.—Political feeling at the South.—The election of 1850.—Decline of the Buchanan party.—Faneuil Hall Convention.—Governor Briggs.—The School Question.—Death of Hon. William Mason.—City Matters.—Lectures.—Conventions.—Business.—Elder Knapp.

The most exciting news of the week, are the troubles at Harper's Ferry, a village in Jefferson County, Virginia, some one hundred and fifty miles from Richmond; and where is located the United States Armory. This place numbers about two thousand inhabitants, whom two hundred are blacks. It is conceded now, that the insurrection was instigated by certain infuriated white men for the liberation of the negroes of Virginia from slavery. Although the insurrection is subdued at the expense of considerable loss of life, yet great fight prevails in Virginia and Maryland for future events in reference to negro emancipation. Besides, this unfortunate conflict will be turned into political capital. The bond of union among the people of the South will be made stronger, and a greater bitterness of feeling cherished toward the Republican party. This attempted rising of the slaves will have a tendency to change the programme of the Democratic Charleston Convention, in May next, and secure the nomination of Judge Douglas for the Presidency; the great exponent of Popular Sovereignty. The right of every State and Territory to regulate their municipal institutions in their own way; including the matter of domestic slavery is conceded by the great mass of the people of our country, and non-interference in the slavery question by Congress, is to form the great issue of the coming National election. When once decided that slavery is a matter of local government merely, harmony will be restored in our Republic, and the Union made perpetual. In spite of all party organizations and cliques, the Presidential election of 1860, is to be one of principle.

The Popular Sovereignty question is to be the issue, and it will triumph. The virtual opposition to this doctrine by the Buchanan Democracy, has been their overthrow, and their career is nearly finished. The recent northern elections, from Pennsylvania to Minnesota, show the sinking condition of Mr. Buchanan's party; and who doubts that New York, New Jersey and every northern state this side of the Rocky Mountains, will soon be arranged with the opposition. The opponents of the present Democratic National and Republican State Administration, held a Convention in Faneuil Hall, yesterday, and nominated ex-Governor Briggs as their candidate for the Executive chair, he so long filled, years ago. The speeches were spicy, and the resolutions quite severe. Governor Briggs is also the candidate of the opposition to the Centralization School System, and bids fair to receive some ten thousand votes. The District School Question is more likely to affect the Districts than the State at large. And it would not be surprising to see Senators and Representatives elected, on the sole ground of being favorable to the restoration of the Old District School System of Massachusetts, by the repeal of the obnoxious law of last winter abolishing all School Districts. The people of our State are too conservative to countenance in one sweep such radical changes, and in the end, the act of April 6, 1859, which says the School District System in this Commonwealth is hereby abolished, and all powers given to towns of School District property, will, I trust, be repealed before it takes effect, July 1, 1860.

Since my last, we have received the news from France, of the death of the American Minister, Mr. Mason, by apoplexy. A man well spoken of by all parties. Further advices from California have reached us to September 28th; the old story that business was dull and quotations nominal.

In our own city, the fall business is active this week, money plentiful, and an upward tendency in the shoe market. There is a good feeling and prices are on the ascending scale for all kind of securities. There is no lack of places for amusement or public instruction. The theatres are doing a fair business. Edwin Booth is playing at the Howard Athenæum, as a "Star," of course, to good houses. The first course of the Lowell Lectures, began on Tuesday Evening; the subject was the Constitution and Orators of Greece, by Professor C. C. Felton. The hall was full, and the lecture said to be able and eloquent, containing many passages of great power and beauty. We are to be favored with Elder Knapp, the famous Baptist revivalist, who has been engaged to labor in Boston during the winter. He will make a stir here. The Eighteenth Annual Unitarian Convention is now being held at Lowell. The audiences are large and the proceedings regarded with much interest. Among the distinguished delegates present, honorable mention is made of Judge White, of your town.

"My Mother's Salve," is clean and pure as a crystal; and a few applications to the lips will cure them. See Advertisement.

We are called upon to chronicle a valuable dog's departure from this town.

The following is the "bill of sale":
"Randolph, Oct. 6, 1859.
Sold to William S. Smith, of North Bridge-water, one brindle dog, 3-4 blood Newfoundland and 1-4 Mastiff, named Crapo. His age was three and a half years. Price $50.
ROYAL T. KING."

So we shall see Mr. King's travelling establishment no more. For a year or two he has had the dog in training, and has made him quite valuable as a carrier of produce to market, and many a ride have the children of the village had, in the little cart, on the side-walks. We have seen him take an astonishing load of this kind at a rapid gait up the hill by the box mill pond. This late master says he recently lost him to North Bridge-water, five or six miles, in two hours and a half, and after resting him well, he took him over a smooth road, half a mile, in four minutes.

He has gone into the service of a young man, twenty years, a cripple, eight or ten 70 pounds, a relative of the purchaser, Randolph Transper.

The first three months of this remarkable dog's life was spent in this town, where he was owned by Mr. Abram Prescott, who sold him to Mr. R. T. King for the sum of five dollars.

Special Notices.

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION at Barker's Hall on MONDAY EVENING, Oct. 24, at 7 o'clock.

Question for Debate.
Was it proper to place the Webster Statue in the State House Yard.
Per order. C. H. PORTER, Sec'y.
Quincy, Oct. 22. 1w

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING.
Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.
In Johnson's (Maiposa) Hall,
Miss Davis of N. Y. will speak to-morrow.
Quincy, Oct. 22. 1w

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION. The Democratic Convention of the Eastern District, comprising the towns of Quincy, Braintree, Weymouth, Randolph, Stoughton, and Milton, are requested to choose Delegates to attend a Convention, to be held in the Town Hall, Quincy, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 25th, at 2 o'clock, P. M., to nominate a candidate for Senator, and to attend to such other business as may come before the Convention. Per order, DISTRICT COMMITTEE, Quincy, Oct. 22. 2w

Deaths.

In this town, on the 19th inst., of Consumption, Henry A. Loomis, aged 35 years and 8 months.
On the 15th inst., Mr. Barney Gaffey, aged 24 years and 6 months.
On the 18th inst., Dr. George Newcomb, aged 48 years and 9 months.

Save Your Money.

BY TRYING OUR MEDICINES OF
The Quincy Store Company
YOU CAN
Save from 25 to 50 per cent.

OF what you pay the apothecaries. We are constantly receiving all the new and popular medicines of the day. Among the new additions to our stock may be found the following articles:—
Mrs. Winslow's Sucking Syrup, Kennedy's Medical Discovery, Davis' Pain Killer, Burdett's Cough Syrup, Spaulding's Rosemary, Mountain Dew, Lyon's Kalmatoon, Potter's Hair Balm, Haynes' Balsam, Wright's Vegetable Pills, Russian Salve, Langley's Balm, Skinner's Balm, Clark's Sherry Wine Balm, Epsom Salts, Senna, Sulphur, Alum, Borax, Camphor, Hot Drops, Tincture of Sassafras, Castor Oil, Peppermint, Corn Starch, Wheat Starch, Farina, Tapioca, Sugar, Cocoa, Shells, Broom, Pearl Barley, Oat Meal, &c.
Quincy, Oct. 22

MILLINERY
AND
DRESS MAKING.

Mrs. M. E. Curtis
WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has received a
New and Fashionable Assortment
OF
MILLINERY GOODS,

suitable for the season, consisting of Velvets, Satins, Flowers Ribbons,
Ruches, etc.
Straw, Fancy and Mourning Bonnets, ready-made and trimmed, or made to order.

AN EXPERIENCED MILLINER
will be ready to execute orders promptly and faithfully. Dresses, and all the latest styles of Cloaks and outside garments, cut to order, and warranted to suit customers. Also, Dress Buttons, Corsets, Watchspring Skirts, Worsted Goods, with a variety of articles too numerous to mention, for sale as low as they can be purchased elsewhere.
Quincy, Oct. 22. 1f

For Sale or to Let.
A NEW Cottage House, finished into two tenements, which are entirely separate.
The same will be sold low and terms of payment made easy, or let to good tenants.
CHARLES H. EDWARDS.
Quincy, Oct. 22. 1f

Guardian's Sale.
PURSUANT to a License from the Honorable Court of Probate and Insolvency, for the County of Norfolk, will be sold at Public Auction, in Quincy, on THURSDAY, Nov. 10th, at 3 o'clock P. M., a Lot of Land belonging to the estate of Mr. John Brimmer, situated on Hancock Street, and adjoining property of J. & H. H. Faxon and Thomas H. Plumer.
Said Lot is eligibly situated for business or mechanical purposes, and would be a profitable investment.
MELANETHON SMITH, Guardian.
EBEN. ADAMS, Auct.
Quincy, Oct. 22. 2w

Collector's Notice.

THOSE Persons who have not paid their TAXES are respectfully invited to read the Tax Bills and govern themselves accordingly.
C. A. CUMMINGS, Collector.
Quincy, Oct. 22. 2w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, ss. Probate Office, Oct. 15, A.D. 1859.
UPON the petition of Maurice Shehan, praying that he may be appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

MICHAEL McMAHON,
late of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, deceased,
Ordered—That said petitioner notify and cite all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the twelfth day of November A.D. 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, by causing this Order to be published once a week for three successive weeks in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate and Insolvency.
3w
Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
NORFOLK, ss. Probate Office, Oct. 22, A.D. 1859.
UPON the petition of Thompson Baxter, praying that he may be appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

CAROLINE NEWCOMB,
late of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, married Woman, deceased,
Ordered—That said petitioner notify and cite all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the FIFTH day of November, A.D. 1859, at ten o'clock, in the forenoon, by causing this Order to be published once a week for three successive weeks in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate and Insolvency.
Oct. 22. 2w

Administrator's Sale.
BY Virtue of a License from the Court of Probate and Insolvency, of Norfolk County, will be sold at Public Auction, on THURSDAY, November 10th, 1859, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises, a parcel of Land with the Buildings thereon, situated in Quincy, and bounded as follows:—

Ordered—That said petitioner notify and cite all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the FIFTH day of November, A.D. 1859, at ten o'clock, in the forenoon, by causing this Order to be published once a week for three successive weeks in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.
NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Will annexed of the Goods and Estate of

WILLIAM LOUD,
late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Carpenter, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to MARSHALL TENNY, Administrator
Quincy, Oct. 22, 1859. 3w

FOR LADIES' COSTUME.

NEW CLOAKS AND FURS
—FOR—
Fall and Winter Wear,
—AT—
GREGSON'S
CLOAK AND FUR EMPORIUM,
Corner of Summer and Chauncy streets,
BOSTON.

OUR stock of Fall Sales is now ready, and will be found to embrace an exquisite assortment of Velvet and Cloth Cloaks, manufactured expressly for first class trade.

ALSO—
AUTUMN CLOTH SHAWLETTES,
For the present season's wear;
Opera and Mourning Cloaks, etc.

OUR FUR DEPARTMENT
Is now fully stocked with a complete assortment of

TIPPETS, CAPES, MUFFS, CUFFS,
and every other fashionable garment, in Hudson Bay and American Sable, Stone Martin, Mink, Ermine, Fitch, Chinchilla, and other prevailing FURS, all manufactured from well-seasoned skins, and every article will be guaranteed as represented.

Prices strictly moderate—no abatement made.
A GREGSON,
Summer and Chauncy streets.
Boston, Oct. 22. 4w

Refreshment Saloon.
WE invite the attention of the Ladies and Gentlemen of Quincy and vicinity to the OYSTER SALOON of Loud & Veazie, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING,
Hancock Street, where Refreshments can be had at all hours of the day—Hot Coffee, Tea, Pies, Cake, Confectionary and Fruit.
N. B. Families furnished with the best of Oysters.

LOUD & VEAZIE.
Quincy, Sept. 24. 1f

Cut Flowers & Bouquets.
THE Subscribers take this method to inform the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that they are prepared to furnish

Bouquets, Wreaths, Cut Flowers, AND FLORAL DESIGNS,
Arranged in every variety of style to order.
FLOWERS FOR BRIDAL,
OR, FUNERAL DECORATIONS.
Furnished at all times at short notice.
BARNES & WASHBURN,
FLORISTS.
Adams Street, Dorchester, and one mile from Neponset,
Sept. 10. 3w

TREES.

THE SUBSCRIBER HAS A VERY LARGE STOCK OF Fruit, Ornamental and Evergreen Trees,

COMPRISING A Large Collection of all the rare and curious, hardy Ornamental Trees from Europe.
Also—A large quantity of Pear Trees of large growth, at his grounds at Wallington Park, (near Wallington Depot,) North Quincy.
R. B. LEUCHARS.
Quincy, Oct. 15. 1f

To Fruit Growers.

150,000
Fruit & Ornamental Trees,
PLANTS, ETC.,

COMPRISING Pear, Apple, Quince, Deciduous, and Evergreen Trees, Shrubs, Roses, Alders, Honey-suckles, Grape Vines, Currants, Gooseberries, Strawberry-Rhubarb, Asparagus, Black-thorn, &c.
For sale by
WALKER & CO., Roxbury, Mass.
A lot of EXTRA SIZED Pear and Apple Trees can be furnished. Catalogues sent to applicants.
Roxbury Oct 8. 4w

Trees and Vines.

FOR Sale by the subscriber, at his nursery, corner of Franklin and Water streets, one hundred Barlett Pear Trees, at prices varying from 50 cents to 1.00 each. ALSO, a lot of Quince Stock. ALSO—One hundred Apple Quince, do Orange Quince, in good bearing order. Red and White Dutch Currant Bushes, very large fruit; Cherry Currant do. English Gooseberry Bushes; Isabella and Catawba Grapes.
Quincy, Sept. 17. 3w

ELI HAYDEN.
3w

Charvancee.
MRS. DAVIS, the celebrated Charvancee and Healing Medium of Chelsea, will be at the house of Edward Hall, on Granite street, in this town, Oct. 25th and 26th, where she will examine and give all necessary advice to the invalids seeking her services.
Quincy, Oct. 15. 2w

Magnificent Exhibition
—OF—
RICH DRESS GOODS!

CHANDLER & CO.,
6 & 8 SUMMIT STREET, BOSTON.

Invite the attention of purchasers to their LARGE IMPORTATION OF
DRESS GOODS,

which are now open, for Ladies', Misses', and Children's Wear. Embracing every variety of fabrics, from the richest material to the more common; in the NEW AND BEAUTIFUL DESIGNS,
CONSISTING OF
ELEGANT SILKS, in new and choice designs, and in rare and beautiful colorings—for walking, bridal and party dresses—which have been manufactured expressly for them, and many of the styles are not to be found in any other house in the country.

Also, from the New York Auctions, 10 cases
RICH SILKS AND SILK ROBES, which will be offered below their value.
BLACK SILKS, of superior make, both plain and fancy styles, in all qualities.
FOULARD SILKS,

REAL IRISH POPLINS, in all the new colors and designs, manufactured expressly for them by F. M. DROS, Dublin.
VELOURS DE PAIS. VELOURS OTTO.
MAX. VELOURS DE PAIS.
RICH M. DE LAINE ROBES, in Ladies', Misses', and Children's sizes.
ROBES DE CHAMBRE.
PRINTED MERINOS & MOUS DE LAINE in new and exclusive patterns.
LUPIN'S PLAIN MERINOS, in new and desirable shades.

MERINOS, ERMINE and VALENCIA PLAIDS.
POIL DE CHIEUX.
New Style of ROBE with DOUBLE SKIRT and Two Flounces, in fabrics for Autumn and Winter.

French, English and American Prints, MOUS DE LAINE, &c. Also, a full stock of MOURING DRESS GOODS,
in all the various fabrics of autumn and winter, suitable for the house or street. The whole forming the largest, most varied and attractive stock of

Elegant and useful Dress Goods, which they have ever exhibited. They have also a full assortment of CLOAKS, SHAWLS, CLOAK GOODS, GOODS FOR BOYS' WEAR,
House-keeping Goods, Hosiery, Gloves, Embroideries, &c.

Oct 15. 4w
PACKARD'S
Great Regenerator for the
HUMAN HAIR,

IS now to be well known to need any further recommendation from any source. Yet to satisfy the most credulous, I will publish the following testimony:
Harrison St., Dorchester, Mar. 30, 1859.
MR. PACKARD—SIR:—I have given your Regenerator a fair trial and find it all you claim for it. My hair was very gray; it is now restored to perfect color. All the humor is removed from the scalp. In short, I have now a perfect head of hair. I am willing to go before any Justice of the Peace and make oath to the above, if you wish it.
E. BIRD.

What it has done for him it will do for everybody that will use it.
MRS. E. HAYDEN, Agent for Quincy.
Also, for sale by C. C. JOHNSON.
July 16. 1f

New Stock and New Styles!
—OF—
PAPER HANGINGS.

JUST received a lot of New Paper Hangings, which I shall offer at VERY LOW PRICES,
hoping that those in want of the above articles will call and examine my stock, as I have a large assortment and some very desirable patterns.
CALEB PACKARD,
Cor. of Hancock and Granite Streets.
Quincy, March 5. 1f

To the Honorable the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, now holden at Boston with in and for the County of Suffolk:—

RESPECTFULLY represent your petition, ADAMS and others, that they constitute a majority in interest of the stockholders of a corporation duly established under and by virtue of the laws of this Commonwealth, by an act of incorporation passed March 11, 1852, said Corporation being entitled the "Proprietors of the Neponset Bridge"; that said Corporation was established for the purpose of building and maintaining a bridge across the Neponset River, and a turnpike connected therewith, and that in and by the said corporation, a toll was granted to the said corporation, to continue for seventy years from the opening of said bridge; at the end of which term the said bridge was to be delivered up for the use of the government; and that term of seventy years from said opening will expire in the month of October, 1872.

And your petitioners further represent, that by an act of Legislature of this Commonwealth, passed May 26, 1857, the said Corporation was empowered to convey to the County Commissioners of Norfolk their franchise, road, bridge and all rights in said way; that under and by virtue of said act said Corporation have so conveyed to said Commissioners their franchise, road, bridge and all rights in said way; that the debts of said Corporation are all paid; that there are no outstanding liabilities, and that after the payment of the expenses of this application, there will be a small balance in the hands of the Treasurer, which your petitioners believe will belong to the Commonwealth.

Your petitioners therefore submit that the purpose for which the said Corporation was established has been fully accomplished, and that the further continuance thereof is useless. Your petitioners therefore pray, that this Honorable Court will decree a dissolution of the said Corporation, according to the statute in this behalf made, and order that the balance which may remain in the hands of the Treasurer, as aforesaid, be paid over to the Treasurer of this Commonwealth.

JOSHUA QUINCY,
CHARLES FRANKLIN ADAMS,
CHARLES E. MILLER,
N. H. EMMONS, Ex'or & Trustee,
JAMES H. FOSTER,
S. M. QUINCY, for petitioners.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
SUFFOLK, SS.
SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT,
March Term, 1859. }

On the foregoing petition, it is ordered, that the petitioners give notice to all persons interested to appear before the Justices of this Court to be holden at Boston, within and for said County of Suffolk, on MONDAY, the nineteenth day of December next, by adjournment from the first Tuesday of October next, by publishing an attested copy of said petition and of this order thereon, once a week for three weeks successively, in the Norfolk County Journal and the Quincy Patriot, two newspapers printed in the County of Norfolk, and in the Boston Daily Advertiser, a newspaper printed in said Boston; the last publication to be thirty days, at least, before said nineteenth day of December next; that they may then and there show cause why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

By the Court,
GEORGE C. WILDE, Clerk.
Sept. 22, 1859.

A true copy of said petition and of the order thereon.
Attest—
GEORGE C. WILDE, Clerk.
Oct. 15. 3w

RICHARD'S HIMSELF AGAIN!
A. J. GRIFFIN
IS YET AT HIS OLD STAND,

66 Hanover Street,
WHERE HE HAS JUST RECEIVED AN IMMENSE STOCK

—OF—
French, English and American
DRY GOODS!

WITH ORDERS TO SELL THE SAME WITHOUT DELAY.

See the Prices! See the Prices!
10,000 Jozen Fine Ribbed WOOL HOSE, for 17 cts a pair or $2 a dozen.

1000 doz Chemise Scarfs for 25 cts each or $3 a dozen.
1300 pairs Mackinaw Wool Blankets for $1 88 a pair.

1500 do Large Size do $2 25 a pair.
1100 do " do for $4 50 to $8 per pair.

10,000 pairs KID GLOVES for 25 to 50 cts with all the higher grades in the same ratio.
21,000 yards SILK for 37 1-2 to 50 cents a yard.

These are HIGH LUSTRED and SEASONABLE GOODS, and cheap at 75 cents and $1. Also, EVERY QUALITY and STYLES of SILK, to the richest and best in the market.

SUPERB SILK ROBES,
OF EVERY COLOR, VERY CHEAP.

CLOAKS
In Great Variety, from $2 50 to $50.
Shawls from 75 cts to $75.

Also, a lot of FRENCH CHEMISE SHAWLS, CREPE, &c.
HOOP SKIRTS.
A genuine article, for 50 CENTS and upwards, or about HALF PRICE!

DRESS GOODS,
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
—AT—
AUCTION PRICES!

HERE ARE GOODS TO SUIT THE MILLION, from the Low Priced Prints to the Most Beautiful and costly SILKS brought to this country! EVERYBODY IN WANT OF

DRY GOODS
WILL FIND THIS
THE DEPOT FOR BARGAINS.
66 Hanover Street, Boston.
A. J. GRIFFIN.
Oct 15. 3w

To the Honorable the County Court for the County of Norfolk.

YOUR Petitioners, inhabitants of the Town of Weymouth, respectfully represent that public and necessity require the location and construction of a public highway from a point on Oak Street, in a westerly direction to a point Street, near the house of Ezra Sampson, and that the route, location, and construction of the said road, according to the Statutes in such cases made, and as in duty bound will ever and obediently serve.
ATTEST
Weymouth, Oct. 10th, 1859.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
NORFOLK, SS. At a meeting of the County Commissioners, begun and holden at Weymouth, within and for said County of Norfolk, on the Fourth Tuesday, A. D. 1859.

Ordered, that the Petition aforesaid, Order of the County Commissioners with the South Weymouth Station of the Old and Fall River Railroad, in Weymouth, be published on THURSDAY the 25th day of November next, at 10 o'clock, and thence proceed to view the route in said petition, and hear and determine thereon.

And that an attested copy of said petition, with this order thereon, be served on the Clerk of the Town of Weymouth, at least before the time appointed for said view, and also that a like copy be posted in three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, and in the Boston Daily Advertiser, a newspaper printed in said Boston, and that the balance which may remain in the hands of the Treasurer, as aforesaid, be paid over to the Treasurer of this Commonwealth.

JOSHUA QUINCY,
CHARLES FRANKLIN ADAMS,
CHARLES E. MILLER,
N. H. EMMONS, Ex'or & Trustee,
JAMES H. FOSTER,
S. M. QUINCY, for petitioners.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
SUFFOLK, SS.
SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT,
March Term, 1859. }

On the foregoing petition, it is ordered, that the petitioners give notice to all persons interested to appear before the Justices of this Court to be holden at Boston, within and for said County of Suffolk, on MON

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 29th, 1859.

NUMBER XLIV.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.
No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.
Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.
Railway Village, JOSIAH BARCOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BRICK.
Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON.
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.), GERSHOM DREW.

New Arrangement.

FURNALD'S
QUINCY EXPRESS
LEAVES BOSTON, DAILY.
AT 2 1/2 O'CLOCK, P. M. - 43
38 South Market St. and 3 Washington St.
Quincy, June 5

BOWDITCH'S
Quincy and Boston
EXPRESS.
OFFICE - 39 & 40 South Market Street,
And 48 Liberty Square,
BOSTON.

SLATE AT DANIEL BAXTER & CO'S,
NIGHTINGALE'S PROVISION STORE,
AND THE HANCOCK HOUSE.
All orders thankfully received and promptly attended to.
Quincy, Jan 22

LIVERY STABLE.

At Hardwick's Express Stable, on Hancock street, near the Quincy Patriot Printing Office, new and excellent CARRIAGES, with good and safe HORSES, furnished to individuals or parties, on the very best terms. Transportation of Merchandise, Furniture, &c., attended to with care and despatch.
The travelling public accommodated with good STABLES, at all times.
Good Drivers furnished, if desired.
Every effort will be made to serve patrons, and a share of support is respectfully solicited.

Hardwick's Boston Express.

PARTICULAR attention given to the purchase of Goods and to the transportation of them, and valuable Packages.
Dispatch in the collection of Notes, Drafts, and Bills.

All orders thankfully received, and carefully and expeditiously attended to.
HOURS OF DEPARTURE.
From Quincy - 8 o'clock, A. M.
From Boston - 2 o'clock, P. M.

OFFICES in BOSTON - 34 Court Square, (Railroad Exchange,) and 40 South Market street.
Quincy, April 9

GEORGE WHITE,
Counselor and Attorney at Law,
No. 5 Tremont Street,
BOSTON.

Quincy, March 5.

NATHANIEL WHITE.

—HAS FOR SALE—

LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick & Sand

—ALSO—

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood.

QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

KENISON & FOLLETT,

JOBBING AND COMMISSION DEALERS IN

Butter, Cheese, and Eggs,

Beans, Dried Apples,

AND COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Cellar, 19 Merchant Row, Boston

GEORGE W. KENISON,
GEORGE D. FOLLETT.

Jan 15

W. M. BABBITT, M. D.,

Homoeopathic Physician!

HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

OFFICE HOURS:

7 to 8 A. M. 12 to 1 P. M.

Quincy, Sept. 11.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

LIST OF QUALIFIED VOTERS In the Town of Quincy.

MADE BY THE SELECTMEN, OCT. 27, 1859.

A.

Adams, Charles F.
Adams, John Q.
Adams, Josiah
Adams, Ebenezer
Adams, Edward A.
Adams, Seth
Adams, Henry A. C.
Adams, Owen
Adams, Joseph
Adams, George H.
Abercrombie, Wymen
Arnold, Charles
Arnold, John
Arnold, Daniel F.
Arnold, George F.

B.

Bass, Lewis
Bass, Lewis Jr.
Bass, Benjamin
Bass, Benjamin F.
Bass, Josiah
Balkam, Cyrus
Baron, Darius
Baxter, Daniel
Baxter, Lewis
Baxter, William W.
Baxter, George L.
Baxter, James
Baxter, S. D. P.
Baxter, Lemuel
Baxter, Elijah
Baxter, Josiah
Baxter, George
Baxter, Jonathan, 2d.
Baxter, Thompson
Baxter, James S.
Baxter, D. S.
Bailey, Hanson
Bailey, James
Bailey, Henry
Badger, Ezra
Badger, L. C.
Badger, Clark C.
Bates, Stephen
Bates, Thomas
Bates, Charles W.
Baker, Calvin
Baker, Luther
Barker, George W.
Barker, Henry
Beals, N. H.
Beale, Joseph S.
Beckford, James N.
Belzer, Patrick
Belzer, William R.
Bent, Nathaniel M.
Bent, George
Bent, George A.
Bent, Ebenezer
Belcher, Samuel
Belcher, William
Billings, John A.
Billings, Richard
Billings, Lemuel
Billings, James D.
Billings, George B.
Bigelow, Jabez
Bills, Daniel H.
Blanchard, George
Blanchard, Charles
Blanchard, Henry
Blaisdell, Gilbert
Boyle, Peter

C.

Carr, John J.
Carr, Joseph
Carver, Philip
Carver, Charles W.
Carroll, William
Cahill, George
Cain, James R.
Cain, Adoniram
Cain, Appleton D.
Cain, Lewis H.
Cain, John
Chase, Charles
Chubbuck, David
Chubbuck, Perez
Chubbuck, Henry
Chubbuck, Perez Jr.
Chubbuck, William C.
Chubbuck, William K.
Chubbuck, James
Chapin, E. S.
Clark, B. F.
Cleverly, James T.
Cleverly, Ebenezer
Cleverly, George F.
Churchill, Thaddeus
Churchill, Amos
Churchill, George W.
Chesley, William
Chase, Noah D.
Chase, Alexander J.
Chamberlin, John
Clapp, Jason
Clapp, Elbridge
Clay, Samuel

D.

Damon, Edward
Damon, Ezra
Davenport, William
Davis, Albert J.
Davis, Alonzo G.
Davis, Joseph A.
Dawson, Michael
Dalton, William
Dada, John
Daley, Garrett
Denton, Gideon F.
Dearborn, Horatio G.
Dearborn, Albion
Dexter, John N. Jr.
Dexter, Richard W.
Develin, Michael
Desmond, Patrick
Derby, Charles P.
Derby, George R.
Derry, Charles T.
Derry, William H.
Delano, Emery
Dee, Thomas
Derry, Horace
Dickerman, Charles C.
Eaton, Jacob F.
Eaton, Nathaniel H.
Edwards, David
Edwards, Samuel R.
Edwards, Charles H.
Edwards, James Jr.
Ellison, William
Ellis, Hosea B.
Ellis, Francis C.
Elliot, Richard G.
Faxon, Job
Faxon, John
Faxon, Henry H.
Faxon, Job F.
Faxon, J. Warren
Faxon, Dexter
Faxon, William
Faxon, Thomas
Faxon, Asaph T.
Farrell, William
Farrell, Simon
Farrell, David
Fallen, Patrick
Fallen, John
Feinley, Thomas
Fenn, Isaac J.
Fenno, Thomas
Fellows, Esign S.
Felts, Alexander
Field, Joseph
Field, John Q. A.
Field, William
Fitzgerald, Patrick
Fisher, Richard
Fisher, Richard H.
Flynn, Edward
Fisher, Edwin J.
Freeman, John S.
Frothingham, T. B.
Furnald, Alfred
Furnald, N. B.
Faircloth, John

E.

Corliss, Simon B.
Coyle, Michael
Coyle, Marks
Convey, Arthur
Colburn, Lemuel
Cole, Richard
Conland, John
Craig, Robert
Crane, Ebenezer
Crane, Seth
Crane, Joseph
Crane, Benjamin L.
Crane, John
Crane, Friend
Cross, Peter
Cronin, John
Curtis, Adam
Curtis, George
Curtis, George 2d.
Curtis, William
Curtis, Franklin
Curtis, Samuel
Curtis, Henry
Curtis, Benjamin
Curtis, Charles
Curtis, John
Curtis, Thomas
Curtis T. Jefferson
Cummings, Noah
Cummings, Charles A.
Cummings, George H.
Cudworth, Urbane
Cudworth, Urbane Jr.
Curran, Felix

F.

Faxon, Job
Faxon, John
Faxon, Henry H.
Faxon, Job F.
Faxon, J. Warren
Faxon, Dexter
Faxon, William
Faxon, Thomas
Faxon, Asaph T.
Farrell, William
Farrell, Simon
Farrell, David
Fallen, Patrick
Fallen, John
Feinley, Thomas
Fenn, Isaac J.
Fenno, Thomas
Fellows, Esign S.
Felts, Alexander
Field, Joseph
Field, John Q. A.
Field, William
Fitzgerald, Patrick
Fisher, Richard
Fisher, Richard H.
Flynn, Edward
Fisher, Edwin J.
Freeman, John S.
Frothingham, T. B.
Furnald, Alfred
Furnald, N. B.
Faircloth, John
Gay, Henry A.
Gay, Timothy
Gay, Charles E.
Garvin, Patrick
Garrity, Michael
Garrity, Patrick
Garrity, William
Garrity, Patrick 2d.
Garry, Bernard
Gallagher, Patrick
Gallagher, James
Gerry, James
Gibbins, William
Gill, Charles
Gill, George L.
Gilman, Lyman
Gilman, Albert S.
Gilligan, Patrick
Glover, Josiah
Glover, William S.
Glover, Erastus M.
Glover, John B.
Glover, Nathaniel E.
Glover, John J.
Glover, Horatio N.
Glover, James M.
Glover, John D.
Glover, William H.

G.

Glover, Thomas J.
Glover, John Jr.
Glover, John F. G.
Glover, Joseph N.
Glover, William B.
Glover, Adam
Glover, Noah A.
Glover, John E.
Glennon, James
Glennon, Michael
Glennon, Edward
Gleason, Richard
Gougas, John M.
Goodridge, Lorenzo D.
Gormanly, James
Green, John
Green, John A.
Green, John
Green, Ebenezer
Graves, Ebenezer
Gray, John
Graham, W. H.
Griffin, Patrick
Guiliver, Hugh Guild, William T.
Guy, Frank
Gines, Alonzo
Glover, Benjamin F.

H.

Hall, John W.
Hall, John
Hall, Edward
Hall, Dr. William S.
Hall, Charles E.
Hardwick, Samuel P.
Hardwick, E. A.
Harrington, L. B.
Harrington, E. A.
Harmon, Ebenezer
Hersey, Jacob
Hersey, George W.
Hersey, Ebenezer B.
Hersey, Noah
Hensworth, John C.
Heron, Michael
Higgins, Samuel
Higgins, Samuel P.
Hight, John W.
Hobart, William
Hobart, Benjamin
Hobart, William S.
Hobart, Charles
Holmes, Naaman B.
Holt, Albert
Holden, John O.
Horton, Lloyd G.
Hodgkinson, Michael
Horn, Truworthy C.
Howard, C. A.
Howe, Belcher S.
Hunt, Asa
Hunt, Hiram
Hunt, Simon
Hunt, H. H.
Hunt, Charles N.
Huckins, James
Huntress, T. A.
Hurley, David
Hoyes, F. M.
Harris, James M.
Hayward, John T.
Hayden, George W. 2d.
Howley, Thomas
Hall, Jesse
Hardwick, Joseph W.

I.

Jameson, Jonathan
Jacobs, John
Jenkins, George
Johnson, William
Johnson, Lorenzo
Johnson, Asa S.
Johnson, Horace
Johnson, Joseph G.
Johnson, Samuel E.
Johnson, Francis M.
Jones, Peleg F.
Jones, Joshua
Jones, George J.
Kerwin, William
Kingman, William
Kilroy, Patrick
Kirk, John
Kimball, Charles H.
Kimball, William G.
Kilgushey, Patrick
Knowles, Lyman
Knox, William F.
Kenison, George F.
Kenny, James
Keating, Henry
Lapman, Frederick A.
Lauke, Joseph B.
Leary, Columbus
Lane, Daniel
Lane, Michael
Lamb, Thomas
Lawless, Richard
Lanigan, John
Lapham, F. A. Jr.
Leavett, Jonathan
Leavett, Chase F.
Leavett, Josiah
Lee, Rinaldo L.
Lewis, Thomas H.
Littlefield, Henry
Lincoln, William V.
Lincoln, John F.
Lincoln, Thomas W.
Line, T. D.
Litchfield, Liba
Litchfield, Amos M.

J.

Jameson, Jonathan
Jacobs, John
Jenkins, George
Johnson, William
Johnson, Lorenzo
Johnson, Asa S.
Johnson, Horace
Johnson, Joseph G.
Johnson, Samuel E.
Johnson, Francis M.
Jones, Peleg F.
Jones, Joshua
Jones, George J.
Kerwin, William
Kingman, William
Kilroy, Patrick
Kirk, John
Kimball, Charles H.
Kimball, William G.
Kilgushey, Patrick
Knowles, Lyman
Knox, William F.
Kenison, George F.
Kenny, James
Keating, Henry
Lapman, Frederick A.
Lauke, Joseph B.
Leary, Columbus
Lane, Daniel
Lane, Michael
Lamb, Thomas
Lawless, Richard
Lanigan, John
Lapham, F. A. Jr.
Leavett, Jonathan
Leavett, Chase F.
Leavett, Josiah
Lee, Rinaldo L.
Lewis, Thomas H.
Littlefield, Henry
Lincoln, William V.
Lincoln, John F.
Lincoln, Thomas W.
Line, T. D.
Litchfield, Liba
Litchfield, Amos M.

K.

Kerwin, William
Kingman, William
Kilroy, Patrick
Kirk, John
Kimball, Charles H.
Kimball, William G.
Kilgushey, Patrick
Knowles, Lyman
Knox, William F.
Kenison, George F.
Kenny, James
Keating, Henry
Lapman, Frederick A.
Lauke, Joseph B.
Leary, Columbus
Lane, Daniel
Lane, Michael
Lamb, Thomas
Lawless, Richard
Lanigan, John
Lapham, F. A. Jr.
Leavett, Jonathan
Leavett, Chase F.
Leavett, Josiah
Lee, Rinaldo L.
Lewis, Thomas H.
Littlefield, Henry
Lincoln, William V.
Lincoln, John F.
Lincoln, Thomas W.
Line, T. D.
Litchfield, Liba
Litchfield, Amos M.

L.

Lapman, Frederick A.
Lauke, Joseph B.
Leary, Columbus
Lane, Daniel
Lane, Michael
Lamb, Thomas
Lawless, Richard
Lanigan, John
Lapham, F. A. Jr.
Leavett, Jonathan
Leavett, Chase F.
Leavett, Josiah
Lee, Rinaldo L.
Lewis, Thomas H.
Littlefield, Henry
Lincoln, William V.
Lincoln, John F.
Lincoln, Thomas W.
Line, T. D.
Litchfield, Liba
Litchfield, Amos M.

M.

Marsh, Jonathan
Marsh, George
Marsh, Charles
Marsh, Edwin W.
Marsh, J. Mayhew
Marsh, Thomas M.
Marsh, Edmund S.
Marden, Francis
Mahoney, William
Marr, Thomas
Manning, Daniel
McKendrick, Michael
McDonald, Patrick
McDonald, John
McGowan, James
McGann, Thomas
McGann, William
McGann, John
McCarthy, Thomas
McGuire, John

N.

Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
Newcomb, C. F.
Newcomb, Richard
Newcomb, Jesse P. Jr.
Newcomb, Ira B.
Newcomb, Winslow
Newcomb, Everett
Newcomb, Paul W.
Newcomb, Bryant
Newcomb, Bryant Jr.
Newcomb, Bryant B.
Newcomb, Isaac
Nash, Albert C.
Nash, Nathaniel
Newcomb, James Jr.
Newcomb, James 3d.
Newcomb, Oliver T.
Newcomb, Thaddeus H.
Newcomb, Peter W.
Newcomb, Thomas
Newcomb, William
Newcomb, William 2d.
Newcomb, John B.
Newcomb, Charles
Newcomb, Charles 2d.
Newcomb, Joseph
Newcomb, Joseph 2d.
Newcomb, George W.
Newcomb, John A.
Newcomb, Henry A.
New

NOTICE TO VOTERS.—The Selectmen will meet at the Town House on Monday, the Seventh day of November next, at Three o'clock in the Afternoon, to place names on the List. Also, at the same place on Tuesday, the 8th day of November next, at 11 o'clock in the Forenoon, for the same purpose.

Quincy, October 27, 1859.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, October 29th, 1859.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

FIRE. Early on Monday morning last, the new house of Mr. Eli, near Willard's Lodge, in the west part of this town, was discovered on fire, but it was promptly arrested by the Granite Engine Company before the flames had made much progress. The fire originated in the cellar, and burnt directly up through the building to the roof. As the house was vacant, it was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary. Insured at the Quincy Mutual for five hundred dollars, and the damage, about one hundred, promptly adjusted.

AN INCENDIARY'S ATTEMPT FRUSTRATED. On opening the Episcopal Church in this town, on Sunday last, for Divine Service, it was discovered that an attempt had been made to fire the building. Several light articles had been saturated with fluid, or some similar substance, and then set on fire. Happily, the designs of the perpetrators were frustrated; the fire appeared to have extinguished itself—probably for want of air, with very little damage.

YOUR LAST CHANCE. Chapman's Daguer-type Saloon will leave us soon. Improve your opportunity.

NOMINATIONS. The Democrats at their convention to select a candidate for State Senator, held in this town last Tuesday afternoon, nominated William Belcher, Esq. of Stoughton.

Col. Blake, of Braintree, an Aid to Gov. Banks, has been selected as the Republican candidate for the same office from this Senatorial District.

DANCING SCHOOL. By Mr. Keating's notice in our paper of to-day, it will be seen that he proposes opening in this town, provided he receives sufficient encouragement, a school of instruction in that pleasing and graceful accomplishment. We trust he will succeed, for he brings with him strong recommendations, and such a school would, we think, be well patronized, for it is much wanted by our young folks, at the present time.

FARMER'S ALMANAC FOR 1860, has been received and is for sale at the bookstore of C. Gill & Co. It is one of the most accurate and reliable of the kind.

OUR PAPER. The Voting List and numerous favors of our advertising friends, to-day, has left us but little space for other matter. We don't complain—it is an alternative which most publishers will sometimes find themselves placed in—of being obliged to disappoint those whom they desire to please.

Now's the TIME. Read the advertisement of Messrs George W. Warren & Co. of Boston, in to-day's paper, who are selling at very liberal prices in order to reduce their stock prior to removal to "new quarters," thus saving expense of transportation.

SAD CATASTROPHE IN WEYMOUTH.—The Alms House partially destroyed by fire and two men burned.

On Monday evening last, a small building, connected with the Alms House was discovered to be on fire. The building at the time, was occupied by two poor, unfortunate maniacs, whom it is supposed in their frantic moments, had set it on fire. When discovered, the building was wholly in flames, and as no outcry was heard from the men they were doubtless dead before the fire was discovered. There were besides, eighteen or twenty other persons in the Alms House, but were all removed in safety.

Marriages.

In South Boston, on the 23d inst., by Rev. Mr. Dawes, David J. Burrill of this town, to Miss Sarah Ann Denton of Braintree.

In Roxbury, on the 20th inst., by Rev. Mr. Ryder, Joseph H. White to Miss Maria G. Bailey, both of this town.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 22d inst., Mr. Benjamin Smith, aged 39 years.

In Pembroke, (N. H.) on the 19th inst., left the form, George N., eldest son of the late Mr. John M. and of Mrs. Eliza A. Winnebarger, aged 13 years and 9 months.

Special Notices.

SKATING CLUB. There will be a meeting held at the Lyceum Room, MONDAY EVENING, Oct. 31st, 7 1/2 o'clock. All interested are invited to attend. Quincy, Oct. 29, 1w

The Democrats of Quincy are hereby notified to meet at the Lyceum Room, SATURDAY EVENING, Nov. 5th, at 7 1/2 o'clock, to nominate a candidate for Representative to General Court from the Quincy District; also, to choose a Democratic Town Committee; and, also, to transact such business as may properly come before the meeting.

Per order of the Town Committee.
A. B. PACKARD, Chairman.
Quincy, Oct. 29, 1w

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION at Barker's Hall on MONDAY EVENING, Oct. 31st, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

Question for Debate.
Ought all Laws for collection of Debts to be abolished?
Per order. C. H. PORTER, Sec'y.
Quincy, Oct. 29, 1w

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING.
Services usual hours, forenoon and afternoon. In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall, Miss S. A. Magoun of Cambridge, will speak to-morrow.

Quincy, Oct. 29, 1w

CAUCUS. The National Americans of Quincy will hold their meeting for the selection of a candidate for Representative to the State Legislature, FRIDAY EVENING, Nov. 4th, in the Town Hall, at 7 1/2 o'clock. For order of Town Committee.

Quincy, Oct. 29, 1w

ATTENTION. The Members of the Hancock Light Guard are hereby notified to appear at their Armory, THIS EVENING, Oct. 29th, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

EDWARD A. SPEAR, Clerk.
Quincy, Oct. 29, 1w

AMERICAN REPUBLICAN CAUCUS. A meeting of the Amer. Rep. Party of Quincy, will be held at the Lyceum Room, FRIDAY EVENING, November 4th, at 7 1/2 o'clock, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Representative to the next General Court.

Per order American Rep. Town Com.
GEORGE L. GILL, Chairman.
Quincy, Oct. 29, 1w

DANCING SCHOOL. Mr. ALBERT KEATING takes this opportunity of announcing to his friends and the public, that he proposes opening a School for the instruction in DANCING, in its various branches, at Temperance Hall, WEDNESDAY EVENING, Nov. 24.

During the course, the following Popular Dances will be introduced:

Cotillions, Waltzes, Polkas, Schottische, Walz and Polka Quadrilles.

TERMS.—For 18 Lessons, $5.00, admitting a Gentleman and two Ladies.

V. B. Particular attention will be given by Mr. Keating in the Fancy Dances.

Quincy, Oct. 29, 1w

$10.00 REWARD.
LOST at the Railroad Depot, in Quincy, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 26th, a Carpet Bag, containing 32 pair of Boot Fronts and other property. Whoever will return the above property to the subscriber will receive the above reward.

WINSLOW NEWCOMB.
Quincy Neck, Oct. 29, 3w

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

UNDER and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a Mortgage given by Robert Dickey to Caleb Stetson, dated May 29th, A. D. 1857, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, lib. 258, fol. 54, and by reason of a breach of the condition of said mortgage, the following described premises, being the same conveyed by said mortgage, will be sold at public auction, on the premises, MONDAY, Nov. 1st, 1859, at 3 o'clock P. M., viz:—

A tract of Land in said Braintree, being lot numbered 26, on a plan drawn by S. W. Hollis, said lot containing ninety-seven hundred and fifty feet, and is bounded southerly on Front street, easterly and westerly on Willow street, southerly on lot No. 25, one hundred and twenty-five feet, and easterly, on lots Nos. 16 and 17, ninety-nine and one-half feet.

CALB STETSON, Mortgagee.
Braintree, Oct. 27, 1859. 3w

Mrs. L. M. Dwelle,
Near the cor. Washington & Canal sts.
QUINCY.

WOULD invite the attention of Ladies to her Rooms, where she intends keeping and manufacturing

Children's Clothing,
OF ALL KINDS.

And she also wishes to call particular attention to her samples of fine stitching, whereby all work entrusted to her care, requiring neatness and good taste, will be done with dispatch.

Ladies' Under Clothing made to order.
Quincy, Oct. 29, 1w

Low Prices.

FOR OUR LAST SEASON
AT THE OLD STAND.

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.,

INVITE THE ATTENTION OF

WHOLESALE & RETAIL BUYERS

To their large and well-selected Stock of

NEW FALL GOODS,

Now in complete assortment in every department, as they are making very low prices, to close out

All before removing to their New Store.

192 WASHINGTON STREET

AND 55 HAWLEY ST.

Boston, Oct. 29, 6w

Town Meeting.

NORFOLK, SS.—To either of the Constables of the Town of Quincy, in said County—

GEORGE WHITE, }
J. A. CUMMINGS, } Collectors.

Quincy, Oct. 29, 2w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Probate Office, Oct. 15, A. D. 1859.

UPON the petition of Maurice Sheldon, praying that he may be appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

MICHAEL McMAHON,

late of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, deceased,

ORDERED.—That said petitioner notify and call all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the twelfth day of November, A. D. 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, by causing this Order to be published once a week for three successive weeks in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate and Insolvency.

Oct. 22, 3w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Probate Office, Oct. 22, A. D. 1859.

UPON the petition of Thompson Baxter, praying that he may be appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

CAROLINE NEWCOMB,

late of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, married Woman, deceased,

ORDERED.—That said petitioner notify and call all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate, to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the FIFTH day of November, A. D. 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, by causing this Order to be published once a week for three successive weeks in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate and Insolvency.

Oct. 22, 3w

Quincy Loan Fund Association.

The regular monthly meeting will be held at the Lyceum Room, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Nov. 24, at 7 o'clock.

Members are requested to bring their dues with interest at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum, cash, by giving immediate notice to the Secretary.

LOUIS CONGDON, Sec'y.

Quincy, Oct. 29th, 1859. 1w

Sheriff's Sale.

NORFOLK, SS. Quincy, Oct. 13th, 1859.

MARKEN on Execution, and will be sold by Public Auction, on MONDAY, the twenty-first day of November next, at two o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises, on a lot of land described as follows:—Easterly on a contiguous lot of Daniel Baxter, Southerly by the River, and Westerly on land occupied by George Bent.

This property belonged to the late Nathaniel Hayden, is very elegantly situated on South street, and convenient to the Ship Yard and Stone Shed at Quincy Neck. Also, to the Church, School House and Post Office, and will be sold on the November day if not, on the first day thereafter.

NATH. HAYDEN, Adm'r.

EBEN ADAMS, Auc't.

Quincy, Oct. 22, 3w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

JOHN S. BARRETT,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Some Worker, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

HANNAH BARRETT, Administratrix,

Weymouth, Oct. 29, 1859. 3w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Probate Office, Oct. 22, A. D. 1859.

UPON the petition of John Capen, praying that he may be appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,

late of Weymouth in said County of Norfolk, Esquire, deceased,

ORDERED.—That said petitioner notify and call all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the FIFTH day of November, A. D. 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, by causing this Order to be published once a week for three successive weeks in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate and Insolvency.

Oct. 29, 3w

Save Your Money.

BY BUYING YOUR MEDICINES OF

The Quincy Store Company

YOU CAN

Save from 25 to 50 per cent.

Of what you pay the apothecaries. We are constantly receiving all the new and popular medicines of the day. Among the new additions to our stock may be found the following articles:

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, Kennedy's Medical Discovery, Davis' Pain Killer, Burnett's Cocaine, Spaulding's Rosemary, Mountain Dew, Lyon's Katharine, Potter's Hair Balm, Haynes' Balsam, Wright's Vegetable Pills, Russia Salve, Langley's Bitters, Skinner's Bitters, Clark's Sherry Wine Bitters, Epsom Salts, Senna, Siphon, Alum, Borax, Camphor, Hot Drops, Tincture of Rhubarb, Castor Oil, Paregoric, Cough Syrup, Wheat, Marsh, Farina, Tapioca, Sago, Cocoa, Shells, Broom, Pearl Barley, Oat Meal, &c.

Quincy, Oct. 22, 1w

PAOKARD'S

Great Regenerator for the

HAIR,

Now so well known to need any further recommendation from any source. Yet to satisfy the most credulous, I will publish the following testimony.

Harrison Sq., Dorchester, Mar. 30, 1859.

MR. PACKARD, SIR:—I have given your Regenerator a fair trial and find it all you claim for it. My hair was very gray, it is now restored to perfect color. All the humor is removed from the scalp. In short, I have now a perfect head of hair. I am willing to go before any Justice of the Peace and make oath to the above, if you wish it.

What it has done for him it will do for everybody that will use it.

MRS. E. HAYDEN, Agent for Quincy.

Also, for sale by C. C. JOHNSON.

July 16, 1w

Collector's Notice.

THOSE Persons who have not paid their TAXES are respectfully invited to read their Tax Bills and govern themselves accordingly.

C. A. CUMMINGS, Collector.

Quincy, Oct. 29, 2w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Probate Office, Oct. 15, A. D. 1859.

UPON the petition of Maurice Sheldon, praying that he may be appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

MICHAEL McMAHON,

late of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, deceased,

ORDERED.—That said petitioner notify and call all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the twelfth day of November, A. D. 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, by causing this Order to be published once a week for three successive weeks in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate and Insolvency.

Oct. 22, 3w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Probate Office, Oct. 22, A. D. 1859.

UPON the petition of Thompson Baxter, praying that he may be appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

CAROLINE NEWCOMB,

late of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, married Woman, deceased,

ORDERED.—That said petitioner notify and call all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate, to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the FIFTH day of November, A. D. 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, by causing this Order to be published once a week for three successive weeks in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate and Insolvency.

Oct. 22, 3w

Administrator's Sale.

BY Virtue of a License from the Court of Probate and Insolvency, of Norfolk County, I have been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

JOHN S. BARRETT,

late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Some Worker, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

HANNAH BARRETT, Administratrix,

Weymouth, Oct. 29, 1859. 3w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Probate Office, Oct. 22, A. D. 1859.

UPON the petition of John Capen, praying that he may be appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,

late of Weymouth in said County of Norfolk, Esquire, deceased,

ORDERED.—That said petitioner notify and call all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the FIFTH day of November, A. D. 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, by causing this Order to be published once a week for three successive weeks in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate and Insolvency.

Oct. 29, 3w

NEW CLOAKS AND FURS

Fall and Winter Wear,

AT

GREGSON'S

CLOAK AND FUR EMPORIUM,

Corner of Summer and Chauncy streets,

BOSTON.

OUR stock of Fall Sales is now ready, and will be sold to embrace an exquisite assortment of Velvet and Cloth Cloaks, manufactured expressly for first class trade.

—ALSO—

AUTUMN CLOTH SHAWLETES,

For the present season's wear;

Opera and Mourning Cloaks, etc.

OUR FUR DEPARTMENT

Is now fully stocked with a complete assortment of

TIPPERS, CAPES, MUFFS, CUFFS,

and every other fashionable garment, in Hudson Bay and American Sable, Stone Martin, Mink, Ermine, Fox, Chinchilla, and other prevailing FURS, all non-deteriorated from well-seasoned skins, and every article will be guaranteed as represented.

Prices strictly moderate—no abatement made.

A GREGSON,

Summer and Chauncy streets,

Boston, Oct. 22, 4w

Refreshment Saloon.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies and Gentlemen of Quincy and vicinity to the OYSTER SALOON of LOUD & VEAZIE, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING,

Hancock street, where Refreshments can be had at all hours of the day—Hot Coffee, Tea, Pies, Cake, Confectionary and Fruit.

N. B. Families furnished with the best of Oysters.

LOUD & VEAZIE.

Quincy, Sept. 24, 1w

Cut Flowers & Bouquets.

THE Subscribers take this method to inform the residents of Quincy and vicinity, that they are prepared to furnish

Bouquets, Wreaths, Cut Flowers,

AND FLORAL DESIGNS,

Arranged in every variety of style to order.

FLOWERS FOR BRIDAL,

OR, FUNERAL DECORATIONS,

Furnished at all times, at short notice.

BARNES & WASHBURN,

FLORISTS.

Adams Street, Dorchester, and one mile from Neponset.

Sept. 10, 3w

TREES.

THE SUBSCRIBER HAS A VERY LARGE STOCK OF Fruit, Ornamental and Evergreen Trees.

COMPRISING a Large Collection of all the rare and curious, hardy Ornamental Trees from Europe.

Also—A large quantity of Pear Trees of large growth, at his grounds at Wollaston Park, (near Wollaston Depot,) North Quincy.

R. B. LEUCHARS.

Quincy, Oct. 15, 1w

To Fruit Growers.

150,000 Fruit & Ornamental Trees, PLANTS, ETC.,

ATTENTION.

The Largest and Most Complete ASSORTMENT OF HARDWARE

DOORS
BLINDS
SASHES, &c. &c.
Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon
Bailey, Carver & Co.

Having recently made large additions to our stock of
BUILDING MATERIALS,
we are prepared to furnish them at prices to correspond with the times
CHEAPER THAN EVER!!

We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS.
SASHES.
BLINDS.
WINDOW GLASS.
NAILS.
SHEET LEAD.
FRAMING PINS.
WINDOW FRAMES.
DOOR BELLS.
SCREWS.
&c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS.—An a great Variety.
Also—Pad, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash
Locks;
MORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S
LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;
BLAKE'S BUTTS,
AND AXLE FULLEYS.

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.
Wrought, Fancy Plate,
STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;
SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;
Baron's Patent Lever Blind Fastener—Growth's improved Blind Fastener. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter,
The best device ever used in the place of weights;
DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.
DON'T FORGET
AT THE OLD STAND OF
BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,
SCHOOL STREET.
Quincy, Jan. 25. tf

Ball's Great
SCROFULAR REMEDY.

THIS Purely Vegetable Preparation is pleasant
and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, causing neither vomiting nor purging. It acts directly upon the primary cause of disease regulating the Bowels, removing all vitiated secretions, giving healthy action to the Liver and correcting the Stomach. It overcomes that feeling of languor which is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and restores and restores the vital energy and Physical Strength.

In thousands of cases of Scrofula and Scrofu-
lous Humors, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Scurvy, Head, Tumors, Ulcers, Brucella, Ache-
ma, Gout, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Fever, Sore, White Swelling, Dropsy, Blisters, Barber's Itch, Piles, Old Sores, and all diseases which manifest themselves by Eruptions or Eruptions on the Skin, it has been used with the most gratifying success, after every other known remedy has been tried and failed to afford relief.

It is also an efficient cure for Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Constipation and Derangement of the Urinary Organs.

It is an infallible remedy for irregularities and
other diseases peculiar to FEMALES, such as Weakness and Pain in the Back, Strangury, Affection of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dysmenstruation and Headache.

It can be given with perfect safety and most desirable results in all cases, to any person from
infancy to old age.
Made and sold by WM. SMITH HALL, Sole
Proprietor, Quincy, Mass., to whom all orders
must be addressed. Sold also by Redding & Co.,
No. 3 State Street, Boston; Geo. C. Goodwin, No. 29
Union Street, Boston, and all Druggists and Medicine Dealers through the United States.
Mrs. E. HAYDEN, AGENT.
Quincy, Dec. 13. tf

C. C. JOHNSON,
Druggist and Apothecary,
GOODNOW'S BUILDING,
CORNER of Hancock and Granite streets.
Keeps constantly on hand a large assortment
of Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs,
Fancy Articles, Patenting, Havana Cigars,
Foreign Fruit and Swedish Leeches.

Physicians' Prescriptions,
Carefully compounded, with accuracy, accuracy
and despatch, and warranted of the purest quality.
Quincy, Nov. 13. tf

THE MOUNTAIN DEW!
The Most Splendid Hair Dressing
in the world.

$100 REWARD!
The above reward will be paid to any one
that will produce so good an article, for all
the purposes of a hair dressing.

For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN, C. C. JOHN-
SON, and by Dealers in Perfumery everywhere.
Geo. C. Goodwin & Co., M. S. BURN
& CO., Wholesale Agents, Boston.
July 16. tf

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if
delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discounted previous to the payment of all arrear-
ages, unless at the option of the publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged
until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisements is limited
to their own immediate business.
Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.
Railway Village, JOSIAH BABCOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Dorchester, CHARLES RECK.
Milton, ORIN P. BACON.
Arlington, JOSEPH CLEVELY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.), GERSHON DREW.

GEORGE WHITE,
Counselor and Attorney at Law,
No. 5 Tremont Street,
BOSTON.
Quincy, March 5. tf

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—HAS FOR SALE—
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand
—ALSO—
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood.
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.
July 10, 1852. tf

KENISON & FOLLETT,
JOBBER AND COMMISSION DEALERS IN
Butter, Cheese, and Eggs,
Beans, Dried Apples,
AND COUNTRY PRODUCE.
Cellar, 19 Merchant Row, Boston
GEORGE W. KENISON,
GEORGE D. FOLLETT.
Jan 15

W. M. BABBITT, M. D.,
Homoeopathic Physician!
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
OFFICE HOURS:
7 to 8 A. M. 12 to 1 P. M.
6 to 7 P. M.
Quincy, Sept. 11. tf

New Arrangement.
FURNALD'S
QUINCY EXPRESS
LEAVES BOSTON, DAILY,
AT 2 1/2 O'CLOCK, P. M. —
38 South Market St. and 3 Washington St.
Quincy, June 5. tf

BOWDITCH'S
Quincy and Boston
EXPRESS.
OFFICE—39 & 40 South Market Street,
And 45 Liberty Square,
BOSTON.

SLATE AT DANIEL BAXTER & CO.'S,
NIGHTINGALE'S PROVISION STORE,
AND THE HANCOCK HOUSE.
All orders thankfully received and
promptly attended to.
Quincy, Jan 22. tf

LIVERY STABLE.
At Thadwick's Express Stable, on Hancock
Street, near the Quincy Patriot Printing
Office, new and excellent CARRIAGES,
with good and safe HORSES, furnished to
individuals or parties, on the very best terms.
Transportation of Merchandise, Furniture,
&c., attended to with care and despatch.
The traveling public accommodated with
good STABLES, at all times.
Good Drivers furnished, if desired.
Every effort will be made to serve patrons,
and a share of support is respectfully solicited.

Hardwick's Boston Express.
PARTICULAR attention given to the purchase of Goods and to the transportation
of them, and valuable Packages.
Dispatch in the collection of Notes, Drafts,
and Bills.
All orders thankfully received, and carefully and expeditiously attended to.
Hours of Departure.
From Quincy—8 o'clock, A. M.
From Boston—2 o'clock, P. M.
Offices in Boston—34 Court Square, (Railroad Exchange), and 40 South Market
street.
Quincy, April 9. tf

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

The latest foreign news is not of great interest. Chinese affairs are in a very un-

Miscellaneous.

Boston Correspondence.

Boston Oct. 27, 1859.

Cold Weather.—Its influence on Business.— Growth of Boston.—Materials for Building.—Sand Stone Structures.—Superiority of Granite.—Suggestions relative to Transportation to Boston.—Railroad by Horse Power.—Access to different parts of Boston.—Shall the Granite Business be Revived.

The unusual cold weather of the week, has cramped some branches of business, and given us a winter aspect to movements here.
For many years we have not had so cold an October, and if winter is to set in early, there will be much destitution before the idea of March. So far, the necessities of life are ranging at fair prices for the industrial class; but coal is said to be advancing, and those who have not laid in their winter's supply, will before spring find it for their interest to purchase their winter fuel as soon as possible. As yet, with most mechanics, there is employment here, but the advent of an early winter, must of necessity cause a suspension of many mechanical pursuits. Building is going on with rapid strides in many parts of the city, giving employment to thousands.

In South Boston alone, two hundred and seventy-four buildings will have been erected the present season before the close of the year. Nearly all of them are wooden structures, and not a few built of frail materials. The improvements on Washington street and on the Neck, are of a decided character, and ornamental to the city. A large number of costly structures have been erected the present season of the brown colored Sandstone, of which, our sister State, Connecticut, abounds. It has come in serious competition with Granite, which seems to be growing out of fashion. These dark brown-colored edifices, present a gloomy appearance, are easily defaced, their durability subject to the vicissitudes of the weather, and the stone being soft and highly porous, is easily attacked by Jack Frost, and liable to crumble into its original elements of sand and oxide of iron. It is a material not to be depended upon for permanent structures, and never safe for foundation purposes. On the contrary, Granite, a primary stone, imperishable, remaining the same in appearance for ages inexhaustible quantities lie within ten miles of Boston, and greater facilities of transportation are alone wanted to bring it into successful competition with brick and sandstone materials. The chip or rubble stone, of which there are millions of tons lying worthless at the Quincy Quarries, is all wanted here.

The cheapness of transportation is the desideratum. Railroad branches might be constructed to environ all the Ledges in your town. If steam is too expensive, Horse Railroads, which are gradually envading all parts of our City, might be constructed sufficiently firm to carry hundreds of tons of Granite daily from your Quarries to every part of Boston. It now needs but ten miles of a connecting link of Horse Railroad from your Quarries to Boston. From the Quincy Common over Neponset Turnpike to Dorchester, the connection could be effected by an extension of four miles. This last route would receive fair patronage from passengers. Neponset Turnpike being of good width, the Horse Railroad could be constructed on the sides of the travel part of the highway, (as all Horse Railroads should be), so as to afford no inconvenience to any other track. The route through your village to Dorchester is eligible. Its passage through Neponset Village and near Port Norfolk to Field's corner, would meet the wants of those growing places, and where much of the stock would be readily taken, or a guaranty given that if the Horse Railroad is brought from different parts of Quincy to Neponset River, the people of Dorchester would continue the same to the nearest connecting line with the Dorchester Road. A union of the Horse Railroad in Boston is now in contemplation, so that a person could pass on a continuous route from Dorchester to any part of the City and its suburbs. All these increased facilities would help the transportation of stone from your Quarries, delivered as it were, to any part of the City. It is evident that something of this kind must be effected to bring your Granite to the market, either for shipping or home use; else the grass will grow over those hitherto busy places of yours, where the din of the Stone Cutter's hammer has been until late heard for so many years, and where over one thousand inhabitants have built their houses and invested all their worldly interests in the full belief that the Granite business would never cease at the Quarries of Quincy. Increased means of transportation are all that is wanted to give an unflinching permanency to the Stone business of your pleasant town. Can it not be accomplished?

Why, child, said her aunt, that is a piece
of my aunt Margaret's wedding dress; put it away again. The young lady daughters and nieces looked up in surprise; your aunt Margaret, mother? and yours and mother's aunt
Margaret? they exclaimed.

Yes, our aunt Margaret.
Why, I didn't know she was ever married!
Nor was she, though she came so near once, as to be dressed in what she thought perfect bridal robes.

settled state. And we are likely to hear very direct from the Celestials. Two Russian engineers had proceeded to Pekin to make preparations for the telegraphic line from that place to the Russian territory.
When completed, Liverpool and Galway can be put in direct communication with Pekin, enabling us to hear from China in ten days.
The Great Eastern has made a trial trip from Portland, in England, to Holyhead, distance over five hundred and fifty miles, making the passage in forty-eight hours, at an average speed of thirteen miles an hour. The greatest speed was nearly seventeen knots an hour, without great exertion of the engines, but under a spread of canvas. The Steamer it is said will hardly be ready to sail for this country before November.

An increased interest is felt in the State Election as it approaches. Parties are more cut up than last year, and the opposition strength in the Legislature will be great. No doubt however exists of the success of the Republican State ticket. The deserved popularity of Governor Banks remains undiminished.

Aunt Margaret's Wedding.

I shall never forget the day when I first heard the story of "Aunt Margaret's Wedding." It was one of those thoroughly wet days in autumn when the rain comes patertering against the window panes, and the dead leaves fall around in all directions, making everything look so dreary. I was about fourteen years old, strong and active, and so fond of out-door life, that a rainy day was a terrible trial to my patience. To add to my gloom on this occasion, I was away from my own pleasant home, on a visit to "a very nice family" in the country. That the quiet of their house would prove a strong contrast to my lively home, full of romping brothers and merry sisters, had not struck me at all unpleasantly when I was pleading with my mother to let me go, for I had bright visions of living out of doors, and of roaming over green fields, and through quiet groves, of gathering wild flowers, besides running brooks, and listening to the bird songs which always filled my heart with delight. How could I be lonely amid such scenes; what could I want of company there?

I knew that it rained sometimes in town,
but it never even occurred to me that it might rain while I was in the country; but yesterday it had "poured," and to-day it pattered incessantly. My good hostess assured me that I would catch my death of cold if I went out, so I sat still until had read all the stories in the almanack, the only story book the house contained. Then I watched Mr. Brown sleeping so soundly in his arm-chair, and listened to the click of Mrs.
Brown's knitting needles during what seemed an eternity to me. I could not endure it any longer—that stillness broken only by those monotonous sounds. Half beside myself I ran out of the back door and across the corn fields to the house of Annie Green, a lively little girl with whom I had been so fortunate as to form an acquaintance. Oh, I am so glad you have come, was the pleasant greeting I received—we have company, my aunt and cousins; come right in the parlor and see them. Mother and my sisters are there, and they have been telling such nice stories—come.

Company, and pleasant stories, delightful!
but I was ashamed to go in, for my shoes were heavy with mud, and my hair, in my hasty flight, had blown every which way;
but Annie soon applied a brush to that, and lending me a pair of her own slippers, I was made quite presentable. The ladies were making fancy articles for a Fair, and Annie and I determined that we would each make a pin-cushion for the same occasion. Pretty pieces of silk were needed, and so Annie and I were sent to the garret to bring down certain bags in which her mother had been accumulating such things "for ages," at least, so Annie said. Well, we turned them all out upon the parlor carpet; I selected a piece of crimson for my cushion, while Annie said hers should be of green and gold, because she was a country girl, and loved the green fields and yellow harvests of her rural home. As we were putting the other things back into the bags, the little pet sister Bess caught up a bit of rich white brocade, exclaiming, Oh, mother, mayn't I have this to make my doll a party dress.

Let me see what it is, said her mother.
Why, child, said her aunt, that is a piece
of my aunt Margaret's wedding dress; put it away again. The young lady daughters and nieces looked up in surprise; your aunt Margaret, mother? and yours and mother's aunt
Margaret? they exclaimed.

Yes, our aunt Margaret.
Why, I didn't know she was ever married!
Nor was she, though she came so near once, as to be dressed in what she thought
perfect bridal robes.

Why, aunt, I never heard of that before!
What prevented the wedding? do tell us!
Was her lover drowned in attempting to reach her?

No, he was there, but he had come with a false heart. Aunt Margaret did not discover his deception until everything was ready for the wedding, and she took her own way of punishing him.

Oh, do go on and tell us all about it, you can tell a story so beautifully!
I thought then, as I sat on a cricket in one corner of the room, shaping and stitching my cushion, that the girls were trying to flatter that kind old lady a wee bit, but as she settled her spectacles on her forehead and leaning back in her chair, gave us the following tale, I changed my mind and came to the conclusion that she was a most wonderfully interesting story teller, and that there had been no flattery whatever, scarcely even enough of praise in what they had said to her.

Margaret S.—was never the one to linger in her bed after the sun was up, but one bright morning in spring she rose even earlier than usual, for her mind was too active to let her sleep, and she wished to have a nice quiet time for thought before any of the rest of the household were astir. It was her thirty-fifth birthday, and as she sat at the open window, and saw the sun rise in cloudless beauty, her heart was full of quiet happiness. She looked at the gilded hill tops in the distance, and inhaled the fragrance of the apple blossoms on that large tree just below her window which she had loved from childhood, and as she reflected that she had attained unto one-half of her years usually allotted to man, her thoughts wandered back to her past life. She glanced at her happy childhood. Then her school-girl days rose up before her. She remembered how often she had been incited to diligence by the reflection that she was the oldest of the family, and that she was to study, not for herself alone but that she might impart her knowledge to all these young brothers and sisters, and thus relieve her sickly mother. The duties and the pleasures of her student life were cut short by a summons to the death bed of that dear parent. Her last words were: God comfort you, my daughter, and help you to become a mother to the other children. Study your poor father's comfort, too.

Thus a heavy burden of responsibility and of duty was laid upon her child's heart, and under its influence she became a woman.
Other girls, many years her seniors, were still sporting in blissful unconsciousness of the cares of life, or with light hearts and merry voices were jesting about their lovers, while she went quietly and cheerfully about her daily tasks without a thought of beaux or conquests. She looked back that morning with a quiet smile of wonder at her perfect exemption from all those anxieties and rivalries and coquetries which keep some young girls in such a fever of excitement.

Then she recalled those dark days when poverty had and its depressing hand upon them, and heart grew light at the thought that she had been of use and comfort to those she loved best in all the world. She felt so grateful that she had always been able to look up to the bright side. When her gray haired father came home one night, and in broken accents said, that they were ruined, that the friend for whom he had endorsed, failing to meet his liabilities, had fled, and that they must give up their pleasant home to pay those claims, she had felt so strong in her power of labor and to endure, that the natural order of things was reversed, and the father leaped upon her for comfort. In the humble home to which they removed, her once delicate hands performed all the household labor in order that the children might be educated. Ten prosperity came again, and they returned to their old home. Her sisters grew p, went into society, and one after another married and left their father's house with the blessings of their "mother's sister," as they sometimes called her, resting upon them.

Her brothers had gone forth into the world with high aims for themselves, and high thoughts of woman's character and mission.
She had been like a mother to the children, and when they needed her no longer, she turned all her energies to the last part of her dying mother's request: "Study your poor father's comfort."

For yes she nursed and soothed him in his feebleness, and then he passed away, leaving her the consolation that she had "done what she could" for him.

A few years after this event, aunt Margaret came to possession of a large amount of property. No one deserved it more than she did, and so one was better fitted to use money well and wisely. She felt that through it her influence and her means of usefulness were enlarged, and so she went on her way dispensing blessings to the needy. The trials and sorrows of her life seemed to be over now, and her thirty-fifth birthday saw her, as we have said, full of quiet happiness. She said to herself with a smile, "my nieces pity poor aunt Margaret because she is so old, but young people little know the pure enjoyment we may taste after the fitful fever of youth is passed." Then she thought of the home-holds of her sisters, of the home-ties and home attractions, and for a moment a sense of the loneliness of her lot came over her.

But the dark cloud only passed over the face of the Sun, it was not permitted to rest there, and darken her pathway. Like the clear shining after the rain, she felt in her heart that her destiny had been ordered in infinite wisdom and mercy, and that it was right. Then as she rose and went to the mirror to arrange her still glossy hair, she said to herself, "My destiny was settled long ago; no one can doubt that, who knows that I am thirty-five years old, and that I have had less experience in love affairs than some of my young lady nieces of five or six," and with a placid look upon her face, and the feeling at her heart that if all the sisterhood were as happy as she, the term "old maid" and "spinster" need not conjure up such terrible visions to young girls as they then did, she left her chamber and descended to the breakfast room.

A few hours later on that same day, and aunt Margaret again sought her chamber as a place of refuge from the spring tide of new emotions that was welling up in her heart, and with its rapid current carrying all before it.

Her step was quick and light, there was a strange flush upon her cheek and a light in her eye, which had never been seen there before. She approached the mirror and studied her face, feature by feature, and then the expression as a whole; a very unusual thing indeed for aunt Margaret to do, for she had never in all her life before seemed to care whether she was a beauty or a fright.
But something still more strange had taken place. On this, her thirty-fifth birthday, she had received her first offer of marriage. A gentleman whom she had known for years as a friend, called, and requesting a private interview, told her that he had long loved and admired her, and that he needed her presence to make sunlight in his home, and her love to make sunshine in his heart, and urged her to bless him by the promise of a speedy union. Aunt Margaret was herself too honorable to suspect another of unworthy motives, and this man stood high in the regards of a large circle of friends, and so she believed him when he told her that he stood in need of her love. That night she sat in the same chair by the same open window as in the morning, and again she inhaled the sweet fragrance of those apple blossoms, and watching the lights and shadows which the moonbeams cast among the foliage, she gave herself up to this new source of happiness. In the morning she had the fulness of peace, and now the fulness of joy seemed added thereto.

Her full woman's nature was expanding
now. She had not known that she required any other love, and she had not dreamed of the depths of affection of which her own nature was capable; but the consciousness that she alone of all the world was essential to the happiness of a noble man, that his path would be dark without her love to lighten it, awakened the most delightful emotions within her.

Her sisters shed tears of joy over her happiness. Did we not tell you, dear Margaret, they said, that the best part of your life was yet to come? and you see that we spoke truly.

Every one was anxious to lend a helping hand in the preparations for the wedding, and all "went merry as a marriage bell."
The last day came; aunt Margaret was to be married in the evening; the cakes had all turned out just right, the dresses fitted beautifully, and every body was in the best of humor.

The bridegroom elect had sent for an intimate friend of his, with whom he had spent two years in foreign travel, to come on and stand up with him. He came, dined with us that day, and was presented to aunt Margaret and the bridesmaid. After dinner, the gentlemen withdrew to the balcony to enjoy a cigar, leaving the ladies in the front parlor. How well I remember just where each one sat, for I was then nearly as old as Annie or her little friend there.

Some one sent me to a little spare room at the back of the house, to bring something which I could not find; and I went back and reported that it was not there. Yes it is, you blind little puss, said aunt Margaret, laughing, for I saw it there this morning, and the room has not been opened since; it lies on the lounge by the back window.

Indeed, auntie, it is not there, I said.
Then it has fallen under the lounge, she said.
But I looked under it.
Ah, let us see whose eyes are youngest now! she said, springing up and running through the long hall. I bounded after her.

It was not on the lounge, that was certain.
She stooped down, and drawing it up from under it, looked at me as if about to exclaim again, "You blind little puss," when a voice on the balcony just outside arrested us. The window was open down to the floor, but the shutters were closed, so that those outside were invisible to us as we were to them. "So this is the lady of your choice?"

This is the lady of my choice, responded a voice, whose lightest tone was music to aunt Margaret.

And you have forgotten the pretty little Miss T— with whom you were so madly in love last winter. You have left her for one twice her age and—I can never forget the sweet face of Minnie T— broke in the other speaker, but, you see, man, she is poor; the old gentleman hasn't a sixpence to give her, and I'm hard up just now. Those debts, of which you wot, will be made known if I don't find some means of liquidating them. This lady is rich, rich as Cæsar, and generous and unsuspecting, and it is her gold that I am about to wed. The speakers passed on.
They seemed to have been leaning against the balcony for that moment, believing themselves at a distance from all the inhabited portions of that old house. I looked at aunt Margaret as the sound of their footsteps died away. She sank down with her head against the lounge and murmured, O, God, he told me that he loved me, and that he needed my love to cheer him!

She was so white and cold that I thought she was going to faint, and ran for water.
Before I came back, she rose up and went to her own room. I caught one glimpse of her pale face, and it frightened me, but she locked the door after her, and would not let me in. Two hours later she sent for me. I ran to kiss her, and she tried to smile, but she was white and cold as marble. My child, did you hear—, she could not finish her sentence.

Yes, aunt, I did hear that man say that he was going to marry you because you were rich and he needed—
Promise me that you will never breathe what you have heard! I shall not be married, but I don't wish to expose him. Give me your solemn promise that nobody shall ever know from you what has happened.

Oh, auntie, dear auntie! I cried in great distress, it is too late to obey you now. I have told mother and uncle, and ever so many of them! I was so angry that I could not help it. You may cut my tongue out if you please, but indeed I couldn't keep it, and everybody in the house is so indignant at him.

Everybody! she repeated, everybody knows it; then I must devise some other plan. Go now, and I will ring the bell when I want them to come and dress me.

When her friends were summoned to assist her with her toilet, she was no longer pale, but a bright red spot burned on either cheek, while her eyes sparkled and flashed as if the fire of some strange purpose was blazing in her heart. She looked perfectly beautiful then, but there was something in her manner that awed and kept silent all who approached her.

She had received many pretty bridal gifts, the handy work of her various nieces, and among them, conspicuous for its beauty, was a long silken purse of the purest white, surmounted with rings of silver. To the surprise of every one, when she stood up for the marriage ceremony, she held in her hand that purse, but it was no longer empty. One side was crammed full of Bank bills, while in the other side she had crowded and packed down gold pieces, until there was not room for one more. Many whispers of wonder went round the room as to what this strange addition to her bridal toilet meant. But the mystery was soon unraveled.

When it became her turn to respond to the question, "Dost thou take this man to be thy wedded husband, and dost thou promise before God to fulfill to him the duties of a loving wife?" Her lips were sealed, but she raised the hand which grasped the well-filled purse, and held that out to view, gazing intently upon it, as if she expected speech of reply from it. The clergyman thinking her strange manner might proceed from some embarrassment, repeated his question in a still milder tone. Again aunt Margaret extended the purse, and looking first at it, and then at him, replied, "See, it does not speak!"
Madame! said the gray-haired man, in a tone of grave rebuke. Some of the guests whispered, "Surely the lady has become de-< speck, but for this money which I hold in my hand. This man has declared in my hearing to-day, that it is not me whom he seeks to wed; that he has only need of my gold, and if this gold will speak to take the marriage vows upon itself, it is well, and he shall have it all. Speak, money, speak, dost thou take this man to be thy wedded husband? and again she shook the purse. The gold gleamed through the open meshes of the white silks, but it was packed in too tightly to make even the faintest clinking sound, and so Aunt Margaret sat down—so nearly married, and yet a maiden still.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Nov. 5th, 1859.

BORN IN NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE.

ACCIDENT. We regret to learn that Mr. Eben Underwood, of this town, was thrown from his Express wagon, on Tuesday forenoon, and it was feared at first, seriously injured. The horse became unruly, threw Mr. Underwood from the wagon, near the residence of Dr. Woodward, and demolished the carriage pretty effectually. We are glad to learn that Mr. Underwood is recovering from his injury, which was mostly on the head.

FIRE. On Wednesday last, an alarm of fire was given in this town, about noon, which we learn, was occasioned by the burning of a barn and its contents, on West street, occupied by Mr. John Underwood. Particulars not given. It is attributed to incendiarism.

Whig State Central Committee.

At a meeting of the Whig State Central Committee of Massachusetts, held in the city of Boston, on the first day of November, 1859, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That the extraordinary and alarming condition of political affairs in this Commonwealth demands a thorough change in the administration of the State Government.

Resolved, That the call is imperative upon all those who value or desire a prudent and honest administration of the State to exert their best energies to effect the needed change.

Resolved, That this Committee heartily recommends to the support of their fellow citizens the list of candidates nominated for State officers, by the Convention held at Faneuil Hall, in the city of Boston, on the 19th of October ult., namely:

For Governor, GEORGE N. BRIGGS, OF PITTSFIELD.
For Lieutenant Governor, INCREASE SUMNER, OF GREAT BARRINGTON.
For Secretary of State, B. L. ALLEN, OF BOSTON.
For Treasurer, CHARLES KIMBALL, OF IPSWICH.
For Auditor, JAMES W. SEVER, OF BOSTON.
For Attorney General, HENRY MORRIS, OF SPRINGFIELD.

This ticket, with the addition for county and town officers, of men of integrity and enlarged national views, will receive a hearty support, and do much to place Massachusetts again, in that lofty position she so long maintained.

For the Patriot.
The Liquor Law.

The recent astounding developments concerning the great fraud of adulterating spirits by the State Agent is to be regretted; and shows conclusively that the law is a nullity and of no effect. It is very singular that the friends of Temperance will continue to sustain a law which they must have seen by this time has been a great injury to their honorable cause; a law, which instead of reforming the inebriate, has only built partial mansions for the agents, and fed hungry lawyers, sheriffs, and constables, who have been as ravenous as cormorants to catch the poor offender, either by malice or bribery; an immaterial which, if they get their fee; to demonstrate this fact, of the expense of prosecuting this law, we have only to refer to the criminal records of our Courts to see the enormous amount it has cost the State in enforcing this obnoxious statute. Not only has it been an expense to the State in attempting to execute the law; but it has also been a great charge upon her, and the town Almshouses, by increasing the number of their inmates. We have had a case recently in this town which illustrates this fact; an individual and his wife were removed to the County Jail by a complaint maliciously made against them, we think, and their three bright, active, and homeless children had to become residents of our charitable institutions.

The imposition upon the sick, by supplying them with poor and adulterated liquors to assuage their sufferings, and restore them to an outrage to humanity, and the State which upholds this.

The coming election, that this town will make a choice of some one who will use all honorable exertion to have this law repealed, and endeavor to have a judicious and wholesome License law established that will protect the community from such gross deception and fraud.

For the Patriot.
Who are Crazy?

It has become the custom at the present time, when any great criminal crime has been committed, to set up the plea of insanity. The Republican party have availed themselves of this privilege to palliate the recent Abolition insurrection at Harper's Ferry against the guaranteed and Constitutional laws of a sister State.

Our purpose is to show to the public, that if Brown is crazy, that the leading oracles of the Republican party are in the same condition. "Out of their mouths ye shall judge them." We shall commence with the Hon. Mr. Banks, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the State Military, who won such great laurels in riding that spirited and fiery war steed of over twenty years standing, at the recent encampment, who also, found the troops well-armed and equipped, ready to meet those brave and warlike Celestials, whom he has told us, would sometime or other make an insurrection on our quiet homes. No wonder he thinks so little of our Constitution, when it is his impression that our institutions can be so easily overthrown by these Lilliputian Mandarins. His opinion is, that "I am not one of the class of men who cry for the Perpetuation of the Union. I am willing, in a state of circumstances, TO LET IT SLIDE."

We wish to give now, an extract from Washington's Farewell Address, on the Constitution, and wish you to compare notes:

"It is of infinite moment that you should properly estimate the immense value of your National Union to your collective and individual happiness; that you should cherish a cordial, habitual, and immovable attachment to it; accustoming yourselves to think and speak of it as the palladium of your political safety and prosperity."

Senator Wilson, also, remarks:

"Let us remember that more than three millions of bondsmen, growing under manacles and chains, demand that we shall cease to prove each other, and that we labor for their deliverance. I tell you here, to-night, that the agitation of this question of human slavery will continue while the foot of a slave presses the soil of America."

Old Brown in his conversation with Senator Mason, replies:

"I have nothing to say, only that I claim to be here in carrying a measure I believe perfectly justifiable, and not to act the part of an incendiary or ruffian, but to aid those suffering a great wrong."

All the difference I can see between old Brown and Senator Wilson, is, that Brown attempted to carry principles into operation, endorsed and promulgated by Wilson & Co. Which is the most insane?

Mr. Burlingame is still recognized as a Republican leader, although he may have been a little out when he attempted that celebrated duel. This is his sentiment:

"The times demand and we must have an anti-Slavery Constitution, an anti-Slavery Bible, an anti-Slavery God."

Mr. Horace Greely is not mad but eccentric. What does he say:

"I have no doubt but the Free and Slave States ought to be separated. The Union is not worth supporting in connection with the South."

We have designedly omitted to quote from the irrational and radical speeches of Beecher, Garrison, Phillips, Giddings, Gerrit Smith, or any of the auxiliary Republicans. We have only taken extracts from members in good standing in the party. It is evident that they are alarmed at the result of their teachings, and having no argument to justify their treasonable designs, are trying to make a jest of the whole matter. But they will find their paths, and their misguided followers, are beset with greater perils than they are aware of, as the prudent and patriotic part of the community love their country, her institutions, her laws, and are willing to make any sacrifice to maintain and perpetuate them.

FINE READY-MADE OVERCOATS AND BUSINESS COATS, together with an endless variety of Pants and Vests, of the latest styles and most approved patterns, may be found at the extensive Clothing establishment of J. W. Smith & Co., Dock Square, corner of Elm St., Boston. Now is the time to purchase Overcoats and Winter Business suits, and our friends will find an extensive assortment and great variety, from which to make their selections. This firm make it a principle to sell none but good goods, cheap for cash, spare no efforts to please, and warrant perfect satisfaction to all who patronize their establishment. Their ready-made goods have been made to order in the best manner, expressly for their retail customers. See advertisement in another column.

Any of our readers afflicted with Scrofula or Scrofulous complaints, will do well to read the remarks in our advertising columns respecting it. But little of the nature of this disorder has been known by the people, and the clear exposition of it there given, will prove acceptable and useful. We have long admired the searching and able manner in which Dr. Ayer treats every subject he touches; whatever has his attention at all, has a great deal of it, he masters what he undertakes, and no one who has a particle of feeling for his afflicted fellow man, can look with indifference upon his labors for the sick. Read what he says of Scrofula, and see in how few words and how clearly he tells us more than we all have known of this insidious and fatal malady.—Sun, Philadelphia, Pa.

YOU CAN'T DO WITHOUT IT.—Sensible people always have a supply of Redding's Russian Salve, as they can't do without it in case of accident. For burns, cuts, wounds, chapped hands, corns, chilblains, etc., it is an infallible remedy. Sold everywhere for 25 cents a box.

Boston Correspondence.

Boston, Nov. 2, 1859.

A week of Elections in Eight States.—Probable results in a National view.—State and Territorial Rights like Sovereign.—Massachusetts Election.—Business in Boston.

Politically, the times are exciting. On Tuesday, our State Election comes off. The contest will be animated in Massachusetts, as some contingent questions have recently come up, that are to be brought as issues. The Harper's Ferry difficulties, the District School question, the State Liquor Agency affair. There is much feeling with politicians, rather recriminating. But this should not be. In the great bond of National fraternity we are all Americans, we are all Democrats, all Republicans. Aiming at one great end—the good of our country. Political opposition may reign untrammelled, but personal acrimony, by difference of political sentiment, is the curse of the country. Let not good feeling and neighboring love be marred by politics. State elections come off in Maryland first Wednesday in November, in Delaware the second Tuesday of November, in Louisiana, Michigan and Wisconsin the first Monday of this month. In New York and New Jersey on Tuesday next. In all, eight states, and the results will fore-shadow events as to the Presidential election. The great battle is to be fought on the principle of non-interference with the slavery question in the States and Territories. The exponent of popular sovereignty, will be the next President. A sacred regard to the sovereign right of each State and Territory in all things municipal or local is the palladium of our liberties. It was the doctrine of our patriotic fathers; the sons should receive the boon and stand by the great principle of State and Territorial rights, else the Union will soon crumble to pieces. The will of the people in all State and Territorial matters, is sovereign. So much that the great statesman, John Quincy Adams, said, "Even should Congress abolish slavery in the District of Columbia, where it has exclusive legislation, he should not consent to it, unless the people of that District ratified the same at the polls." This is the essence of popular sovereignty, and the turning hinge of the next National election. With domestic slavery Congress has no right to interfere. A departure from these vital principles by the Democratic party at Charleston in April next, will insure victory to the opposition, whoever that opposition may be.

The nomination for State officers are mostly made throughout the Commonwealth. It is easy to foresee the grand result. The vote of the Republican party will be diminished, and the strength of the opposition will be larger in the Legislature than this year. Boston will be finely cut up into parties, and the gain of the opposition in Suffolk and Bristol Counties is confidently calculated as large. The vote of Governor Briggs, "opposition candidate," will probably run up to twenty thousand. General Butler will receive a large vote, but no doubt exists as to the reelection of Governor Banks and the Republican State ticket, by a respectable majority.

For a few days past the weather has been charming, and the city has a lively appearance, but it is outside show, business is dull, and must continue so until another year, and every business man should govern himself accordingly.

NOMINATIONS. Thomas Curtis has been nominated by the American party, as a Representative to the General Court from this District, and Henry Walker by the Republicans. The Democrats nominate to-night.

Special Notices.

QUINCY LYCEUM. The Annual meeting of the Members of the Quincy Lyceum for the choice of officers, will be held at the Lyceum Room, on FRIDAY EVENING, Nov. 11th, at 7 o'clock.

JOHN O. HOLDEN, Secretary.
Quincy, Oct. 5. 1w

QUINCY CHARITABLE ASSOCIATION. The Annual meeting of this association will be held at the house of Mr. Eliza Turner, on MONDAY evening, Nov. 7th, at 7 o'clock.

NOTICE. There will be meeting of the ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION at Barker's Hall, on MONDAY EVENING, Nov. 7th, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

Question for Debate.
Has Religion done more than Science for the advancement of civilization?
Per order. C. H. POWER, Sec'y.
Quincy, Nov. 5. 1w

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING.
Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.
In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall,
Mr. George W. Atwood, of Medford, will speak to-morrow.
Quincy, Nov. 5. 1w

Marriages.

In this town, on the 31st ult., by Rev. C. N. Smith, Capt. John C. Fabanks of the ship GEORGE GREEN, to Miss Abbie E. Newcomb, both of Quincy.

May the worthy Captain and his fair Consort have pleasant weather and gentle breezes in the voyage of matrimony.

On Nov. 1, by Rev. Q. Whitney, Mr. Warren Veazie, to Miss Lavina Johnson.

NORFOLK, ss. At a meeting of the County Commissioners held at Dedham, in and for said County, on the Fourth Tuesday of September, A. D. 1859.

UPON the petition of Lot Bates, inhabitant of the Town of Colliasset, requesting that a road may be laid out from the Hingham line, through land of Charles Littlefield to the Beech wood road, so called, and for the widening of the road from the Western corner of Benjamin Pratt's orchard, through land of Benjamin Pratt to near the end of the front fence, and for the widening of the road from the Western corner of land of William Harris, Easterly to near the dwelling house of L. A. Pratt, through land of L. A. Pratt to near the Hingham line, beginning at or near Governor's hill, through land of Charles Pratt, or Lewis Bates and Henry Snow, to near the dwelling house of William Taylor, (notice having been first given to all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons interested in the premises, and the County Commissioners were then and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date of this order, and the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colliasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises

Poetry.

For the Patriot.
Never Say Die.
BY F. M. ADLINGTON.

Never say die though the last plank is sinking,
Bully strike out and contend with the wave;
N'er like a coward be whining and shrinking,
Hope for good fortune—she favors the brave.
Cling to her wheel, it is constantly turning—
Upwards, look upward and manfully dare—
Men by experience still must be learning;
If you fail, try again, never despair.
Never despair while a spark of life tarries;
Stand by your flag, tho' it tatters it wave—
Still be your motto, whatever miseries,
"Nil desperandum" the flag of the brave.

The Distant Land

Where dost thou lie, O Land of Peace?
Across what foaming ocean's swell?
My heart, with sighs that never cease,
Yearns in thy palace to dwell.
But yet, O fair and distant land,
I cannot see thy shining strand.

Sometimes, when morning's iris light
Is flaming in the Eastern sky,
I say, beneath that rose and white
The blessed realm must surely lie!
But morning's brow by noon is fanned,
And thou art still the distant land.

And oft when sunset's burnished gold
Falls warm upon the water's breast,
I see beyond the glorious fold
Must gleam the islands of the blest!
But stars steal out, a silent band,
And thou art still the distant land.

I watch, I long, I faint for thee!
Canst thou not open wide the door,
That I may enter in and be Part of thy peace for ever more?
O, send that sleep so sweet, so grand,
And thou shalt be no distant land.

At Rest

Poor girl!
Fold her hands; cross her feet;
Leave her to her slumber sweet,
She hath earned it well.
Every day, for many years,
Cause had she for shedding tears,
And they daily fell.

Poor girl!
See the hollows in her cheek,
Marks of woe she could not speak—
See her shrunken eye.
Worn and wasted is her frame,
None too soon her slumber came—
Touch her tenderly.

Poor girl!
Hard and lonely was her fate,
Life for her was death,
Fruit of yearnings vain,
Sympathy and loving care,
Fell not to her earthly share,
Wake her not again.

Poor girl!
All she trusted faithless proved,
Every creature that she loved
Shortly changed or died;
Good, it is for her to rest,
N'er was woman's loving heart
More severely tried.

Poor girl!
Often has she slept before,
Dreaming all her griefs were o'er,
Life and trouble past,
But from such delusive sleep
Ever more she woke to weep—
Peace is hers at last.

Poor girl!
True and tender hearted one,
Hard it was that death alone
Comfort had for her.
Fold her hands; cross her feet;
Lay her, robed all white and sweet,
In the sepulchre.

Anecdotes.

A generous hearted and whole souled young man divided a luscious orange between his sweet heart and her mother, and on being advised not to rob himself, replied—
O no, thank! Take a whole half each of you! It does me good to see you eat and enjoy it so well—and besides, it isn't robbing myself, neither, for I have got three more in my pocket.

What's to pay? asked a customer after finishing his breakfast.
What have you had, sir?
Three fishes.
I brought up only two, sir.
I had three—two trout and one smelt.

Sarah, said a young man, to a lady of that name, why don't you wear earrings?
Because I haven't had my ears pierced.
I will bore them for you then.
I thank you, sir, you have done that enough.

Can't you credit me, Mr. Butcher, for a little meat this morning?
No, replied Mr. Cleaver, you owe me for that already on your bones.

How do you do? exclaimed a gentleman, seizing a lady's hand, and squeezing it rather roughly.
Oh, I'm suffering from the pressure, sir.

A robust clergyman, meeting a physician, ran to hide behind a wall. Being asked the cause, he replied:
It is so long since I have been ill that I am ashamed to look a physician in the face.

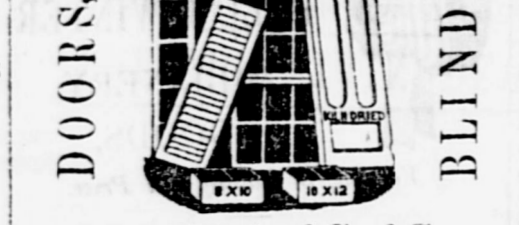

Some one blamed Dr. Marsh for changing his mind.
Well, said he, that is the first difference between a man and a jackass; the jackass can't change his mind and the man can—it's a human privilege.

ATTENTION.

The Largest and Most Complete

ASSORTMENT OF

HARDWARE!

SASHES, 30c & 50c

Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon

Bailey, Carver & Co.

Having recently made large additions to our stock of

BUILDING MATERIALS,

we are prepared to furnish them at prices to correspond with the times.

CHEAPER THAN EVER!!

We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS,

SASHES,

BLINDS,

WINDOW GLASS,

NAILS,

SHEET LEAD,

FRAMING PINS,

WINDOW FRAMES,

DOOR BELLS,

SCREWS,

&c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS,—in a great variety

ALSO—Pads, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash

Locks;

MORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S

LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;

BLAKE'S BUTTS,

AND AXLE PULLEYS,

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds

Wrought, Fancy Plate,

STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;

SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;

Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Growth's

Improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter,

The best things ever used in the place of weights;

DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.

DON'T FORGET

AT THE OLD STAND OF

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,

SCHOOL STREET.

Quincy, Jan. 23.

Hall's Great

SCROFULAR REMEDY.

THIS Purely Vegetable Preparation is pleasant

and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, causing neither vomiting or purging. It acts directly upon the primary cause of disease

regulates the Bowels, removes all vitiated secre-

tions, giving a healthy action to the Liver and correcting the tone of the Stomach. It overcomes that feeling of Languor which is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and renovates and restores the vital energy and all Physical Strength.

In thousands of cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous

Humors, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas,

Scald Head, Tumors, Ulcers, Bronchitis, Asthma,

Sore, Congestive Rheumatism, Fever, Sore,

Now's the Time to Subscribe

THE

NEW YORK WEEKLY,

A HANDSOME QUARTO PUBLICATION,

BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED,

IS NOW UNIVERSALLY ACKNOWLEDGED TO BE

The Best Story Paper

IN THE WORLD.

AMONG ITS

REGULAR CONTRIBUTORS

will be found the names of some of

THE BEST MALE AND FEMALE

WRITERS IN THE UNITED STATES.

Such writers as

JUSTIN JONES, (HARRY HAZEL),

AGASSIZ, J. H. DUGANNE,

WILLIAM EARLE BINDER,

HARRY HAZELTON,

JAMES REYNOLDS,

FRANCIS S. SMITH.

Mrs. MARY J. HOLMES,

HELEN FOREST GRAYES,

MARY C. VAUGHAN,

MARGARET VERNE,

ANNA RAYMOND,

EDA MAYVILLE,

Write for it regularly, while a score of other

well-known writers occasionally contribute to its columns.

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY

has now engaged the force of talent that cannot be rivaled by any establishment in the world.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

Never before has any new candidate for public favor in the Literary World received such flattering notices from the Press. From all quarters, our editorial brethren have cheered us on by speaking of our enterprise in a manner to stimulate our vanity, and to excite

the envy of our rivals.

GENERAL CHARACTER

OF THE NEW YORK WEEKLY.

THE WEEKLY is designed more especially as

A FIRST-CLASS STORY PAPER,

in which we intend to give our readers a succession of the Best Stories ever published in the United States! The aim and object of these productions will be to inculcate useful

knowledge under the pleasing guise of fiction,

or to teach great moral lessons through the same means. We shall never publish a work of line, the tendency of which is to injure the morals or taste of the reader. Every issue of the New York Weekly will contain short

Sketches of Life and Manners, Notes

of Travel and Adventure, Short Stories, General Summary of Events,

Humorous Gleanings, Poetry,

Editorials, &c. &c. &c.

As specimens of our serials, we would point to

A. J. H. DUGANNE'S Great Story

GARIBALDI,

THE HERO OF ITALY.

HARRY HAZEL'S

EXCITING INDIAN ROMANCE,

THE MUTE SPY!

FRANCIS S. SMITH'S

INTERESTING DOMESTIC STORY,

MAGGIE,

THE CHILD OF CHARITY!

While, as specimens of our standing departments, we point with pride to

OUR BALLADS OF THE BIBLE,

admitted by all to be the most masterly written and beautiful scriptural poems ever produced.

OUR KNOWLEDGE BOX,

in which we weekly contain a number of paragraphs of the greatest importance to house-keepers and others.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS,

an interesting lecture, ranging "from grave

to gay, from lively to severe.

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,

prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.

OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,

OUR ITEMS OF INTEREST,

etc., etc., etc.

In a word, its Editors will use their best endeavors to get up just such a paper as will eventually find its way to every fireside in the land—that shall be a welcome visitor wherever it goes—equally popular in the workshop

and the office—at the fireside of the farmer, or in the counting-room of the merchant—a paper that parents can, with safety, place in the hands of their children without nite or complaint, feeling certain that its influence will be to stimulate their minds to the pursuit of knowledge, or lead them to abhor vice and wron.

Our Circulation Prospects

The NEW YORK WEEKLY has gone up to a circulation which places it second in point of circulation in the list of publications

of the day. There is but one weekly publication in the world having a larger circulation than the WEEKLY. The WEEKLY is, at present, that the circulation of the

WEEKLY will soon reach half a million—

Where the newsmen were taking tens, they are now taking hundreds of copies. This is the general effect among the Five Thousand

News Agents who are now selling the NEW

YORK WEEKLY, while from nearly every

Post Office in the country, we are daily getting subscriptions and orders for specimens.

How and where to get the Weekly.

Wherever there is a News Agent, get the paper from him. By so doing you do not run

the risk of losing your money through the Post Office, or having to pay for what you will never get. If the paper you are buying

from the Agent stops, you do not lose advance subscription, as you can place where you have no means of looking after it. We trust

the day is not far distant when every town

large enough to sustain a Post Office, will have its News Agent.

OUR TERMS.

The price of the NEW YORK WEEKLY

Four Cents, but where Agent have to pay

extra freight or postage, a higher price is necessarily charged. When sent by mail, the price will invariably be $2 a year, in advance.

Subscriptions taken for three months. Two copies will be sent for one year for $3. Four copies for $6, eight copies for $12. Postmasters and others who get up clubs of ten,

and send us $15 at one time, will be entitled to an extra copy for their trouble. The bill of all solvent banks taken at par for subscriptions. Canada subscribers must send twenty-five cents extra with every subscription, to pre-pay the American postage.

All letters and communications, in relation to the Editor, Business Departments of the NEW YORK WEEKLY, must be addressed to

STREET & SMITH,

EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS,

22 Beekman Street, New York.

Sept. 3.

THE

RUSSIA SALVE

VEGETABLE OINTMENT

has been used and sold in Boston for the last

Years, and its virtues have stood the test of time.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES RUINS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES CANCERS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EYES.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES ITCH.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEMONS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD HEAD.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES NETTLE RASH.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES CUTS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE THROAT.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES FILLS BITES.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLROWS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUMATISM.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES INGROWING NAILS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER STINGS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGBURNS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES FROZEN LIMBS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES WOUNDS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES BOILS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLESH WOUNDS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES BRUISES.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHAPPED HANDS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SWELLED NOSE.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES ERYSIPELAS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES LAME WRIST.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES LAME LEGS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES LAME FEET.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES LAME BACK.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES LAME NECK.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES LAME ARM.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES LAME LEG.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES LAME FOOT.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES LAME HAND.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES LAME FINGER.

To Boot and Shoe MANUFACTURERS.

E wish to call your attention to the following Goods, which we are prepared to sell most favorable terms.

and Colored Dressings, finished especial. Brown and Drab Cases, by Congress shoes. Brown and Drab Felings, for snow shoes, age, all wool. Italian do. Silk and Cotton Varp do.

de Berri's or Gossard Webs, of beautiful quality for Congress Shoes. and Congress Webs, from 2 in. to 14 in., new style.

ns, black and colors, 2, 3 and 4 in. widths. Ducks; Congress and Linon Canvas. Ribbons, Rosettes, and Sandal Web. Cords, Shoe Laccets and Strings, all in lots. Shoe Buttons of all descriptions.

Linen Machine Threads,

e well known XXX Golden Flax Stamp, a description required in the manufacturing note, Bogues, Shoes and Congress Work, No. 18 to 100, from 2 to 10 cord, in Black, Grey, Orange, Yellow and W. Brown, in 3s, Balls and Spools, for siding, closing, lining, binding, straps and counters, top stitching and under threads. Also Shoe Thread, Machine Silk, all colors and sizes. A Island Hank Cotton, Blacks, Colored, Un-dyed and White.

ool Threads and Sewing Cotton, of all de-

Manufacturers of Clothing find in our stock everything in Linen and Cotton Threads required in their work, and they think superior to any other in use.

BROWN, DIX & Co., No. 52 Milk street, Boston, June 25

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, in- suring Real and Personal Property against the haz- ard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable ma-mers, Mechanics, Householders, Traders, and all Owners of Property not extra- charged, are solicited to patronize this Compa- ny. Every effort will be made to accommodate holders, by mail or otherwise, from persons re- siding at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT, WILLIAM S. MORTON, TREASURER, ISRAEL W. MUNROE, SECRETARY, STEPHEN BATES, DIRECTORS, Quincy, Milton, William S. Morton, Charles Brock, Milton S. Morton, Dorchester, Israhel W. Munroe, H. W. Blanchard, Thomas C. Webb, Whitcomb Porter, Cohasset, Stephen Bates, Solomon J. Beal, William B. Duggan, Hingham, Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gray, B. Leachman, South Hingham, Randolph, Alfred Loring, Royal W. Turner, North Bridgewater, South Braintree, Sumner A. Hayward, Josias Randall, Barnstable, Dedham, George Marston, Jonathan A. Cobb.

References, by permission:

By GEORGE T. RIGGLOW, of Boston, By JOSHUA QUINCY, Jr., of Boston, By AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield, By JAMES MAQUHUE, of Randolph, By SOLOMON LINCOLN, of Hingham, By CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy, By JOSHUA BRIGHAM, Esq., of Quincy.

OFFICE: Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple April 1.

WHITE HANDS!

PERSIAN BATH SOAP.

For the Toilet, Bath, Nursery, Shaving, and for Cleaning the Teeth.

THIS superior Soap will make the HANDS WHITE and SOFT, and is a certain re- medy for CHAPPED HANDS, TAN, SUN-BURN, and all medicinal purposes where a cooling and Emollient effect is desired.

WM. SMITH HALL, Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass.

DYER, J. R., General Travelling Agent. Price—25 cents per cake.

Sold by MRS. E. HAYDEN, Quincy Aug 22

SEASONED LUMBER.

all descriptions, at prices to suit the times

DIMENSION FRAMES,

Furnished at short notice. Best quality of Lume constantly on hand.

Also—Good Pine Wood at $5 a Cord. For sale at BRACKETT'S WHARF. Quincy, May 8

Something New.

WE have just added to our stock of PAPER HANGINGS, a large lot of the latest, received direct from the manufacturers, such we shall sell cheap.

DANIEL BAXTER & CO. Quincy, March 26

Paper Hangings.

JUST received, and for sale by the Sub- scribers, an assortment of Paper Hang- ings, which will be sold as low as can be ought elsewhere, by GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO. Quincy, March 26

Pickles.

50 GALLONS of Pickles just received and for sale cheap for cash.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co. Quincy, Feb 28

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 12th, 1859.

NUMBER XLVI.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be dis- continued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously in- serted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to re- ceive pay and requested to procure subscribers.

Railway Village, JOSHUA BABCOCK, West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE, Milton, CHARLES BRECK, Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON, Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELY, South Scituate, Samuel A. TURNER, Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHOM DREW.

W. M. BABBITT, M. D., Homoeopathic Physician!

HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

OFFICE HOURS:

7 to 8 A. M. 12 to 1 P. M. 6 to 7 P. M. Quincy, Sept. 11.

KENISON & FOLLETT,

JOBBING AND COMMISSION DEALERS IN

Butter, Cheese, and Eggs,

Brans, Dried Apples,

AND COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Cellar, 19 Merchant Row, Boston

GEORGE W. KENISON, GEORGE D. FOLLETT.

Jan 15

GEORGE WHITE,

Counsellor and Attorney at Law,

No. 5 Tremont Street,

BOSTON.

Quincy, March 5.

NATHANIEL WHITE,

—HAS FOR SALE—

LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

—ALSO—

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood.

QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

New Arrangement.

FURNALD'S

QUINCY EXPRESS

LEAVES BOSTON: DAILY.

At 2 1/2 O'CLOCK, P. M.

38 South Market St. and 3 Washington St.

Quincy, June 5

HOWDITCH'S

Quincy and Boston

EXPRESS.

OFFICE — 39 & 40 South Market Street,

And 48 Liberty Square,

BOSTON.

SLATE AT DANIEL BAXTER & CO.'S,

NIGHTINGALE'S PROVISION STORE,

AND THE HANCOCK HOUSE.

At All orders, thankfully received and promptly attended to.

Quincy, Jan 22

LIVERY STABLE.

A Hardwick's Express Stable, on Hancock street, near the Quincy Patriot Printing Office, new and excellent CARRIAGES, with good and safe HORSES, furnished to individuals or parties, on the very best terms.

Transportation of Merchandise, Furniture, &c., attended to with care and despatch.

The travelling public accommodated with good STABLEING, at all times.

Good Drivers furnished, if desired.

Every effort will be made to serve patrons, and a share of support is respectfully solicited.

Hardwick's Boston Express.

PARTICULAR attention given to the pur- chase of Goods and to the transportation of them, and valuable Packages.

Dispatch in the collection of Notes, Drafts, and Bills.

All orders thankfully received, and care- fully and expeditiously attended to.

Hours of Departure.

From Quincy—8 o'clock, A. M.

From Boston—2 o'clock, P. M.

OFFICES IN BOSTON.—34 Court Square, (Railroad Exchange,) and 40 South Market street.

Quincy, April 9

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Miscellaneous.

Marriageable Young Ladies.

My friend H. married in early life. The lady that he chose was a beautiful but weak minded girl. H. was a wholesome, pleasure loving youth, the life of every circle that he favored with his company.

The club of which he was a member, acknowledged that he was the wittiest and handsomest man among them; but as I have already said, H. married early; and now, let me add, only three months had elapsed when we observed a marked change in our favorite.

His bright smile was changed for a se- rious and often sad expression; he came to the club rooms less frequently than had been his wont, and while there he read his paper, seldom joining in any conversation.

He had been in the habit of taking out but one cigar during the evening, and that was sometimes thrown away half consumed. Now he seemed to smoke, as some persons drink, 'to drive away all dull care.' When the door opened he started and held the cigar half hidden by his paper, as if afraid of being caught in some forbidden enjoyment.

After I had observed my friend, evening after evening, and felt convinced that some secret horror was destroying his peace, I one night left the room with him offering to walk home by his side. He drew my arm within his own, and gave my hand a friendly pressure; as he turned his face towards the gas-light, I saw a tear stood in his eye. I said, H. you are in trouble—can I relieve you? Do you need pecuniary aid? If so, let me have the pleasure of bestowing it.

You have a young wife, and your expenses must necessarily have increased—perhaps more than you anticipated; and young law- yers sometimes have to wait long for their fees. If you would like to borrow money, say so; I have more than enough for an old bachelor.

Old bachelor! Would that I were. Here he paused, and turned to me, added, B. re- veal me not what I have just uttered. You have always been like a brother to me, and you shall know the cause of my distress; I am sure you will never make an improper use of what I tell you.

After assuring him that he might safely confide in me, that I would never divulge his secret, until I had received permission, I listened to the following recital:

I married too hastily; Clara's beauty dazzled me, and I saw not her defects; the poor girl declares she loves me, but preferable would be her hatred. I cannot leave her presence without being obliged on my re- turn to account for every moment of ab- sence. Any spot is better than my home, yet I cannot seek peace elsewhere without a certainty that I must pay a severe penalty. My wife forbids me to smoke in her pre- sence, therefore, I must go abroad to enjoy what I cannot discontinue at once. Indeed, the desire for such indulgence, increases with my efforts to leave it off.

Suddenly starting, my friend exclaimed, O, there she is now, with her head out of the window, this cold night, though I have besought her not to expose her health in this way; but such is her revenge for my going abroad. Can you wonder that I am changed? I would rather die than live thus.

Ere I had spoken many words of conso- lation we were at my friend's door; I was pressing his hand when the door opened, and a delicate but beautiful lady held a light which showed too plainly the frown which disfigured her fair face.

Well, sir, home at last? and the door was closed ere my friend had finished saying good night.

I was enraged, and declared any man was a fool to submit to such treatment. I re- solved that I would marry in less than a month, to show H., and other unfortunates that a woman can be governed.

I lay awake that night thinking over all my lady friends, and considering which should be my victim. Some were too silly, others too plain looking; but I remembered that one was beautiful, intelligent, and so high spirited, that to subdue her would be a grand achievement.

I had wealth, position, and (excuse my vanity) not a bad person. The fair one in question I had always admired, and she had invariably received me well. Indeed, I had been assured by an acquaintance with Miss C., that I was a favorite with her. But as I had resolved to lead a single life I had never entertained any serious intentions towards the one I now determined to marry if she would accept me. I decided to put on the chains of matrimony to prove that they could not always enslave.

In three weeks from that night I had caught my bird. We were to be united to- wards the close of the coming week, in accordance with my wishes, that we might spend the holidays with my parents in Vir- ginia.

On our return we took possession of our newly furnished mansion. We gave a large party, or rather it was my party, that I might invite all my bachelor friends as well as some unhappy married ones.

I was astonished when my bride agreed to all my arrangements, though she knew as well as I did they were peculiar.

I could not offend her by any of my pro- positions; she gave no unasked advice—merely assented to all I said.

O, a new broom sweeps clean, thought I. She will show out when no longer a bride; I know very well, that she is proud and spirited enough.

The evening passed delightfully, and I confess I was skeptical as to my ability to disturb my wife's peace of mind.

The guests retired, after paying many compliments on my choice of a wife, and we were once more alone. As soon as I could interrupt Mary's gay and charming con- versation, I said:

My dear, what do you think of my having the wine and smoking arrangements for the gentlemen?

O, it was a capital idea. It must have pleased your bachelor friends to see you could not forget their comfort, although no longer one of them. I must note it down that it may never be forgotten when we give entertainments; married people are too in- different about the comfort of poor old bachelors.

I was again disappointed; but I deter- mined not to retire until I called forth one frown or pouting look.

My wife had been sitting with one arm around me; I gently drew myself from her embrace (I could not do it rudely) and took a cigar from my case. I knew that before our engagement she disliked the habit of smoking.

I calmly seated myself upon a lounge and puffed away.

Did you observe Mrs. M.'s brooch? in- quired my wife, coming toward me and seat- ing herself by my side.

No, I replied, and smoked away vigorously. Mary continued to chat away gaily, but suddenly she turned pale and dropped her head on my shoulder. She had fainted. I rang the bell for a servant, opened the win- dow and applied restoratives. We bore her to the sitting room, and she soon revived.

I asked, What made you ill? Was it the cigar? Why did you not speak when you first felt its effects? and I felt myself blush with shame as I hurriedly asked the ques- tions.

I wished to accustom myself to your smok- ing, answered my wife, for I cannot bear to drive you from my presence every time you wish to enjoy a cigar.

Angel! I exclaimed, I shall never smoke again.

Oh, my husband, said she, make no vain promise; the habit is not easily overcome, and I do not ask you to discontinue it; now that I know I cannot bear it, I can retire to the library when you wish to smoke.

She has never been obliged to leave me thus; I have never smoked since, and would not be hired to take a cigar in my mouth.

A night or two after the above occurrence I was sitting by my wife, who was amusing me by her recounting the events of the day, which had just passed, some anecdotes relative to housekeeping, &c. I was charmed with her affection and naïveté and would gladly have remained by her side. But she was to be subdued in all respects, and in one she had not been tried. Since our mar- riage I had not visited the club rooms. I looked at my watch and carelessly remarked I shall go to the club, Mary; if you grow sleepy, do not wait for me, I have a key.

A shade of sadness flitted across her beau- tiful face, but it was succeeded by one of her sweetest smiles. Springing from my side she ran to the hall, brought out my overcoat, shoes, etc., placed them before the fire, and said:

Do not forget to warm them before you leave the club, my husband, and walk fast that you may not get cold; indeed, I have another reason for wishing you to hasten home; it will be a lonely evening without you; but you have deprived yourself of bet- ter society so long that I can bear to spend an evening in anticipation, instead of in the enjoyment of your society.

I hesitated—almost decided not to go; but it would not do to yield. I went, and was almost as dull as H., who was also there. He observed my manner, and whispered, 'In trouble already?'

Yes, I answered, and I shall be in trouble until I acknowledge myself conquered, I married to enjoy the pleasure of taming a shrew; but I find myself wedded to an angel. I must confess my mistake, and make myself worthy the wife that God has given me.

Some other bachelor must woo a woman to show that a female can be ruled. I am vanquished, and gladly do I yield to such a victor.

Poor H.—sighed, rose and walked the floor some minutes, then approached me and said, "Why this difference? Your wife is beautiful and graceful—so is mine. Yours' says she loves you—so does mine. Yours' holds, interrupted I, your wife says she loves you—mine proves it by consulting my happiness. You warned me against my wife's pride and spirit; I grant she possesses a large quantity of both, and what would a woman be without these traits? Mary has excellent sense and tact. These teach her how to control those characteristics, which might make unhappy. Any man that has brains at all must not choose a beautiful wife without intellect; rather let him wed with a plain face, a warm heart and good sense.

I shook hands with poor H.—, and pitied him sincerely, then crossed the hall to the room where were assembled many members of the club. I made a farewell address, in which I advised them to follow my example, and shook hands with them all. Some ban- tered me, but the greater number said their acquaintance with my wife had half induced them to do as I had done; and they all promised to accept my wife's invitation to come freely to our home whenever they felt like having quiet domestic enjoyment.

I hastened home, entered the dining room, where I saw the gas burning; my slippers were warming before the fire, near which was drawn a great arm chair; on the table were a cup and saucer, besides other ar- rangements for a comfortable supper.

I rang the bell, and the waiter appeared. I asked who had placed my slippers there? He smiled and said, I saw Mistress put them there, sir.

As it was not a late hour, I was surprised that my wife was not waiting, although I requested her to retire, if sleepy.

I asked, has Mrs. B. retired? The servant replied, No Sir, she is in the kitchen, teach- ing Nancy and Ellen to read.

I told the waiter not to disturb his Mis- tress, but to wait in the battery until I called him.

At these words I quietly descended to the kitchen, and peeped through the glass over the door. The large pine table contained books, slates, etc. There sat my wife between two black females; one was reading to her, and the eyes of the other were gazing on the face of her mistress, as if she considered her a being from a better world.

I returned to the dining room, rang the bell, and when the waiter reappeared I bade him inform his mistress that I had arrived, I fear some long word was left half pronoun- ced, for in less than two minutes she was in my arms.

O, how good of you to return so early; cried she; but why did you? Was it not pleasant with your club?

No, my wife, I replied, I shall go to it no more. It answered very well while I had no home of my own; but now I have a dear, sensible, loving wife, who is more attractive than all the clubs in Christendom.

Mary blushed at the compliment, and burying her head in my bosom to hide the tears that would come in spite of the smile, said, "May I ever deserve such praise and love from you, my husband;" when you left me this evening, I sat one moment on the lounge and shed tears because I felt so lonely; then I thought this will not do; Charles must sometimes leave me; I will improve usefully every hour of his absence.

So after preparing for your return, I went to the kitchen to instruct our women.

My wife insisted on my going to the club once a week, lest my bachelor friends be- come jealous of her, but they have witnessed so much of our happiness that I think the club-room will not much longer be the resort of any but miserable rejected bachelors and unhappy husbands.—Life Illustrated.

Into the Sunshine.

Some parents are troubled by a gloomy household. They indulge in frequent fret- ting and moroseness, are impatient at trif- ling vexations, and censure the faults and errors of their children with sternness instead of love. They know little of calm and sunshine, and home has few charms either for themselves or their little ones. Love and gentleness, combined with firmness, have a wonderful power over the most thoughtless and wayward little ones, and parents who know how to unite these in due proportion, have perpetual sunshine in their dwellings, and loving and obedient children. There is a true philosophy in the following domestic scene, taken from "Steps toward Heaven."

I wish father would come home. The voice that said this had a troubled tone, and the face that looked up was sad.

Your father will be very angry, said an aunt, who was sitting in the room with a book in her hand. The boy raised himself from the sofa, where he had been laying in tears for half an hour, and, with a touch of indignation in his voice, answered.

He'll be sorry, not angry. Father never gets angry.

For a few moments the aunt looked at the boy half curiously, and let her eyes fall again upon the book that was in her hand. The boy laid himself down upon the sofa again, and hid his face from sight.

That's father now! He started up after the lapse of nearly ten minutes, as the sound of a bell reached his ears, and went to the room door. He stood there for a little while, and then came slowly back, saying with a disappointed air—

It isn't father. I wonder what keeps him so late. O, I wish he would come!

You seem anxious to get deeper into trouble, remarked the aunt, who had only been in the house for a week, and who was neither very amiable nor very sympathizing towards children. The boy's fruit had pro- voked her, and she considered him a fit sub- ject for punishment.

I believe, aunt Phoebe, that you'd like to see me whipped, said the boy a little warily, but you won't.

I must confess, replied aunt Phoebe, that I think a little wholesome discipline of the kind you speak of would not be out of place. If you were my child, I am very sure you wouldn't escape.

I am not your child. I don't want to be. Father's good and loves me.

If your father is so good and loves you so well, you must be a very ungrateful or a very inconsiderate boy. His goodness don't seem to have helped you much.

Hush, will you! ejaculated the boy, ex- cited to anger by this unkindness of speech.

Phoebe! It was the boy's mother who learns that, he acquires a power which can never be lessened, but which is ever increasing in proportion as his opportunity for further observation is increased.

"It is only by the development of all his faculties that we can make man what he may be; it is only in giving to his mind the food which will nourish all his faculties, that we accomplish this end. If we only cultivate the imagination, the taste, the memory, the culture of the senses is neglected, the ability of observing is neglected, and all those abilities man may acquire by the culture of his senses, by the art of observing, are left untrained.

"The reason why we so frequently see scholars who do not do well in school is because their abilities lie in another direction from that which suits others; it is because one great element is left out of the system of their education—that which appeals to the senses, to the power of observation—that which requires activity and manipulation."

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Nov. 12th, 1859.

"TOGETHER TO MASTER, OR TO SUFFER."

The Election.

The following is the result of the balloting at the election, in this town, on Tuesday last:—

For Governor.
Whole number of ballots,	585.
Nathaniel P. Banks, of Watbourn,	212
Benjamin F. Butler, of Lowell,	209
George N. Briggs, of Pittsfield,	161
For Lieutenant Governor.
Whole number of ballots,	584
Elphinstone Trask, of Springfield,	213
S. C. Remis, of Springfield,	206
Isaac Sumner, of Great Barrington,	165
For Secretary.
Whole number of ballots,	584
Olive Warner, of Northampton,	214
Samuel W. Bowerman, of Adams,	206
Benjamin L. Allen, of Boston,	164
For Treasurer.
Whole number of ballots,	584
Moses Tenney, of Georgetown,	213
George Bennett, of Boston,	206
Charles Kimball, of Ipswich,	165
For Auditor.
Whole number of ballots,	584
Charles White, of Worcester,	212
James E. Estabrook, of Worcester,	206
James W. Sever, of Boston,	165
Hiram Cushing,	1
For Attorney General.
Whole number of ballots,	584
David H. Mason, of New Bedford,	214
Henry Morris, of Springfield,	164
Councilor's District No. 7.
Whole number of ballots,	583
Joseph McKean Churchill, of Milton,	212
Horatio Pratt, of Taunton,	371
For Senator.
Whole number of ballots,	582
J. H. D. Blake, of Braintree,	186
William S. Belcher, of Stoughton,	185
Abner Hallbrook, of Weymouth,	5
Charles Marsh, of Quincy, 1; Jonathan Wales, of Randolph, 2; George Marsh, of Quincy, 1; William S. Morton, do, 1.
For District Attorney.
Whole number of ballots,	577
Benjamin W. Harris, of E. Bridgewater,	371
Jesse E. Keith, of Taunton,	206
For Sheriff.
Whole number of ballots,	575
John W. Thomas, of Dedham,	357
Walter James, of Medfield,	207
Augustus B. Kendrick, of Dedham,	6
Henry Spear, of Quincy, 1; Seth Adams, do, 1; W. M. French, do, 3.
For Commissioners of Insolvency.
Whole number of ballots,	379
N. C. Berry, of Randolph,	209
Warren Lovewell, of Medway,	213
Henry N. Blake, of Dorchester,	184
Waldo Coburn, of Dedham,	113
William Aspinwall, of Brookline,	169
Asa French, of Braintree,	164
County Commissioner.
Whole number of ballots,	583
Charles Kendrick, of Canton,	211
John Fisher, of Dedham,	206
J. White B. Leiver, of Randolph,	166
Special Commissioners.
Whole number of ballots,	578
George W. Gay, of Sharon,	212
Asa B. Wales, of Weymouth,	370
Ellis Tucker, of Canton,	381
Linus Bliss, of Dover,	205
Calvin Richards, of do,	7
Representative.
Whole number of ballots,	589
Henry Walker,	211
Jonathan Jamison, elected,	221
Thomas Curtis,	149
Cliff Rogers, 1; W. Henry Packard, 2; Daniel Baxter, 1; John Thomas Veazie, 1; William Parker, Jr, 1; J. M. Gougeon, 1; George Marsh, 1.

KEROSENE CANDLES. This is a new article; manufactured from Kerosene Oil. It resembles in appearance, the best Spermaceti. For the work stand it is a pleasant companion. It burns freely; emits a clear and delicate light; with a brilliancy far superior to the common dip or mould candle. It is very cleanly in its habits—requiring no trimming of the wick to keep it in order; when once lit, it burns so steadily and evenly to the end. Another recommendation, is its economy; as one of them will burn out a half dozen of the ordinary kind. For sale by N. B. Farnald, on Washington street.

Agricultural Library Association.

MR. EDITOR: For the benefit of your readers and also to give greater publicity to the proceedings, I offer the following communication:

Last week a plan for the establishment of an Agricultural Library Association in Quincy was circulated among a number of the towns people interested in rural matters, and it seemed to meet with almost universal approbation. Accordingly steps were taken to carry it into execution. A subscription list was formed and in two days the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars was subscribed and paid in.

A meeting of the subscribers was then held, the Association was organized; officers were chosen and a committee appointed for selecting the books—which are soon expected to be received. Donations of books have also in one or two instances been promised, and it is hoped that the Library will be the recipient of many public and private contributions.

It is not designed to limit the character of the books to any one department of Agriculture, but extend it to all its kindred subjects, including not only farm management, but the culture of trees, fruits and flowers—landscape gardening, stable economy, &c., &c.—including some illustrated works too expensive to find their way into many private libraries; so that on its shelves may be found works interesting to all classes of readers.

It is hoped that the establishment of this Library in this town will meet with general approbation, and that as its existence becomes more generally known, the number of its members may be increased by new accessions.

The Library will be temporarily located at the residence of the Librarian, Charles A. Cummings, Esq., in Sea street, who is authorized to issue certificates of stock and who will furnish all information desired.

J. J. G., Secretary.

The State Election.

Last Tuesday was one of remarkable quietude. The excitement was so small, that that antiquated old gentleman, "The oldest inhabitant," was astonished, never before having known an instance of the kind. "The Dutch have taken Holland," as usual—but with a greatly reduced majority from last year.

The Democracy of this town did themselves great credit, having chosen their Representative in a "crisis of opinion," a crisis which has not been accomplished before since 1840. The Democracy have also done gloriously in the State, having made a net gain on Mr. Banks of Seven Thousand One Hundred and Forty-Four. And the Opposition have reduced his majority of Eighteen Thousand votes last year, to Eight Thousand, Nine Hundred and Forty-Nine.

What is still more encouraging and cheering to the Democrats, is the great success they have achieved in the Legislature; having made a gain of Twenty Members to the House of Representatives, making their number stand in the House, Fifty; which is a larger delegation than they have had for years. They have also made handsome gains in the Senate; among the new members chosen, we see several prominent and leading Democrats, viz: Judge Bishop of Lenox; our friend Eaton of Dorchester, also, our friend Parmenter, to the Senate, who is an able and live Democrat, and will be a powerful addition to the opposition in the Upper House. Let this noble band enter zealously into the work and show to the community the political abuses—the mismanagement and reckless legislation of the Republicans, in so doing, the patriotic citizens will join with them in removing the dark stains which now tarnish the fair escutcheon of the State.

Democrats take courage, you have nobly fought the battle, and in another contest you will by judicious management have the pleasure of seeing the Republicans defeated, and old Massachusetts returned to her duty in sustaining the Constitution and the Union.

This is a poor recommendation for an anticipated candidate for the next Presidency who is relatively losing the confidence of his own State. We suppose your worthy "Boston Correspondent" feels highly gratified at the result of this election—and the brilliant prospect there is of his friend Mr. Banks, being a candidate for the next President.

VICTORY.

RE-UNION.—We are glad to learn that the action of the Council lately convened in this place by the Orthodox Church, having been complied with—both sections of the church, commenced their united worship at the Meeting House last Sabbath, under very pleasant circumstances.

The same was also true with regard to the Sabbath School. We are also informed, that the Society have engaged the services of the Rev. Oliver Brown, of Kingston, Rhode Island, a young man of talents, for one year, at a salary of $1000.—and a vacation of four weeks during the year, who commences his labors by a happy co-operation on the Sabbath that the re-union took place.

We wish them abundant success in their united labors. May they all hereafter "study for those things that make for peace and things whereby one may edify another."

Boston Correspondence.

Boston, Nov. 10, 1859.

Massachusetts State Election.—Continued ascendency of the Republican party—Governor Banks; his popularity.—Hon. J. M. Churchill.—Extra Session of the Legislature.—Liquor Agent.—Business.

The State election has passed, resulting as was expected in favor of the Republican party. The contest for the most part, was unexciting, and the vote throughout the Commonwealth was comparatively small, not exceeding one hundred and ten thousand. Governor Banks' plurality is 33,258 from three hundred and twenty-six cities and towns, nearly all in the State; a deserved compliment to one of the ablest Governors, that ever filled the Governorial Chair of the Old Bay State. From an examination of the returns of votes from all parts of Massachusetts, it is evident that no small number of Democrats, and the opposition bestowed their suffrages on him as the man fit for and worthy of the station he occupies.

Scarcely two score years of age, his political life has been brilliant and successful. His path to fame has not been solely partisan. As a member of our State Legislature, and Speaker in both the popular branches, and as the Chief Magistrate of our State, he reached those places of eminence by political strength beyond the barrier of party lines. He never has been defeated as a candidate for public honors, and when called from one public station to fill another, it has been on the ascending scale. Unlike most politicians, so far, his public course has been unclouded. In the event of Mr. Douglass' failure to receive the Democratic nomination at Charleston, the galaxy of Mr. Banks twinkles in the vista to the Presidency of the Union. The Republican party in our State election of Tuesday, have elected all their State officers, and have carried by decisive majorities both branches of the Legislature, and have chosen every Councillor, including the Hon. Joseph M. Churchill of your District. The honor again falls with good grace upon Mr. Churchill, who by his uniform courtesy and fidelity to duty, has won a good reputation with his large constituency, and also at the Council Board. One hundred and seventy-four Republicans, forty-nine Democrats and six opposition, are elected to the House; while the Senate will stand forty-four Republicans to six opposition. Among the members of the House of Representatives returned from Boston, is H. Parnum Smith formerly a resident of your town, and a gentleman in high esteem with all who know him. The city was very quiet on the evening of the election, and there were no public demonstrations. As a general thing all parties seemed satisfied, and good feeling reigned throughout. Party spirit is always to be deplored; a difference in political sentiment, should never disturb private friendship, or throw a shade over the business of the day. No extensively radiates through the N. England community.

The Extra Session of the Legislature holds on yet. The labors of this body will probably close about Thanksgiving. But this is uncertain.

Mr. Burnham's case as the State Liquor Agent has been an exciting one to the public, who have verdict generally against him. A thorough examination into all its acts as Liquor Commissioner is demanded; until then, the people cannot correctly form an opinion. If it can be proved he has adulterated the liquors of the State Agency, the penalty is punishment in the State Prison. He no doubt will have a fair trial, and we shall see what we shall see.

The weather has been uninterceptedly fine for ten days past, and our main thoroughfares are continually crowded with promenaders of both sexes. The retail trade in most branches of business has been fair, but the reaction is only temporary. Financial matters remain unchanged; that is, money is easy on good paper. As commercial operations are limited, and extensive loans not wanted. The Boston Banks will have to figure nicely to declare the same annual dividend in April next, at four per cent.

DENTISTRY.—It is not often that we go out of our way to speak of the individual merits of mechanics, artists, or men of profession; but having had repeated opportunity of testing the workmanship of various dental establishments throughout the country, among them are Drs. Cummings & Flag, located at 25 Tremont Street, Boston, of whom we wish to speak.

After long practical experience with their work in dentistry, we are persuaded that it is doing an act of justice to call public attention to their high professional skill, through the columns of our paper.

They are among the few men of this profession who know their branch of surgery. It is only necessary to call at their rooms to be assured of their ability and readiness to serve you in the most prompt and gentlemanly manner, furnishing you with artificial teeth in the most perfect imitation of nature, constructed in such a way as to be durable, and also add to your beauty, health, and general appearance, more than can be attained through all other artificial means. It is an old establishment, and they have earned the reputation they enjoy through a wide extended practice.—Boston Christian Register.

WILD GAME—VENISON. We have been made the recipients, through the politeness of those veteran sportsmen, Captain Samuel Curtis, Sergeant Edward A. Spear, and Luke Ridout, Esq., with a fine bunch of venison, taken by them, one day last week, in those extensive woods, which bounds the residence of the Mashpee tribe of Indians, on the Cape. It was a fine buck, weighing one hundred and sixty-four pounds. The flesh was remarkably tender, sweet and savory; with just enough of that wild flavor, tempting to the palate of the epicure. The kind manner in which our friends were pleased to remember us, furnished the material for a feast, fit for an alderman. May similar success ever attend their sporting excursions.

ALTERATION OF TIME.—Winter arrangement. See Railroad notice in another column.

KEROSENE OIL. We have received from Mr. Farnald, on Washington street, a fresh supply of this fluid—which is the best we have seen. It is clear—nearly as transparent as other fluids, and burns freely, with no perceptible odor. Mr. F. is supplied direct from the manufactory, the public, therefore, may rely on a pure article.

Special Notices.

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION at Barker's Hall on MONDAY EVENING, Nov. 14th, at 7 o'clock.

Question for Debate.
Has Religion done more than Science for the advancement of civilization.
Per order, C. H. PORTER, Sec'y.
Quincy, Nov. 12. 1w

SKATING. All persons interested in skating, are respectfully requested to meet at Maraposa Hall, on MONDAY EVENING, at 7 1/2 o'clock. A full attendance is desirable, as a choice of officers will be made.
HENRY E. FLINT, Sec'y.
Quincy, Nov. 12. 1w

ATTENTION. A meeting of the Hancock Light Guards, will be held at their Armory, this evening, (Nov. 12th,) at 7 o'clock.
EDWARD A. SPEAR, Clerk.
Quincy, Nov. 12. 1w

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING.
Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.
In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall,
Dr. George Atkins, of Boston, will speak to-morrow.
Quincy, Nov. 12. 1w

QUINCY CHARITABLE ASSOCIATION. The annual meeting of this Association was held on MONDAY EVENING, Nov. 7th. There being a general resignation on the part of the Officers, the affairs of the Association now remain in the hands of its members awaiting further action.
HENRY M. SAVILLE, President.
M. J. TENNER, Secretary.
Quincy, Nov. 12. 1w

Marrriages.

In this town, on the 27th ult., by Rev. Mr. Burrows, Mr. Thomas J. Glover, to Miss Annie F. daughter of Edmund Pope, Esq., all of this town.

Deaths.

In this town, 11th inst., Mr. Daniel Mac, aged 50 years.

OPENING.

MISS J. S. KENISON
WILL respectfully inform her friends and the public that she will open on THURSDAY, NOV. 17th,

A CHOICE SELECTION OF
Winter Dress Hats!
ALSO—A rich assortment of Millinery Goods.
Rooms, 268 Washington St. Boston.
Nov. 12. 3w

Apples! Apples!!
THE subscriber has just received a large assortment of Apples, consisting of Greenings, Baldwins, Russets, Spitzenburgs, &c., of an extra quality, and would invite the public to examine the stock.
Quincy, Nov. 12. HOWARD VINAL. 1w

85 Washington st. 85
JOY'S BUILDING.
Nearly opp. the head of State street. BOSTON.

STRANGERS AND OTHERS
In pursuit of a first Class
CLOTHING ESTABLISHMENT,
WHERE their orders will be promptly and faithfully executed in a style unsurpassed by any other house in the city, will please to call at above, where the most choice selections of Rich and

Fashionable Goods,
Adapted to the season, will be offered at prices 50% CONSIDERABLY LOW.
We keep on hand, a large assortment of

Nice Clothing for Gents' Wear.
Ready Made, and equal to the finest Custom Work.

IN OUR
BOYS' DEPARTMENT.
Every variety and style of Garments suitable for Boys and Youths' wear from 7 years up, can be found, or Garments made to measure for such as desired.

In this Department we claim superiority. Our prices are uniform, and none but the best class of work will be offered for sale. A most perfect fit will be guaranteed for the most dissipated Boy.

ORDERS SOLICITED.
CARLOW & CO.
FASHIONABLE TAILORS.
85 Washington St. Joy's Building.
Boston, Nov. 12. 6w

Grover & Baker's
CELEBRATED
FAMILY
Sewing Machines!
Over 30,000 in use
SALESROOM IN
BOSTON.
18 SUMMER STREET.
AGENCIES THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.
Boston, Nov. 12. 7w

MR. J. Q. ADAMS
WILL attend at his office in Johnson's Building, from 9 o'clock, A. M., until four P. M., every TUESDAY and FRIDAY throughout the Winter.
Quincy, Nov. 5. 1w

READ THAT

Guardian's Sale.

REAL ESTATE.

BY virtue of a license from Hon. George F. White, Judge of Probate, and Insolvent Court, within and for the County of Norfolk, will be sold at Public Auction, on the premises, on MONDAY, November 22nd 1859, at 1 o'clock, in the afternoon, the interest of the minor children of O. T. ROGERS, late of Milton, deceased, being four forty-ninths (4/9) of three parcels of land, situated in Quincy, to-wit:—

1st—One Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by West street, West by land of Theodore Trask, Southerly by land of Daniel Baxter, Easterly and Northwest by land of J. Nightingale, and Northerly by land of C. C. H. & F. Hardwick, containing about one and three-quarters (1 3/4) acres.

2d—A Lot situated opposite the above-described premises, with a Dwelling House thereon, bounded Easterly and Southerly by West street, West by land of Desmond, Babcock, and McCarty, Southerly again by land of McCarty and Garvey, West by Willard street, about two rods, Northerly by land of Lewis Dill, then West by land of said Dill in part and partly by land of Gleason, 2 1/2 acres, bounded easterly by Willard street, Northerly by land of George Pierce, in part, and partly by land of Samuel Ela, Northerly by land of said Ela, Southwesterly by land of Joseph W. Robertson, Southerly by land of Jacob Mathews to said Willard street.

C. E. KING, Guardian.
Boston, Nov. 12. 3w

CHEAP CHEAPER
CHEAPEST.

New Arrangement.
GOOD NEWS FOR THE LADIES.

Prices Reduced
In consequence of the extreme dullness in nearly all branches of business at the present time, I shall reduce my prices for

CASH AND CASH ONLY!
And in the lot of November 1st, I shall sell and trim Bonnets for 25 cents; Bonnets (new styles) shall make Plain Bonnets from 50 to 60 cents. (Former price 75 cents.) Therefore exert my efforts for the good of the community who would like to do their own Millinery, when so small a compensation it can be done in

GOOD STYLE
by those devoting their whole time to the business. This is sufficient inducement, we think, for the

MOST ECONOMIZING.
to patronize those in this department of trade, and who are competent, by years of experience, of completing a well arranged and neat Bonnet, or Trimming.

I have received a splendid assortment of
Millinery Goods
FOR FALL AND WINTER,
CONSISTING OF

Bonnets—in pretty styles, colored and white. Straw, from 50 cents to $1. Those at 50 cents are a Decided Bargain.

Ribbons—one hundred new pieces in beautiful styles and high colors from 17 to 50 cents per yard. Also a great variety of narrow ribbons, pretty for children's bonnets and dress trimmings from 10 to 16 cents.

Flowers—I have the largest variety ever before in Quincy, of French and American manufacture, at prices varying from 10 to 42 cents.

Bonnet Velvets—From 2 to $4 per yard. Any color desired that I have not may be obtained to order.

Good Style—will be made from this material in good style, trimmed with feathers and laces as low as $4.50, or higher prices as wished. I have also another material which I will make into bonnets for $3 to $3.50.

Satin—in good variety of colors, desirable this season with lace and flowers for Misses' Bonnets.

Feathers—I have a good assortment of different colors and prices; some as low as 25 cents.

Laces and Edgings—in different quality and prices.
Ribbons—made by hand. Also the joined blond at a low price—some Very Nice which would make a splendid mode.
Velvet Ribbons—by the piece or yard, all widths, at low prices.
Children's Cap-crown Satin Bonnets—made to order. Also, Ladies' Hoods and Head-dresses.
Dress Caps—from 25 cents to $1.50—Black and White.
Chemise—of different colors, soft and wired.
Mourning Furnishing Goods,
Such as Vests, Collars, Gloves, Crape by the yard, Alpines for Wreath of hats, &c. I would call special attention when desired, to our MOURING BONNETS, of which we have samples at Very Low Prices.
Gents' Cloths, in every material used for that purpose.
Those leaving orders for any style of Bonnet—trimmed straw, satin silk or velvet—we will endeavor to give satisfaction, both in price and style of work.
Bonnets made over and repaired in the best manner.
LADIES can have frames fitted to the head and Bonnets made suitable for their age, by giving us a call.
N. B.—I have on hand a good assortment of Misses Bonnets in pretty styles—Trimmed Straws—Silk, Satin and Velvet Bonnets, which will be sold at a bargain.
ROOMS—Goodnow's Building, Corner of Hancock and Granite streets.
A. J. KENISON.
Quincy, Nov. 12. 1w

NEW FALL AND WINTER STYLES

OVERCOATS,

Business Frocks, and Sacks, Dress Frocks, Pantaloon and Vests, now ready at the

ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,
158 Washington st. Boston,
Macullar & Williams,
Boston, Nov. 5. 2m

Partnership Dissolved.

Quincy, Nov. 5th, 1859.
NOTICE is hereby given that the Partnership existing between Francis F. Loud and Warren Veazie, under the firm of LOUD & VEAZIE, is this day dissolved by mutual consent.
Warren Veazie is authorized to settle all debts due to and by the Company.
FRANCIS F. LOUD,
WARREN VEAZIE.

The undersigned grateful for past patronage would respectfully inform the citizens of Quincy and vicinity that he will continue to keep on hand an assortment of Dry Goods, &c., and would be happy to meet all at his Store, on Hancock.

Quincy, Nov. 12. WARREN VEAZIE. 1w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

CAROLINE NEWCOMB,
late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Married Woman, deceased, and has accepted said trust.
And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

THOMPSON BAXTER, Administrator.
Quincy, Nov. 12th, 1859. 3w

COAL! COAL!

THE Subscriber has for sale at his Wharf the most desirable qualities of Coal, and has just received a cargo of

TRIUMPH COAL,
which is equal to the celebrated Franklin Coal, and which is warranted to give entire satisfaction. I have also the celebrated

John's Coal for Furnaces,
which is too well known to comment on.

ALSO—All the different sizes and qualities which may be wanted—Egg, Stove, &c.
ALSO—Cumberland Coal from George's Creek Mines, which is free from brimstone and all impurities.
PRICE, 6.50 PER TON.
Just received a lot of Nova Scotia Wood, extra quality.
Quincy, Nov. 12. NATHANIEL WHITE. 1w

Notice.

Go to the New Ambrotype Office,
IN REAR OF THE POST OFFICE,
AND GET A
SPLENDID AMBROTYPE.
For 15 Cents, 25 Cents with Case.
Quincy, Nov. 3. 3w

FRUIT TREES.

THE subscriber offers for sale at his Nurseries in

DORCHESTER,
A complete assortment of Fruit Trees, Grape Vines, Raspberries, Strawberries, Currants, &c., viz:—

Extra large Pear Trees, on Quince Roots. Large Standard Pear Trees on Pear Roots. Imported Pyramid Pear Trees on Quince Roots.

Cherry Trees, embracing the new American varieties, Gov. Wood, Black Hawk, Ohio Beauty, &c., &c.

GRAPE VINES, embracing the new and popular American varieties, viz: Rebecca, Union Village, Delaware, Hartford Prolific, Diana and others.

New Currants in six excellent new sorts, producing much larger fruit than the old varieties.
APPLES, PLUMS, RASPBERRIES, STRAWBERRIES, NEW RHUBARBS —ETC.—ALSO—

ORNAMENTAL TREES,
EVERGREENS, ROSES, FLOWERING SHRUBS, GREENHOUSE, AND HERBACEOUS PLANTS.
The collection of Pear Trees is unsurpassed and embraces also all the new and celebrated sorts extant.
Many of the above are remarkable for the strength and beauty of form, and with proper care will produce fruit the next season.
N. B. Coaches leave No. 11 Franklin st. Boston, several times in the day.
MARSHALL P. WILDER.
Dorchester, Nov. 5. 6w

Trees and Vines.

FOR SALE by the subscriber, at his nursery, corner of Franklin and Water streets, one hundred Battle Four Trees, at prices varying from 50 cents to 1.00 each. ALSO, a lot of Quince stock. ALSO—One hundred Apple Quince, do Orange Quince, in good bearing order. Pail and White Dutch Currant Bushes very large fruit; Cherry Currant do. English Gooseberry Bushes; Isabella and Catawba Grapevines.
ELI HAYDEN.
Quincy, Sept 17. 3m

TREES.

THE SUBSCRIBER HAS A VERY LARGE STOCK OF

F

NEW FALL AND WINTER STYLES

OVERCOATS,

Business Frocks, and Sacks, Dress Frocks, Pantaloons and Vests, now ready at the

ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

158 Washington St. Boston, Macaular & Williams,

Boston, Nov. 5 2m

Copartnership Dissolved.

QUINCY, Nov. 5th, 1859. NOTICE is hereby given that the Copartnership existing between Francis P. Loud and Warren Veazie, under the firm of LOUD & VEAZIE, is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

Warren Veazie is authorized to settle all debts due to and by the Company. FRANCIS P. LOUD, WARREN VEAZIE.

Quincy, Nov. 12

Administrators Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribers have been duly appointed Administrators of the Goods and Estate of

CAROLINE NEWCOMB,

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Married Woman, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to the said Administrators.

THOMPSON BAXTER, Administrator. Quincy, Nov. 12th, 1859. 3w

COAL! COAL!

THE Subscriber has for sale at his Wharf the most desirable qualities of Coal, and has just received a cargo of

THEYERSON COAL,

which is equal to the celebrated Franklin Coal, and which is warranted to give entire satisfaction. I have also the celebrated

John's Coal for Furnaces,

which is too well known to comment on.

ALSO—All the different sizes and qualities of which may be wanted—Eggs, Stoves, &c.

A. L. SAWYER, Cumberland Coal from George's Creek Mines, which is free from ironstone and all impurities.

PRICE, 6.50 PER TON.

Just received a lot of Nova Scotia Wood, extra quality.

NATHANIEL WHITE, Quincy, Nov. 12 2f

Notice.

Go to the New Ambrotype Office,

IN REAR OF THE POST OFFICE,

AND GET A

SPLENDID AMBROTYPE.

For 15 Cents, 25 Cents with Case. Quincy, Nov. 5 2w

FRUIT TREES.

THE subscriber offers for sale at his Nurseries in

DORCHESTER,

A complete assortment of Fruit Trees, Grape Vines, Raspberries, Strawberries, Currents, &c., viz:—

Extra large Pear Trees, on Quince Roots.

Large Standard Pear Trees on Pear Roots.

Imported Pyramid Pear Trees on Quince Roots.

Cherry Trees, embracing the new American varieties, viz:—Wood, Black Hawk, White Beauty, &c., &c.

GRAPE VINES, embracing the new and popular American varieties, viz:—Rebecca, Union Village, Delaware, Hartford Prolific, Diana and others.

New Currants in six excellent new sorts, producing much larger fruit than the old varieties.

APPLES, PLUMS, RASPBERRIES, STRAWBERRIES, NEW RHUBARBS, &c., &c.—ALSO—

ORNAMENTAL TREES, EVERGREENS, ROSES, FLOWERING SHRUBS, GREENHOUSE, AND HERBACEOUS PLANTS.

The collection of Pear Trees is unsurpassed and embraces also all the new and most selected sorts extant.

Many of the above are remarkable for the strength and beauty of form, and with proper care will produce fruit the next season.

N. B. Coaches leave No. 11 Franklin St., Boston, several times in the day.

MARSHALL P. WILDER, Quincy, Nov. 5. 6w

Trees and Vines.

FOR SALE by the subscriber, at his nursery, corner of Franklin and Water streets, are hundred Barlett's Pear Trees, at prices varying from 50 cents to 1.00 each. ALSO, but on Quince Stock. ALSO—One hundred large Quince, on good bearing roots. Fall and White Dutch Currant Bushes, very large fruit; Cherry Currant do. Eng. in Gooseberry Bushes; Isabella and Catawba Grapes.

ELI HAYDEN, Quincy, Sept. 17 3m

TREES.

THE SUBSCRIBER HAS A VERY LARGE STOCK OF

fruit, Ornamental and Evergreen Trees.

COMPRISING a Large Collection of all the rare, and curious, Hardy Ornamental Trees in Europe.

Also—A large quantity of Pear Trees of large size, at low grounds at Wollaston Park, (near Wollaston Depot) North Quincy.

R. B. LEUCARS, Quincy, Oct. 4 15

RARE CHANCE

FOR BARGAINS.

Paper Hangings at Cost.

WE SHALL CLOSE OFF a large part of our PAPER HANGINGS, at very low prices, as follows:—

8 CENT PAPERS FOR 5 CENTS

10 " " " 6 " "

12 " " " 9 " "

15 " " " 12 " "

20 " " " 15 " "

25 " " " 18 " "

And all others in the same proportion. Borderings at the same low prices.

THERE WILL BE NO RESERVE.

But all can have their Choice.

from our samples, as when selling at full prices. All small remnants and odd lots still cheaper.

If you are going to use Paper any time in the next six months, it will pay to buy now from this lot.

At G. GILL & Co's.

Quincy, Nov. 5 2f

Now is the Time.

THE time has now come for making a change in my prices. I have marked down my Stock and

Shall sell at Reduced Prices,

and I would invite the

ATTENTION OF ALL

that are in want of Goods in my line, to

Call and Examine

them. I will assure my customers and the public generally, that an examination of my stock will convince them that there is no exaggeration in saying

My Prices are Below the market prices.

Also—a rare opportunity is given to purchasers of

Paper Hangings.

My Entire Stock is offered

AT COST,

TO MAKE ROOM FOR NEW SPRING SUPPLY.

Please look at my Papers and Prices.

CALEB PACKARD.

CORNER OF HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS. Quincy, Nov. 5 2f

Save Your Money.

BY BUYING YOUR MEDICINES OF

The Quincy Store Company

YOU CAN

Save from 25 to 50 per cent.

OF what you pay the apothecaries. We are constantly receiving a large and popular lot of medicine of the day. Among the new additions to our stock may be found the following articles:—

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, Kennedy's Medical Discovery, Davis' Pain Killer, Burdett's Cough Syrup, Spaulding's Remy's, Moulton's, Lyman's, Watson's, Porter's, Harkness's, Harkness's, Wright's, Vegetable Pills, Russia Salve, Langley's, Butter's, Skinner's, Butter's, Clark's, Sherry's, Vase's, Eppes's, Sells's, Senna's, Sulphur, Allen's, Bower's, Campbell's, H. O. Drops, Truitt's, Hubbard's, Gaster's, Purgative, Cough Syrup, Wheat Starch, Panna's, Taper's, Sarsaparilla, Shells, Broom, Pearl Barley, Oat Meal, &c.

Quincy, Oct. 22 2f

Low Prices.

FOR OUR LAST SEASON

AT THE OLD STAND.

GEORGE W. WARREN & CO.

INVITE THE ATTENTION OF

WHOLESALE & RETAIL BUYERS

To their large and well selected Stock of

NEW FALL GOODS,

Now in complete assortment in every department, as they are making very low prices, to close out

All before removing to their New Store.

192 WASHINGTON STREET

AND 55 HAWLEY ST.

Boston, Oct. 29 2w

FOR LADIES' COSTUME.

NEW CLOAKS AND FURS

—FOR—

Fall and Winter Wear,

AT

GREGSON'S

CLOAK AND FUR EMPORIUM,

Corner of Summer and Chauncy streets,

BOSTON.

OUR stock of Fall Sales is now ready, and will be found to embrace an exquisite assortment of Velvet and Cloth Cloaks, manufactured expressly for first class trade.

ALSO—

AUTUMN CLOTH SHAWLETTES,

For the present season's wear;

Opera and Mourning Cloaks, &c.

OUR FUR DEPARTMENT

Is now fully stocked with a complete assortment of

TIPPLES, CAPES, MUFFS, CUFFS,

and every other fashionable garment, in Hudson Bay and American Sable, Stone Martin, Mink, Ermine, Fitch, Chinchilla, and other prevailing FURS, all manufactured from well seasoned skins, and every article will be guaranteed as represented.

Prices strictly moderate—no abatement made.

A GREGSON.

Summer and Chauncy streets.

Boston, Oct. 22 4w

Refreshment Saloon.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies and Gentlemen of Quincy and vicinity to the OYSTER SALOON of Loud & Veazie, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING,

Hancock street, where Refreshments can be had at all hours of the day—Hot Coffee, Tea, Pies, Cakes, Confectionery and Fruit.

N. B. Families furnished with the best of Oysters.

LOUD & VEAZIE. Quincy, Sept. 24 2f

NORFOLK, ss. At a meeting of the County Commissioners held at Dedham, in and for said County, on the Fourth Tuesday of September, A. D. 1859.

UPON the petition of Lot Bates, inhabitant of the Town of Colchester, requesting that a road may be laid out from the Hingham line, through land of Charles Litchfield to the Beechwood road, so called, and for the widening of the road from the Western corner of Bond, to Pratt's orchard, through land of Benjamin Pratt to near the end of the front fence, and for the widening of the travel path near the shoemakers' shop of Charles Litchfield and for strengthening the road beginning at or near the Northern corner of land of William Harris, Easterly to near the dwelling house of I. A. Pratt, through land of I. A. Pratt's for straightening the road beginning at or near Governor's hill, through land of Charles Pratt, or Lewis Bates and Henry Snow, to near the dwelling house of William Taylor, (notice having been first given to all persons and corporations interested,) the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colchester, on the 29th day of June, 1859, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons and corporations interested, and the petitioners and also the Selectmen of said Town of Colchester were then also heard, and said case was then considered and adjudged, in due and legal date thereof, and said Commissioners adjudge that public necessity and convenience require that said highway should be widened and straightened, and that said specific alterations and repairs should be made, and said widening and straightening, and that a new way be laid out from Hingham line to said Beechwood road.

N. F. SAPPORDY, County

SETH MANN, 2d

LUCAS FOND, } Commissioners.

On the Adjournment aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Depot of the South Shore Railroad at Colchester, in said County, on TUESDAY, the 6th day of December next, at ten o'clock A. M., to view the route, and make alterations and repairs, and to widen said ways, and take such other action in relation to said Application as by law they may be authorized to do; and that an attested copy of said Application, with the file copies be posted up in two or more public places in Colchester, fourteen days at least before the time appointed for said day of meeting; and also that a file copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said day of meeting; and that all persons and corporations interested, may then and there appear, and be heard if they see fit.

ELIZABETH W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

A true copy of the Application on file, and Order thereon.

Attest, Nov. 5 ELIZABETH W. SAMPSON, Clerk.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk ss. Probate Office, Oct. 29, A. D. 1859.

An Instrument purporting to be the last Will of

HENRY P. DOBLE,

late of Quincy, in said County, Trader, deceased, having been presented for Probate by Eliza Doble, the person named therein as Executrix.

Ordered, That said Eliza Doble, notice be given to all persons interested therein that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a Court of Probate, to be holden at Roxbury, in said County, on the Nineteenth day of November, A. D. 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, by publishing this Order three weeks successively in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate and Insolvency.

Quincy, Nov. 5 3w

Administratrix's Sale.

BY virtue of a License from the Court of Probate and Insolvency for the County of Norfolk, granted the first Tuesday of October, A. D. 1859, will be sold at Public Auction on MONDAY, November 21st, 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, on the premises of a Lot of Land containing about one-fourth acre with a Dwelling-house thereon, situated in Weymouth, and bounded as follows, to-wit:—By George N. Nash, Easterly by Front street, Southerly by a public way, and Westerly by land of George F. Nash, deceased, being a part of the premises owned by the late George F. Nash, deceased. The same to be sold subject to the widow's right of dower therein.

SARAH J. NASH, Adm'x.

Weymouth, Nov. 5 3w

Insolvency Notice.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Court of Insolvency.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Assignee in the case of

LOWELL Q. SPEAR,

of Weymouth, in said County, Shoe Manufacturer, an Insolvent Debtor, and the Second Meeting of the creditors of said Insolvent Debtor, will be holden at the Court of Insolvency, in Dedham, in said County, on the Third MONDAY, November 8th, at the o'clock in the forenoon, at which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.

Nov. 5th, 1859. 2w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, ss. Probate Office, Oct. 22, A. D. 1859.

UPON the petition of John Capen, praying that he may be appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

FISHER J. KINGSBURY,

late of Weymouth in said County of Norfolk, Equire, deceased,

ORDERED, That said petitioner notify and cite all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, that they may appear and be heard concerning the same at a Court of Probate to be holden in Roxbury, in said County, on the Twelve day of November, A. D. 1859, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, by causing this Order to be published three weeks successively in the forenoon, in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

GEORGE WHITE, Judge of Probate and Insolvency.

Oct. 29 3w

Administratrix's Sale.

BY virtue of a License from the Court of Probate and Insolvency, of Norfolk County, granted the first Tuesday of October, A. D. 1859, will be sold at Public Auction on THURSDAY, November 17th, 1859, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, on the premises, a parcel of Land with the Buildings thereon, situated in Quincy, and bounded as follows, to-wit:—Easterly on land of Daniel Baxter, Southerly by the River, and Westerly on land occupied by George Pratt.

This property belonged to the late Nathaniel Hayden, a very slightly situated on South street, and convenient to the Ship Yard and Stone Shed at Quincy Neck. Also, to the Church, School House and Post Office; and will be sold at the above-named day if fair, if not, on the first fair day.

NATHAN HAYDEN, Adm'x.

EBEN ADAMS, Auct.

Quincy, Oct. 22 3w

Mrs. L. M. Dwell,

Near the cor. Washington & Canal sts.

QUINCY.

WOULD invite the attention of Ladies to her Rooms, where she intends keeping and manufacturing

Children's Clothing,

OF ALL KINDS.

And she also wishes to call particular attention to her samples of fine stitching, whereby all work entrusted to her care, requiring neatness and good taste, will be done with despatch.

Ladies' Under Clothing made to order.

Quincy, Oct. 29. 2f

DRESSMAKING.

MISS L. C. KELLY, begs leave to inform her friends and former customers, that she has returned to town, and renewed her business of

DRESSMAKING!

ON FRANKLIN STREET,

(Opposite Mr. Adam Curtis's shop.)

Where she hopes by meritizing attention to her business, that she will be enabled to merit a share of that patronage which has hitherto been so liberally bestowed on her. She would have no objection to work in families by the day or week. She would also add, that during the past few months, she has made herself acquainted with all the Modern Improvements in Dressmaking.

Quincy, Sept. 10 2f

MILLINERY

AND

DRESS MAKING.

Mrs. M. E. Curtis

WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has received a

New and Fashionable Assortment

of

MILLINERY GOODS,

suitable for the season, consisting of

Velvets, Satins, Flowers Ribbons,

Ruches, &c.

Straw, Fane and Mourning Bonnets, ready-made and trimmed of made to order.

AN EXPERIENCED MILLINER

will be ready to execute orders promptly and faithfully. Dresses, and all the latest styles of Cloaks and outside garments, cut and made and warranted to suit customers. Also, Dress Patterns, Corsets, Watchmaking, Sewing Machines, with a variety of articles too numerous to mention, for sale as low as they can be purchased elsewhere.

Quincy, Oct. 22. 2f

ELEGANT STOCK OF

DRY GOODS!

5 TREMONT ROW,

BOSTON.

BLAKE & CO.

INVITE the attention of the public to their large and new Stock of

Rich Fall Silks,

AND SILK ROBES,

Poetry.

The Independent Farmer.

Let sailors sing the windy deep,
Let soldiers praise their armor,
But in my heart this toast I'll keep,
"The Independent Farmer;"
When first the rose, in robes of green,
Unfolds its crimson lining,
And round his cottage porch is seen
The honeysuckle twining,
When banks of bloom their sweetness yield
To bees that gather honey,
He drives his team across the field,
Where skies are soft and sunny,
The blackbird chuckles behind his plow,
The quail pipes loud and clearly;
You orchard hides behind its bough
The home he loves so dearly;
The grey, old barn, whose doors enfold
His ample store in season,
More rich than hoops of hoarded gold,
A precious, blessed treasure;
But yonder in the porch stands
His wife, the lovely charmer,
The sweetest rose on all his lands:
The Independent Farmer.

To him the spring comes dancing gay,
To him the summer blushes,
The autumn smiles with mellow ray,
His sleep old winter hushes;
He cares not how the world may move,
No doubts or fears confound him;
His little flock he looks in love,
And household angels round him;
He trusts in God, and loves his wife,
Nor grieve nor ill may harm her,
He nature's nobility in life—
The Independent Farmer.

We Should Forgive Each Other.

We should forgive each other,
For hasty words will start,
From some one's mouth, which springeth in
An overhauling heart;
And we may never think to wound,
Or give our brother pain;
And if forgive the first offence,
We may not err again.

Let not the headless words we speak,
Be treasured in the mind;
But let the darts of passion find rest,
And in each heart remain;
Let not false pride uphold us still,
But let love's voice be heard;
And may we plead in earnest tones
For every kindred word.

And O forget not, that life's years
Are gliding fast away;
That a time will come when earth shall claim
All of its kindred clay;
And O, forget not, when parted
By death's approaching doom;
There is no ray of light to shed
Forgiveness in the tomb.

Tis sweet unto the soul to hear,
That charming word forgive;
It bids the sinner hope in hope,
And for bright love to live;
Then let us all, all day that rule,
Which binds us "love each other,"
Which binds mankind in every case
Forgive his erring brother.

Virtue.

The sturdy rock, for all his strength,
By raging seas is rent in twain;
The marble stone is pierced at length
With little drops of dazzling rain;
The ex-dry yield unto the yoke;
The steel they stung the hammer stroke.

The steady stag, that seems so stout
By yelping hounds at bay is set;
The swiftest bird that flies about
Is caught at length in fowler's net;
The greatest fish in deepest brook
Is soon decimated with subtle hook.

Yea! man himself, unto whose will
All things are bounden to obey,
For all his wit and worthy skill,
Both fade at length, and fall away;
There is no thing but time doth waste—
The heavens the earth consume at last.

But Virtue sits triumphant still
Upon the throne of glorious Fame;
Though spiteful Death man's body kill,
Yet hurls he not his virtuous name.
By life or death, whatso betides,
The state of Virtue never slides.

Anecdotes.

An advocate of total abstinence was once urging a confirmed toper to forego his favorite Mongonahela, and substitute water in its stead, declaring the claims water possessed over all other fluids as a beverage.

"I know," said Tipsey, "water is a fine thing, but it's so blipped."

Brown is a married man now. A few days since he thought of taking a trip to Paris—
One of his friends meeting him in the street, inquired, "Well, Brown, my boy, when are you off?" "To-morrow." "Going to take your wife with you?" "No, it is a voyage of pleasure."

A gentleman at a music school, seeing that the fire was going out, asked a friend in a whisper, "How can I stir the fire without interrupting the music?" "Between the bars," replied the friend.

"Why were you out so late last night, you truant?" "Oh, it wasn't so very late—only a quarter of twelve." "How dare you sit there and tell me that lie? It was three o'clock!" "Well, isn't three a quarter of twelve?"

"What are you fencing that pasture for?
Forty acres of it would starve a cow." "Certainly; and so I am fencing to keep my cows out."

William, can you tell me why the sun rises in the east?" "Don't know, sir, 'cept it be that 'east makes everything rise.'"

A lady said to her husband, in Jerrold's presence, "my dear, you certainly want some new trousers." "No, I think not," answered the affectionate husband. "Well," Jerrold interposed, "I think the lady who wears them ought to know."

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmer, Mechanics, Householders, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON,
TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE,
SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES,
DIRECTORS,

Quincy, Milton,
William S. Morton, Charles Brock,
Israel W. Munroe, Dorchester,
Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,
Whitcomb Porter, Cohasset,
Stephen Bates, Solomon J. Beal,
William B. Duggan, Hingham,
Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gay,
R. B. Lechars, South Hingham,
Randolph, Alfred Loring,
Royal W. Turner, North Bridgewater,
South Braintree, Sumner A. Hayward,
Apollon Randall, Barnstable,
Dedham, George Marston,
Jonathan A. Cobb.

References, by permission:
Hos. GEORGE T. RIGGLOW, of Boston,
Hos. JOSHUA QUINCY, JR., of Boston,
Hos. AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield,
Hos. JAMES MAYNARD, of Randolph,
Hos. SOLOMON LINCOLN, of Hingham,
Hos. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy,
JOSHUA BRIGHAM, Esq., of Quincy.

OFFICE:
Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple
April 1. 1y

To Boot and Shoe

MANUFACTURERS.
We wish to call your attention to the following Goods, which we are prepared to sell on the most favorable terms.

Black and Colored Dressing, finished special-
Black, Brown and Drab Cases, for Congress
shoes, etc., etc.
Black Brown and Drab Felts, for snow shoes,
Lastings, all wool. Italian do. Silk and Cotton
Waip do.
Serge de Reins,
Rubber Goggles, Webs, of beautiful quality for Congress Shoes.

Boots and Congress Webs, from 4 in. to 12 in.,
new style.
Gallons, black and color, 4 and 5 in. widths.
Shoe Ducks; Congress and Union Cutters,
Shoe Tullens, Runners, and Sandal Webs, Eyelets, Cord, Shoe Laces and Straps, all sizes and kinds. Shoe Buttons of all descriptions.

Linen Machine Threads,
Of the well known XXX Golden Flax Stamp, of every description required in the manufacturing of Boots, Breeches, Shoes and Congress Works, from No. 18 to 100, from 2 to 10 cord, in Black,
Drab, Grey, Orange, Yellow and W. Brown, in Hanks, Balls and Spools, for sewing, closing, stitching, binding, straps and counters, top stitching and under threads. Also Shoe Threads.

Machine Silk, all colors and sizes.
See Island Hank Cotton, Blacks, Colored, Un-
bleached and White.

Threads and Sewing Cotton, of all descriptions.

Manufacturers of Clothing
Will find in our stock everything in Linen and Cotton Threads required in their work, and the quality much superior to any in use.

BROWN, DIX & CO.
No. 52 Milk street.
Boston, June 25 1y

WHITE HANDS!

PERSIAN BATH SOAP.

For the Toilet, Bath, Nursery, Shaving,
and for Cleaning the Teeth.
This superior Soap will make the HANDS
WHITE AND SOFT, and is a certain remedy
for CHAPPED HANDS, TANS, SUN-BURNS,
PRICKING, and all medicinal purposes where a
Healing and Emollient effect is desired.

WM. SMITH HALL,
Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass.
C. DYER, JR., General Travelling Agent
Price—25 cents per cake.

Sold by
Quincy Aug 22 1y
MRS. E. HAYDEN.

SEASONED LUMBER,
Of all descriptions, at prices to suit the times
DIMENSION FRAMES,
Furnished at short notice.

Best quality of Pine and Spruce on hand.
Also—Good Pine Wood at $5 a Cord.
For sale at BRACKETT'S WHARF.
Quincy, May 8 1y

something New.
WE have just added to our stock of PAPER
HANGINGS, a large lot of the latest styles, received direct of the manufacturers
which we shall sell cheap.

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, March 26 1y

Paper Hangings.
JUST received, and for sale by the Subscribers, an assortment of Paper Hangings, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere, by
GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, March 26 1y

Pickles.
50 GALLONS of Pickles just received and
for sale cheap for cash.
GEO. L. BAXTER & CO.
Quincy, Feb 28 1y

Now's the Time to Subscribe

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY,
A HANDSOME QUARTO PUBLICATION,
BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED,
IS NOW UNIVERSALLY ACKNOWLEDGED TO BE

The Best Story Paper
IN THE WORLD.

AMONG ITS REGULAR CONTRIBUTORS
will be found the names of some of
THE BEST MALE AND FEMALE
WRITERS IN THE UNITED STATES.

Such writers as
JUSTIN JONES, (HARRY HAZEL),
AGUSTINE J. H. DUGANNE,
WILLIAM EARLE BINDER,
HARRY HAZELTON,
JAMES REYNOLDS,
FRANCIS S. SMITH-
MRS. MARY J. HOLMES,
HELEN FOREST GRAVES,
MARY C. VACHAN,
MARGARET VERNE,
ANNA RAYMOND,
EDA MAYVILLE.

Write for it regularly, while a score of other well-known writers occasionally contribute to
its columns.

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY
has now engaged a force of talent that cannot be rivaled by any establishment in the world.

Notices of the Press,
Never before has any new candidate for public favor in the Literary World received such flattering notices from the Press. From all quarters, our editorial brethren have cheered us on by speaking of our enterprise in a manner to stimulate our vanity, and to excite
the envy of our rivals.

GENERAL CHARACTER
OF THE NEW YORK WEEKLY.
The WEEKLY is designed more especially as
a FIRST-CLASS STORY PAPER,
in which we intend to give our readers a such portion of the Best Stories ever published in the United States! The aim and object of these productions will be to inculcate useful
knowledge under the pleasing guise of fiction,
or to teach great moral lessons through the same means. We shall never publish a work of mere, the tendency of which is to injure the morals or taste of the reader. Every issue of the New York Weekly will contain short sketches of Life and Manners, Nothing of Travel and Adventure, Short Stories, General Summary of Events,
Humorous Gleanings, Poetry,
Editorials, &c. &c. &c.

As specimens of our serials, we would point to
A. J. H. DUGANNE'S Great Story
GARIBALDI,
THE HERO OF ITALY.
HARRY HAZEL'S
EXCITING INDIAN ROMANCE,
THE MUTE SPY!
FRANCIS S. SMITH'S
INTERESTING DOMESTIC STORY,
MAGGIE,
THE CHILD OF CHARITY!

While, as specimens of our standing departments, we point with pride to
OUR BALLADS OF THE BIBLE, admitted by all to be the most chastely written and beautiful scriptural poems ever produced.

OUR KNOWLEDGE BOX,
in which is weekly contained a number of paraphrases of the greatest importance to house-keepers and others.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS,
an interesting mélange, ranging "from grave
to gay, from lively to severe."

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,
prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.

OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,
OUR HUMOROUS INTEREST,
&c., &c., &c.

In a word, its Editors will use their best endeavors to get up just such a paper as will eventually find its way to every fireside in the land—that shall be a welcome visitor wherever it goes—equally popular in the workshop
and the office—at the fireside of the farmer, or
in the counting-room of the merchant—a paper that parents can, with safety, place in the hands of their children without note or comment, feeling certain that its influence will be to stimulate their minds to the pursuit of knowledge, or lead them to abhor vice and wrong.

Our Circulation Prospects
The NEW YORK WEEKLY has gone up to a circulation which places it second in point of circulation in the list of publications of the day. There is but one weekly publication in the world having a larger circulation than the WEEKLY. The indications are, at present, that the circulation of the WEEKLY will soon reach half a million—
Where the newspapers were taking tens, they are now taking hundreds of copies. This is the general effect among the Five Thousand
News Agents who are now selling the NEW YORK WEEKLY, while from nearly every
Post Office in the country, we are daily getting subscriptions and orders for specimens.

How and where to get the Weekly.
Wherever there is a News Agent, get the paper from him. By so doing you do not run
the risk of losing your money through the Post Office, or having to pay for what you will never get. If the paper you are buying
from the Agent stops, you do not lose advance subscriptions, sent to a place where you have no means of looking after it. We trust
the day is not far distant when every town,
large enough to sustain a Post Office, will have its News Agency.

OUR TERMS.
The price of the NEW YORK WEEKLY
FOR CASH, but where Agents buy to pay extra freight or postage, a higher price is necessarily charged. When sent by mail, the price will invariably be $2 a year, in advance.
Subscriptions taken for three months. Two copies will be sent for one year for $3, four copies for $6, eight copies for $12. Postmasters and others who get up clubs of ten,
and send us $15 at one time, will be entitled to an extra copy for their trouble. The bills

of all solvent banks taken at par for subscriptions. Canada subscribers must send twenty-five cents extra with every subscription, to pre-pay the American postage.

All letters and communications, in relation to the Editorial or Business Departments of the NEW YORK WEEKLY, must be addressed to

STREET & SMITH,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS,
22 Beekman Street, New York.
Sept. 3. 3m

RUSSIA SALVE
VEGETABLE OINTMENT
Has been used for the last thirty
Years, and its virtues have stood the test of time.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES BURNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CANCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EYES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLECONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD HEAD.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES NETTLE RASH.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE THROAT.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORMS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PESTERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEA BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SAL

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19th, 1859.

NUMBER XLVII.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.
No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisements is limited to their own immediate business.
Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers:
Railway Village, JOSEPH BARCOCK,
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE,
Milton, CHARLES BRECK,
Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON,
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELY,
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER,
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHOM DREW.

LIVERY STABLE.

THE subscriber having purchased the establishment of George J. Jones, on Hancock street, and made additions thereto, is prepared, at the old stand, to accommodate his friends and the public with

Horses and Carriages.

PLEASURE PARTIES furnished with teams and drivers, or single carriages, at the shortest notice.
Personal attention given to the business, and a liberal patronage from the public solicited.

DAVID E. ROBY.

Quincy, Nov. 13.

LIVERY STABLE.

AT Hardwick's Express Stable, on Hancock street, near the Quincy Patriot Printing Office, new and excellent CARRIAGES, with good and safe HORSES, furnished to individuals or parties, on the very best terms. Transportation of Merchandise, Furniture, &c., attended to with care and despatch.
The traveling public accommodated with good STABLES, at all times.
Good Drivers furnished, if desired.
Every effort will be made to serve patrons, and a share of support is respectfully solicited.

Hardwick's Boston Express.

PARTICULAR attention given to the purchase of Goods and to the transportation of them, of valuable Packages.
Despatch in the collection of Notes, Drafts, and Bills.
All orders thankfully received, and carefully and expeditiously attended to.

Hours of Departure.

From Quincy—8 o'clock, A. M.
From Boston—2 o'clock, P. M.
OFFICES IN BOSTON—34 Court Square, (Railroad Exchange,) and 40 South Market street.
Quincy, April 9

BOWDITCH'S

Quincy and Boston
EXPRESS.

OFFICE—39 & 40 South Market Street,
And 48 Liberty Square,
BOSTON.

SLATE AT DANIEL BAXTER & CO.'S,
NIGHTINGALE'S PROVISION STORE,
AND THE HANCOCK HOUSE.
All orders thankfully received and promptly attended to.
Quincy, Jan 22

New Arrangement.

FURNALD'S
QUINCY EXPRESS
LEAVES BOSTON, DAILY,
AT 2 12 O'CLOCK, P. M.
38 South Market St. and 3 Washington St.
Quincy, June 5

W. M. BABBITT, M. D.,
Homeopathic Physician,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
OFFICE HOURS:
7 to 8 A. M. 12 to 1 P. M.
6 to 7 P. M.
Quincy, Sept. 11

GEORGE WHITE,
Counsellor and Attorney at Law,
No. 5 Tremont Street,
BOSTON.
Quincy, March 5

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—HAS FOR SALE—
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand
—ALSO—
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.
July 10, 1852.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Miscellaneous.

Grace Walton; or a Father's Injustice.

BY MRS. JAMES O. JOSELYN.

Chapter I.

COME with me, gentle reader, for a while and in imagination visit one of Nature's fairest spots. 'Tis a cool, autumnal eve; the pale moon and twinkling stars lend enchantment to the scene. How gracefully the tall avenue winds its way, bordered on either side by lofty elms, planted by one, evidently skilled in combining beauty with comfort. How coldly beautiful does the twilight stars peep through the closely interwoven branches, and the moon beams dance upon the lakelet, calmly reposing farther on, only now and then disturbed by the caress of the weeping willow overhanging its banks.

The sad note of the whippoorwill alone breaks the silence—for the occupants of the noble mansion, embowered in this beautiful solitude—are strangely silent; yet we feel that in this fairy-like abode, happiness alone can dwell. But, ah! let us look within, gentle reader, and turn from these beautiful surroundings to yon luxurious chamber.

'Tis midnight; solemnly and slowly the clock peals the hour; but each tone falls like a death knell upon the sad heart of the beautiful Grace Walton as she stands alone in the gorgeous room. Raising the rich folds of the damask curtain, she looks out mournfully on the moon-lit scene; her jewelled hands pressed closely to her temples; the cold moon and glittering stars seem but to mock her misery. Folding her wrapper more closely about her slight form, she listened to each stroke of the bell, till the sound died away in the distance. Then quickly turning, with a frantic gesture, she tears and tramples under her tiny feet a crumpled letter, she has held, with a death-like grasp, in her clasped hand, as she exclaimed, in a low bitter tone:

"So has your author crushed my poor bleeding heart, and, with a relentless hand, broken each fond tie, trampling with disdain upon a love he knows to be all his own. Then gathering up the fragments of the fatal message, she tossed them upon the dying embers, and as the words seemed even more distinct as it consumed, she cried, even so it is with thee, poor heart, each moment, those burning words are consuming thee with fierce anguish. Turning to an elegant dressing-table, the full glare of the gas exposed a tiny vial. With a low maniacal laugh she held it tightly to her breast, exclaiming:

"Thou sure antidote for a broken heart; Ernest Travers, had some one possessed of second sight, foretold that this should be the effect of loving thee, how sorrowfully would I have received the prophecy, little dreaming that one whom my fond heart had placed on a pedestal above earthly mortals, would fall so low as to steep a proud soul in deception. If coquetry were thy only aim, thou might'st at least have chosen one who could act a part in perfectly equal to thine own; I would fain doubt now, that my mind is but wandering in fearful delirium, but that my father was the bearer of the cruel message, and whispering—

"'Tis love for your younger sister prompts me,' Ernest Travers, you coldly bid me forget you; as well might you bid the sun follow another course. Can that dark eye into whose clear depths I have so often gazed admiringly have looked forth only falsehood and deception? That deep-toned, musical voice, which has so often echoed through my soul with its manly eloquence and power, can it be those words were hollow tinkling sounds? I cannot yet believe thee false, and to bid me forget thee, in all thy nobleness, oh, never!

Again she raised the window drapery and gazed with dilated eye and heaving breast on the scene without, endeared by many associations connected with him she would fain believe true still. Kissing fervently again and again each cherished token Ernest had bestowed—still clasping in her trembling hand a locket, containing a faithful picture of his noble features, she lifted to her lips the fatal draught, when a wild cry of 'Fire,' accompanied by frightful shrieks, caused the vial to fall from her hand.

It was the work of an instant for Grace to rush from the room and comprehend the work of the devouring element. Already were the flames bursting from room to room; in an instant her thoughts were with her rival sister, who was slumbering unconsciously in a remote wing of the house, to which the flames were fast hastening. Mr. Wilton was absent for the night; and Grace's appeals to the terrified servants to save her sister were disregarded, as they fled in alarm for their own safety. She snatched a blanket, and wrapping it around her, fled through the smoke and flame to her sister's apartment, and with superhuman strength given her for the hour, she snatched the unconscious victim from the bed—rushed down the tottering stair-way into the garden below, and deposited her senseless burden: the crowd looking on with hushed voices as she sank senseless by the side of the sister her heroism had saved from death.

Chapter II.

A LONG and painful illness followed the events of that dreadful night portrayed in the last chapter; but when Grace Wilton arose from her bed of sickness, it was with a calmer mind and a purified soul. With shuddering she turned from that eventful night, when, with her own hand she would have severed the silver cord that bound her to life.

Oh, God! give me strength to live and to conquer self, was her oft repeated prayer.

Yet, she would often query why Ernest, immediately after dispatching the cruel letter which had well nigh dethroned her reason, sought a foreign clime. If, as she supposed, her sister's charms had broken the tie that bound his soul to hers, why did he not remain to enjoy his newly forged chain of affection, and give her a brother's love at least? The subject was one which was never alluded to in her sister's presence; and as months passed on, and no tidings were heard of her lover, Laura, naturally gay and feble, bestowed her heart and hand on a handsome young southerner, she met in society, who bore her in triumph to his beautiful southern home; in the pleasures of which the memory of her short-lived preference was buried in oblivion.

Not so with Mr. Wilton; his conscience often smote him for the course he had pursued towards his elder daughter, and bitterly did he repent that the fatal preference he felt for his younger child had prompted an act of injustice which had separated their hearts. Mr. Wilton had known Laura's weakness, and unwilling to see his idolized child the victim of disappointment, had, by slow but sure artifice, sent the poisoned arrow of jealousy and doubt into Ernest Travers' unsuspecting soul.

Yet, as months passed on, and tidings came of the fame which the young artist, Ernest Travers, was winning in a foreign land; and the words were repeated in Grace's presence; her emotion ceased her father intense pain. But never for a moment did the idea occur to Grace that a loved father or sister could so cruelly have broken an attachment as sacred to Ernest as herself. He had abandoned her, and then her sister; and she felt with many noble qualities he was feeble, and left him to his fate.

Yet Ernest Travers had loved Grace Wilton with all the warmth of his nature; with a love which had never swerved for an instant; and when obliged by her father's representations to believe her false as fair, unable to feign an attachment he did not feel for Laura, he quitted his native land and tried to bury the memory of his lost love in the study of his glorious art in classic Italy.

Time passed on; Grace endeavored still by prayer to perform life's duties, but to her stricken soul existence was sometimes a burden.

Some two years after the opening of our story, she was on a visit to a relative in a distant city; and after much persuasion was induced to join a masquerade. She had chosen the character of a Jewess, which she well personated. Among the guests present was one in the costume of a gallant knight; and he as well as many others was attracted by the said Jewess, and requested her hand as a partner for the next quadrille. At the sound of a voice so familiar, Grace stood for a moment paralyzed; and Ernest Travers—for it was he—led upon the floor one whom, two years before, he had bade forget him forever! Grace scarcely trusted herself to reply to the remarks of her partner, and at the close of the dance was led silently to her seat by her dignified attendant; yet as he remained in conversation with a person in her vicinity, her excitement did not subside as she listened to the tones of that never to be forgotten voice. Suddenly a jostling occurred among the crowd, as a messenger came in haste, eagerly enquiring for Ernest Travers; his wife had fainted from fatigue and heat, and required his presence in the ante-room. As he passed in haste by Grace, he tripped, and on turning to offer an apology, he beheld the ashy features of her he had wronged; for in the confusion the masque had fallen from her face. None in that assembly read the secret of those two hearts; and their embarrassment was accounted for by the awkwardness of their position; her urgent request to leave the ball room was acceded to, and her evident agitation attributed to the mortification of her fallen masque.

Chapter III.

AGAIN it was an autumnal evening, and Grace stood as five years before, and looked out upon the starry night.

Beautiful was she still; the matured loveliness of the woman of twenty-five, but faultless as ever. Her soul had grown nobler, and on her face was stamped the lesson she had learned, "To suffer and be strong."

Ah! how changed, she exclaimed; the very house and grounds seemed strange! and as memory reverted to that awful night when death and destruction seemed hovering over her dwelling, she shrank from the window, and burying her face in her hands, wept the scalding tears; but her thoughts had found sure refuge in time of trouble, and a quiet peace followed the storm of rekindled memories of wrongs.

The clock struck twelve; she now arose with a countenance inspired with fresh purpose, and raising her eyes heavenward, with clasped hands, she exclaimed, "So help me God!"

Crossing the richly carpeted floor, she opened a small casket, which she took from a secret drawer, and drew from it a locket containing the features of Ernest Travers. She had not trusted her eyes to look upon this for long years. She gently removed the glass and effaced from the plate each trace of the cherished features; with a smile she returned the case to the casket.

Would that from memory's tablet that image could be as easily obliterated, she sighed. Am I doing right? she asked, with eyes turned heavenward; then moving towards another part of the room, she lifted a light curtain that partly concealed the features of a lovely female, whose serenely smiling countenance seemed to answer "yes." It was the portrait of one who had supplied the place of a mother to herself and sister.

Even as thou didst, so will I, sweet mother, and kneeling before the picture, she prayed for strength to perform her coming duties, even as it had been granted to her who had so faithfully lived a "mother," without the natural tie, to her husband's children. Turning to the picture of two lovely children, she said:

Yes, this poor divided heart shall be given to thee, Arthur, and these little ones; although I can never supply the place of her thou hast lost.

Early in the bright spring-time, Grace stood before the altar and became the wife of Arthur Rivers. He had laid in the cold ground she who had first drawn forth the emotion of love in his breast. But for his children's sake he again sought one to supply the place of her called ere the harvest-time of her work arrived. Grace Wilton, he felt, would be to him the companion he needed; and though they could not give each other the first love of young hearts, they were happy in their affection. Into his possession she gave her life's secret; and he kept it well, and never jarred her heart by touching the inharmonious chord.

It was in the warm, sultry season, that Grace, in company with her husband, sought the refreshing breeze of the sea-shore. They had arrived at the hotel the night before, and wishing to enjoy the early morning, strolled out from the house into the adjoining wood, gathering the wild flowers, and listening to the notes of the feathered songsters as they warbled their orisons to the day-god.

The path which they had chosen was narrow and winding, and they were surprised to be obliged to turn aside for one, who like themselves, had wandered from the hotel to enjoy an early morning walk. Grace who was in advance of her husband a few paces, started as she met the gaze of the intruder, for it was Ernest Travers who bent upon her his penetrating eye, and passed with a cold bow of recognition. When she again leaned upon her husband's arm, he little suspected the cause of her resting so heavily, but fearing her long walk had fatigued her, insisted upon returning to their hotel, and Grace would not pain him by referring to the individual whom she had passed, as one in whom she had ever felt more than ordinary interest.

Ernest ordered breakfast in his own apartment, and immediately after took his departure, not wishing to encounter again one whom, though she had played him false, always awakened anew the memories of the happy past.

As the season advanced, Mr. Rivers' health which had been feeble for some months, grew rapidly worse, and the disease assuming more alarming symptoms, they repaired to their city residence earlier than anticipated. For a few weeks he lingered, and then with a parting blessing left his children to her who, although only the bride of a year, had taken them to her heart and fostered them with a mother's care.

Soon after her husband's death, Grace found her father's health yielding to advancing years; and when Mr. Wilton felt that the summons which comes alike to all would soon visit him, his hardened conscience longed to relieve itself of the secret load of guilt towards her he had injured.

With childlike hope to be forgiven for what he felt to have been the one great error of his life, he confessed all his perfidy to her.

When Grace had listened to the disclosures her father made, deeply did she feel the relief it was to know that he whom she had trusted had ever been true, although the blighting influence of falsehood had saddened her life.

But the thoughts of the utter scorn with which he must have regarded her, for the part he supposed she must have acted, caused her much misery.

After many months consideration, she resolved to write a brief note to Ernest, clearing, if possible, her character from the stain which had long rested on it. This she did not deem unwomanly, for she knew he had long since been married to another.

But this intention was never executed, for Mr. Wilton was suddenly taken ill, and Grace stood by the couch of her guilty but repentant parent, a tireless watcher.

"In her deep melancholy eye
Life's brilliant hues no longer lie;
And love itself, its sweetest light,
Has left behind a starless night;
A night! ah, no! 'tis early dawn,
The long, dark, hopeless hours are gone,
And Faith, the day-spring from on high,
Is beaming through her heavenward way."

She had reached her twenty-eighth year, and her twice widowed heart lived only for the past, and the two little ones committed to her charge.

It was a wild wintry night, and Mr. Wilton had requested Grace not to leave his bedside; although very weary with previous watching, she obeyed cheerfully.

Her father soon fell into a restless slumber, frequently rousing and vainly attempting to raise his feeble frame, as if in dreams he anticipated some exciting scene. With soothing hand Grace strove to quiet his slumbers.

The fury of the storm increased without; and as the branches of the trees swayed to and fro, and the boisterous wind howled in fearful rage, even the schooled heart of Grace grew faint and trembling as if anticipating some terrible event.

Since the awful night when Grace had contemplated her own destruction, the hour of midnight ever caused a shudder to pass through her frame, and as the time piece pointed silently to the hour, she drew towards her father's bedside, fearing that this midnight hour might bring to him the dread summons.

Suddenly the door-bell rang, and the invalid turned, with a bright smile of satisfaction, exclaiming: "He has arrived before it is too late."

The door opened, and Ernest Travers, stood again, face to face, with the man whose baseness had blighted his life's happiness. Grace could scarce suppress her feelings, as he came toward her, saying in tones low, but musical as of eight years before:

Come, receive with me your father's blessing.

Can you, will you forgive me? gasped the old man.

Let your own misery atone for the past; we forgive as we hope to be forgiven, said Ernest. Then turning to Grace, whose hand he held, he continued: At your father's request I am here, having received a confession he directed to be sent me. Grace, three years after your supposed unfaithfulness drove me to a foreign clime; I met there some of her fairest daughters, and yielding to her evident preference for me, I led her to the altar. God forgive me for the act! Her fond heart soon discovered that, although wealth and attention were at her command, my lie it she did not possess. The shock wore on her sensitive nature, and in a few months I laid in the grave my gentle but unloved wife, bitterly accusing myself for my injustice toward the dead. For years I devoted myself only to my art; and then, when wealth and fame were mine, I again sought, a few months since, the shores of America, in time, dear Grace, to receive your father's confession. Shall I leave these shores again, my Grace? You shall decide for me. Need we give the answer?

Chapter IV.

ONE more sense gentle reader, and we part. 'Tis midsummer's eve and the old mansion of Mr. Wilton never wore a gayer aspect.

Lights are gleaming from each window, and strains of music mellow and sweet fall on the listening ear. Guests are assembled, and quiet happiness beams on every face.

See! the light drapery of the curtain parts and displays a bridal scene. It is no girlish form which leans on the strong arm of the man of thirty-five, on whose brow the thought and vigor of manhood have set their seal, but that of a fair woman, whose face, radiant with a happiness which she had never thought to realize in life, is more beautiful in its truth and purity than in early girlhood.

The bridal party advances, and in the feeble old man who gives the bride away, we recognize Mr. Wilton, who is still permitted to live awhile in the happiness of his children.

And now the words are spoken which bind them forever; and in the enjoyment of a love which renders the trials of earth but slight, we leave them for life's coming joys and sorrows.

Steam Engine and the Human Machine.

When it took six men to make a pin, the mechanic had little need to think.

That it was not the work to which an intellectual creature should devote the labor of his life, was clearly proved, when a very simple machine, with not a breath of soul in it anywhere, was found capable of performing the labor sooner and better than all the six.

Nothing has done so much to set the mechanic 'wits to work,' and make him a man of thought, as the thing his own hands have fashioned—the Steam Engine! It has demonstrated, that iron sinews which never tire, and nerves of steel which never feel a twinge, can grow obedient to some master thought, and be its delegate.

It is as if the stone Apollo should come down from its pedestal and stand beside the sculptor and say, 'here am I, what is thy will?'

Look at that Engine moulding iron, pressing roses, swaying scythes and swinging flails, waving wings, printing songs, weaving silks, and piercing hills.

It is a dairy maid or a laundress to-day, and lifts a hammer like a Cyclops to-morrow; it crushes the rock, or it polishes the gem; it drives the whistling planes like a thousand carpenters, and winds the satin ribbon over its glittering fingers like a girl; it mams the pumps like a giant, and spreads the ship's wings like a bird; it will walk upon velvet if you bid it; it can trample the earth into dust like the whirlwind hosts of Tamerlane; it will graduate the dial for the chronometer, it can weave into a fence the white mile stones as it goes; it can touch the slightest pendulum with a drop of gold for its ballast; it can beat like a clock, and the multitudes shall swing to and fro in its awe.

It loosens the grasp of the artisan upon almost every implement he has welded; it shames him, by showing how much more skillful it can make them than he; soulless though thought it is, it rivals mechanic man; it bequeaths to him years of golden time, and bids him 'transmigrate' from a machine, and assert his supremacy as an intellectual creature.

Origin of the term "Old Dominion."

Few things are so well calculated to awaken in the mind of the proud Virginian, when wandering in foreign lands, touching reminiscences of home and kindred, as the simple mention of the "Old Dominion." And yet there are comparatively few who are aware of the term which has so long and so generally been applied to Virginia. It originated thus:—

"During the Protectorate of Cromwell, the colony of Virginia refused to acknowledge his authority, and declared itself independent. Shortly after, when Cromwell threatened to send a fleet and army to reduce Virginia to subjection, the alarmed Virginians sent a messenger to Charles II., who was then an exile in Flanders, inviting him to return in the ship with the messenger, and be King of Virginia. Charles accepted the invitation, and was on the eve of embarkation, when he was called to the throne of England. As soon as he was fairly seated on his throne, in gratitude for the loyalty of Virginia, he caused her coat of arms to be quartered with those of England, Ireland and Scotland, as an independent member of the empire, a distinct portion of the "Old Dominion." Hence arose the origin of the term. Copper coins of Virginia were issued as late as the reign of George III., which bore on one side the coats of arms of England, Ireland, Scotland and Virginia.—Notes and Queries.

"Zat is my Trunk."

"In the days of coaching over the Providence turnpike, before railroad cars were in use, and baggage crates existed, and when travellers had to keep a sharp lookout for their luggage, some forty or fifty passengers had stepped on board the old 'Ben Franklin,' and got under way on Narragansett Bay. A gentleman who had occasion to get some of his wardrobe, had just hauled from an immense pile of baggage stowed amidships, a new black leather trunk of portly dimensions, studded with brass nail, with a little withered Frenchman, of a mottled complexion, and fashionably dressed, darted from the crowd, and interposing between our friend and his property, exclaimed, courteously, but positively:

I beg your pardon, sarr—mais pardonnez

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY,
Having returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stebbins' Variety Store, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING,
I keep constantly on hand, a large stock of Gold and Silver Watches,
Gold and Silver Chains,
LOCKETS,

Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry, OLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,
Gents' Pins and Studs,
FINGER RINGS,

Together with a large assortment of Silver and Plated Ware,
Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less at such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, RUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, IMPETIGES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, HAIR LOSS, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DIAPYR, NERVOUS OR THE DOCTORS' DIZZILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYTHELMA, ROSE OF ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole mass of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which foster in the blood at that season of the year. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, RUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, IMPETIGES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, HAIR LOSS, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DIAPYR, NERVOUS OR THE DOCTORS' DIZZILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYTHELMA, ROSE OF ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole mass of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which foster in the blood at that season of the year. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, RUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, IMPETIGES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, HAIR LOSS, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DIAPYR, NERVOUS OR THE DOCTORS' DIZZILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYTHELMA, ROSE OF ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole mass of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which foster in the blood at that season of the year. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, RUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, IMPETIGES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, HAIR LOSS, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DIAPYR, NERVOUS OR THE DOCTORS' DIZZILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYTHELMA, ROSE OF ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole mass of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which foster in the blood at that season of the year. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, RUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, IMPETIGES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, HAIR LOSS, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DIAPYR, NERVOUS OR THE DOCTORS' DIZZILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYTHELMA, ROSE OF ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole mass of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which foster in the blood at that season of the year. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, RUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, IMPETIGES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, HAIR LOSS, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DIAPYR, NERVOUS OR THE DOCTORS' DIZZILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYTHELMA, ROSE OF ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole mass of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great moi—you have ze wrong cochen by ze oreille zat is my trunk?"

"Not so monsieur—I hope I know my own traps."

"Retez tranquille—hold on—dans un instant I will prove my props—aha! you see dis key, eh?" Applying it to the lock, he threw up the lid and then struck a triumphant attitude. "My key unlock you trunk—eh? tell me zat!"

"Stand out of the way! it's my trunk, I tell you."

Hold on von leetle minute! zose your shurts, eh?"

"To be sure they are!"

"Zose you drowzains, eh?"

"Certainly!"

"Wait a moment—I will prove my props, sare," and the little Frenchman, rummaging beneath a pile of shirts and socks, produced a bottle, and said deliberately, with a hideous grin: "Zat—your bot-telle of Dom treux ish (lich) oinment, sare—eh? Ave you von leetle ish? Zie you Remede for ze lepros (leprosy). Ah! be dam! I know it was my trunk!"

It is needless to remark that our friend immediately "opened a wide gap" between himself and the interesting victim of two of the most unpopular disorders known to suffering humanity.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Nov. 19th, 1859.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SELECT ARE WE."

OUR REPRESENTATIVE ELECT. Mr. Jameson, the gentleman returned from this District, as Representative to the next General Court, gave a social levee to his political friends, at the Willard House, West District, on Saturday evening last. The assembly was large, among whom were many of our first citizens. At one time we should think there was between one and two hundred present. It was a strong gathering of the Democracy, to honor the chief who had led them to victory. The reception was hearty and welcome. The entertainment was much the same as those usually provided for such occasions. Music and dancing with other amusements, occupied the fore part of the evening. At nine, supper was announced, when the company were escorted to the dining saloon, to partake of a sumptuous repast, served up in French's best style. After its merits had been freely discussed and the cloth removed; toasts were drunk, sentiments offered, thanks tendered to those who had been foremost in the struggle, and congratulatory speeches made, full of hope and promise, to cheer the faithful in their patriotic labors.

Mr. Jameson is an old resident of the place—highly esteemed for his courteous demeanor and honest straightforward course; he is familiarly acquainted with the business wants of the town, its prosperity, etc.—and takes a lively interest in all that relates to its welfare. The presumption, therefore is, that his duties as a Representative will be ably and faithfully performed.

ACCIDENT. Mr. William Field, of the firm of Frederick & Field, stone contractors of this town, met with a serious accident, while passing under the railroad bridge, on Granite street, in an open wagon. A train of cars bore in sight at the time, at which the horse took fright, causing him suddenly to sheer to the left side of the road, throwing Mr. Field heavily upon the iron guard which protects the footpath. The injuries of Mr. F. are internal, and it is feared serious. The fore-wheels separated from the body of the wagon, which the horse ran with some distance before stopped.

FORTUNATE ESCAPE. On Friday afternoon, of last week, as the workmen at Barker & Wright's stone yard, on the Commons, were raising a heavy stone, the lower Derrick gave way, drawing the upper Derrick to the hole below, with a tremendous crash, where four or five men were at work, who miraculously escaped injury, with the exception of a few trifling flesh bruises. One man was struck upon the head, and another upon the cheek, by some of the falling fragments.

SAD ACCIDENT. George M., son of Mr. Truman A. Houtness, of this town, while playing with a gun barrel on the fifth instant, having filled it with powder, also kept some near it, which accidentally caught fire and causing that in the barrel to explode, while he was near it, thereby receiving a severe wound from the brick-pipe, which struck him on the knee. Dr. Woodward was called to the sufferer's aid, and we are happy to state that he is slowly recovering—but it is doubtful if he ever recovers the full use of his limb. This should be a warning to boys playing with such dangerous weapons.

A METEOROLOGICAL PHENOMENON. A meteor of unusual brilliancy, apparently of the size of a man's head, was seen on Tuesday last, about midday, in the neighborhood of Wilson & Co.'s ledge. When first observed, it was high in the heavens, but gradually descended and disappeared in the woods. Its course was not marked by any noise or explosion, but a clear meteoric light.

THANKSGIVING. Preparations are already heard in the distance for the advent of this memorable day. It will be ushered in, mid the richness of the season, on Thursday next, by special permission of his Excellency.—The whole heart of New England will then respond to the call; care and trouble will then be thrown to the wind, to swell the great army of its worshippers, and join in the universal jollification. No day in the calendar is so full of joy and hope. The domestic hearth burns with a clearer and purer light and the wanderer by its attractions, and the strong ties of affinity and affection, is drawn to its embrace. Twenty-four States it is said, will be in sympathetic union on that day, worshipping at one altar, in thanksgiving and praise.

CAUTION. We have been requested by a number of enterprising merchants to call the attention of readers, particularly of parents, to the habit of tearing down bills, to which children of late have taken an active part. We say habit, because we do not think any young rosy cheek boy or smiling girl, would do any such thing to injure those who have taken great pains to have bills printed and pasted along our thoroughfares, but for the amusement it gives. There is a heavy penalty attached to this offence, which will be put in force if there is not a stop put to this crime. Therefore we would advise parents to caution their children against such wrong doing.

QUINCY LYCEUM. The annual meeting of the members of the Lyceum for choice of officers, was held at the Lyceum room on Friday evening, Nov. 11th, and the old Board, with the exception of Treasurer who declined re-election, were chosen for the year ensuing.

President—Wm. S. Morton.
Vice President—John J. Glover.
Secretary—John O. Holden.
Treasurer—C. A. Howland.
Committee—Thomas Curtis, D. K. Flint.

Notes.—That in view of the lack of interest by the lecture going public, in the prosperity of the Quincy Lyceum, for the past two or three years, it is thought expedient to dispense with a course of lectures in the coming season, and that any further action in regard to the same be subject to the pleasure of the lecture committee.

For the Patriot.
Combat between a Painter and Essence Pedler.

MR. EDITOR: Can you find room in your crowded columns for the particulars of a little incident—of recent occurrence, and of local interest. It is spicy—odd—curious, and has a freshness and fragrance that is reviving. The facts as furnished us, are as follows:

On a pleasant day,—one of the loveliest of the season—while a respectable citizen, of our village, was wending his way to his distant home in peace with his family, and the road to the wood—to partake with his family the noonday meal—his progress was suddenly arrested by ominous misgivings—by suspicious doubts, that his studio, or premises, where he practised his art, had been secretly invaded. By first, this seemed improbable, as he had the keys in his pocket; still, curiosity being aroused, he was determined to be satisfied; accordingly he entered the building—searched it from the attic to the first floor; but nothing could be discovered. There was but one other place unsearched—the basement—could the intruder be there? he would see; descending the stairs with cautious steps, and groping his way over jars, paint pots, etc.—armed with a good hickory staff, to defend himself in case of sudden attack, he had nearly made the circuit of the place, and was about to abandon the search, when to his utter dismay, he saw partly concealed, behind a turpentine case an object, which sent a thrill of terror through his frame. Here was a dilemma. Shut out from the light of day in this subterranean cavern—from the assistance of his fellow-men if needed; perhaps with a dangerous enemy, what should he do? retreat—leave the field in disgrace? his better feelings said, no! he thought of home, the flag-staff on the green; where he had so often seen the stars and stripes float proudly on the breeze! and was it for the last time? was the scene here to close on him forever? forebodings of evil would intrude themselves, but only for a moment—he soon rallied, and resolved to face the danger; he would reconnoitre a little further; he would ask the stranger his name, the nature of his business, and to turn a trifle that he might see his face; although these requests were civilly put, no response was made—silence still reigned; this he thought strange—what did it mean? here a happy idea struck him; perhaps the fellow might be asleep, or had fainted; he will stir him gently with the end of my stick; no sooner suggested than done. But horror upon horror! with the speed of thought he received a discharge from an unseen battery of liquid fire, the aroma of which suffocated him, and sent him staggering to the wall; he gasped for breath; begged for quarters; but his cries were unheeded; discharge after discharge followed each other in quick succession; the struggle could not last long; the nervous of the strong man began to fail; a mist came over his eyes; his reason tottered; he fell—ingloriously fell—conquered and vanquished by an Essence Pedler.—When he awoke to consciousness, the intruder had left—he disappeared as mysteriously as he came. By great exertion he gained the open air, and the residence of a near neighbor, where, by the timely application of restoratives, administered to him on a baker's shovel, he was able to relate the tale of his misfortunes—the agonies of the hour—which none doubted, for the evidence still clung to him.

Boston Correspondence.

Boston, Nov. 17, 1859.

City Election.—Mayor.—Candidates.—The State Liquor Agent in great tribulation.—Doctor Jackson's Statement.—Analysis as practised under the law a deception.—Alarming developments as to adulteration.—Beware of wines.—The State Liquor Agency Law should be wiped from the Statute Book.

Having passed through the State election, and that matter settled for the next year, another contest is to come off the second Monday of December proximo—the election in Boston of its Municipal officers. It seems that the present incumbent, Mr. Lincoln, is to be dropped, and several gentlemen are already named as candidates for the Mayoralty. It is said the Republicans will nominate Hon. Moses Kimball as a candidate for Mayor. The names of Hon. Francis J. Parker and James P. Bradley are mentioned in connection with the citizens party nomination. It is hardly to be expected that any person can be elected in a "straight party" ticket, there being many local questions, that generally affect the election of city and town officers. And this is all very proper. For municipal officers, the best men should be taken irrespective of party lines. The Mayorship of Boston is an honorable and somewhat lucrative position; the yearly salary being four thousand, with large appointing power.

George P. Burdham's case continues to be the absorbing topic of conversation. The truth is, the public has no confidence in the man; looking at his antecedents, and he has "a hard road to travel, before he gets through the Liquor Agent difficulties. His imprisonment by the State Legislature for contempt in refusing to give up his private books as he calls them, is a farce. He is imprisoned for the term of twenty-five days in the common jail, not because he is guilty of violating the State Agency Statute, but simply, indignity to the House. It really is humiliating Mr. Burdham, and giving him more importance in the public mind, than he is deserving of. Let all the accusations against him go to a jury of his country, and then, and not till then, will justice be meted to him. At the present moment, the public prejudice against Burdham is overwhelming, and perhaps no man in the State has now more enemies. The testimony of Doctor Jackson, State Assayer, before the Special Liquor Committee on Tuesday was unfavorable to Mr. Burdham. Among other things he stated, that Burdham told a liquor dealer who wanted some liquor analyzed, that the fee would be ten dollars. He, Dr. Jackson, immediately corrected the statement, saying, I told you it would be only five dollars. Burdham said aside to the Doctor: "Why couldn't I let me make five dollars out of it?"

The Doctor testified that the plan pursued in regard to analyzing liquors affords no protection whatever to purchasers of liquor unless the agent is honest. All depends upon that. If the agent is honest, the buyer would have a certain protection by the analysis. He had originally suggested that the authorities in the towns should make seizure of the liquors furnished to the town agents, and cause samples of them to be analyzed. Under the present arrangement the chemist can aid the agent in purchasing the liquors, but can afford no protection to the consumers.—He thought the analysis especially important in wines. He had in two cases found wines of dealers in this city poisonous. Pale Sherry had been made of Brown Sherry, by putting sugar of lead into it, and afterwards precipitating it with sulphuric acid, (oil of vitrol) to carry the coloring matters to the bottom. Enough sugar of lead in it to render the wine poisonous.

He also made some developments as to the rascality of Port wines. The dealers of the state and town agents liquor law are fast coming to light, and the sooner the State Liquor Agency is abolished the better, for the welfare and peace of the community. It will do more to lessen the stability in the Maine or prohibitory liquor statute, in the minds of no small portion of the temperance community, than any other measure yet adopted.

A GOLD FAMILY NEWSPAPER. "The New York Weekly," published in the city of New York, has long enjoyed its reputation. It is a sheet of the largest class, well filled with the choicest reading matter, adapted to the family circle. The proprietors are liberally patronizing the best literary talent of the country, and making every exertion to sustain its former good character, and extend its already wide circulation. Those in want of a richly illustrated, racy and interesting newspaper, will find it in the New York Weekly. The advertisement may be found in another column.

Read C. Gill's advertisement of Paper Hangings, for a short time, at reduced prices to improve the chance.

THE HOOK AND LADDER COMPANY, passed a social evening, on the 8th, (election day) at their pleasant quarters. Capt. Newman was in command, and distributed with a liberal hand the good cheer which had been provided for the occasion. After a few preliminaries in social chat, a turn or two in the graceful dance, the company set down to a bountiful repast, of crackers, cheese, coffee and other ecceteras, to which ample justice was done. Many invited guests were present. It was a jovial gathering.

FIREMEN'S BALL. The Tiger Engine Company of this town, will celebrate the evening of the 24th (Thanksgiving night) by a grand military and civic ball, at the Town Hall. Gilmore's band, a favorite one with our Metropolitan neighbors, has been engaged, and the most extensive arrangements made for a social and agreeable time—worthy the day and occasion. Tickets, including carriage, to and from the hall, one dollar. Supper will be furnished by that prince of caterers, Loring A. French, Capt. Wilson, the popular commander of the Tigers has taken the matter in hand, and there is no doubt, therefore, that every thing will be done up in good shape.

C. Gill & Co., invite the attention of Ladies to their new stock of English Lasting, Goat and Kid Congress Boots, very thick soles. Also, a fine Calf Button Boot, thick sole, very serviceable, for Ladies and Misses.

LADIES! If you only knew the value of Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills you would not be without them another day. One of the first ladies of Boston, who has used them successfully, says she would be willing to pay five dollars a box rather than be without them. They are not a secret nostrum.—Every agent is given the receipt composing them, and they will tell you, they are indeed all they are represented, and will perform all we claim for them. See advertisement in another column, "Headed a Card to the Ladies."

Men's Calf Boots—a complete assortment always on hand at C. Gill & Co's, made from selected stock, and work warranted. Our stock is such that buyers are sure to get good fitting boots, either heavy or light—tap sole, double sole, half-welt or single sole.

AN ACKNOWLEDGED FACT.—No remedy has yet been discovered so efficacious in healing cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, etc., as Redding's Russia Salve. 25 cents a box, sold everywhere.

Special Notices.

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION at Barker's Hall, on MONDAY EVENING, Nov. 21st, at 7 o'clock.

Question for Debate.
"Has the power of England been beneficial to the world?"

Per order. C. H. PORTER, Sec'y.
Quincy, Nov. 19.

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING.
Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.
In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall,
J. W. Corrier, of Lawrence, Mass., will speak to-morrow.
Quincy, Nov. 19.

QUINCY SKATING CLUB. There will be a meeting of this organization on MONDAY EVENING, Nov. 21st, at Mariposa Hall, at 7 1/2 o'clock. The public are invited to attend.
Per Order,
SAMUEL A. DUNCAN, Sec'y.
Quincy, Nov. 19.

RIGHT DRESS, FRONT. The members of the Hancock Light Guard, are notified that their regular monthly meeting stands adjourned to this (SATURDAY) Evening, Nov. 19th, at 7 o'clock—and that the Finance Committee will be present to square accounts with members.
E. A. SPEAR, Clerk.
Quincy, Nov. 19.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.
Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills for Females. One of the most successful remedies ever discovered for female complaints. "One of the first ladies of New London," who has used them, she considers them of so much value she would not be without them, and would cheerfully pay five dollars a box for them if she could get them no less. The ingredients of these Pills are made known to every agent, and they will tell you it is the best female medicine ever sold, at the same time perfectly harmless. Price $1 per box. Sold by Mrs. E. Hayden sole agent for Quincy.

Ladies by sending her $1 through the Quincy P. O. can have the Pills sent to any part of the country confidentially by mail.
WEEKS & POTTER, 154 Washington Street, Boston, wholesale agents.
S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y.
Quincy, Nov. 19th, 1859.

Marriages.

In Weymouth, 6th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Abbot, Mr. George C. Whiting, of Quincy, to Miss Emeline A. Thayer, of Weymouth. In South Boston, by Rev. Mr. Clanch, Mr. Isaac Newcomb, of this town, to Miss M. E. J. Baillie, of Florida.

Copartnership Dissolved.
Quincy, Nov. 5th, 1859.
NOTICE is hereby given that the Copartnership existing between Francis P. Loud and Warren Veazie, under the firm of LOUD & VEAZIE, is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

Warren Veazie is authorized to settle all debts due to and by the Company.
FRANCIS P. LOUD,
WARREN VEAZIE.

The undersigned grateful for past patronage would respectfully inform the citizens of Quincy and vicinity that he will continue to keep on hand an assortment of Dry Goods, &c., and would be happy to meet all at his Store, on Hancock street.
WARREN VEAZIE.
Quincy, Nov 12

READ THAT

Administrator's Notice.
NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscribing has been duly appointed Administrator, of the Goods and Estate of

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Counselor at Law, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

JOHN CAPEN, Administrator,
Boston, Nov. 19, 1859.

Administrator's Notice.
NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscribing has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

ELISHA HOBART,
late of Braintree, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

ADAM HOBART, Administrator
Braintree, Nov. 19

LOST,
ON WEDNESDAY evening, Nov. 16th, either on Elm or Washington street, a Fitch Fur Tippet. The finder shall be suitably rewarded by leaving it at the Store of

Quincy, Nov 19

Collector's Sale.

I SHALL sell the following described Real Estate, situated in Quincy, at the Town Hall, on SATURDAY, Dec. 17th, at 3 o'clock, P. M., for the non-payment of Taxes, given to me to collect for the year, 1859.

Lot No. 38, 39 and 40, on Greenleaf Place, taxed to G. H. Nott of Boston. Tax $2 10 and cost.

Lot 41, taxed to Abigail Lath of Boston. Tax 70 cents and cost.

The above lots are on Greenleaf Place and bounded and described as per plan of said lot, and signed by N. A. Thompson, dated Aug. 13th, 1846.

Lot No. 41 and 42, taxed to C. P. Seaton of Manchester, N. H. Tax $1 40 and cost.

Lot No. 49, taxed to Charles T. Fells of Boston. Tax 70 cents and cost.

Lot 51, taxed to Abigail Lath of Boston. Tax 70 cents and cost.

The above lots are on Greenleaf Place and bounded and described as per plan of said lot, and signed by N. A. Thompson, dated Aug. 13th, 1846.

Sixty-two acres of Woodland, taxed to Jason Thayer of Milton. Tax $9 10 and cost.

The above will be sold at the time and place mentioned above, unless the taxes and cost are previously paid.

C. A. CUMMINGS, Collector.

P. S. I shall commence next week, to advertise the property of RESTRIKERS, who have not paid their taxes for the last two years.

C. A. CUMMINGS, Collector.

Quincy, Nov. 19

RICHARD'S HIMSELF AGAIN!

A. J. GRIFFIN

IS YET AT HIS

OLD STAND,

66 Hanover Street,

WHERE HE HAS JUST RECEIVED AN

IMMENSE STOCK

—OF—

French, English and American

DRY GOODS!

WITH ORDERS TO SELL THE

SAME WITHOUT DELAY.

See the Prices! See the Prices!

10,000 Jozen Fine Ribbed WOOL HOSE,

for 17 cts a pair or $2 a dozen.

1000 doz Chenille Scarfs for 25 cts each or

$3 a dozen.

1900 pairs Mackinaw Wool Blankets for

$1 88 a pair.

1500 doz Large Size do for $2 50 a pair.

1100 doz " do for $4 50 to $8 per pair.

10,000 pairs KID GLOVES for 25 to 50 cts

with all the higher grades in the same ratio.

21,000 yards SILK for 37 1/2 to 50 cents a yard.

These are HIGH LUSTRED and SEASON-

ABLE GOODS, and cheap at 75 cents and $1.

Also, EVERY QUALITY and STYLES of

SILK, to the richest and best in the market.

SUPERB SILK ROBES,

OF EVERY COLOR, VERY CHEAP.

CLOAKS

In Great Variety, from $2 50 to $50.

Shawls from 75 cts to $75.

Also, a lot of ELEGANT FRENCH

NILLE SHAWLS, CHEAP!

HOOP SKIRTS,

A genuine article, for 50 CENTS and upwards,

or about HALF PRICE!

DRESS GOODS,

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION

—AT—

AUCTION PRICES!

HERE ARE GOODS TO SUIT THE MIL-

LION, from the Low Priced Prints to the Most

Beautiful and Costly SILKS brought to this country! EVERYBODY IN WANT OF

DRY GOODS

WILL FIND THIS

THE DEPOT FOR BARGAINS.

66 Hanover Street, Boston.

A. J. GRIFFIN.

Oct 15

3w

NEW FALL AND WINTER STYLES

OF

OVERCOATS,

Business Frocks, and Sacks, Dress

Frocks, Pantaloon and Vests, now ready at the

ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,

158 Washington St. Boston,

Macullar & Williams,

Boston, Nov. 5

2m

For Sale.

THOSE looking for a desirable residence at the South End, are invited to examine 97 Waltham St.

Said house is of the first class in every respect, faithfully built and conveniently

arranged. In a good neighborhood near Union

Park, and the same style of house. Price low, and terms easy. Apply to the subscriber on the premises, or to C. H. APPLETON, in the adjoining house.

D. E. WADLEIGH.

Boston, Nov. 19, 1859.

3w

COAL! COAL!

THE Subscriber has for sale at his Wharf

the most desirable qualities of Coal, and has just received a cargo of

NEW FALL AND WINTER STYLES
OF OVERCOATS,
Business Frocks, and Sacks, Dress coats, Pantaloons and Vests, now ready at the
ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,
158 Washington St. Boston,
Macaulay & Williams,
Boston, Nov. 5 2m

For Sale.
THOSE looking for a desirable residence at the South End, are invited to examine 97 William St. Said house is of the first class in every respect, faithfully built and conveniently arranged. In a good neighborhood near Union St. and the same style of house. Price low, terms easy. Apply to the subscriber on premises, or to C. H. APPLETON, in the building house. D. E. WADLEIGH.
Boston, Nov. 19, 1859. 3w

COAL! COAL!
THE Subscriber has for sale at his Wharf the most desirable qualities of Coal, and just received a cargo of Superior Red Ash Coal.

ALSO—TREVERTON COAL,
which is equal to the celebrated Franklin Coal, and is warranted to give entire satisfaction. I have also the celebrated John's Coal for Furnaces,
which is too well known to comment on.

ALSO—All the different sizes and qualities of coal can be had—Egg, Stove, &c.

ALSO—Cumberland Coal from George's Wharf, which is free from brimstone and impurities.

I have received a lot of Nova Scotia Wood, equality.

NATHANIEL WHITE.
Quincy, Nov. 12 1f

Notice.
To the New Ambrotype Room
IN REAR OF THE POST OFFICE,
—AND GET A
SPLENDID AMBROTYPE.
For 15 Cents, 25 Cents with Case.
Quincy, Nov. 5 3m

Apples! Apples!!
THE subscriber has just received a large assortment of Apples, consisting of Greenings, Baldwins, Rosets, Spitzenburgs, &c., of extra quality, and would invite the public to examine the stock.
HOWARD VINAL.
Quincy, Nov. 12 1f

Grover & Baker's
CELEBRATED
FAMILY
Sewing Machines!
Over 30,000 in use!
SALESROOM IN
BOSTON,
118 SUMMER STREET.
SOLD THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.
Quincy, Nov. 12 2w

Guardian's Sale.
OF
REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of a license from Hon. George W. White, Judge of Probate, and Insolvent Court, for the County of Norfolk, the sold at Public Auction, on the premises, on MONDAY, November 28th 1859, at 10 o'clock, in the afternoon, the interest of O. T. ROGERS, late of Quincy, deceased, being four-fifths of three parcels of land, situated in Quincy, to wit—

—One Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

OPENING.
MISS J. S. KENISON
WOULD respectfully inform her friends and the public that she will open on THURSDAY, NOV. 17th,
A CHOICE SELECTION OF
Winter Dress Hats!
ALSO—A rich assortment of Millinery Goods.
Rooms, 268 Washington St. Boston.
Nov. 12 3w

CHEAP CHEAPER
CHEAPEST.
New Arrangement.
GOOD NEWS FOR THE LADIES.
Prices Reduced.
IN consequence of the extreme dullness in nearly all branches of business at the present time, I shall reduce my prices for
CASH AND CASH ONLY!
And from the 1st of November until January 1st, shall make Plain Bonnets for 20 cents, (former price 25 cents); shall make Plain Bonnets for 50 to 60 cents, (former price 75 cents). Therefore exert my efforts for the good of the many. Who would wish to do their own Millinery, when for so small a compensation it can be done in GOOD STYLE
by those devoting their whole time to the business? This is sufficient inducement, we think, for the MOST ECONOMIZING.
to patronize those in this department of trade, and who are competent, by years of experience, of completing a well arranged and neat Bonnet, or Trimming.
I have received a splendid assortment of
Millinery Goods
FOR FALL AND WINTER.
CONSISTING OF
Bonnets—in pretty styles, colored and white. Straw, from 50 cents to $1. Those at 50 cents are a decided bargain.
Ribbons—one hundred new prices in beautiful styles and high colors from 17 to 50 cents per yard. Also a great variety of narrow ribbons, from 10 to 16 cents.
Flowers—I have the largest variety ever before in Quincy, of French and American manufacture, at prices varying from 10 to 42 cents.
Bonnet Velvets—From 2 to $4 per yard. Any color desired that I have not may be obtained to order.
Bonnets—will be made from this material in GOOD STYLE, trimmed with feathers and flowers as low as $4.50, or higher prices as wished. I have also another material which I will make into Bonnets for $3 to $3.50.
Satin—in good variety of colors, desirable this season with lace and flowers for Misses' Bonnets.
Feathers—I have a good assortment of different colors and prices; some as low as 25 cents.
Laces and Edgings—in different quality and price.
Ruchings—made by hand. Also the joined blond at a low price—some Very Nice which would make a splendid finish.
Velvet Ribbons—by the piece or yard, all widths, at low prices.
Children's Cap-crown Satin Hoods—made to order. Also, Ladies' Hoods and Head-dresses.
Dress Caps—from 25 cents to $1.50—Black and White.
Chemise—of different colors, soft and wired.
Mourning Furnishing Goods,
Such as Vests, Collars, Gloves, Gripe by the yard, Aigue No. 10 of hats, &c. I would call especial attention when desired, to our MOURNING BONNETS, of which we have samples at very low prices.
Glove Cloches, in every material used for that purpose.
Those leaving orders for any style of Bonnet—trimmed with satin, silk or velvet—we will endeavor to give satisfaction, both in price and style of work.
Bonnets made over and repaired in the best manner.
OLD LADIES can have frames fitted to the head and Bonnets made suitable for their age, by giving us a call.
N. B.—I have on hand a good assortment of Misses Bonnets in pretty styles—Trimmed Straws—Silk, Satin and Velvet Bonnets, which will be sold at a bargain.
ROOMS—Goodman's Building, Corner of Hancock and Granite streets.
A. J. KENISON.
Quincy, Nov. 12 1f

Notice.
To the New Ambrotype Room
IN REAR OF THE POST OFFICE,
—AND GET A
SPLENDID AMBROTYPE.
For 15 Cents, 25 Cents with Case.
Quincy, Nov. 5 3m

Apples! Apples!!
THE subscriber has just received a large assortment of Apples, consisting of Greenings, Baldwins, Rosets, Spitzenburgs, &c., of extra quality, and would invite the public to examine the stock.
HOWARD VINAL.
Quincy, Nov. 12 1f

Grover & Baker's
CELEBRATED
FAMILY
Sewing Machines!
Over 30,000 in use!
SALESROOM IN
BOSTON,
118 SUMMER STREET.
SOLD THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.
Quincy, Nov. 12 2w

Guardian's Sale.
OF
REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of a license from Hon. George W. White, Judge of Probate, and Insolvent Court, for the County of Norfolk, the sold at Public Auction, on the premises, on MONDAY, November 28th 1859, at 10 o'clock, in the afternoon, the interest of O. T. ROGERS, late of Quincy, deceased, being four-fifths of three parcels of land, situated in Quincy, to wit—

—One Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

—A Lot situated on the Easterly side of West street, bounded Northwest by said street, West by land of Theodore Barker, South by land of Daniel Baxter, and North by land of C. C. Rogers, containing about two and seven-tenths of an acre.

NORFOLK, ss. At a meeting of the County Commissioners held at Dedham, in and for said County, on the Fourth Tuesday of September, A. D. 1859.

UPON the petition of Lot Bates, inhabitant of the Town of Colerasset, requesting that a road be laid out from the Higham line, through land of Charles Litchfield to the Beechwood road, so called, and for the widening of the road from the Westerly corner of Benjamin Pratt's orchard, through land of Benjamin Pratt to near the end of the front fence, and for the widening of the travel path near the shoemakers' shop of Charles Litchfield and for straightening the road beginning at or near the Northerly corner of land of William Harris, Easterly to near the dwelling house of I. & A. Pratt, through land of I. & A. Pratt for straightening the road beginning at or near Governor's hill, through land of Charles Pratt, or Lewis Bates and Henry Sams, to near the dwelling house of William Taylor, (notice having been first given to all persons and corporations interested) the County Commissioners met at the house of Howard Pratt, in Colerasset, on the 30th day of June last, and viewed the route and premises, and heard all persons and corporations interested, and the petitioners and also the Selectmen of said Town of Colerasset were then also heard, and said case was then continued and adjourned to the day of the date hereof, and said Commissioners advised that public necessity and convenience require that said highway should be widened and straightened, and that said specific alterations and repairs should be had therein, and relocation made thereof, and that a new way be laid out from Higham line to said Beechwood road.

N. F. SAFFORD, } County
LUCAS POND, } Commissioners.

On the Adjournment aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Depot of the South Shore Railroad at Colerasset Centre, in said County, on TUESDAY, the 6th day of December next, at ten o'clock A. M., to view the route, and make alterations, and by order, relocate, and widen said ways, and take such order in relation to said Adjournment as by law they may be authorized to do; and that an attested copy of said Adjournment, with this Order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Colerasset, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said day of meeting; and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be four days at least before said day of meeting; and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in Colerasset, fourteen days at least before said day of meeting, that all persons and corporations interested may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

Attest.
EZRA W. SAMPTON, Clerk.
Nov. 5 3w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk ss. Probate Office, Oct. 29, A. D. 1859.

AN Instrument purporting to be the last Will of

HENRY P. DOBLE,
late of Quincy, in said County, Trader, deceased, having been presented for Probate by Elvira Doble, widow of the said Henry P. Doble, as Executrix.

Ordered, That the said Elvira Doble, notify all persons interested therein that they may appear and be heard concerning the same, at a Court of Probate, to be holden at Dedham, in said County, on the nineteenth day of November, A. D. 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, by publishing the Order in three successive issues of the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy.

Attest.
GEORGE WHITE, } Judge of Probate
Quincy, Nov. 5 3w

Administratrix's Sale.

By virtue of a License from the Court of Probate and Insolvent for the County of Norfolk, the said Elvira Doble, Executrix of the last Will and Testament of Henry P. Doble, deceased, in and for said County, on MONDAY, November 21st, 1859, at ten o'clock in the forenoon on the premises, a Lot of Land, situate about one-fourth acre, with a Dwelling house thereon, situated in Weymouth, and bounded as follows: Northerly by land of George Nash, Easterly by land of the County of Norfolk, South by land of George P. Nash, deceased, being a part of the premises owned by the late George P. Nash, deceased. The same to be sold subject to the widow's right of dower therein.

SARAH J. NASH, Adm'x.
Weymouth, Nov. 5 3w

Insolvency Notice.
Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NORFOLK, SS. Court of Insolvency.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Assignee in the case of

LOWELL G. SPEAR,
of Weymouth, in said County, Shoe Manufacturer, an Insolvent Debtor, and the Second Meeting of the creditors of said Insolvent Debtor, will be holden at the Court of Insolvency, in said County, on the Third MONDAY of November next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.

E. S. BEALS, Assignee.
Nov. 5th, 1859. 2w

Administratrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

CAROLINE NEWCOMB,
late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Married Woman, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to
THOMPSON BAXTER, Administrator.
Quincy, Nov. 12th, 1859. 3w

$50 Reward.

WHEREAS several fires have been set in the woods in Quincy the past ten days, either carelessly or maliciously, the above reward will be paid to any person who shall detect any one setting fires as above, on conviction of the offender, until the first day of March next.

DANIEL BAXTER, } Selectmen
EDMUND POPE, } of
J. J. JAMESON, } Quincy.
Quincy, May 6th, 1859. 1f

Notice!

THE Selectmen will meet in their Room, in the Town House the Second and Last SATURDAY in every month, from 3 to 5 o'clock P. M., until further notice. Persons having business with the Town will please present it on those days.

Quincy, May 7. 1f

Now is the Time.

TIME has now come for making a change in my prices. I have marked down my Stock and

Shall Sell at Reduced Prices,
and I would invite the

ATTENTION OF ALL
that are in want of Goods in my line, to

Call and Examine
them. I will assure my customers and the public generally, that an examination of my stock will convince them that there is no exaggeration in saying

My Prices are Below the market prices.
Also—a rare opportunity is given to purchasers of

Paper Hangings.
My Entire Stock is offered

AT COST,
TO MAKE ROOM FOR NEW SPRING SUPPLY.

Please look at my Papers and Prices.

CALEB PACKARD.
GOODNOW'S BUILDING!
Corner of Hancock and Granite Sts.
Quincy, Nov. 5 1f

Poetry.

Lines.

On the death of Mr. Caleb Wilder, who was drowned in Hingham harbor, Friday Aug. 19th, 1839, aged 25 years. Inserted by George T. Merritt, in respect to the memory of his shipmate.

Our comrade is dead, and we'll let fall a tear,
For the staff that she leaned on did love him,
Oh! could we had power our companion to save
E'er the dark, briny wave closed above him!

His voice is hushed, it will ne'er be heard
Again 'mid the billows commotion,
And our decks no more will re-echo his tread
As again we course over the ocean.

A fond mother grieves o'er his sudden sad fate,
For the staff that she leaned on is broken—
Like Rachel of old, she mourns for her son
In grief too intense to be spoken.

His brother's and sister must, too, feel their loss,
The shock must plunge them in sorrow,
For blossoming in health they beheld him to-day,
And ghastly and pale on the morrow.

Oh, how we shall miss him when far out at sea,
On board there was none could excel him,
And we'll speak of him often in tones of regret
When we think of the fate that befell him.

And now, bonny Hingham, we bid you adieu,
And our comrade deep under the soil,
'Neath the green tree's shade his body lies low,
While his spirit is wafted to God.

German Proverb

"When most thou fearest,
God is nearest."

Take comfort, faint not on the way,
Sad musing, desolate and weary!
Look up, behold a cheering ray,
When all around seems dark and dreary:
Though thou hast suffered many an ill,
And though approaching pain thou fearest,
Endure thy lot with firmness still,
In time of trouble God is nearest.

When in the sunny spring of youth,
The world looked bright and gay before thee,
And when thy road was fair and smooth,
And earth's best gifts were scattered o'er thee:
When sweetly sung the hymn of hope,
And friends seemed fond and sincere,
Then was the time to doubt and droop?
It was not then that God was nearest.

'Tis in the time of grief and gloom,
Of meek and patient self-denial;
'Tis in the sad and shaded room,
'Tis in the thorny path of trial,
'Tis then thy true and earnest prayers
Rise to the Power whom thou reverest;
And He in pity marks thy cares,
And bids thee feel that God is nearest.

Take comfort, though the hour be nigh,
Long viewed by thee with timid shrinking;
The Lord assistance shall supply,
To keep thy feeble steps from sinking:
And in the shadowy path of death,
When most thou troublest, most thou fearest,
List! and the voice of trusting faith
Shall tell thee that God is nearest!

Indian Summer.

There is a time, just when the frost
Prepares to pave old Winter's way,
When Autumn in a reverie lost,
The mellow day-time dreams away:
When Summer comes, in musing mood,
To gaze once more on hill and dale,
To mark how many sheaves they bind,
And see if all are ripened well.

With balmy breath she whispers low,
The dying flowers look up and give
Their sweetest essence as they go,
For her who made their beauties live.
She enters 'neath the woodland shade,
Her zephyrs lift the tingling leaf,
And bear in gentle waves are laid
The loved and lost ones of its grief.

At last old Autumn, rising, takes Again his sceptre and his throne,
With hoarser hand the tree he shakes,
Intent on gathering all his own.
Sweet Summer sighing, flies the plain,
And waiting Winter, gaunt and grim,
Sees miser Autumn board his grain
And smiles to think it's all for him.

The Family.

The family is like a family—
The children are the leaves,
The parents are the cover, that Protective beauty gives.

At first the pages of the book
Are blank and purely fair,
But time soon writes memories,
And painteth pictures there.

Love is the little golden clasp
That bindeth up the trust;
O, break it not, lest all the leaves
Shall scatter and be lost.

Anecdotes.

"Elder, will you have a drink of cider?" said a farmer to an old temperance man, who was spending an evening at his house. "Ah, hum—no—thank ye," said the old man; "I never drink any liquor of any kind—specially cider; but if you call it apple juice I think I'll take a drop."

"I beg pardon, madame, for my inatten-tion, but the fact is, my mind is a little absent just now." "Then, sir, you had, probably, better go and try to look it up."

"Where did ye get that hat, Jerry?"
"Borrowed it?"
"Borrowed it?"
"Yes—s." Borrowed it of a fellow asleep in the Park. Pete Myers borrowed his coat;
Pat Caffney his boots. I borrowed his hat.
Do ye think I'd steal? No, I'd scorn the action.

"I shouldn't care so much about the bugs," said a thin, pale lodger to his landlady; "but the fact is, ma'am, I can't get the blood to spare."

Cut Flowers & Bouquets.

THE Subscribers take this method to inform the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that they are prepared to furnish

Bouquets, Wreaths, Cut Flowers,
AND FLORAL DESIGNS,
Arranged in every variety of style to order.

FLOWERS FOR BRIDAL,
OR, FUNERAL DECORATIONS,
Furnished at all times, at short notice.

BARNES & WASHBURN,
FLORISTS.

Adams Street, Dorchester, and one mile from Neposuit, Sept. 10 3m

ATTENTION.

The Largest and Most Complete

ASSORTMENT OF

HARDWARE

DOORS

BLINDS

SASHES, &c. &c.

Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon

Bailey, Carver & Co.

Having recently made large additions to our stock of

BUILDING MATERIALS,
we are prepared to furnish them at prices to correspond with the times

CHEAPER THAN EVER!!

We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS.

SASHES.

BLINDS.

WINDOW GLASS,

NAILS.

SHEET LEAD.

FRAMING PINS.

WINDOW FRAMES.

DOOR BELLS.

SCREWS.

&c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS,—in a great Variety

ALSO—Pins, Nails, Clauses, Store and Sash

LOCKS;

MORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S

LATCHES!

Paralamin, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;

BLAKE'S BUTTS,

AND AXLE PULLEYS.

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.

Wrought, Fancy Plate,

STRAP, BLIND, AND T-HINGES;

SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;

Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crawford's

improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Such Enclosures.

Poster's Patent Window Supporter,

The best things ever used in the place of weights;

DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.

DON'T FORGET

AT THE OLD STAND OF

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,

SCHOOL STREET.

Quincy, Jan. 23. 11

Still's Great

SCROFULAR REMEDY.

Will find in our stock everything in Linen and Cotton Threads, required in their work, and the quality much superior to any other in use.

BROWN, DIX & Co.
No. 52 Milk street.

ly

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSUR-ANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, insures Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable
terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Householders, Traders,
Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance,
will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,

WILLIAM S. MORTON,

TREASURER,

ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

SECRETARY,

STEPHEN BATES,

DIRECTORS,

Quincy, William S. Morton, Charles Brock,

Israel W. Munroe, Dorchester,

Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,

Whitecomb Porter, Cohasset,

Stephen Bates, Solonon J. Beal,

William B. Duggan, Hingham,

Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gay,

R. B. Lechairs, South Hingham,

Randolph, Alfred Loring,

Royal W. Turner, North Bridgewater,

South Braintree, Sumner A. Hayward,

Apollon Randall, Barnstable,

Dorham, George Marston.

References, by permission:

Hos. GEORGE T. BIGELOW, of Boston,

Hos. JOSIAH QUINCY, Jr., of Quincy,

Hos. AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield,

Hos. JAMES MAQUIRE, of Randolph,

Hos. SOLOMON LINCOLN, of Hingham,

Hos. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy,

JOSIAH BIRCHALL, of Quincy.

OFFICE:

Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple

April 1. 11

To Boot and Shoe

MANUFACTURERS.

WE wish to call your attention to the following Goods, which we are prepared to sell
on the most favorable terms.

Black and Colored Dressing, 2 1/2 inch special-Black, Brown and Drab Cases for Congress
saddles.

Black Brown and Drab Felings in snow shoes,
Lastings, all wool, Italian or Silk and Cotton Waist-coats.

Serge de Berry's
Gloves, blue and colored, of beautiful quality for Congress Shoes.

Boots and Congress Vests, of beautiful quality for
new style.

Gloves, blue and colored, of 1/2 and 3/4 in. widths.
Shoe Buckles; Congress and Linen Canvas.

Shoe Ribbons, Rosettes, and Sandal Wicks, Eyeslets, Cords, Shoe Lacets and Straps, all new and low. Shoe Buttons of all descriptions.

Linen Machine Threads,

Of the best known XXX Golden Flax Stamp, of every description in the manufacturing of Boots, Brogans, Shoes and Congress Work,
from No. 18 to 109, from 2 to 10 cord, in Black,
Drab, Grey, Orange, Yellow and W. Brown, in Rings, Balls and Spools, for sewing, closing, stitching, binding, straps and counters, topstitching and under threads. Also Shoe Threads,
Shoe Silk, all colors and sizes.

Sea Island Black Cotton, Black, Colored, Un-
bleached and White.

Spool Threads and Sewing Cotton, of all descriptions.

Manufacturers of Clothing

Will find in our stock everything in Linen and Cotton Threads, required in their work, and the quality much superior to any other in use.

BROWN, DIX & Co.
No. 52 Milk street.

ly

WHITE HANDS!

PERSIAN BATH

SOAP.

For the Toilet, Bath, Nursery, Shaving,
and for Cleaning the Teeth.

THIS superior Soap will make the HANUS
White and Soft, and is a certain remedy
for CHAPPED HANDS, TANS, SUN-BURN,
CHAFING, and all medicinal purposes, where a
Healing and Emollient effect is desired.

Sole Proprietor, QUINCY, MASS.
C. DYER, Jr., General Travelling Agent
Price—25 cents per cake.

Sold by MRS. E. HAYDEN.
Quincy Aug 22 11

SEASONED LUMBER.

Of all descriptions, at prices to suit the times

DIMENSION FRAMES,

Furnished at short notice.

Best quality of Lumber constantly on hand.

Also—Good Pine Wood and at $5 a Cord.

For sale at BRACKETT'S WHARF.

Quincy, May 8

something New.

WE have just added to our stock of PAPER

HANGINGS, a large lot of the latest

styles, received direct from the manufacturers

which we shall sell cheap.

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 26 11

Paper Hangings.

Just received, and for sale by the Subscribers, an assortment of Paper Hang-

ings, which will be sold as low as can be bought elsewhere, by

GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 25 11

Pickles.

50 GALLONS of Pickles just received and

for sale cheap for cash.

GEO. L. BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Feb 28 11

Now's the Time to Subscribe

THE
NEW YORK WEEKLY,
A HANDSOME QUARTO PUBLICATION,
BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED,
IS NOW UNIVERSALLY ACKNOWLEDGED TO BE

The Best Story Paper
IN THE WORLD.

AMONG ITS REGULAR CONTRIBUTORS
will be found the names of some of
THE BEST MALE AND FEMALE
WRITERS IN THE UNITED STATES.

Such writers as
JUSTIN JONES, (HARRY HAZEL),
AUGUSTINE J. H. DUGANNE,
WILLIAM EARLE BINDER,
HARRY HAZELTON,
JAMES REYNOLDS,
FRANCIS S. SMITH.

MRS. MARY J. HOLMES,
HELEN FOREST GRAVES,
MARY C. VAUGHAN,
MARGARET VERNE,
ANNA RAYMOND,
EDA MAYVILLE.

Write for it regularly, while a score of other well-known writers occasionally contribute to
its columns.

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY
has now engaged a force of talent that cannot be rivaled by any establishment in the world.

Notices of the Press.

Never before has any new candidate for public favor in the Literary World received such flattering notices from the Press. From all quarters, our editorial brethren have cheered us on by speaking of our enterprise in a manner to stimulate our vanity, and to excite
the envy of our rivals.

GENERAL CHARACTER
OF THE NEW YORK WEEKLY.

A WEEKLY is designed more especially as
a FIRST-CLASS STORY PAPER,
in which we intend to give our readers a such cession of the Best Stories ever published in the United States! The aim and object of these productions will be to inculcate useful
knowledge under the pleasing guise of fiction,
or to teach great moral lessons through the same means. We shall never publish a work of mine, the tendency of which is to injure the morals or taste of the reader. Every issue of the New York Weekly will contain short Sketches of Life and Manners, Notes
of Travel and Adventure, Short Stories, General Summary of Events,
Humorous Cleanings, Poetry,
Editorials, &c. &c. &c.

As specimens of our serials, we would point to
A. J. H. DUGANNE'S Great Story

GARIBALDI,
THE HERO OF ITALY.

HARRY HAZEL'S
EXCITING INDIAN ROMANCE,
THE MUTE SPY!

FRANCIS S. SMITH'S
INTERESTING DOMESTIC STORY, MACQUE,

THE CHILD OF CHARITY!

While, as specimens of our standing departments, we point with pride to
OUR BALLADS OF THE BIBLE,
admitted by all to be the most chastely written and beautiful scriptural poems ever produced.

OUR KNOWLEDGE BOX,
in which we weekly contain a number of paragraphs of the greatest importance to house-keepers and others.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS,
an interesting mélange, ranging "from grave
to gay, from lively to severe."

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,
prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.

OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,
OUR ITEMS OF INTEREST,
&c., &c., &c.

In a word, its Editors will use their best endeavors to get up just such a paper as will eventually find its way to every fireside in the land—that shall be a welcome visitor wherever it goes—equally popular in the workshop
and the office—at the fireside of the farmer, or
in the counting-room of the merchant—a paper that presents can, with safety, place in the hands of their children without note or comment, feeling certain that its influence will be
to stimulate their minds to the pursuit of knowledge, or lead them to abhor vice and wring.

OUR CIRCULATION PROSPECTS

The NEW YORK WEEKLY has gone
up to a circulation which places it second in point of circulation in the list of publications
of the day. There is but one weekly publication in the world having a larger circulation than the WEEKLY. The indications are, at present, that the circulation of the WEEKLY will soon reach half a million—
Where the newsmen were taking tens, they are now taking hundreds of copies. This is the general effect among the Five Thousand
News Agents who are now selling the NEW YORK WEEKLY, while from nearly every
Post Office in the country, we are daily getting subscriptions and orders for specimens.

How and where to get the Weekly.

Wherever there is a News Agent, get the paper from him. By so doing you do not run
the risk of losing your money through the Post Office, or having to pay for what you never get. If the paper you are buying from the Agent stops, you do not lose advance subscriptions, sent to a place where you have no means of looking after it. We trust
the day is not far distant when every town,
large enough to sustain a Post Office, will have its News Agency.

OUR TERMS.

The price of the NEW YORK WEEKLY
FOUR CENTS, but where Agents have to pay extra freight or postage, a higher price is necessarily charged. When sent by mail, the price will invariably be $2 a year, in advance.

Subscriptions taken for three months. Two copies will be sent for one year for $3, four copies for $6, eight copies for $12. Postmaster and others who get up clubs of ten,
and send us $15 at one time, will be entitled
to an extra copy for their trouble. The bills

of all solvent banks taken at par for subscriptions. Canada subscribers must send twenty-five cents extra with every subscription, to pre-pay the American postage.

All letters and communications, in relation to the Editorial or Business Departments of the NEW YORK WEEKLY, must be addressed to

STREET & SMITH,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS,
22 Beekman Street, New York.

Sept. 3. 3m

RUSSIA SALVE

THE
RUSSIA SALVE
VEGETABLE OINTMENT

Has been used in Boston for the last Twenty
Years, and its virtues have stood the test of time.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES BURNS.

RUSSIA SALVE

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 26th, 1859.

NUMBER XLVIII.

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY,
HAYING returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one corner north of David B. Stet. son's Variety Store, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING,
Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of
Gold and Silver Watches,
Fob, Cuff and Vest Chains,
LOCKETS,

Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted,
Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.
GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,
Gent's Pins and Studs,
FINGER RINGS,

Together with a large assortment of
Silver and Plated Ware,
Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep

LARGER STOCK
than ever offered before in Quincy.
A large stock of
Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange for Gold Plates Engraved.

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.
Quincy Oct 24

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove a blessing to the human race. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found
of the following complaints:—

SCURF AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS,
ERUPTIONS AND ERIPIETIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUBERCLES, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, STYRIAHS AND STIFFLE JOINTS,
FOLLICULAR DISEASE, DROPSY, NEU-RALGIA OF THE DOWELT, DEBILITY, DY-
SPERMA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE
OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF
THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely evulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcersous sores, through which the system is starved, and rid itself of corruption, and thus be enabled to live through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities
bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this palubus of life is disordered. Scurf can be no lasting health. Scurf can be no lasting health.
must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations pretending to be such, and yet containing of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla,
or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for
they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever.
Hence, bitter and disgusting disappointments have followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall restore the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on
the bottle.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.
LOWELL, MASS.
Price, $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR THE CURE OF
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion,
Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Lysipelas, Headache,
Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Fever, Typhoid and
Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a
Dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensible can take them pleasantly, and they are the best agent in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price 25 cents per Box; Five boxes for $1.00.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent persons, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our AMERICAN ALMANAC in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on Demand AYER'S, and take no others. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

All our Remedies are for sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN, and all Medicine Dealers.

Quincy, Aug 6

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.
CONDITIONS.

Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if
delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices and will be charged
until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications (postage paid) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.
Railway Village, JOSIAH BABCOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BRECK.
Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON.
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELAND.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHON DREW.

W. M. BABBITT, M. D.,
Homoeopathic Physician!
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

OFFICE HOURS:
7 to 8 A. M. 12 to 1 P. M.
6 to 7 P. M.

Quincy, Sept. 11

GEORGE WHITE,
Counsellor and Attorney at Law,
No. 5 Tremont Street,
BOSTON.

Quincy, March 5.

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—HAS FOR SALE—
LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

—ALSO—
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

New Arrangement.

FURNALD'S
QUINCY EXPRESS
LEAVES BOSTON DAILY.

AT 2 12 O'CLOCK, P. M.
38 South Market St. and 3 Washington St.
Quincy, June 5

BOWDITCH'S
Quincy and Boston
EXPRESS.

OFFICE — 39 & 40 South Market Street,
and 48 Liberty Square,
BOSTON.

SLATE AT DANIEL BAXTER & CO.'S,
NIGHTINGALE'S PROVISION STORE,
AND THE HANCOCK HOUSE.

All orders thankfully received and
promptly attended to.

Quincy, Jan 22

LIVERY STABLE.

THE subscriber having purchased the establishment of George J. Jones, on Hancock street, and made additions thereto, is prepared, at the old stand, to accommodate his friends
and the public with

Horses and Carriages.

PLEASURE PARTIES furnished with teams
and drivers, or single carriages, at the shortest
notice.

Personal attention given to the business, and a liberal support from the public solicited.

DAVID I. ROBY.
Quincy, Nov. 13.

LIVERY STABLE.

A. T. Hardwick's Express Stable, on Hancock
Street, near the Quincy Patriot Printing
Office, now and excellent CARRIAGES, with good and safe HORSES, furnished to individuals or parties, on the very best terms.

Transportation of Merchandise, Furniture,
&c., attended to with care and despatch.

The travelling public accommodated with
good STABLES, at all times.

Good Drivers furnished, if desired.
Every effort will be made to serve patrons,
and a share of support is respectfully solicited.

Hardwick's Boston Express.

PARTICULAR attention given to the purchase of Goods and to the transportation
of them, and valuable Packages.

Despatch in the collection of Notes, Drafts,
and Bills.

All orders thankfully received, and carefully and expeditiously attended to.

Houses of Departure.
From Quincy—8 o'clock, A. M.
From Boston—2 o'clock, P. M.

OFFICES IN BOSTON—34 Court Square,
(Broad Exchange,) and 40 South Market street.

Quincy, April 9

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Miscellaneous.

Selling a Grindstone.

Among Fred's numerous friends was Judge Newton, who resided in the northern part of Pennsylvania. Fred always made the Judge's house his home when he traveled that part of the country. The Judge was always trying to get a joke upon Fred, when he stayed with him.

One day, some time in the year 1839, Fred was passing through, and put up with him over night. In the morning, he was determined to drive a trade with him of some kind, offering in his usual way, to take anything for payment.

I'll tell you what I'll do, said the Judge, laughing. I've got a first rate grindstone out in the yard, and if you'll take that, I'll trade it out.

Very well, said Fred, I'll take it; it's just as good pay as I want.

They went out to the wagon, and the Judge turned out his grindstone, which Fred loaded on his wagon, and started. He had not gone far before he saw a customer, and stopped his team.

Good morning, Squire. Want anything in my line this morning?

Well, I don't know, Fred replied he, in a bantering tone, got any grindstones?

Yes, sir, got a first rate one; just come out and look at it.

Now it happened that the man really did not want a grindstone; he was acquainted with Fred, and spoke in the manner he did, because he had no idea that Fred had one.

I like the looks of that stone, said he, after examining it, and as I want one very much, and you take anything in payment, I'll give you six cents a pound for it, (four cents was the regular price) provided you will take such property as I turn to you in payment.

Certainly, said Fred; I always do.

Very well. How much does the grindstone weigh?

Just forty-eight pounds, said Fred as he proceeded to unload it.

Now come with me, Fred, said the old Squire, grinning, when this was finished, and get your pay.

Fred followed him to the stable.

There, said he, pointing to a bull calf, just six weeks old, which was standing in the stable, there is a first rate calf, worth about three dollars, which I suppose will pay for the stone.

Very good, just as good pay as I want, said Fred, as he unfastened his calf and led him to his wagon.

But stop a minute, said he, I shall be back this way in about two weeks, and if you will keep him until then, I will pay you what is right for it.

Oh, yes, I will keep him for you, said the Squire, laughing, as Fred drove off, at the idea of having beat him.

He supposed that Fred would never call for the calf, but he did not know his man;
and when he called, the Squire had nothing better for it than to give up his property.

He then traveled onward, and as it was near night, Fred concluded to put up with the Judge.

As he alighted at the gate, he was met with a hearty shake of the hand, and "How are you, Fred? What did you do with your old grindstone?"

Oh, I sold it in day or two at a good profit;
I can tell you. I received six cents a pound for it.

Ah! said the Judge, in surprise: But what have you got under there? now, for the first time, noticing the calf.

O, said Fred, indifferently, that's a calf
I'm taking to Col. Davis, up our way. The Colonel made me promise to fetch him one,
and he seems to set a great value on him;
but, for my part, I consider him nothing but a common calf, not worth more than three dollars.

It might be as well to mention that this was about the time of the great excitement about imported stock, and that Colonel D.
of whom Fred spoke, was a man known by Judge Newton to be a heavy importer of foreign stock, particularly of the Durham.

Judge Newton had often endeavored to procure some of the stock, but as it was at the time very scarce, and bore an exceedingly high price, he had not been very successful.

His curiosity was at once aroused, and he became very anxious after he had examined it a little more closely, to purchase it.

It is one of the regular Durhams, sure, said he, musing, and a very fine one, at that;
if you will part with him, I will give you twenty-five dollars for him.

Couldn't part with him for any such money, Colonel Davis is to give me seventy-five as soon as I get home.

Well, you won't take him clear home with you, and if you'll let me have him, I'll give you fifty dollars.

No, I can't do it. I've disappointed the Colonel two or three times already, and he wouldn't like it, if I should disappoint him in this way again.

But, said the Judge, now becoming anxious, you can tell him you have not been over the mountain.

I don't know about it, Judge, said Fred, after a pause. As you say, its some ways home, and will cost something to get him there; and if you will give me seventy-five dollars, I don't know but you may take him.

The Judge was delighted with his purchase, and paid Fred the money on the spot.

As they were taking the calf to the barn,
Fred remarked:

I say, Judge, I don't see what there is about that calf that makes him worth more than any other. I believe I can get as many such calves as I want for three dollars.

Perhaps you can, answered the Judge, in a few years, when they become plenty.

In the morning, as Fred was starting, he remarked:

I hope when you have any more grind-stones to sell, you will remember me.

Thank you, I will, said the Judge, not exactly understanding what Fred was driving at.

May be he didn't.

A few days after Fred was gone, the Squire, of whom Fred had bought the calf, was passing, when Judge Newton called him to tell him that he had succeeded in obtaining some of the far-famed stock. The Squire expressed a desire to see it, and they proceeded to the barn.

Is that the one? said he.

Yes.

Who did you get it of?

Of Fred Griswold; I paid him seventy-five dollars for it.

The Squire burst into a loud laugh. Why Judge, said he, as soon as he could speak, I sold him that calf, a short time ago, for a grindstone.

The Judge was perfectly astonished. He thought of it a moment, and then said—partly to himself and partly to the Squire:

Yes, I sold him that grindstone. He has beat me at my own game! He told me the calf was not worth three dollars! Don't say anything about this, and you may have the calf and welcome.

The Judge went back to the house, muttering, "b-e-a-t!"

Fred often called there after this, but Judge Newton never reverted to the subject; neither did he ever wish to dispose of any more grindstones.

The difference of Expression.

The Yankee says he has considerable, or a good deal.

The Westerner says in speaking of corn, I raised a right smart chance of corn, sold a pile and had a heap. Or, as an angry preacher expressed himself, "I can't hear very well, but I can see a right smart, and feel a heap."

The Yankee school-teacher, in closing school, says, "Put aside your books, school's dismissed."

The Westerner says, "Rid away your books, boys, rid away your books; school's out!"

The Yankee, "Is in very bad health or very weak." Here in the West, "You're powerfully bad, or mighty weak."

The Yankee, if he does not understand a remark, says "What?" The Westerner says, "Which?"

The Yankee asks "Can I put up here tonight?" The Westerner, "Can I get to stay with you?"

The Yankee, has "baggage or luggage."
The Westerner has "Plunder."

In the East, they have "Forenoon and afternoon." In the West it's "All morning and evening."

The Yankee says, "What will you give me?" The Westerner, "What is it worth?"

The Eastern man speaks of molasses in the singular, the Western, in the plural number, as these or those.

East, they "Guess." West, they "Reck-
on."

East has its "sunrise and sunset." West, its "Sun-up and Sun-down."

The Yankee exclaims, "Well, I declare!"
The Westerner, "I'd call it."

East, articles are of some "Heft." West, they're "Right smart, or powerfully heavy."

East, children are "Brought up." West, they are "Raised."

East, corn is "raised." West, it is "grown."

The Yankee farmer, calling his cows, cries, "Coaf, coaf or Caboos." West, they call them, "Sook, sook-boss."

In the East, there are both "Rocks and stones." In the West all are "Rocks."

In the East, storekeepers value by the "Shilling." In the West, an article costs
so many "Bits."

East, an occurrence happened "Week before last Wednesday." West, it occurred
"Last Wednesday a week."

East, they have both, "Buckets and Pails."
West, they have only "Buckets or Kettles."

East, a certain cooking utensil is called a "Spider." West, they are called "Skillets."

The Yankee wishes to "Get rid of anything." The Westerner wishes to "Get shel of it."

Curious Scientific Facts.

The principal mouth of the Rhine, during the Roman sway, is all but obliterated, and a fortress of hewn stone, which commanded the entrance to the river, is now buried under the waves, more than a mile from the present shore. The whole coast of Holland has greatly receded from its earlier tide-marks.

In 1421, there was a great submersion in the southeast of Holland, when the waters of the Meuse and Waal suddenly overwhelmed 72 villages, destroying 100,000 human beings; and the subsoil must have sunk at the same time, since the whole region has remained beneath the surface, and is now overgrown with huge roads.

Out of 4000 known volcanic craters, only about 110 are now active. There are about 2000 eruptions in a century, or 20 per annum.

Human growth, according to Prof. Que-tlet, is not completed until the twenty-fifth year, at least in Belgium. But this period is supposed to be shorter in other countries; certainly so, within the tropics, and in very warm regions, where development and decay are universally allowed to be more rapid.

Water that is slightly frozen may be made to bear a heavy wagon, by cutting reeds, strewn them thickly on the ice, and pouring water upon them; the whole, by degrees, becomes frozen into a solid mass.

The popular idea that a change of the moon is accompanied by a change of the weather, is fully and fairly discussed in Arago's Astronomy. It is shown beyond a doubt that atmospheric tides do not exist (at any rate a character analogous to the tides of the ocean), and the results of the observations which have been made for the purpose of testing the truth of the theory, prove clearly that it is without foundation.

Freckles, tan, &c., are produced by excessive light, which acts chemically on the skin, sometimes even causing blisters. In cases of small pox, it is necessary to keep the patient in a darkened room, or the light will aggravate the pock-mark.

Wherever there is shallow water, green will be produced by the underlying yellow sand, which, even in the absence of verdure on the shore, or sea-weeds beneath, always imparts a greenish tinge to the sea.

The blue of the sky and yellow of the sands meeting and intermingling in the water, form the green of the sea; the water acting as the medium in which the mixing or fusing of the colors takes place.

We are accustomed to think of heat only in that in which it affects our senses; but in fact the greater part of it is in a hidden or latent state, and no body is so cold but that a great amount of heat can be elicited from it, either chemically or mechanically. "If, for instance," says President Hitchcock, "all the heat contained in the snow and ice that has mantled New England during the past winter had been suddenly extricated, there could be hardly a doubt but general conflagrations of the surface would have been the result."

Water gives out 140° of heat in freezing, which becomes sensible. The great amount of congelation in cold climates is doubtless one of the principal causes that render them habitable and comfortable, for the harder the frost, the greater the amount of heat given out. On the other hand, when water evaporates, it takes up into a latent state nearly 1000 degrees of heat; and this, probably it is, chiefly, that renders the torrid zone tolerable, since the heat of the vertical sun must produce a vast amount of evaporation. Thus beautifully is our system balanced, to secure the welfare of man and the inferior tribes.

of ground to cultivate, allowing him the proceeds for his own use. Let him have his steers to break, or his sheep to care for. The ownership of even a fruit tree, planted, pruned, and brought to bearing by his own hands, will inspire him with an interest that no mere reward or wages can give. In addition to the cultivation of a taste for farm life, which such a course will cultivate, the practical knowledge gained by the boy will be of the highest value. Being interested, he will be more observant, and will thoroughly learn whatever is necessary for his success. Another and equally important advantage will be the accustoming him early to feel responsibility. Many young men, though well acquainted with all the manual operations of the farm, fail utterly when entrusted with the management of an estate, from want of experience in planning for themselves. It is much better that responsibility should be gradually assumed, than that a young man should be first thrown upon himself on attaining his majority.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Nov. 26th, 1859.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECRETARY."

Destruction of the Episcopal Church.

Shameful sacrifice! On Saturday evening last, at early candle light, the Episcopal Church of this town, situated on the corner of the Weymouth and Brantree Turnpike and Elm street, was discovered to be on fire. It was a fine building, and an ornament to the place. When the alarm was first given, fire was seen issuing from the Belfry, facing the Turnpike. The flames soon spread to other parts of the building, enveloping the whole structure in one sheet of flame. Our Fire Companies were early on the ground, but the severity of water in the neighborhood rendered their exertions abortive, until too late. The property in the vicinity at times, was in imminent danger, particularly the houses of Mr. Jason Clapp, and Widow Moore, and Felix's blacksmith shop on the right; but the wind fortunately veering round to the south, drove the heat and sparks to a distance, and out of harm's way. Our Fire Department was strongly reinforced from abroad: The Independence, No. 5, of Dorchester; the Hydrant, of Milton; Extinguisher and Torrent, of Hingham; and the Washington and Amazon, of Weymouth, all came to the rescue in gallant style; but their united exertions could not arrest its ravages; the fire had gained the mastery. The doomed building is now a heap of ruins.

At an early hour of the conflagration, by great exertion, a part of the furniture of the Church was safely removed. But the organ, a fine one, and the bell, one of the most clear and sweet-toned in the village, lies buried beneath the ruins. The bell, by the intense heat, expanded and cracked, with a sharp detonation, and soon after fell, with a deafening crash, to the floor below.

The evening being warm and pleasant, a large concourse of our citizens, of both sexes, were attracted to the spot, to witness a scene, unknown before in the annals of the place. The building was a large frame, stood in an open enclosure, with nothing to obstruct the view.

The fire at first burnt calmly and steadily, but soon gathered strength, encompassing the entire fabric in its embrace. Then the roaring of the angry element, the surging of the fiery billows, — illuminating the whole horizon — the alternate discharge of miniature rockets, with the falling timbers, lent a grandeur and sublimity to the scene, though saddened by the recollection of the calamity, which we do not remember ever before to have witnessed.

The bell, which was used at an early stage of the fire, in tolling its own requiem, was found the next morning, embedded in the ruins, melted into a solid mass.

There was no insurance, that we could learn of any of the property: estimated at between six and eight thousand dollars. A heavy loss to the Society.

As attempts have been made before to fire the building, the inference is strong, that it was not accidental, but the malicious and wicked act of the incendiary. A reward has been offered for the perpetrators.

THANKSGIVING. We passed a very agreeable one — in a quiet, domestic way. Acting under the inspiration of the day, and feeling quite thankful, we were determined that those around us should feel so also. Our office was closed early on Wednesday evening, and our help scattered themselves, hither and thither, in every direction, in search of pleasure and amusement. Our late sickness prevented us from taking much out-door exercise, and the outward demonstrations were, therefore, to us a sealed letter. But we had every indication that there was no lack of enthusiasm, and that every thing went off in a good, substantial, old fashioned style.

ANNOTATION. Be cautious of your health. But if your system should get out of order, bilious or other complaints trouble you, send at once to Mrs. Woods' on Cottage Avenue, as an antidote lies in her incomparable bitters.

Brief History of the Episcopal Church.

BY WILLIAM S. PATTIE, M. D.

We regret to have to announce that Christ's Church, of this town, was destroyed by fire last Saturday evening, by the hands of an incendiary. This is a great loss to this venerable society, who have been manfully struggling along against many adversities, and we fear this last blow will be too much for them. They have the sympathy of the public, and we hope they may realize it in a substantial manner. This church was greatly endeared to all its worshippers, many of whom had received religious instruction within its sacred walls ever since its erection. We hope active and energetic action will be taken by the town to bring the rogues to condign punishment. In connection with the above, we wish to give a brief history of this ancient and worthy society.

As early as the year 1700, some exertion was made to introduce the Episcopal Church into this town; and the names of Messrs. Bartlett and Eggers are mentioned as missionaries for the purpose. But no effectual measures were taken to secure a church until some time in the year 1725, when a bond was signed by Samuel Pain, to pay Peter Marquand and others a certain sum for building a Church of England, in Brantree, now Quincy. The land on which this church was erected, and its surrounding yard, were granted as a free gift by William and Benjamin Vesey, August 26th, 1725, in these words: "For building a Church of England upon, and for no other purpose," this land is located on School street, and is now occupied by them as a cemetery. Upon this land the original church was erected, and the first meeting within its walls was held on Easter Monday, 1728. Early in the year 1726, Henry Turner, Peter Marquand, John Vesey, George Cheesman, Benjamin Vesey, and Samuel Pain, made agreement with Mr. Ebenezer Miller, who had graduated at Harvard College three years before, to proceed to England, to procure ordination, and to become the minister of the Episcopal Church in this place. Mr. Miller arrived safely in England, and was ordained by Edmund Lord, Bishop of London. He received deacon's orders, June 26th, 1726, and those of priest in July of the following year. On the 26th of August, 1727, he was appointed a missionary of the Society for propagating the Gospel in foreign parts; and this town was pointed out as the field of his labors. He remained in England until the close of September following, when he embarked for this country, and arrived in time to open his mission on Christmas day, 1727. Here he officiated until November 1762, when he was visited with a paralytic shock, under which he continued until the 11th of February 1763. His remains were entombed under the Church. The children of Dr. Miller preserved an attachment for the church in which they were born. Mr. Mottram Vesey, the veteran town clerk, in its early days, was his grandson, and for many years remained almost alone in the administration of its secular affairs. At the close of Mr. Miller's labors, fifty members had been added to the communion list, and four hundred and eighty-eight infants and adults were admitted to baptism. His negro slaves exhibited a great zeal for this church, and one of them presented the church with a silver cup for the sacrament, as an affectionate tribute.

The next minister was the Rev. Edward Winslow, son of Joshua Winslow, a respectable merchant of Boston. He graduated at Harvard College in 1741, and was intended for the Congregational ministry, but the course of his studies led him to prefer Episcopacy; his father protested, and the son relinquished his profession, and applied himself to commerce. He married and resided in Barbadoes. But not being able to content himself out of the sacred field of duty, to which he had early been called, he quitted mercantile life, went to England, and was ordained deacon and priest. He removed here with his family, July 27th, 1761. On the settlement of Mr. Winslow, the congregation agreed with the society abroad by whom he was appointed, to provide a decent house and glebe for his accommodation. Accordingly, Feb. 25th, 1764, a subscription commenced with that intent, the head of which closes in these words: "for the use and benefit of an Episcopal minister forever, performing divine service according to the liturgy of the Church of England. The deed is from Thomas Alleyne and wife, dated April 2d, 1765, to the wardens of the church and their successors, to and for the sole use and benefit of said Episcopal Church, and for the consideration of £200 13s. 4d lawful money. To this purchase £20 were contributed by John Borland, and £12 by John Aphorpe, of London. Mr. Winslow officiated in this church for thirteen years. During this period of his ministrations, the Revolutionary war commenced. — He and his society being strongly conservative, and adhering to the laws of the mother country, he was obliged to leave, "saying he could not safely read the prayers of the king, nor conscientiously forbear to read it," he resigned the charge of this church, and removed to the city of New York. During his residence in that city, he occasionally preached and performed the offices of the church, in one of which he met his death. — On returning from a funeral, as he ascended the steps of his own house, he fell and expired. Mr. Miller and Mr. Winslow, received from the foreign society for propagating the gospel, the sum of $200, the remainder of their salary being paid by the parishioners. But after the revolution, when we could no longer pray for the king as our ruler, this support was withdrawn. In 1773 it was found necessary to enlarge the church at the east end thirteen feet. The pulpit was then removed to the corner of the north range of pews from the centre of the opposite side. On Easter Sunday 1790, a collection was made for the sufferers by a fire in Boston. — The society felt themselves able to bestow on this object £11. 6s. 11d. lawful money. Boston has now an opportunity to return the compliment.

At the close of Mr. Winslow's labors here, there had been nearly 800 baptisms, and sixty-four heads of families belonged to this church, as may be seen by the records. Next to Mr. Winslow, we find the name of Mr. Joseph Cleverly, who, if he was not one of the first ministers of this church, was one of its fathers. This excellent man was educated from Harvard College in 1733, and although never in holy orders, yet he served the spiritual interest of this church for many years, by reading prayers and sermons, and is called in the records, their teacher. At a meeting on Easter Monday, 1784, the thanks of this church were voted to Mr. Cleverly, for his past services. It is from hence to be inferred, that his first term of service was the whole time between 1777 and 1784, a period of seven years. Mr. Cleverly was a staunch churchman, and of unblemished reputation. He continued to officiate in the absence of regular clergymen, and extreme old age terminated his useful ministrations. He closed his earthly career at the age of 83. The family of Mr. Cleverly, like those of his predecessors have firmly adhered to the church and its doctrines.

At an adjourned meeting of the Church, May 31st, 1784, it was voted to engage Mr. Wheeler, to officiate one Sunday in each month. At a meeting October 3d, 1784, some attempt was made to settle Mr. Graves, of Providence, but after a conference with that gentleman, it failed. March 28th, 1785, the church renewed its contract with Mr. Wheeler, to preach once a month till January 1st, 1786, and afterwards on Easter Monday, till 1787. The contract was annually renewed, and Mr. Wheeler supplied the pulpit till April 12th, 1790. April 26th, 1790, it was voted that Mr. Wheeler be employed for two months. May 16th, 1791, Mr. James Aphorpe, and others were appointed to procure a minister for the summer, and Rev. Joseph Warren, was applied to, and occasionally preached, as did also the Rev. William Montague. April 8th, 1793, the contract to preach monthly was renewed with Mr. Montague, and continued till 1799. It was then thought proper to employ his services through the summer, and upon occasional Sabbaths. After the year 1804, it was voted that Mr. Montague continue to supply, different readers were employed, who officiated for single Sundays, or longer stated periods. Of this number were the Rev. John Lynn Blackburn, the Rev. James B. How, Rev. Calvin Wolcott, and the Rev. William Clark.

At the request of the wardens of this church, the Rev. Benjamin C. Cutler, came here to reside in the month of July, 1822, was ordained, deacon by the Right Rev. A. V. Griswold, September, 1824, and priest, the 14th of March 1825. The first ordination was held in the church, and the second in St. Ann's Church, Lowell. It being more convenient for the Bishop to perform the service at that place. This was the golden age of this society. Under the administration of the Rev. Mr. Cutler, the church has a more flourishing condition than it ever was before or since. In 1828 he preached a century sermon, which was published. During his ministrations two new wings were added the whole length of the meeting-house on each side; but this was not sufficient to satisfy the increasing wants of the society, and the necessity of erecting a new church was agitated, and finally agreed upon. A committee was chosen to procure a site, and thankfully accepted the eligible lot presented to them by Mr. Aphorpe, on conditions that the land should not be used for any other purpose. This church was erected in 1832, at a cost of six thousand dollars, and there remained until consigned to ashes last Saturday evening — being the first church ever burnt in town.

At the time of building this meeting house, dissension arose in the Society, which caused some of its members to secede from their fellowship. These, with others, organized the Independent Church, which is now the Unitarian Congregational Church. From that time to this, the Parish has been in a feeble state — sometimes with a minister, sometimes without. After the resignation of Mr. Cutler, the Rev. Mr. Potter took charge, to the great advantage of the Society. After he closed his labors here, the following ministers have officiated, viz: Rev. Mr. Wolcott, Rev. Orange Clark, Rev. Mr. Burdell, Rev. Mr. Bradley, and the Rev. Mr. Colburn. At the present time they are without a minister. This Church has been very fortunate in having liberal benefactors. For example, the Rev. Mr. Potter, who, after his removal from the English Missionary Association, which was incorporated in the reign of William the Third, the munificent sum of more than thirteen thousand dollars. The different members of the Aphorpe family have also manifested a liberal and constant zeal for this church, both in England and this country, down to a late period. This Society and the Unitarians in their early history, were on the most friendly terms, as will be seen by the following note to be found in the Rev. Mr. Hancock's Century Sermon.

In the vacancy before the Rev. Mr. Miller received his orders, a large circle of friends, this country, down to a late period. This Society and the Unitarians in their early history, were on the most friendly terms, as will be seen by the following note to be found in the Rev. Mr. Hancock's Century Sermon.

The Key of the Stone Temple, can be found at Washington M. French's Livery Stable, near the Hancock House.

HOTEL PELHAM BILLIARD SALOON. — corner of Tremont and Boylston streets, Boston. Mr. Marshall P. Wild, whose connection during the past season with the Nelly Baker, which played between Boston and Niantic, is so favorably spoken of, has issued his card, notifying the public, that he has become sole proprietor of the above establishment, and that he intends making it the most fashionable and popular resort of the kind in the city. Mr. Wild is favorably known to our citizens. He is eminently qualified for such a station. His gentlemanly bearing, pleasing and attractive manners, has endeared him to a large circle of friends, and made him a favorite with all those who enjoy his acquaintance. His tables are superbly finished; his refreshments and cigars, of a superior kind, and other inducements, such as oysters, etc., are luxuriously served. He is found at his hospitable bar. Call and renew your acquaintance with Mr. W. at his new quarters.

$100 Reward.

THE above reward will be paid to any person who will give information to the Directors of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company, that will lead to the conviction of the incendiary who set fire to the EPISCOPAL CHURCH in this village, burnt on the 26th inst. STEPHEN BATES, Secretary.

Quincy, Nov. 26.

Rebuilding of Christ Church, Quincy.

At a meeting of the Wardens and Vestry, with parishioners and friends of Christ Church in Quincy, held on the 22d day of November, 1859, — called in consequence of the recent burning of the church edifice, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted: —

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Whereas, On account of the limited pecuniary resources of the Congregation, and their present destitution of the guidance and care of a Pastor, there is need of vigorous efforts and of sacrifices on their own part, as well as of active co-operation and aid from others, to secure the restoration of the building, and to prevent the temporary dispersion, if not the permanent disorganization of the Society; therefore

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Resolved, That in the presence of this and the night of the 19th instant; and

Day Goods. We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of A. J. Griffin in our columns. His store is very large, and our ladies, when visiting the city, can find a most superb stock of English, French and American Dry Goods at his establishment. No. 66 Hanover street.

THIRTY-SIXTH CONGRESS. — The elections to the new Congress are now completed, and the House, according to the New York Tribune's classification will stand as follows: republicans, 113; democrats, 93; anti-Le-compton democrats, 8; southern-Americans, 23. The House consists of 237 members. The Senate contains 36 democrats, 21 republicans, 2 Americans, and four vacancies.

A CARD.

"Our holy and our beautiful house, where our father's praised there, is burned up with fire; and all our pleasant things are laid waste." Isaiah 64: 11.

At a meeting of the Wardens and Vestry, it was voted unanimously that our thanks be presented to the Committee of the Universalist Society, for the kind offer of the use of their Church, a part of each Sabbath. We wish to assure them that we appreciate their kindness and sympathy.

And we take this opportunity to express our thanks for the great sympathy manifested by all, for the loss of our Church, and especially to those who assisted in saving the furniture.

Per order of the Wardens and Vestry. Quincy, Nov. 26. 1w

Special Notices.

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION at Parker's Hall, MONDAY EVENING, Nov. 28th, at 7 o'clock.

Question for Debate.

Are the manifestations of human life that we call evil, or a necessity of the conditions of the Soul's progress.

Per order, C. H. PORTER, Sec'y. Quincy, Nov. 26. 1w

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING. Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.

In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall, Miss S. A. Magoun, of E. Cambridge, will speak to-morrow.

Quincy, N. v. 26. 1w

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

Dr. Dupon's Golden Pills for Females.

One of the most successful remedies ever discovered for female complaints. "One of the 'first ladies' of New London," who has used them says, she considers them of so much value she would not be without them, and would cheerfully pay five dollars a box for them if she could get them no less. The ingredients of these Pills are made known to every agent, and they will tell you it is the best female medicine ever sold, at the same time perfectly harmless. Price $1 per box. Sold by Mrs. E. Hayden sole agent for Quincy.

Ladies by sending her $1 through the Quincy P. O., can have the Pills sent to any part of the country confidentially by mail.

WEEKS & POTTER, 151 Washington Street, Boston, wholesale agents.

S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y. Quincy, Nov. 19th, 1859. 1y

Marriages.

In this town, 24th inst., by Rev. C. N. Smith, Mr. James Clubbuck, to Miss Abby Bosworth, both of Quincy.

At Jamaica Plain, 9th inst., in the Unitarian Church, by Rev. Mr. Reynolds, of Concord, assisted by Rev. Dr. Thompson, Pascual V. Turner, Rep. of New York, to Annie Gray, eldest daughter of the late Rev. George Whitney.

$200 REWARD.

WHEREAS, the Episcopal Church in this town was destroyed by fire, on SATURDAY evening the 26th inst., and there can be no doubt that it was the work of an incendiary, the above reward will be paid to any person who shall detect any one in setting fire to any building of the value of Two Hundred Dollars, within the Town and the First day of March next, on conviction of the offender.

DANIEL BAXTER, Selectman of Quincy, Nov. 26th, 1859. 1y

EDMUND POPE, of Quincy.

THE Best Medicine in the World. YES, DECIDEDLY THE BEST, IS DR. LANGLEY'S Root and Herb Bitters.

THEY are made from the most valuable Roots, Herbs and Plants in the vegetable kingdom. They act at once upon the very seat of disease. They remove all obstructions from the internal organs — regulate the Bowels — purify the Blood — remove Humors — excite the Liver to a healthy action, give strength and tone to the stomach — cure Jaundice and Dyspepsia — create an appetite — increase and renew the circulation — remove all Bilious diseases — cure Piles, Headache, Weakness, &c., and are the best medicine ever discovered for all Female Complaints. They purify the blood, strengthen the build up, and keep in order "the house you live in."

Doctor's prescriptions clothed in Latin verbs, Now yield the palm to Langley's Roots and Herbs.

For ake vile drugs and call from Nature's store, As did the Patriarchs in days of yore, Roots, Herbs and Barks, the best in Nature's store, From broad Atlantic to Pacific's shore, From North to South their healing virtues lend, And in these Bitters prove the people's friend. They'll strengthen, warm, your bodies vigorous make, Rouse drooping spirits new blood create.

So if you wish to feel well — act well — do well, and keep well, use this standard valuable medicine.

Only 25 cents for a pint, and 38 cents for a large Bottle.

Sold by Medicine Dealers everywhere. Orders addressed to J. O. LANGLEY, or GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO. Boston, Nov. 26. 2m

HERE ARE GOODS TO SUIT THE MILLION, from the Low Priced Prints to the Most Beautiful and Costly SILKS brought to this country! EVERYBODY IN WANT OF Collector's Sale in Weymouth.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber will sell at Public Auction, on the Twelfth day of Jan. next, at three o'clock, P. M., on the premises, for the payment of the taxes assessed thereon, for the year 1859 —

A tract of Land situated near the house of Nathan Tirrell, in Weymouth. Said Land is bounded as follows, to wit: Westerly by Columbian street, Northerly by land of said Nathan Tirrell, Easterly by Old Colony Railroad, Southerly by land of Cornelius Tirrell. Said Land is assessed to Dexter Pratt of Melrose, for Town, State and County purposes, in the sum of three dollars and twenty-two cents. District tax is the fifth school district, in Weymouth, in the sum of twenty-three cents.

The same will be sold as aforesaid in the name of said Pratt, for the payment of said taxes, unless said taxes, and the legal expenses thereon, are previously paid.

C. BATES, Collector of Taxes, For the Town of Weymouth. 3w

NORFOLK, ss. At a meeting of the County Commissioners for said County, holden at Dedham, in and for said County, on October 28th, A. D. 1859, by adjournment of the September meeting, next proceeding.

UPON the petition of A. B. Wales and others, freeholders and legal citizens, representing that there is a certain street in the Town of Weymouth, called Commercial street, leading from Washington street in said Town, near the store belonging to the heirs of the late Cotton Fouts, to the store of Ebenezer Humphrey, over which said Commissioners have jurisdiction, the exact location and bounds of which cannot readily be ascertained, and requesting the Commissioners to ascertain, alter, correct and establish the location of said street, erect the necessary bounds and cause a certificate thereof to be duly filed and recorded, according to the statute in such case made and provided. It appearing to the Commissioners upon investigation that said representations are correct (and due notice having been given to all persons and corporations interested, and especially to the Town of Weymouth and the South Shore Railroad Company, the Commissioners met at the hotel known as Wales' Hotel, in Weymouth, on June 29th, 1859, at 10 A. M., the time and place before designated, and there proceeded and viewed the route aforesaid, and heard all persons and corporations interested, and said case was then continued to the next regular meeting, and from time to time till the date thereof, and said Commissioners adjudicate that public necessity and convenience require that said way should be relocated, its bounds defined, and lines established.

By the County Commissioners, NATHANIEL P. SAFFORD, Chairman.

On the Adjournment aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at Wales' Hotel, in Weymouth, in said County, on TUESDAY, the twenty-seventh day of December next, at ten o'clock A. M., and there proceed to view and locate said way anew, define and establish the bounds thereof, and take such action and make such alterations therein as by law they may be authorized to do; and that an attested copy of said Adjournment, with this Order, directed, be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Weymouth, and upon the President or Clerk or Treasurer of the South Shore Railroad Company, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said day of meeting; and that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said day of meeting; and that the copies be posted in two or more public places in said Weymouth, for ten days at least before said day of meeting, that all persons and corporations interested, may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

EZRA W. SAMFSON, Clerk.

A true copy of the Adjournment on file, and Order thereon.

Nov. 26. EZRA W. SAMFSON, Clerk. 3w

RICHARD'S HIMSELF AGAIN!

A. J. GRIFFIN IS YET AT HIS OLD STAND,

66 Hanover Street, WHERE HE HAS JUST RECEIVED AN IMMENSE STOCK

French, English and American DRY GOODS! WITH ORDERS TO SELL THE SAME WITHOUT DELAY.

See the Prices! See the Prices! 10,000 Jozen Fine Ribbed WOOL HOSE, for 17 cts a pair or $2 a dozen.

1000 doz Chemise Scarfs for 25 cts each or $3 a dozen.

1000 pairs Mackinaw Wool Blankets for $1 88 a pair.

1500 do Large Size do $2 25 a pair.

1100 do " do for $4 50 to $8 per pair.

10,000 pairs KID GLOVES for 25 to 50 cts with all the higher grades in the same ratio.

21,000 yards SILK 6 37 1-2 to 50 cents a yard.

These are HIGH LUSTRED and SEASONABLE GOODS, and cheap at 75 cents and $1. Also, EVERY QUALITY and STYLES of SILK, to the richest and best in the market.

SUPERB SILK ROBES, OF EVERY COLOR, VERY CHEAP.

CLOAKS. In Great Variety, from $2 50 to $50. Shawls from 75 cts to $75

Poetry.

The Voice of Autumn.

BY WILLIAM C. BRYANT.

There comes, from yonder height,
A soft repining sound,
Where forest leaves are bright,
And fall-like flakes of light,
To the ground.

It is the Autumn breeze,
That lightly floats on,
Just skims the weedy leaves,
Just stirs the glowing trees,
And is gone.

He moans by sodgy brook,
And visits with a sigh,
The last pale flowers that look,
From out their sunny nook,
At the sky.

O'er shouting children flies
That light October wind,
And, kissing cheeks and eyes,
He leaves their merry cries,
Far behind.

And wanders on to make
That soft, unweary sound,
By distant wood and lake,
Where distant fountains break
From the ground.

No bowers where maidens dwell
Can win a moment's stay,
Nor fair untrodden dell;
He sweeps the upland swell,
And away.

Mourn'st thou that homeless state?
Oh soft, repining woe!
That early seek'st to late
The rest it is thy fate
Not to find.

Not on the mountain's breast,
Not on the ocean's shore,
In all the East and West;
The wind that stops to rest
Is no more.

By valleys, wood and springs,
No wonder thou should'st grieve
For all the glorious things,
Thou touchest with thy wings,
And must leave.

The Dream of Love.

BY GEORGE P. MORRIS.

I've had the heart ache many times,
At the mere mention of a name
I've never woven in my rhymes,
Though from it inspiration came.
It is in truth a holy thing,
Life-cherished from the world apart—
A debt that never tires its wing,
But broods and nestles in the heart.

That name of melody recalls
Her gentle look and winning ways,
Whose portrait hangs on memory's walls,
In the fond light of other days.
In the dream land of poetry,
Revering in its leafy bowers,
Her bright eyes in the stars I see,
And her sweet semblance in the flowers.

Her artless dalliance and grace—
The joy that lighted up her brow—
The sweet expression of her face—
Her form that stands before me now!
And I can fancy that I hear
The woodland song she used to sing,
Which stole to my listening ear,
Like the first harbingers of spring.

The beauty of the earth was hers,
And hers the purity of heaven;
Alone, of all her worshippers,
To me her maiden voice were given.
They little know the human heart,
Who think such love with time expires;
Once kindled, it ne'er departs,
But burns through life with all its fires.

We parted—doomed to more to meet—
The blow fell with a stunning power—
And yet my pulse with strangely heat
At the remembrance of that hour!
But time and change their healing brought,
And years have passed in soothing grief,
But still alone I live and thought,
Who's now a memory to me.

There may be many who will deem
This strain a wayward, youthful folly,
To be derided as a dream
Born of a poet's melancholy.
The wealth of words, if it were mine,
With all that follows in its train,
I would with grateful resignation,
To dream that dream of love again.

Succedates.

An honest Jonathan from Berkshire, on his first visit to the metropolis, was awakened one night by hearing the cry of "oysters!" buy any oysters!" in the mellifluous tones of one of the vendors of these luscious shell-fish, who was passing under the windows of the hotel. A noise so new to his ear, startled him, and he aroused his room mate to inquire what it meant. "They are only oysters," replied his fellow lodger, pettishly. "Oysters!" exclaimed Jonathan, in astonishment, "and do oysters hold as loud as that?"

A gentleman in Ireland having built a large house at a loss what to do with the rubbish. His steward advised him to have a pit dug large enough to contain it. "And what," said the gentleman, "shall I do with the earth which is dug out of the pit?" To which the steward replied, "have the hole made large enough to hold all."

A young coxcomb observing the washmaid about to hang his shirt on the stable of a rake to dry, which happening not to be very clean, vociferated, he would not have it hung there. "You need not make such a fuss about it," said the girl; "it has always been used to hanging on a rake!"

"Mind, John," said a father to his son, "if you go out into the yard, you will wish you had stayed in the house."

"Well, if I stay in the house I shall wish I was out in the yard; so where is the great difference, dad?"

An Irish gentleman lately said to another: "I called to see your family but they were not at home; and I suppose they had gone to ride in a carriage which was standing at the door."

Now's the Time to Subscribe

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY.

A HANDSOME QUARTO PUBLICATION, BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED, IS NOW UNIVERSALLY ACKNOWLEDGED TO BE

The Best Story Paper IN THE WORLD.

AMONG ITS REGULAR CONTRIBUTORS

will be found the names of some of THE BEST MALE AND FEMALE WRITERS IN THE UNITED STATES.

Such writers as

JUSTIN JONES, (HARRY HAZEL),

AGNES J. H. DUGANNE,

WILLIAM EARLE BINDER,

HARRY HAZELTON,

FRANCIS S. SMITH,

MRS. MARY J. HOLMES,

HILLEN FOREST GRAYES,

MARY C. VAUGHAN,

MARGARET VERNE,

ANNA RAYMOND,

EDNA MAXWELL,

Write for it regularly, while a score of other well-known writers occasionally contribute to its columns.

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY

has now engaged a force of talent that cannot be rivaled by any establishment in the world.

Notices of the Press.

Never before has any new candidate for public favor in the Literary World received such flattering notices from the Press. From all quarters, our editorial brethren have cheered us on by speaking of our enterprise in a manner to stimulate our vanity, and to excite the envy of our rivals.

GENERAL CHARACTER OF THE NEW YORK WEEKLY.

The WEEKLY is designed more especially as

A FIRST-CLASS STORY PAPER,

in which we intend to give our readers a such recession of the Best Stories ever published in the United States! The aim and object of these productions will be to inculcate useful knowledge under the pleasing guise of fiction, or to teach great moral lessons through the same means. We shall never publish a work of fiction, the tendency of which is to injure the morals or taste of the reader. Every issue of the New York Weekly will contain short Sketches of Life and Manners, Notes of Travel and Adventure, Short Stories, General Summary of Events, Humorous Gleanings, Poetry, Editorials, &c. &c. &c.

As specimens of our serials, we would point to

A. J. H. DUGANNE'S Great Story

GARIBALDI,

THE HERO OF ITALY.

HARRY HAZEL'S

EXCITING INDIAN ROMANCE,

THE MUTE SPY!

FRANCIS S. SMITH'S

INTENSELY INTERESTING DOMESTIC STORY,

MAGGIE,

THE CHILD OF CHARITY!

While, as specimens of our standing departments, we point with pride to

OUR BALLADS OF THE BIBLE,

admitted by all to be the most chastely written and beautiful scriptural poems ever produced.

OUR KNOWLEDGE BOX,

in which is weekly contained a number of paragraphs, of the greatest importance to house-keepers and others.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS,

an interesting mélange, ranging "from grave to gay, from lively to severe."

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,

prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.

OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,

and many others, etc., etc., etc.

In a word, its Editors will use their best endeavors to get up just such a paper as will eventually find its way to every fireside in the land—that shall be a welcome visitor wherever it goes—equally popular in the workshop and the office—at the fireside of the farmer, or in the counting-room of the merchant—a paper that parents can, with safety, place in the hands of their children without note or comment, and even when it is in the hands of the young, it will be found to be a source of instruction and pleasure.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS,

an interesting mélange, ranging "from grave to gay, from lively to severe."

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,

prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.

OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,

and many others, etc., etc., etc.

In a word, its Editors will use their best endeavors to get up just such a paper as will eventually find its way to every fireside in the land—that shall be a welcome visitor wherever it goes—equally popular in the workshop and the office—at the fireside of the farmer, or in the counting-room of the merchant—a paper that parents can, with safety, place in the hands of their children without note or comment, and even when it is in the hands of the young, it will be found to be a source of instruction and pleasure.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS,

an interesting mélange, ranging "from grave to gay, from lively to severe."

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,

prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.

OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,

and many others, etc., etc., etc.

In a word, its Editors will use their best endeavors to get up just such a paper as will eventually find its way to every fireside in the land—that shall be a welcome visitor wherever it goes—equally popular in the workshop and the office—at the fireside of the farmer, or in the counting-room of the merchant—a paper that parents can, with safety, place in the hands of their children without note or comment, and even when it is in the hands of the young, it will be found to be a source of instruction and pleasure.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS,

an interesting mélange, ranging "from grave to gay, from lively to severe."

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,

prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.

OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,

and many others, etc., etc., etc.

In a word, its Editors will use their best endeavors to get up just such a paper as will eventually find its way to every fireside in the land—that shall be a welcome visitor wherever it goes—equally popular in the workshop and the office—at the fireside of the farmer, or in the counting-room of the merchant—a paper that parents can, with safety, place in the hands of their children without note or comment, and even when it is in the hands of the young, it will be found to be a source of instruction and pleasure.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS,

an interesting mélange, ranging "from grave to gay, from lively to severe."

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,

prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.

OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,

and many others, etc., etc., etc.

In a word, its Editors will use their best endeavors to get up just such a paper as will eventually find its way to every fireside in the land—that shall be a welcome visitor wherever it goes—equally popular in the workshop and the office—at the fireside of the farmer, or in the counting-room of the merchant—a paper that parents can, with safety, place in the hands of their children without note or comment, and even when it is in the hands of the young, it will be found to be a source of instruction and pleasure.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS,

an interesting mélange, ranging "from grave to gay, from lively to severe."

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,

prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.

OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,

and many others, etc., etc., etc.

In a word, its Editors will use their best endeavors to get up just such a paper as will eventually find its way to every fireside in the land—that shall be a welcome visitor wherever it goes—equally popular in the workshop and the office—at the fireside of the farmer, or in the counting-room of the merchant—a paper that parents can, with safety, place in the hands of their children without note or comment, and even when it is in the hands of the young, it will be found to be a source of instruction and pleasure.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS,

an interesting mélange, ranging "from grave to gay, from lively to severe."

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,

prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.

OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,

and many others, etc., etc., etc.

In a word, its Editors will use their best endeavors to get up just such a paper as will eventually find its way to every fireside in the land—that shall be a welcome visitor wherever it goes—equally popular in the workshop and the office—at the fireside of the farmer, or in the counting-room of the merchant—a paper that parents can, with safety, place in the hands of their children without note or comment, and even when it is in the hands of the young, it will be found to be a source of instruction and pleasure.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS,

an interesting mélange, ranging "from grave to gay, from lively to severe."

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,

prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.

OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,

and many others, etc., etc., etc.

of all solvent banks taken at par for subscriptions. Canada subscribers must send twenty-five cents extra with every subscription, to pre-pay the American postage.

All letters and communications, in relation to the Editorial or Business Departments of the NEW YORK WEEKLY, must be addressed to

STREET & SMITH,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS,
22 Beekman Street, New York.
Sept. 3.

RUSSIA SALVE
VEGETABLE OINTMENT

This salve was used in Boston for the last thirty years, and its virtues have stood the test of time.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES BURNS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CANCERS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EYES,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE THROAT,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LEGS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD HEAD,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES NITTE RASH,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CUTS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CORNS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SALT RHEUM,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PLEA BITES,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIES,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FISTERS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RUMORS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES INGROWING NAILS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER STINGS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ERUPTIONS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BRUISES,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FROZEN LIMBS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WENS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLESH WOUNDS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PILES,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHAPPED HANDS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPRAINS,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SWELLED NOSE,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES LAME WRIST,
RUSSIA SALVE CURES LAME WRIST.

Bites of Venomous Reptiles are instantly cured by this

EXCELLENT OINTMENT.

EVERY MOTHER WITH CHILDREN, and all Heads of Families,

Should keep a Box in the cupboard, or on the shelf,

which none are genuine.

Sold in the United States by all Wholesale and Patent Medicine Dealers, at most of the concentrated by

Redding & Co., Proprietors,

No. 8 State Street, Boston.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Agent for Quincy.

Quincy, Oct. 1.

THE MOUNTAIN DEW!

The Most Splendid Hair Dressing in the world.

$100 REWARD!

A reward will be paid to any person who will produce a good article, for all the purposes of a hair dressing.

For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN, C. C. JOHN-

SON, and by all Wholesale Dealers, everywhere.

GEO. WOODMAN & CO., M. S. BURR

& CO., Wholesale Agents, Boston.

July 16.

GRANULAR FUEL.

Patented, June, 1852.

Manufactured from Brushwood and Twigs

For Kindling Coal Fires.

And all purposes for which a quick hot fire is needed. It is intended

By its Cheapness and Cleanliness

TO SUPERSEDE CHARCOAL.

It is especially adapted for Summer Use, when a quick fire is wanted but a short time. As it can be used in all kinds of Stoves, and being allowed to go out immediately after using, enables the consumer to procure fuel at a very low price.

The extreme low price of this Fuel is also a great advantage, being but one-half the price of charcoal. It is clean, clear, and cheap, and will be sold and delivered at the following

low prices for cash—

Under 25 bushels, 10 cents per bushel.

Over 25 " " " " " "

Ordered at the Store of E. Clapp, Henry A.

Newcomb, Peter W. Newcomb, Quincy Point, or at Balger & Hanson's Machine Shop, will be promptly attended to.

MANUFACTURED AND SOLD BY

GEORGE SAVIL, Agent.

Rear of Balger & Hanson's—Cemetery st.

Quincy, Aug. 14.

THE SECRET INFIRMITIES

OF YOUTH AND MATURITY

JUST PUBLISHED GRATIS, THE 25th THOUSAND.

A FEW words on the rational treatment of the various infirmities, originating from sexual debility, nocturnal emissions, genital weakness, impotency and impediments to marriage generally.

BY B. DE LANEY, M. D.

The important fact that the many alarming complaints, originating from the impudence and solitude of youth, may be easily removed without medicine, is in this small tract, clearly demonstrated; and the entirely new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advised nostrums of the day.

Sent to any address, gratis and post free in a sealed envelope, by remitting (post paid) two stamp stamps to Dr. B. DE LANEY, 88 East

3rd Street, New York City.

July 19.

Salt Pork.

4000 POUNDS of good Salt Pork for sale at Boston prices by

DANIEL BAXTER & Co.

Quincy, Sept. 27.

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Householders, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are invited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,

WILLIAM S. MORTON,

TREASURER,

ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

SECRETARY,

STEPHEN BATES,

DIRECTORS,

Quincy, Milton,

William S. Morton, Charles Brock,

Israel W. Munroe, H. W. Blanchard,

Thomas C. Webb, Whitecomb Porter,

Stephen Bates, Solomon J. Beal,

William B. Duggan, Hingham,

Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gay,

R. B. Leachars, South Hingham,

Royal W. Turner, Alfred Loring,

South Brantree, Sumner A. Hayward,

Apollos Randall, Barnstable,

Dedham, George Marston,

Jonathan A. Cobb,

References, by permission:

Hon. GEORGE T. BIGELOW, of Boston,

Hon. JOSHUA QUINCY, Jr., of Boston,

Hon. AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield,

Hon. JAMES W. MAQUIRE, of Randolph,

Hon. SOLOMON LINCOLN, of Hingham,

Hon. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy,

JOSHUA BRIGHAM, Esq., of

Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple

April 1.

To Boot and Shoe

MANUFACTURERS.

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY,

HAYING returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stetson's Variety Store, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING.

Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of

Gold and Silver Watches,

Fob, Cut and Vest Chains,

LOCKETS,

Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florence, Painted,

Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,

Gents' Pins and Studs,

FINGER RINGS,

Together with a large assortment of

Silver and Plated Ware,

Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a

LARGE STOCK

than ever offered before in Quincy.

All kinds of Silver taken in exchange.

Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED.

Quincy Oct 24

if

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effective alterative

that can be made. It is a concentrated extract

of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other

substances of still greater alterative power as

to afford an effective antidote for the diseases

Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one

which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found

of the following complaints:—

SCURF, AND SCURF, AND SCURF, AND SCURF,

Eruptions and Eruptions, Eruptions, Eruptions,

Pimples, Blotches, Tenders, Salt Rheum,

Scald Head, Syphilis and Syphilitic Affections,

Mercurial Disease, Dropsy, Neuralgia or the Douglasseux, Debility, Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Erysipelas, Rose

or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of

the Blood.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to

expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders

are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by

the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcers sore, through which the system will strive to rid itself of impurities, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body

by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the

vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities

bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions,

or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it

whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But

the world has been egregiously deceived by

preparations of it, partly because the drug

alone has not all the virtue that is claimed

for it, but more because many preparations,

pretending to be concentrated extracts of it,

contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla,

or any thing else.

During late years the public have been mis-

led by large bottles, pretending to give a quart

of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for

they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of

Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still

we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of calumny which rests

upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are accessible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on

the bottle.

PREPARED BY

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.

LOWELL, MASS.

Price, $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

has won for itself such a renown for the cure of

every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the

evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this country, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best

it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR THE CURE OF

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion,

Dysentery, Roul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache,

Piles, Hemorrhoids, Erysipelas and Skin Diseases,

Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetters, Tumors and

Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a

Diarrhoea, and for Purifying the Blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price 25 cents per Box; Five boxes for $1.00.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, States-

men, and eminent persons, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our AMERICAN ALMANAC in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above

complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on

Demand AYER'S, and take no others. The sick

want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

All our Remedies are for sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, and all Medicine Dealers.

Quincy, Aug 6

17

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION

Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.

Railway Village, JOSIAH BABCOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BECK.
Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON.
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHON DREW.

W. M. BABBITT, M. D.,

Homeopathic Physician!

HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

OFFICE HOURS:

7 to 8 A. M. 12 to 1 P. M.

6 to 7 P. M.

Quincy, Sept. 11.

if

GEORGE WHITE,

Counsellor and Attorney at Law,

No. 5 Tremont Street,

BOSTON.

Quincy, March 5.

if

NATHANIEL WHITE,

HAS FOR SALE—

LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

—ALSO—

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,

QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

if

New Arrangement.

FURNALD'S

QUINCY EXPRESS

LEAVES BOSTON, DAILY.

AT 2 1/2 O'CLOCK, P. M.

38 South Market St. and 3 Washington St.

Quincy, June 5

if

BOWDITCH'S

Quincy and Boston

EXPRESS.

OFFICE—39 & 40 South Market Street,

and 48 Liberty Square,

BOSTON.

SLATE AT DANIEL BAXTER & CO'S,

NIGHTINGALE'S PROVISION STORE,

AND THE HANCOCK HOUSE.

All orders, thankfully received and promptly attended to.

Quincy, Jan 22

if

LIVERY STABLE.

THE subscriber having purchased the establishment of George J. Jones, on Hancock street, and made additions thereto, is prepared, at the old stand, to accommodate his friends

and the public with

Horses and Carriages.

PLEASURE PARTIES furnished with teams

and drivers, or single carriages, at the shortest

notice.

Personal attention given to the business, and a liberal support from the public solicited.

DAVID E. ROBY.

Quincy, Nov. 13.

if

LIVERY STABLE.

AT Hardwick's Express Stable, on Hancock

street, near the Quincy Patriot Printing

Office, new and excellent CARRIAGES,

with good and safe HORSES, furnished to individuals or parties, on the very best terms.

Transportation of Merchandise, Furniture,

Kc., attended to with care and despatch.

The travelling public accommodated with

good STABLEING, at all times.

Good Drivers furnished, if desired.

Every effort will be made to serve patrons,

and a share of support is respectfully solited.

Hardwick's Boston Express.

PARTICULAR attention given to the purchase of Goods and to the transportation

of them, and valuable Packages.

Dispatch in the collection of Notes, Drafts,

and Bills.

All orders thankfully received, and carefully and expeditiously attended to.

Hours of Departure.

From Quincy—8 o'clock, A. M.

From Boston—2 o'clock, P. M.

Offices in Boston—34 Court Square,

(Railroad Exchange), and 40 South Market

street.

Quincy, April 9

if

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Miscellaneous.

Betsy Brown's Thanksgiving.

Betsy, sez Mr. Brown to me, (my proper name is Elizabeth, but Mr. Brown allers calls me Betsy), what do you say to our going up to uncle John Miller's Thanksgiving? Strikes me it would be a grand chance to introduce our darter Sally to the society of Greensville.

Now, ye see, John Miller was Azariah Brown's uncle, on his mother's side; a poor boy in the first place, but he'd got as rich as Crocus manufacturin' shoes, and as natural consequence, he was prouder than Jupiter. The Brown tribe thought everything of him because he lived in a big house, and was a Justice of the Peace and choros. His parlor was fixed equal to Queen Victoria's sitting room, they said; carpeted all over with a tapestry Brussels, three ply carpet; and ornamented with picters of Rafels, and Madonnas, and landscapes, and I don't know what! John Miller was the big bug among the Browns and Millers.

Well, sez I, Azariah, I'd like to go well enuff, but I'm afeard it would be properous to intrude on 'em at such a time without an invite. You know Josh's wife holds herself a head and shoulder above common folks.

There's no need of her doing that! sez Azariah, she's tall as a haypole, raterally, without any stretching.

I know that, sez I, but then her mind is histed up good many feet above the common level, and if she ain't any better than we are, she thinks she is, and that amounts to jest the same thing.

Nonsense! Poll Miller is made out of jest the same flesh and blood as the rest of us—only they do say that her great-grand-father was a nigger; and she had a fourth cousin, whose wife's husband was put in the State Prison, for stealin' two hens off from a neighbor's roost! Now, there was never a relation of mine in jail even; and my father and mother was both white men!

Well, well, Azariah, sez I, don't brag over it. You know that's a fact that your uncle John takes a drop too much from the water bottle, occasionally; and according to my way of thinking, it's about as bad to drink as to steal hens!

Fudge! Bets Brown! sez Azariah tartly, that's nothin'! All gentlemen drink! It's right down fashionable!

I seed that Azariah was a little teched, so I didn't stop to argue with him; but I say here—that if getting drunk is fashionable, I don't keer about any of my folks being in the fashion! That's all!

It was settled that we should go to Greensville to thanksgiving, whether or not; for Azariah is as obstinate as a white pine stump, and if his mind once gets set, it ain't no use trying to alter it.

We was to kerry our darter Sally, and a bushel of Baldwin apples, to make us welcome.

Sally, if I do say it, is a remarkably well-looking girl, for a red-headed one; and it ain't every girl that's got as much ingenuity as she has. She can knit, and sew, and spin, and crocket things out of thread. She's quite eddie, too; can read, and write, and cipher, and say the multiplication table right off, without a single mistake. She was nigh about tickled to death when she found out that we was bound for her uncle Josh's.

Young folks is allers sot up with the prospect of gadding.

Lawful goodness, mother, sez she; I shall have to dress in my go-to-meeting poplin and my gold bosom pin, every day!

Yes, was that that? sez I; I'm a gwine to buy you a yellor and green silk gown; and a gray Rug-man cloak; and a black velvet bonnet, with an oyster feather on top! I'm determined you shall look as well as John Miller's Charibel Josepher, and Selany Ewe-ky to boot! It takes me to regulate things when I set out.

Well, the next day I went up to Dover, and bought twenty dollars worth of finery for Sally; and then I got a neck hankerchief for Azariah, and a coral ring for myself. Thinks I, if I ain't quite so rich as Josh's folks, I guess I'll let them know that I ain't to be sneered at!

We had Mrs. Huckabee, the milliner, at our house for a week, fixin' things; and I declare if in that time she didn't tell me more about the neighbors than ever I heard or mistrusted afore! Mrs. Huckabee's, she'd awful news budget. Azariah says that there warn't the least need of the Atlantic paragraph under the sea, for if folks would just tell their secrets to Mrs. Huckabee, she'd swim clear across the ocean to tell 'em to the Britishers! Azariah is a professor of religion, but I'm sorry to say that he don't always confine himself to the truth. Jest a day before he was to start for Greensville, Azariah sent a letter to tell Josh's folks that he was a coming, but he was too late to git it in the mail, and so he took and put it in his pocket and concluded to carry it with him. He'd be sure it got there safe, he said.

Like as not they won't like to see us! sez I—when we'd got fairly set down in the cars—they're stuck up set, if they are some of your own relationables!

Nobody keers whether they do or not, sez Azariah. I want to see some of the wonders of their big village, and if I can get boarded for nothing while I'm about it, it don't make no difference to me whether I'm welcome or not!

Azariah is selfish. Loves money the most!

Well, after considerable of a spell of streaking it on the cars behind the loco-flew, we arrived at the dye-pot, and such a slew of fellows as asked me to ride in their carriages you never seed. Mighty perlit in them, I thought; but Azariah told them he was used to walking, he guessed he could tramp for it! For my part, I should a good deal rather have rid, for you see that was considerable of snow on the ground, and it was full half a mile to Josh's house, one of the dye-pot men said.

Howsomever, we got thar at last; and a tremendous fine place it was too! Big as Dover Town Hall, and the meetin' house on top of that! Then thar was the sightest of furbelwing all over it that you ever hearn tell of! It beat Noah's ark and Herod's palace all to nothing. Azariah, he stepped up to the front door, and rung the bell. The house was all lighted up from top to toe, as if somebody was dead or married!

A starched up, dandified nigger cum to the door.

My

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Dec. 3d, 1859.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

THANKSGIVING BALL.—The Ball given by Tiger Engine Company, at the Town Hall, on Thanksgiving night, was very largely attended—two hundred and ten couple being present. It was by far the largest assembly of the kind ever held in this town. Music was furnished by Gilmore's celebrated Band. A bountiful supper was well provided by Loring A. French, whose abilities as a caterer on this, as well as other occasions, have made him a general favorite. Delegations of firemen were present from Weymouth, Hingham, Roxbury, Boston and other places. Captain Wilson, together with his spirited company, exhibited all the noble characteristics of generous firemen, and rendered the occasion one of social hilarity and unalloyed enjoyment.

PERSONAL. We learn that R. B. Leach, of this town, took passage in the Canada for Liverpool, during the present week. He intends spending a few months in his native country of Scotland.

William Field, who was thrown from his carriage a few weeks since, and at the time supposed seriously injured, we are happy to state, is able to be out and to attend to his business.

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE.—One of the best Family Magazines published in this or any other country. Its monthly return is looked for with interest. It always comes laden with the choicest gems to be found in the English language. The facilities of this House are unrivaled; and its history, worthy a passing notice. The Harpers—three of them—John, James and Wesley, were once poor boys, of Long Island, (N. Y.) They early settled in the city of New York, where they followed their profession as common pressmen for a series of years. Subsequently they became publishers on their own account. English reprints, or the republication of works by the best English authors, was what first brought them before an American public, and laid the foundation for their present prosperity. There is no international copyright law in this country. An American author may obtain a copyright for his works in England, but the English author is denied that privilege here. This throws great advantages in the way of the American publisher; he has a wide field to range in; far beyond that of his trans-Atlantic brother. The consequence is, the English publisher is restricted to small editions at heavy prices—while with us the rule is reversed—large editions with only living profits. Many works issued in England at a guinea a copy, have been republished by the Harpers for twenty-five cents. They have always been liberal with the trade—they have grown up together. No bookseller can do business unless they have an account open with this house. It is by far the largest publishing establishment in the world, with corresponding advantages. This is the secret of their success, and of their ability to furnish monthly a work of this character—each number containing one hundred and fifty pages, or eighteen hundred in the course of the year, of closely printed matter, on the most interesting subjects, the productions of the most eminent authors of the day—richly embellished, and printed on good paper and fair type, at a cost of only three dollars a year.

The Messrs. Gill & Co. are the agents for this town.

TAKE NOTICE. Photographs, Ambrotypes, Malenotypes, Daguerotypes, and the celebrated Marble-back Ambrotype, an article far superior to any ever before offered, are all got up in admirable style, by Mr. Gray, the Artist, at the Daguerotype Saloon, of Mr. Chapman, on the Green, north of the Stone Chapel. Here is offered every description of likeness—from the most simple but perfect, to the most beautiful and enduring—executed and finished in an manner not to be surpassed by any similar establishment in the Union; and at a cost which places them within the reach of all. "Still we live," is their motto. May they continue to live and flourish, until every son and daughter of Adam has stamped their image nobly upon the age, and left a memento, that as time rolls on, loved and cherished features may again be recognized.

SARSAPILLA. This tropical root has a reputation wide as the world, for curing one class of the disorders that afflict mankind—a reputation too which it deserves as the best antidote we possess for scrofulous complaints. But to be brought into use, its virtues must be concentrated and combined with other medicines that increase its power. Some reliable compound of this character is most needed in the community. Read the advertisement of Dr. ALEX'S SARSAPILLA in our columns, and we know it needs no encomium from us to give our citizens confidence in what we offer.—Organ, Syracuse, N. Y.

GET NO OTHERS. If you are suffering from cuts, wounds, sores, burns, chapped hands, erysipelas, corns, chilblains, etc., procure a lot of Redding's Russia Salve, the greatest healing remedy ever discovered. Sold by all druggists, 25 cents a box.

GREAT STOCK OF WINTER CLOTHING.—J. W. Smith & Co., corner Dock Square and Elm street, Boston, are closing out their entire stock of Winter Clothing, at the lowest possible prices for cash. An opportunity is now offered to secure the very best Ready-made Clothing ever manufactured. The stock embraces every description of garments, such as Overcoats, Business Coats, Pants, Vests, &c., of the latest styles and best materials, all made in a superior manner.

Boston Correspondence.

BOSTON, DEC. 1. 1859.

European news—England and France.—California Affairs.—Burnham's Liquor extension matters.—The fate of John Brown: great sympathy for him in the Northern States; the day of his execution to be one of mourning; he suffers capital punishment under the laws of Virginia.—The people of other States in the Union have no legal right to interfere.—Results of Abolitionism.

According to the latest advices from Europe there was a gloom pervading the business circles of England, evidently through the influence of unfavorable forebodings of war with France. From what we can glean out of the English prints, it is evident that a bad feeling exists between England and France, which may lead yet to open war. In both nations there dwells a strong war party. The Italian question remains unsettled. Italy asks to be recognized as a nation governing herself; and she will never be quiet until she takes her legitimate position with other European powers.

The latest news from California, where so many of our New England community have friends, is quite cheering; business was improving and the gold mines yielded in abundance. Nearly two millions of gold have reached New York from the Pacific within a week past, continuing to keep the money market very quiet in the Atlantic cities.

Our weekly local news is always more interesting. The Burnham case is nearly disposed of. The Liquor Committee will report in a few days, the result of their investigations. We can guess at the substance of the Report; a condemnation of Burnham and his associates in the liquor trade, with a recommendation to turn the sage of Melrose over to the cold mercies of the Attorney General. The Burnham matter has been about talked out, resulting we should think in a general condemnation of his course as State Liquor Agent.

Before this communication is set into type "Old Brown" of Harper's Ferry notoriety, will have passed from earth. His approaching execution has a deep hold upon the minds of the people of the Free States, and the sympathy for him and his family increases in intensity, as the hour of his death draws near. This is certainly creditable to humanity. And we have a right as Christian men and women to express our sorrows, at so sad a drama, that is to be acted in real life at Charlestown, Virginia. But we must bear in mind that Brown and his confederates, though few in number, entered the State of Virginia, to kindle insurrection among the slaves, thereby to wage civil war and bloodshed in that community. For his criminal acts committed on the soil of Virginia, he is amenable only to the laws of that State. He has been tried by its laws, condemned by its laws, and will suffer to-morrow their extreme penalty. And the people of the other States of the Union have no right to interfere in the matter.

Suppose a fugitive slave should find his way to Boston, pursuit was made for him by his masters, warrant issued for the arrest of the slave for examination before a judicial tribunal; and resistance was made, by which, in attempting to arrest the slave the owner in the melee shot an Abolitionist, the cry would at once be among the anti-slavery community here, death to the slave holder. We say more in sorrow than anger, that the Harpers' Ferry insurrection, has done and is doing much to break the bond of union that holds the confederacy together. The South is daily growing more hostile to the North, and our friendly and even business ties are fast diminishing. In Congress it is easy to foresee there will be troublesome times this winter, and many duels are likely to grow out of the Harper's Ferry difficulties.

For the Patriot.
"Old John Brown"

When the Harper's Ferry insurrection was first announced, as a treasonable design against the laws of the land, it was attributed to insanity on the part of Brown, by the abolitionist; but since he has had an impartial trial, and a just verdict of treason has been brought in against him by the jury, and he by the laws of the country, doomed to a traitor's death, have changed their tune all at once. He is now pronounced by them the greatest martyr, and patriot, since the time of Miltiades, Leonidas, Themistocles, down to the noble heroes whose ashes lie urned on the plains of Monmouth, Yorktown and Bunker's immortal heights, and a suitable co-patriot to lay side by side, with the Father of his Country, on the banks of the Potomac—to whose shrine annual pilgrimages are to be made, from all parts of the world, and especially by the Great Eastern, she probably being chartered for the occasion.

Such language and sympathy for an offender against law and order, is unbecoming to the American people, and it shows that the reason of the abolitionist, is somewhat extended; including Banks, &c.; who are very little for the national laws of the land; as they are willing to let them slide under certain circumstances,—this may be one of them.

The course the abolition politicians have taken in this matter is not so much to be wondered at, as they wish to keep up their party organization. But when clergymen enter the arena, we think they have mistaken their calling. It is lamentable to see these oracles who profess to teach the doctrines and precepts of Christ, profane the very principles they attempt to promulgate by giving encouragement to those who have violated the very laws of the country, that they are in duty bound to protect. The great law-giver in his Sermon on the Mount, also condemns them in the following language: "Blessed are the peace-makers—for they shall be called the children of God." We should like to know if peace-making consists in furnishing individuals with arms, and ammunition, for the purpose of shooting down peaceable citizens, and encouraging them to turn down the dwellings of defenceless women and children, as was the case in the late insurrection.

The late public charitable demonstration held at Boston, it is said was for the benefit of old Brown's family, and had nothing to do with him, although they took an extract from one of his purported crazy letters in reference to his wife and children to preach from; is not charity and sympathy for his family, also the same for him—we think it is. When England, France or our own government grant money or assistance to the families of those who have fallen in defence of an honorable cause, it is usually considered not only a benevolent act towards the bereaved, but also an incentive to emulate others to enlist in the same undertaking.

These charitable individuals say nothing about the fatherless, and widowed mothers, caused by Brown and his comrades, in shooting down the peaceable citizens at Harper's Ferry; who were defending their homes, and the constituted laws of the land. Which is most worthy of sympathy—those who acted in the defence, or Brown and his treasonable conspirators? The Rev. gentlemen, Neale, Manning, A. L. Stone, and Miner, who have sympathized with Brown and his confederates, and some of them endorsing the "piety" of a convicted murderer, need their own prayers, as we fear there is something else in them beside the humble teachings of Christ.

For the Patriot
The Human Ear
BY DR. BABBITT.

The organ of hearing is one of the most complicated parts of the human body, and owing probably to the difficulty of the subject, the physiology of the ear, has been involved in not a little obscurity and error, until recently.

Thanks to a few persevering scientific men, the mechanism of the ear is now clearly understood by physiologists, and without entering into an elaborate description of the ear, the aim of this paper will be merely to give a general idea of the subject, according to the latest authorities.

The external ear (Pinna) is only for the purpose of collecting the waves of sound, and directing them to the internal ear.

The internal ear for convenience of description may be divided into three parts: First, the Ear Drum.

Second, the Cochlea, a conical tube wound spirally, three times round a central line, and resembling a snail's shell in appearance.

Third, the Labyrinth—a number of irregular tubes. This part, particularly, has in all former times been a mystery and puzzle to medical men.

These are the three principal parts of the ear anatomically considered.

Now, what are the three peculiarities of sound?

1st. Intensity, that is soft or loud.

2d. Its note or pitch, high or low.

3d. Its quality; for two sounds of the same intensity and note may differ. The sound of the violin differs from that of the flute, and this again from the human voice.

Our modern physiologists have discovered that the ear is so constructed, that it is affected by these peculiarities, and transmits them to the mind.

The Ear Drum is that part which recognizes the intensity of the sound.

II. The Cochlea, is that part which recognizes the note or pitch of sounds, and any one who recalls the structure of a harp, or the gradually shorter strings of the piano, cannot fail to be impressed with the resemblance.

Our modern physiologists have discovered that the ear is so constructed, that it is affected by these peculiarities, and transmits them to the mind.

The Ear Drum is that part which recognizes the intensity of the sound.

II. The Cochlea, is that part which recognizes the note or pitch of sounds, and any one who recalls the structure of a harp, or the gradually shorter strings of the piano, cannot fail to be impressed with the resemblance.

Our modern physiologists have discovered that the ear is so constructed, that it is affected by these peculiarities, and transmits them to the mind.

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY.—This is one of the best publications in the country. Its editorials are sound and instructive,—its selections are the choicest and best,—and its typographical appearance unsurpassed. See advertisement in another column.

WORMS! WORMS! A great many learned treatises have been written, explaining the origin of, and classifying the worms generated in the human system. Scarcely any topic of medical science has elicited more acute observation and profound research; and yet physicians are very much divided in opinion on the subject. It must be admitted, however, that, after all, a mode of expelling these worms, and purifying the body from their presence, is of more value than the wisest disquisitions as to the origin. The expelling agent has at length been found—Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge, prepared by Fleming Bros., is the much sought after specific, and has already superseded all other worm medicines, its efficacy being universally acknowledged by medical practitioners.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'Lane's celebrated vermifuge, manufactured by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores.—None genuine without the signature of Fleming Bros.

A CARD.
The subscriber would return her sincere thanks to the firemen and citizens generally for the valuable aid rendered by them in saving her property from the devouring flame, on the evening of the burning of the Episcopal Church, in this town. Such acts of kindness will be long remembered.
Mrs. H. E. MOORE.
Quincy, Dec. 3 1w

Special Notices.

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION at Barker's Hall, on MONDAY EVENING, Dec. 5th, at 7 o'clock.

Question for Debate.
Are the manifestations of human life that we call evil or sinful a necessity of the conditions of our Saviour's progress?
Per Order, C. H. PORTER, Sec'y.
Quincy, Dec. 3. 1w

SPIRITUALISTS' MEETING.
Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.
In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall,
Mrs. M. S. Townsend, of Vermont, will speak to-morrow.
Quincy, Dec. 3d. 1w

NOTICE. The regular monthly meeting of Niagara Engine Company, No. 1, will be held this (SATURDAY) evening, at 7 1/2 o'clock. A punctual attendance of all the members is particularly requested, as business of importance will come before the meeting.
Per Order,
EDWARD BENT, Clerk.
Quincy, Dec. 3, 1859. 1w

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

Dr. Dupouco's Golden Pills for Females.
One of the most successful remedies ever discovered for female complaints. "One of the first ladies of New London," who has used them says, she considers them of so much value she would not be without them, and would cheerfully pay five dollars a box for them if she could get them no less. The ingredients of these Pills are made known to every agent, and they tell you it is the best female medicine ever sold, at the same time perfectly harmless. Price $1 per box. Sold by Mrs. E. Hayden sold agent for Quincy.

Ladies by sending her $1 through the Quincy P. O., can have the Pills sent to any part of the country confidentially by mail. WEEKS & POTTER, 154 Washington Street, Boston, wholesale agents.

S. C. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y.
Quincy, Nov. 19th, 1859. 1y

Marriages.

In Boston, on the 24th ult., Mr. James Caldwell, of Stoughton, to Miss Christina Hendrick, of this town.

At Saugus, on the 28th ult., by Rev. Levi Brigham, William Faxon, of Cambridge, to Miss Henrietta Brooks, daughter of Thaddeus W. Cross, formerly of this town.

Deaths.

In this town, 29th ult., Mrs. Clara, wife of Mr. William E. Colburn, aged 35 years.

On the 30th ult., Mrs. Eliza Ann, wife of Mr. George K. Savil, and daughter of the late B. B. Newcomb, aged 21 years, 7 months and 11 days.

Funeral (this afternoon) at two o'clock P. M., from the residence of her mother on Washington street, Quincy Point.

On the 1st inst., Mrs. Sarah C., wife of Mr. James Bradford, aged 42 years.

At Canton, recently, Samuel Kinsley Sprue, aged 90 years. Mr. S., many years ago, carried on the tailoring business at Milton Lower Mills, and was once a resident of this town.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
In Insolvency, NORFOLK, ss. Dec. 2d, A. D. 1859

NOTICE is hereby given that the Hon. George White, Judge of Probate and Insolvency, in and for the said County of Norfolk, has issued a Warrant against the Estate of JOSEPH LYMAN, of West Roxbury, in said County, gentleman, and the payment of any debts and the delivery of any property, belonging to said Insolvent Debtor, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any property by him are forbidden by law.

A meeting of his creditors will be held at the Court of Insolvency, at the Insolvency Court Room, at Dedham, in said County, on the First MONDAY of JANUARY, next, at Nine o'clock in the Forenoon, for the proof of debts and the choice of an Assignee or Assignees.

JOHN W. THOMAS, Sheriff.
Quincy, Dec. 3—3t

Quincy Loan Fund Association.

THE regular monthly meeting will be held at the Lyceum Room, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Dec. 7th, at 8 o'clock.
The Members of this Association have the privilege of withdrawing the amount paid by them for Dues with interest on the same at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum.
LOUIS CONGDON, Sec'y.
Quincy, Dec. 3d, 1859. 1w

Insolvency Notice.

THE Third meeting of the creditors of HERRICK GORE, of Braintree, Insolvent Debtor, will be held at the Court of Insolvency, at Dedham, in the County of Norfolk, on the second day of January next, at nine o'clock, in the forenoon, at which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.
E. B. STODDARD, Assignee.
Worcester, Dec. 3d, 1859. 2w

NEW STOCK.

THE subscriber wishes to call the attention of the citizens of Quincy and vicinity to his New Stock of De Laines, Prints, Linens, Table Covers, Napkins,
HOSIERY, GLOVES, MITTENS,
Clouds Hoods, Under Sleeves, and a great variety of FANCY GOODS, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS, SHIRTS, COLLARS, POCKET HANDKERCHIEFS, Bosoms, Suspenders, Gloves, Mittens, &c. &c.

Also—
Just received a large lot of WORSTEDS, of every shade for working or knitting.
Please give a call at my Store on HANCOCK STREET, next door to B. F. Meserve's.

Quincy, Dec. 3
WARREN VEAZIE.
if

Executrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executrix of the Will of

HENRY P. DOBLE, late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Trader, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to ELVIRA DOBLE, Executrix, or to
WM. B. DUGGAN, her Attorney.
Quincy, Dec. 3d, 1859. 3w

6th Annual Announcement.

CONTINUED SUCCESS OF THE COSMOPOLITAN ART ASSOCIATION.

FROM all sections of the country subscribers to this popular Art Institution, (now in its sixth year,) are being received in a ratio unparalleled with that of any previous year.
ANY PERSON CAN BECOME A MEMBER by subscribing $3 which will entitle him to 1st—The beautiful Steel Engraving, "Shakespeare and His Friends."
2d—A copy of the elegantly Illustrated Art Journal, one year.
3d—A Free Season Admission to the Galleries, 548 Broadway, New York.

In addition to which, over four hundred valuable Works of Art are given to subscribers as Premiums, comprising choice Paintings, Sculptures, Quilans, &c., by the first American and Foreign Artists.

The superb Engraving, which every subscriber will receive immediately on receipt of subscription, entitled

"SHAKESPEARE AND HIS FRIENDS," is of a character to give unequalled pleasure and satisfaction. No work of equal value was ever before placed within the reach of the people at such a price. The Engraving is of very large size, being printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 28 inches, making a most superbly ornament suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor, or office. It can be sent to any part of the country, by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Think of it! Such a work, delivered free of charge, and the Art Journal, one year, for $3. Subscriptions will be received until TUESDAY evening, Jan. 25th, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15 are entitled to six memberships.
Address C. L. DERRY, Attorney C. A. A., 516 and 548 Broadway, N. Y.
Subscriptions also received by C. A. HOWLAND, Hon. Sec. for Quincy and vicinity.
Quincy, Dec. 3 1f

Special Notice.

BY THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

NORFOLK, ss.
WHEREAS, the law of 1859 provides that no County debt shall be authorized or contracted, in any one year, or for any one object, exceeding thirty dollars for each and every thousand inhabitants of such County, subject only to the right to renew the County debt then existing, or to negotiate a loan in anticipation of the annual tax, and to be repaid therefrom:

And whereas, the amount of appropriations necessary for Criminal Costs, Salaries, Repairs of Court House, Jail and House of Correction, Terms of Court, Inquests, Fuel, Custody and Support of Prisoners, &c., &c., are not within the control of this Board, and the taxes granted during two years past having been less than the amount required in the annual estimates:

Now, therefore, all parties whose petitions are pending concerning improvements in highways, or whose applications for any cause may, in any mode, involve an expenditure from the County Treasury, must take notice of this limitation of the right to contract County debts, as no expenditure can be made in violation of the Statute, whatever the expediency, even though delays and continuances, from year to year, should be the result.

Oct 28, 1859 oam3m

LOST.

ON WEDNESDAY evening, Nov. 16th, either on Elm or Washington street, a Field Fur Tippet. The finder shall be suitably rewarded by leaving it at the Store of

H. VINAL.

Quincy, Nov 19 3w

Apples! Apples!!

THE subscriber has just received a large assortment of Apples, consisting of Greenings, Baldwins, Rosets, Spitzenburgs, &c., of an extra quality, and would invite the public to examine the stock.

Quincy, Nov. 12
HOWARD VINAL.
if

DON'T FAIL TO SEE SIXTH ANNUAL ANNOUNCEMENT, and brilliant offers, in our columns.

DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE
AND LIVER PILLS.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the Trade, and more especially the Physicians of the country, to two of the most popular remedies now before the public. We refer to

Dr. Chas. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills.

We do not recommend them as universal Cure-alls, but simply for what their name purports, viz.:

THE VERMIFUGE,
For expelling Worms from the human system. It has also been administered with the most satisfactory results to various Animals subject to Worms.

THE LIVER PILLS,
For the cure of LIVER COMPLAINTS, all BILIOUS DERANGEMENTS, SICK HEAD-ACHE, &c. In cases of

FEVER AND AGUE,

preparatory to or after taking Quinine, they almost invariably make a speedy and permanent cure.

As specifics for the above mentioned diseases, they are Unrivaled, and never known to fail when administered in accordance with the directions.

Their unprecedented popularity has induced the proprietors,

FLEMING BROTHERS,

PITTSBURGH, PA.

to dispose of their Drug business, in which they have been successfully engaged for the last Twenty Years, and they will now give their undivided time and attention to their manufacture. And being determined that Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills shall continue to occupy the high position they now hold among the great remedies of the day, they will continue to spare neither time nor expense in procuring the Best and Purest material, and compound them in the most thorough manner. Address all orders to

FLEMING BROS. Pittsburgh, Pa.

P. S. Dealers and Physicians ordering from above than Fleming Bros., will do well to write their orders distinctly, and take none but Dr. M'Lane's, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburgh, Pa. To those wishing to cut them a trial, we will forward per mail, post-paid, one pair of the United States, one box of Pills for twelve thousand postage stamps, or one pair of Vermifuge for fourteen thousand stamps. All orders from Canada must be accompanied by twenty cents extra.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers in Medicines everywhere.
Pennysylvania, Dec. 3 1y

Look at This! Money Wanted!

J. W. LOMBARD has on hand a very large and desirable stock of Gents' Overcoats, Dress Coats, Pants, Vests, etc., etc.,

which he is selling at prices that cannot fail to give satisfaction. Also, a good assortment of

Boys' Clothing, cheap for Cash!

Call and examine for yourselves. Buy if you wish to look as much and as long as you have a mind to. Address
Quincy, Dec. 3, 1859. 1f

$200 REWARD.

WHEREAS, the Episcopal Church in this town was destroyed by fire, on SATURDAY evening the 19th inst., and there can be no doubt that it was the work of an incendiary, the above reward will be paid to any person that will give such information as will convict the person or persons who set said fire.

And the above reward will also be paid to any person who shall detect any one in setting fire to any building of the value of Two Hundred Dollars within the Town until the first day of March next, on conviction of the offender.

DANIEL BAXTER, } Selectmen
EDMUND POPE, } of
JONA. JAMESON, } Quincy,
Quincy, Nov. 26th, 1859. 1f

$100 Reward.

THE above reward will be paid to any person who will give information to the Directors of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company, that will lead to the conviction of the incendiary who set fire to the EPISCOPAL CHURCH in this village, burnt on the 20th inst.

STEPHEN BATES, Secretary.
Quincy, Nov. 26. 1f

$50 Reward.

WHEREAS several fires have been set in the woods in Quincy the past ten days, either carelessly or maliciously, the above reward will be paid to any person who will give such information as will convict the person or persons who set said fires.

And the above reward will be paid to any person who shall detect any one setting fire as above, on conviction of the offender, until the first day of March next.

DANIEL BAXTER, } Selectmen
EDMUND POPE, } of
J. JAMESON, } Quincy,
Quincy, May 6th, 1859. 1f

READ THAT

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the underscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of FISHER A. KINGSBURG, late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, in said County, and has said trust.

All persons having demands on the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to
JOHN CAPEN, Administrator.
Boston, Nov. 19, 1859. 3w*

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the underscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

ELISHA HOBART, late of Braintree, in the County of Norfolk, in said County, and has said trust.

All persons having demands on the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to ADAM HOBART, Administrator.
Braintree, Nov. 19 3w*

NORFOLK, ss.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners for said County, at Dedham, in and for said County, October 28th, A. D. 1859, by adjournment of the September meeting, next prece-

UPON the petition of A. B. Wales and others, freeholders and legal citizens, representing that there is a certain street in the Town of Weymouth, called Commercial street, lying between Washington street in said Town and the store of Ebenezer Humphrey, which said Commissioners have passed the exact location

DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the Trade, and more especially the Physicians of the country, to two of the most popular remedies now before the public. We refer to

Dr. Chas. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills.

We do not recommend them as universal Cure-alls, but simply for what their name purports, viz.:

THE VERMIFUGE,
For expelling Worms from the human system. It has also been administered with the most satisfactory results to various Animals subject to Worms.

THE LIVER PILLS,
For the cure of LIVER COMPLAINTS, all BILIOUS DERANGEMENTS, SICK HEAD-ACHE, &c. In cases of

FEVER AND AGUE,
preparatory to or after taking Quinine, they almost invariably make a speedy and permanent cure.

As specifics for the above mentioned diseases, they are Unrivalled, and never known to fail when administered in accordance with the directions.

Their unprecedented popularity has induced the proprietors, FLEMING BROTHERS,

PITTSBURGH, PA.,
to dispose of their Drug business, in which they have been successfully engaged for the last Twenty Years, and they will now give their undivided time and attention to their manufacture. And being determined that Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills shall continue to occupy the high position they now hold among the great remedies of the day, they will continue to spare neither time or expense in procuring the Best and Purest material, and compound them in the most thorough manner. Address all orders to

FLEMING BROS. Pittsburgh, Pa.

P.S. Dealers and Physicians ordering from others in Fleming Bros. will do well to write their order directly, and take note that Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge and Liver Pills, Pittsburgh, Pa. To those wishing to procure a trial, we will forward per mail, post paid, to any part of the United States, one box of 100 for two recent postage stamps, or one of 50 for one recent postage stamp. All orders for trial boxes must be accompanied by twenty cents extra.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers in Medicines everywhere.
Pennyman, Dec. 3 15

look at This! Money Wanted!

W. LOMBARD has on hand a very large and desirable stock of Boys' Overcoats, Dress Coats, Pants, Vests, etc., etc., which he is selling at prices that cannot fail to give satisfaction. Also, a good assortment of Boys' Clothing, cheap for Cash!

Call and examine for yourselves. Buy if you wish to look as much and as long as you have time to do so. Quincy, Dec. 3, 1859. tf

$200 REWARD.

WHEREAS, the Episcopal Church in this town was destroyed by fire, on SATURDAY evening the 19th inst., and there can be no doubt that it was the work of incendiaries, the reward will be paid to any person that will furnish information as will convict the person or persons who set said fire.

And the above reward will also be paid to any one who shall detect any one setting fire to the town, or to the Episcopal Church, on the 20th inst. of March next.

DANIEL BAXTER, Selectmen of Quincy, Nov. 26th, 1859. tf

$100 Reward.

THE above reward will be paid to any person who will give information to the Directors of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company, that will lead to the conviction of the incendiary who set fire to the EPISCOPAL CHURCH in this village, burnt on the 20th inst. of March next.

STEPHEN BATES, Secretary.
Quincy, Nov. 26. tf

$50 Reward.

WHEREAS several fires have been set in the woods in Quincy the past ten months either carelessly or maliciously, the reward will be paid to any person who shall detect any one setting fire in the woods, on conviction of the offender, until the first day of March next.

DANIEL BAXTER, Selectmen of Quincy, May 6th, 1859. tf

$50 Reward.

THE above reward will be paid to any person who shall detect any one setting fire in the woods, on conviction of the offender, until the first day of March next.

DANIEL BAXTER, Selectmen of Quincy, May 6th, 1859. tf

READ THAT

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscribing has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

FISHER A. KINGSBURY,
late of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, Counselor at Law, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

JOHN CAPEEN, Administrator,
Boston, Nov. 19, 1859. 3w*

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscribing has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

ELISHA HOBART,
late of Braintree, in the County of Norfolk, Yeoman, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

ADAM HOBART, Administrator
Braintree, Nov. 19. 3w*

NORFOLK, ss. At a meeting of the County Commissioners for said County, holden at Dedham, in and for said County, on October 28th, A. D. 1859, by adjournment of the September meeting, next preceding.

UPON the petition of A. B. Wales and others, freeholders and legal citizens, representing that there is a certain street in the Town of Weymouth, called Commercial street, leading from Washington street in said Town, near the store belonging to the heirs of the late Cotton Tait, to the store of Ebenezer Humphrey, over which said Commissioners have jurisdiction, the exact location and bounds of which cannot readily be ascertained, and requesting the Commissioners to ascertain, alter, correct and establish the location of said street, erect the necessary bounds and cause a certificate thereof to be duly filed and recorded, according to the statute in such case made and provided. It appearing to the Commissioners upon investigation that said representations are correct (and due notice having been given to all persons and corporations interested, and especially to the Town of Weymouth and the South Shore Railroad Company) the Commissioners met at the hotel known as Wales' Hotel, in Weymouth, on June 29th, 1859, at 10 A. M., the time and place before designated, and thereupon proceeded and took said action, and heard all persons and corporations interested, and said case was then continued to the next regular meeting, and from time to time till the date thereof, and said Commissioners adjudge that public necessity and convenience require that said way should be relocated, its bounds defined and it is established.

By the County Commissioners.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, Chairman.

On the Adjournment aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at Wales' Hotel, in Weymouth, in said County, on TUESDAY, the twenty-seventh day of December next, at ten o'clock A. M., and thereupon proceed to view and locate said way anew, define and establish the bounds thereof, and take such action and make such alterations therein as by law they may be authorized to do; and that an attested copy of said Adjournment, with this Order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Weymouth, and upon the President or Clerk, or Treasurer, of the South Shore Railroad Company, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said day of meeting; and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said day of meeting; and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in said Weymouth, fourteen days at least before said day of meeting, that all persons and corporations interested, may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.
A true copy of the Adjournment on file, and Order thereon.

Attest.
EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.
Nov. 26. 3w

Collector's Sale.

I SHALL sell the following described Real Estate, situated in the Town of Quincy, at Public Sale, on SATURDAY, Dec. 17th, at 3 o'clock, P. M., for the non-payment of Taxes, given to me to collect for the year, 1859.

Lots Nos. 28, 29 and 30, on Greenleaf Place, taxed to G. H. Nott of Boston. Tax $2 10 and cost.

Lots Nos. 41 and 42, taxed to C. P. Seelman of Manchester, N. H. Tax $1 40 and cost.

Lot No. 49, taxed to Charles Tuttle of Boston. Tax 70 cents and cost.

Lot 51, taxed to Abigail Lath of Boston. Tax 70 cents and cost.

The above lots are on Greenleaf Place and bounded and described as per plan of sale, and signed by N. A. Thompson, dated Aug. 12th, 1846.

ALSO—Land and two Houses of Edward H. Adams of Milton. Tax $19 60 and cost.

Five acres of marsh belonging to the Heirs of John Rogers of Milton. Tax $3 50 and cost.

The above will be sold at the time and place mentioned above, unless the taxes and cost are previously paid.

C. A. CUMMINGS, Collector.
P.S. I shall commence next week, to receive the property of RESIDENTS, who have not paid their taxes for the last two years.

C. A. CUMMINGS, Collector.
Quincy, Nov. 19. 3w

Collector's Sale in Weymouth.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscribing will sell at Public Auction, on the Twelfth day of Jan. next, at three o'clock, P. M., on the premises, for the payment of the taxes assessed thereon, for the year 1859.

A tract of Land situated near the house of Nathaniel Pratt, in Weymouth. Said Land is bounded as follows, to wit: Westerly by Cotton street, Northernly by land of said Nathaniel Pratt, Easternly by Old Colony Railroad, Southernly by Dexter Pratt of Weymouth. Said Land is assessed to Dexter Pratt of Weymouth, for Town, State and County purposes, in the sum of three dollars and twenty-two cents. District tax in the fifth school district, in Weymouth, in the sum of twenty-three cents.

The same will be sold as aforesaid in the name of said Pratt, for the payment of said taxes, unless said taxes, and the legal expenses thereon, are previously paid.

C. BATES, Collector of Taxes,
for the Town of Weymouth.
Weymouth, Nov. 26. 3w*

NEW FALL AND WINTER STYLES

OVERCOATS,
Business Frocks, and Sacks, Dress Frocks, Pantaloons and Vests, now ready at the

ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,
158 Washington St. Boston,
Macular & Williams,
Boston, Nov. 5 2m

ELEGANT STOCK OF DRY GOODS!
5 TREMONT ROW, BOSTON.

BLAKE & CO.
INVITE the attention of the public to their large and new Stock of

Rich Fall Silks,
AND SILK ROBES,
Shawls, Capes, Cloaks, Cloaking, and Velvets,
RICH AND NEW STYLES.

Printed Thibets,
CASHMERES, DELAINES,
VALENTIAS, &c.

We have just opened a CLOAK MANUFACTORY of our own, and our stock of Cloak, Tailor, &c., is unsurpassed. Garments made to order and warranted.

Having purchased largely from the recent New York Auctions, we are prepared to give the public the best bargains in Dry Goods, particularly in SILKS.

BLAKE & CO.
5 TREMONT ROW,
Opposite head of Hanover Street, BOSTON.
Sept. 24. 2m

85 Washington St. 85
JOY'S BUILDING,
Nearly opp. the head of State street. Boston.

STRANGERS AND OTHERS
In pursuit of a first Class

CLOTHING ESTABLISHMENT,
WHERE their orders will be promptly and faithfully executed in a style unsurpassed by any other house in the city, will please to call as above, where the most choice selections of Rich and

Fashionable Goods,
Adapted to the season, will be offered at prices 60-70 CORRESPONDINGLY LOW. (C)

We keep on hand, a large assortment of

Nice Clothing for Gents' Wear.
Ready Made, and equal to the nicest Custom Work.

—IS OUR—
BOYS' DEPARTMENT.
Every variety and style of Garments suitable for Boys and Youth's wear from 7 years up, can be found, or Garments made to measure for such as desired.

In this Department we claim superiority. Our prices are uniform, and none but the best class of work will be offered for sale. A most perfect fit will be guaranteed for the most ill-favored boy.

ORDERS SOLICITED.
CALLOW & CO.
FASHIONABLE TAILORS,
85 Washington St. Joy's Building,
Boston, Nov. 12. 6w

RADE CHANCE FOR BARGAINS.

Paper Hangings at Cost.
WE SHALL CLOSE OFF a large part of our PAPER HANGINGS, at very low prices, as follows:—

8 CENT PAPERS FOR 5 CENTS
10 " " " 6 " "
12 " " " 7 " "
15 " " " 9 " "
20 " " " 12 " "
25 " " " 15 " "

And all others in the same proportion. Borderings at the same low prices.

THERE WILL BE NO RESERVE. But all can have their Choice, from our samples, as when selling at full prices. All small remnants and odd lots still cheaper.

If you are going to use Paper any time in the next six months, it will pay to buy now from this lot.

A. C. GILL & Co.'s
Quincy, Nov. 5. tf

Now is the Time.
THE time has now come for making a change in my prices. I have marked down my Stock and

Shall Sell at Reduced Prices,
and I would invite the

ATTENTION OF ALL
that are in want of Goods in my line, to

Call and Examine
them. I will assure my customers and the public generally, that an examination of my stock will convince them that there is no exaggeration in saying

My Prices are Below the market prices.
Also—A rare opportunity is given to purchasers of

Paper Hangings.
My Entire Stock is offered AT COST, TO MAKE ROOM FOR NEW SPRING SUPPLY.

CALEB PACKARD,
GOODNOW'S BUILDING,
Corner of Hancock and Granite Sts.
Quincy, Nov. 5. tf

MR. J. Q. ADAMS
WILL attend at his office in Johnson's Building, from 9 o'clock A. M. until four 4 o'clock P. M., every TUESDAY and FRIDAY throughout the Winter.

Grover & Baker's
CELEBRATED
FAMILY
Sewing Machines!
Over 30,000 in use

SALESMAN IN BOSTON.
18 SUMMER STREET.
AGENCIES THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

QUINCY, Nov. 12. 2w

DRESSMAKING.

MISS L. C. KELLY, begs leave to inform her friends and former customers, that she has returned to town, and renewed her business of

DRESSMAKING!
ON FRANKLIN STREET,
(Opposite Mr. Adam Curtis' shop.)

Where she hopes by unremitting attention to her business, that she will be enabled to merit a share of that patronage which has hitherto been so liberally bestowed on her. She would have no objection to work in families by the day or week.

She would also add, that during the past four months, she has made herself acquainted with all the Modern Improvements in Dressmaking.

Quincy, Sept. 10. tf

MILLINERY
AND
DRESS MAKING.

Mrs. M. E. Curtis
WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy and Vicinity, that she has received a

New and Fashionable Assortment
OF
MILLINERY GOODS,
suitable for the season, consisting of

Velvets, Satins, Flowers Ribbons, Ruches, &c.
Straw, Fancy and Mourning Bonnets, ready-made and trimmed, or made to order.

AN EXPERIENCED MILLINER will be ready to execute orders promptly and faithfully. Dresses, and all the latest styles of Cloaks and outside garments, cut to order, and warranted to suit customers. Also, Dress Buttons, Corsets, Watchspring Skirts, Worsted Goods, with a variety of articles too numerous to mention, for sale as low as they can be purchased elsewhere.

Quincy, Oct. 22. tf

CHEAP CHEAPER
CHEAPEST.

New Arrangement.
GOOD NEWS FOR THE LADIES.

Prices Reduced.
IN consequence of the extreme dullness in nearly all branches of business at the present time, I shall reduce my prices for

CASH AND CASH ONLY!
And from the 1st of November until January 1st, shall have and trim Bonnets for 20 cents, (former price 25 cents) shall make Plain Bonnets, from 30 to 60 cents. (former price 50 cents) &c. &c. I therefore exert my efforts for the good of the many. Who would wish to do their own Millinery, when for so small a compensation it can be done in

GOOD STYLE
by those devoting their whole time to the business? This is sufficient inducement, we think, for the

MOST ECONOMIZING.
to patronize those in this department of trade, and who are competent, by years of experience, of completing a well arranged and neat Bonnet, or Trimming.

I have received a splendid assortment of

Millinery Goods
FOR FALL AND WINTER,
CONSISTING OF

Bonnets—in pretty styles, colored and white Straw, from 50 cents to $1. Those at 50 cents are a Decided Bargain

Ribbons—one hundred new pieces in beautiful styles and high colors from 17 to 50 cents per yard. Also a great variety of narrow ribbons, pretty for children's bonnets and dress trimmings from 10 to 16 cents.

Flowers—I have the largest variety ever before in Quincy, of French and American manufactures, at prices varying from 10 to 42 cents.

Bonnet Velvets—From 2 to $4 per yard. Any color desired that I have not may be obtained to order.

Bonnets—will be made from this material in GOOD STYLE, trimmed with feathers and flowers, as low as $1.50, or higher prices as wished. I have also another material which I will make into bonnets for $3 to $5.50

Satins—in good variety of colors, desirable this season with lace and flowers for Misses' Bonnets.

Feathers—I have a good assortment of different colors and prices; some as low as 25 cts.

Laces and Edgings—in different quality and prices

Ruches—made by hand Also the joined bonnet of a low price—some Very Nice which would make a splendid finish

Velvet Ribbons—by the piece or yard, all widths, at low prices

Children's Cap-crown Satin Hoods—made to order. Also, Ladies' Hoods and Head-dresses

Dress Caps—from 25 cts to $1.50—Black and White

Chemise—of different colors, soft and white

Mourning Furnishing Goods,
Such as Veils, Collars, Gloves, Gape by the yard, Alpaca for Gape of Hats, &c. I would call especial attention when desired, to our MOURNING BONNETS, of which we have samples at Very Low Prices.

Gloves, in every material need for that purpose

Those leaving orders for any style of Bonnet—trimmed straw, satin silk or velvet—we will endeavor to give satisfaction, both in price and style of work

Bonnets made over and repaired in the best manner

OLD LADIES can have frames fitted to the head and Bonnets made suitable for their age, by giving us a call.

N. B.—I have on hand a good assortment of Misses' Bonnets in pretty styles—Trimmed Straws—Silk, Satin and Velvet Bonnets, which will be sold at low prices.

ROOMS—Goodnow's Building, Corner of Hancock and Granite streets.
A J. KENISON.
Quincy, Nov. 12. tf

Painting Business.

THE subscribers having formed a partnership in business, under the firm of

DAVENPORT & POPE,
and having opened a Shop, on the premises of George Curtis, in School Street, are now prepared to answer all orders with neatness and dispatch

Painting, Graining, Varnishing and GLAZING,
done to satisfaction, and in a workmanlike manner.

Small as well as large jobs thankfully received; and a share of public patronage respectfully solicited.

WILLIAM DAVENPORT,
CHARLES E. POPE.
Quincy, Oct. 9. 3w

Cheap! A Good Chance.
J. F. BURRELL has a few pairs of those $1 75 Men's Thick Sole'd Calf Congress Boots, which he will sell for $1 62.

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the former price $1 88, which he will sell for $1 58. Men's Congress Boots—Old Price $2 00—for $1 75.

Ladies' Misses' and Children's Boots and Shoes for sale and warranted.

Next Door to Quincy Market House.
HANCOCK STREET.
Quincy, March 12. tf

COAL! COAL!
THE Subscriber has for sale at his Wharf the most desirable qualities of Coal, and has just received a cargo of Superior Red Ash Coal.

—ALSO—
TREVERTON COAL,
which is equal to the celebrated Franklin Coal, and which is warranted to give entire satisfaction. I have also the celebrated

John's Coal for Furnaces,
which is too well known to comment on.

ALSO—All the different sizes and qualities which may be wanted—Egg, Stove, &c. &c. ALSO—Cumberland Coal from George's Creek Mines, which is free from brimstone and all impurities.

Just received a lot of Nova Scotia Wood, extra quality.

Save Your Money.
BY BUYING YOUR MEDICINES OF

The Quincy Store Company
YOU CAN
Save from 25 to 50 per cent.

OF what you pay the apothecaries. We are constantly receiving all the new and popular medicines of the day. Among the new additions to our stock may be found the following articles:—

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, Kennedy's Medical Discovery, Davis' Pain Killer, Burnett's Cosmo-Spasmodyc, Rosamary, Mountain Dew, Lyons' Kathartion, Potter's Hair Elixir, Haynes' Balsam, Wright's Vegetable Pills, Russia Salve, Langley's Bitters, Skanner's Bitters, Clark's Sherry Wine Bitters, Epsom Salts, Senna, Sulphur, Alum, Borax, Camphor, Hoar's Drops, Tincture of Rhubarb, Castor Oil, Peppermint, Corn Starch, Wheat Starch, Fenna, Taperia, Soap, Cocoa, Shells, Broma, Pearl Barley, Oat Meal, &c.

Quincy, Oct. 22. tf

FRUIT TREES.

THE subscriber offers for sale at his Nurseries in

DORCHESTER,
A complete assortment of Fruit Trees, Grape Vines, Raspberries, Strawberries, Currants, &c., viz. —

Extra large Pear Trees, on Quince Roots. Large Standard Pear Trees on Pear Roots. Imported Pyramid Fruit Trees on Quince Roots.

Cherry Trees, embracing the new American varieties, Gov. Wood, Black Hawk, Ohio Beauty, &c. &c.

GRAPE VINES, embracing the new and popular American varieties, viz. Rebekah, Union Village, Delaware, Hartford Prolific, Diana and others.

New Currants in six excellent new sorts, producing much larger fruit than the old varieties.

APPLES, PLUMS, RASPBERRIES, STRAWBERRIES, NEW RHUBARBS &c. &c. ALSO—

Poetry.

"Watch and Pray."

Oh watch and pray—thou canst not tell
How near thou mayest be;
Thou canst not know how soon the bell
May toll its notes for thee:
Death's thousand snares beset thy way,
Faint child of dust—oh watch and pray.

Fond youth—as yet untouch'd by care,
Does thy young pulse beat high?
Do hope's gay visions, bright and fair,
Dilate before thine eyes?
Know, these must change, must pass away—
Fond, trusting youth—oh watch and pray!

Thou aged man—life's wintry storm
Hath seal'd thy vernal bloom;
With trembling step, and bending form,
Thou art tottering to the tomb:
And canst thou hope to lead astray?
Watch, weary pilgrim—watch and pray!

AMBITION—stop thy panting breath,
PRIDE—sink thy lifted eye,
Behold the yawning gates of death
Before thee open lie:
Oh hear the counsel, and obey—
Pride and ambition—watch and pray!

Oh watch and pray—the paths we tread
Lead onward to the grave;
Go to the tomb, and ask the dead,
Ye on life's stormy wave:
And they shall tell thee, even they,
From their dark chambers—watch and pray!

"In Dreams I See my Mother"

In dreams I see my mother now,
Her locks are silver'd grey;
I see upon her placid brow
The cares of many a day:
Her eye grows dim, her step is slow,
Her strength is failing fast;
Her voice is tremulous and low,
For youth's bright day is past.

We knelt in childhood by her side,
To say our evening prayer;
Her gentle voice was then our guide—
It soothed each little care:
But as at night the weary dove
Flies to her mountain nest,
She winged her way to Heaven above,
With angels there to rest.

It then you have a mother dear,
O love her while you may;
She will not always linger here—
Too soon she'll pass away:
Her love we know not how to prize
Till from us she is given,
And like an angel from the skies
Points us the way to Heaven.

Our Country.

Father! our country save,
And let no gathering wave,
O'erwhelm us now;
Bid high o'er storm and cloud,
Which may this nation shroud,
Appear thy bow.

Our sires repelled the wrong,
And thy right arm, so strong,
Did with them go;
Oh! now like Israel lead
This people in their need,
And save from woe.

Thou, thou alone canst see
Through far futurity,
Thou Infinite!
And not in vain they came,
Our fathers o'er the main
So bravely met.

Thou hast a purpose still,
And thy most holy will Shall yet be done;
Thou wilt o'errule the whole,
Till from this land shall roll,
"God's will be done!"

And error dark shall flee,
And thy pure truth shall be
A light indeed;
Then from our hearts we'll raise
A grateful song of praise,
Our God in need!

The Baby.

Another little wave
Upon the sea of life;
Another soul to save
Amid its toil and strife.
Two more little feet
To walk the dusty road;
To choose where two paths meet,
The narrow or the broad.
Two more little hands
To work for good or ill;
Two more little eyes
Another little will.
Another heart to love,
Receiving love again;
And so the baby came,
A thing of joy and pain.

Anecdotes.

"I say, mister," said one Yankee to another, "how came your eyes so crooked?" "My eyes? Why, by sitting between two girls and trying to make love to both at the same time."

"Ma, here's a word in the paper I want to know. What's homicide?" "A homicide, child, is one who murders another." "Well, ma, when Jack Nodd killed our tom cat, that was Tommyicide, wasn't it?"

"Dan," said a little four year old, "give me ten cents to buy a monkey." "We have one monkey in the house now," said the elder brother. "Who is it, Dan?" said the little fellow. "You," was the reply. "Then give me ten cents to buy the monkey some candy." His brother "shelled over" immediately.

"Charles," said a young lady to her beau, "what is the cause of the market-house bell ringing so?" "Well," said the beau, quite solemnly, "if I were to express an opinion, I should give it as my deliberate conviction that somebody—is pulling the rope!"

Now's the Time to Subscribe

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY.

A HANDSOME QUARTO PUBLICATION,
BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED,
IS NOW UNIVERSALLY ACKNOWLEDGED TO BE

The Best Story Paper IN THE WORLD.

AMONG ITS
REGULAR CONTRIBUTORS
will be found the names of some of
THE BEST MALE AND FEMALE
WRITERS IN THE UNITED STATES.

Such writers as
JUSTIN JONES, (HARRY HAZEL),
AUGUSTUS J. H. DEGAN,
WILLIAM EARLE BINDER,
HARRY HAZELTON,
JAMES REYNOLDS,
FRANCIS S. SMITH,
MRS. MARY J. HOLMES,
HELEN FOREST GRAYES,
MARY C. VAUGHAN,
MARGARET VERNE,
ANNA RAYMOND,
EDNA MAYVILLE,

Write for it regularly, while a score of other well-known writers occasionally contribute to its columns.

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY
has now engaged a force of talent that cannot be rivaled by any establishment in the world.

Notices of the Press.

Never before has any new candidate for public favor in the Literary World received such flattering notices from the Press. From all quarters, our editorial brethren have cheered us on by speaking of our enterprise in a manner to stimulate our vanity, and to excite the envy of our rivals.

GENERAL CHARACTER OF THE NEW YORK WEEKLY.

The WEEKLY is designed more especially as a FIRST-CLASS STORY PAPER, in which we intend to give our readers a such selection of the Best Stories ever published in the United States! The aim and object of these productions will be to inculcate useful knowledge under the pleasing guise of fiction, or to teach great moral lessons through the same means. We shall never publish a work or line, the tendency of which is to injure the morals or taste of the reader. Every issue of the New York Weekly will contain short sketches of life and manners, Notes of Travel and Adventure, Short Stories, Humorous Gleanings, Poetry, Editorials, &c. &c. &c.

As specimens of our serials, we would point to A. J. H. DUGANNE'S Great Story

GARIBALDI, THE HERO OF ITALY.

HARRY HAZEL'S EXCITING INDIAN ROMANCE,

THE MUTE SPY!

FRANCIS S. SMITH'S INTENSELY INTERESTING DOMESTIC STORY,

MAGGIE,

THE CHILD OF CHARITY!

While, as specimens of our standing departments, we point with pride to

OUR BALLADS OF THE BIBLE,

admitted by all to be the most chastely written and beautiful scriptural poems ever produced.

OUR KNOWLEDGE BOX,

in which is weekly contained a number of paragraphs of the greatest importance to house-keepers and others.

OUR PLEASANT PARAGRAPHS,

an interesting mélange, ranging "from grave to gay, from lively to severe."

OUR LADIES' COLUMN,

prepared especially for the ladies by one of the most brilliant lady writers of the present day.

OUR MIRTHFUL MORSELS,

etc., etc., etc.

In a word, its Editors will use their best endeavors to get up just such a paper as will endeavor to find its way to every fireside in the land—that shall be a welcome visitor wherever it goes—equally popular in the workshop and the office—at the fire-side of the farmer, or in the counting-room of the merchant—a paper that parents can, with safety, place in the hands of their children without note or comment, feeling certain that its influence will be to stimulate their minds to the pursuit of knowledge, or lead them to abhor vice and wrong.

OUR CIRCULATION PROSPECTS

The NEW YORK WEEKLY has gone up to a circulation which places it second in point of circulation in the list of publications of the day. There is but one weekly publication in the world having a larger circulation than the WEEKLY. The indications are, at present, that the circulation of the WEEKLY will soon reach half a million—Where the newsmen were taking tens, they are now taking hundreds of copies. This is the general effect among the Five Thousand News Agents who are now selling the NEW YORK WEEKLY, while from nearly every Post Office in the country, we are daily getting subscriptions and orders for specimens.

How and where to get the Weekly.

Wherever there is a News Agent, get the paper from him. By so doing you do not run the risk of losing your money through the Post Office, or having to pay for what you will never get. If the paper you are buying from the Agent stops, you do not lose advance subscriptions, sent to a place where you have no means of looking after it. We trust the day is not far distant when every town, large enough to sustain a Post Office, will have its News Agent.

OUR TERMS.

The price of the NEW YORK WEEKLY, Four CENTS, but where Agents have to pay extra freight or postage, a higher price is necessarily charged. When sent by mail, the price will invariably be $2 a year, in advance. Subscriptions taken for three months. Two copies will be sent for one year for $3. Four copies for $6, eight copies for $12. Postmasters and others who get up clubs of ten, and send us $15 at one time, will be entitled to an extra copy for their trouble. The bills of all solvent banks taken at par for subscriptions. Canada subscribers must send twenty-five cents extra with every subscription, to prepay the American postage.

All letters and communications, in relation to the Editorial or Business Departments of the NEW YORK WEEKLY, must be addressed to

STREET & SMITH,
LITHOGRAPHERS AND PROPRIETORS,
22 Beekman Street, New York.
Sept. 3. 3m

THE RUSSIA SALVE VEGETABLE OINTMENT

Has been used and sold in Boston for the last thirty years, and its virtues are proved the best of time.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES BURNS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CANCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EYES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALDS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEAS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD HEAD.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES NETTLE RASH.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CUTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE THROAT.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES STIFFS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SHINGLES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHILBLAINS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROKEN LIMBS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EARS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES RHEUM.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER BITES.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.
RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.
RUSSIA SAL

would join hurry toward it, as the caravan moves faster over the sands when the foremost travellers send word along the file that water is in sight. Though each little party that follows in a foot-track of its own, will have it that the water to which others think they are hastening is a mirage, not the less has it been true in all ages and for human beings of every creed which recognized a feature, that those who have fallen worn out by their march through the Desert have dreamed at least of a River of Life, and thought they heard its murmurs as they lay dying.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Dec. 10th, 1859.

"BORN IN NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

DARING ROBBERY. On Tuesday evening last, as we have been informed, the house of Mr. Charles Loring, on Mill Street, in this town, was entered, after the inmates had retired to rest—Mr. L. wife and child—and money to the amount of one hundred and seventeen dollars were stolen. The thieves effected an entrance through a window in the basement, and ascended to the sleeping apartment of Mr. Loring, on the second floor, and took the money from his pantaloons pocket, which hung by the bed-side. The robbers appeared to be gentlemen of taste, as well as leisure, for they rifled the pantry and refreshed themselves on the best the house afforded. It is thought, however, that they became alarmed, probably from the crying of the child, which awoke about this time, and beat a hasty retreat, as a quantity of silver ware, which was done up to be taken away, was left behind. Mrs. Loring, first awoke her husband to consciousness and his loss—a strong current of air which found a passage through the open door, led her to suspect that something was wrong.

SHERIFF OF NORFOLK COUNTY. John W. Thomas, Esq., is re-elected Sheriff of Norfolk County by the following vote:—Thomas, 5680; Jones, 3014; Endicott, 299; Jordan, 266. Majority over all 2006; plurality over Jones, 2468. Weymouth, the home of Col. Thomas, and until his election as Sheriff three years ago, his place of residence, gave him the handsome vote of 716 to 122 for his opponents; a gratifying evidence of his personal popularity where he is best known, and a due appreciation of his worth and talents by his late fellow towns-men. The jail, etc., at Dedham, since he has taken charge of it, gives evidence that order and neatness prevail in every department, while due regard is had to the care and discipline of the inmates.

OFFICIAL VOTE OF THE COMMONWEALTH. The Committee of the Governor's Council, to whom was referred the election returns of the whole State, have examined the same, and submitted their report. The aggregate vote for Governor was as follows:—

Nath'l P. Banks, of Waltham, had	58,780
Benjamin F. Butler, of Lowell, "	35,334
George N. Briggs, of Pittsfield, "	143,5
Other persons had	355
Total,	108,834

"STILL WE LIVE." Our friends at the Point, are not to be behind the times in the march of social amusements. The Vulture Engine Company, No. 4, have made arrangements for a course of assemblies at Edward's Hall, in that neighborhood. The first to take place on Thursday evening next, to be followed, each successive Thursday, for an indefinite period. They have many warm friends, who rejoice in their prosperity, and will be gratified at the opportunity of being able to unite with them in social intercourse. See their card in another part of our paper to-day.

MUSICAL. We are glad to learn that Mr. W. O. Perkins, is to commence a term in Vocal Music, for advanced pupils. This is just what is now needed in Quincy. Mr. Perkins' success in his late efforts, has shown that nothing will be wanting on his part, and as we believe there are many who would like to avail themselves of an opportunity to improve in style, and the higher departments of Vocal Music, we advise them to do so now. The terms are a sufficient inducement. Mr. P. also gives private instruction. See advertisement.

For the Patriot.

Great Meeting at Faneuil Hall.

Not since the days of the old patriots, Samuel Adams, Otis and others, has old Faneuil Hall exhibited a more patriotic demonstration, than that of last Thursday. The recitations of the eloquent orators, were responded to with outbreaks of enthusiastic applause that we never saw equalled; it was not made up for the occasion, but was the true sentiment and feeling of the meeting. Old Boston has done her duty; let the country follow, and old Massachusetts will be redeemed from her thralldom, and the black flag of treason and insurrection will receive its just doom. Where was the Governor of the State? why was he not there in his majesty to assist in sustaining the laws of the land. Where was the august Legislature? who on the day Brown was hanged took action to adjourn, in honor of the death of a convicted murderer. But on this occasion, when the citizens from various parts of the Commonwealth were assembled to use all honorable means to protect and sustain the Constitution and the Union, no action was taken by them to adjourn, for the purpose of taking a part in this noble and patriotic cause.

"B. S." is informed that no real name came with his communication as required by the rules of the press.

For the Patriot.
Washington Irving.

One of the greatest literary men this country has produced, died very suddenly at his residence, on Monday, Nov. 28th. He was born at New York, on the 31st of April, 1783. Consequently, he was nearly seventy seven years of age at the time of his death. In his youth, Mr. Irving studied the law, and was admitted an attorney in 1807; this profession not being to his mind, he relinquished it for a more genial pursuit. His literary labors commenced as early as 1802, when he began to write for the newspaper press. In 1807, he wrote the Knickerbocker History of New York. The Sketch Book appeared in 1820, containing the old superstitious maxim:—

"Whoever weds in the month of May, weds poverty."

Which maxim, in England, has had the desired effect as fewer marriages occur there in this month than any other in the year. But not so in this State, as March is the month in which the smallest numbers are recorded. This was followed by Bracebridge Hall, and Tales of a Traveller. The History of the Life and Voyages of Christopher Columbus, and the Voyages of the Companions of Columbus, as far back as 1827-8. After these were issued, the Conquest of Grenada, Malomet and his Successors, the Spanish Armada, in 1836, he published Astoria, and later, the Adventures of Captain Bonneville in the Rocky Mountains. He was created Doctor of Laws in 1831, by the University of Oxford, and was sent Minister to Spain in 1842, which office he held until 1846, when he returned home. His best works, in our humble opinion, are the History of Columbus and the Life of George Washington. Works whose theme are a worthy tribute to the mind of this celebrated author. One giving a clear, concise, and thorough history of one of the greatest epochs of the world—the discovery of this Continent, and the other, the Life of the Father of his Country; whose disinterested patriotism, mainly assisted in consolidating the most enlightened portion of this Continent into a powerful and flourishing confederacy. The first issued in the early part of his life, and the last volume of the latter publication, event to the public eight months before the close of his eventful and venerable career.

He had no professional jealousy, and was ever ready to bend a helping hand to acknowledge merit in others, in this respect resembling not only Scott, but his own countrymen, the illustrious Prescott, who was free from those defects which too often mar the character of the scholar and the writer.

Mr. Irving never could compose effectually unless in the mood for it, or as we say of the Quakers, "He had to wait for the spirit to move," while in these literary frenzies, he would write fifteen or sixteen hours out of the twenty-four and after retiring at night, his mind would be so full of the subject, that he was compelled to get up and light his lamp, and write an hour or two, so confirmed had this habit become that even in his last days, when he had ceased to write, he was obliged to arise in the middle of the night to read.

What he saw he depicted with a heart full of genial sympathy. He at once catches its striking or touching features, which he presented with the fidelity of a draughtsman, but at the same time, with the feeling of a poet. Like a gentle stream, his thoughts flow on, in liquid melody and crystal brightness, along banks embellished with flowers, and through rich pastures of living verdure. No impurities mingle with the current, no shadows darken its surface, no rough breezes break its limpid waters into turbulence and wildness. The sunny skies, the old graceful trees, the forms of human and created things, are reflected from its bosom; it invites the rapturous to delightful reveries, and teaches the reflective a lesson of harmony and peace. He went forth in the highway and thoroughfares of life; he planted bowers by the wayside, for the refreshment of the pilgrim and sojourner, and opened pure fountains where the laboring man might turn aside from the dust and heat of the day and drink of the living spring of knowledge.

What writer has ever lived, who had greater power in transporting his reader from one land to another? The mock-heroic pranks of the smoking and fighting Dutch, the humors and whims of modern politicians and quidnuncs, the sports, festivals, and manners of English country life, chivalric enthusiasm of Spanish knights, the solitary delights of the student, the wild life of the Western Prairie, the stolid fortitude of the Indian, the pangs of wounded affection, the toll of villagers, and the silent agonies of a broken heart, are the themes in which he was equally at home, always pertinent, elegant, and effective.

About 1846, Mr. Irving took up his residence at Sunnyside, near Tarrytown, at this time one of the most secluded and delightful nooks on the banks of the Hudson river, which has been rendered classic ground by his elegant pen. The home of his permanent residence, called Baltus Van Tassel, has been altered and rebuilt in a quaint style, retaining somewhat of the English mode, but retaining, strongly marked symptoms of its Dutch origin. The quaint old weather cock, and the half the crown stepped gables, and the half paved with Dutch tiles, are among the ancient and venerable ornaments of the houses of the original settlers of Manhattan, now almost extinct. There is also a quiet keeping in the cottage, and the grounds around it, that assist in making up the charm of the whole; the gently swelling slope reaching down to the water's edge, bordered by prettily wooded ravines through which a brook meanders pleasantly; and thence by foot paths ingenuously traversed, so as sometimes to afford secluded walks, and at others to adorn fine vistas or the broad expanse of river scenery. The cottage itself is charmingly covered with ivy and climbing roses, and embosomed in thickets of shrubbery. Amid this beautiful scenery, a few days ago, he calmly and quietly passed from earth to the bosom of his God.

TO CORRESPONDENTS. Many favors already in type, are unavoidably crowded out.

Boston Correspondence.

BOSTON, DEC. 8, 1859.

Congress.—No Speaker chosen.—The Ballot on sixteen different persons. The Clerkship.—Mr. Forney.—Hon. C. F. Adams.—Mr. Mason of Virginia.—has Resolution in the Senate.—Sharp Debate.—Principal Election.—Choice of Mayor doubtful.—Growth of the Democratic Party in Boston.—The Weather.—Business.—Amusements.

To the moment of my writing we have no intelligence from Washington of a definite character. The Republican party soon concentrating on Mr. Sherman of Ohio, as Speaker, and Mr. Forney of Pennsylvania, as Clerk; the latest balloting indicate that this may be the final result. The elevation of a gentleman of the Republican party to the Speakership, would be a source of great disaffection to the South, and place the President in a very uncomfortable position through the Session. The estrangement between the North and South is growing wider every day. And it would take but little, for Congress to break up in a row. The new Speaker should be a man of great discretion, for much depends upon him in the crisis of the war. The election of Mr. Forney to the Clerkship of the House, would be a striking rebuke to the administration; between whom and Mr. Forney there has been raging for some time past, a bitter warfare. The Norfolk County Journal, printed at Roxbury, speaks in high terms of our Representative in Congress, Mr. Adams. Since his arrival at Washington, he has received marked attention from citizens of all parties. His high reputation as a public man, is well known throughout the country. Mr. Adams is the oldest of the Massachusetts delegation being fifty-two years of age, and may be ranked the ablest member of Congress from New England.

The first day of the meeting of Congress on Monday, was anything but pleasant. Mr. Mason's Resolution in the Senate for the appointment of a Committee to inquire into the Harper's Ferry difficulties called forth an animated debate, not of the most friendly character, involving the one idea question of slavery. A subject which Congress should never touch, it being clearly a local matter, belonging to the Sovereign States and Territories.

The ballot for Speaker was disposed upon sixteen different persons. Block of Virginia, (Democrat) receiving the highest, eighty-six; Sherman of Ohio, (Republican) the next highest, sixty-six; Grow of Pennsylvania, (Republican) forty-three; Bate of Virginia, (American) fourteen. It is not improbable one of these gentlemen will be chosen to this high office, and as I remarked before, the chances seem in favor of Sherman, if the Clerkship is given to Forney.

Our annual election occurs on Monday, result as to Mayor very doubtful. The contest lies between Mr. Lincoln the present incumbent, and J. M. Wightman, both Boston boys, and both mechanics. The contest for city officers is waxing warm as the day approaches, and as change is the order of the day, we should not be surprised at Mr. Wightman's election. Nothing would surprise us in city elections, after the choice on Tuesday, of Fernando Wood to the Mayorship of New York; no one anticipated or dreamed of such a result here. Our Aldermen to be chosen on Monday, like the Common Council, will be a sprinkling of all parties. The Democratic element is gaining in strength here, backed up by the foreign vote, and they bid fair from present appearances to have their own way in the election of city officers before long.

The past few days of gloomy weather, have had a sensible effect on business and amusements here. Few venture out, except on business, and there is rather small attendance at the theatres. This will not last long, as with the return of genial weather, our thoroughfares and public places of amusement will be at once re-animated.

The "Old Brown" excitement is on the wane. The "Second sober thought" of the people will settle matters right in respect to Brown's execution. His punishment was severe but just; and the American people will so regard it.

Congress.

As there seems to be a probability that there will be a similar contest in Congress for Speaker of the House, as there was in 1855, we therefore give a brief abstract of the ballottings, viz: On Monday, Dec. 3d, 1855, after the House had come together, they commenced voting, with the following result:

Wm. A. Richardson, Dem, received 74—L. D. Campbell, Rep, 33 H. Marshall, Am, 30. Nath'l P. Banks, 21. Henry M. Fuller, 17—and there were 30 scattering votes for various candidates, which vote resulted in no choice. After the vote on the 3d, vote without effect or making a choice, up to February 1st, 1856, during this time they had made one hundred and twenty-nine ballottings. After this they adopted a resolution to this effect, that they should proceed to ballot three times, and if no one had a majority, that on the fourth, whoever had a plurality of a quorum, should be chosen. On the one hundred and thirty-third ballot; and fourth after the adopting of this resolution, they made a choice by the following vote:—Nathaniel P. Banks, Rep, received 103. Wm. Aiken, Dem, 100. Henry M. Fuller, Am, 6. Lewis D. Campbell, 4. Daniel Wells, 1.

HANCOCK LIGHT GUARDS. This favorite corps of our Citizen Soldiers, have given notice of their intention to hold a course of assemblies during the present season at their pleasant quarters. These assemblies have always been popular with our people, and we have every reason to believe, under the present Board of Managers, that they will lose nothing in interest.

COLD WEATHER. Jack Frost, has at length paid us a visit. Thursday morning was the coldest of the season. Ice formed to the thickness of several inches. Our Skating Club is in high glee. Stock which has been on the sliding-scale, is now rapidly ascending.

A good variety of Winter Caps, can be found at C. Gill & Co's.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

The Inspector of Milk reports the amount of milk brought into Boston daily, by railroad and wagon, averages 15,180 gallons. Of this amount it is computed that two thousand gallons are water, or "extended" milk.

Prof. Lowe has housed his great balloon for the winter in a gas establishment in New York city, the aerial trip to Europe being indefinitely postponed.

The Mayor of a French city recently issued a decree, that any tavern keeper who supplies an individual in that city with liquor, upon which the customer gets drunk and lies down in the public streets, shall "be deemed and taken to have been drunk himself, and shall be punished accordingly."

There are now nineteen steam fire-engines in the city of Philadelphia.

Three hundred and seventy-three railway trains leave the city of London, England, every Sunday, to carry excursionists various distances into the country.

The New York Post tells of a middle aged gentleman who left off smoking twenty-five years ago, and has put in the bank what two or three cigars would have cost him, and now finds the amount $2,500. Go ye, who smoke, and do likewise.

A justice in Lafayette, Indiana, married a young couple, lately, and dated the marriage contract back a few months "to cover an impending accident," as he called it.

Of the five thousand "mothers of the revolution," widows of revolutionary soldiers, who originally received pensions under the law of 1836, only thirty six remain alive. All these were married during or prior to the year 1783, and have consequently survived their marriage seventy-seven years or more.

A lady in Harrisburg, (Pa.) who was in the habit of picking her teeth with pins, contracted a humor, which ended in a painful cancer.

A wrought iron shaft just completed for the steamer Metropolis, of the Fall River line, is thirty-seven feet in length, and weighs 45,000 pounds. It was forged by a hammer weighing seven and a half tons.

A new Catholic Church was dedicated in Weymouth, last Sunday.

The Empress Eugene, of France, and the ladies of her Court, have definitely abandoned crinoline; they have also substituted short dresses for trailing ones.

The books in the library belonging to the British Museum, in London, occupy ten miles of shelves.

Greenwood Cemetery, near New York city was founded in June, 1840, and from that month up to the present time nearly seven thousand bodies took up their residence in the silent city. Greenwood will, in the end, outstrip New York, and ere many years, will count its dead by millions.

Chief Justice Taney, of the United States Supreme Court, is in the eighty-third year of his age. His eight associates in the Court, with one single exception, are all three-score years and ten, and some of them considerably exceed that number.

When people get money without earning it, it's like taking a lot of spirits at one draught. It gets into the head, and they don't know what they are about. There's a tip-siness of the pockets as well as of the stomach.

The New York Times publishes a column of suicides—twenty-six in number—that took place in this country within a fortnight.

To cure felons on the finger apply the spinal marrow of the ox on a piece of cotton rag, changing it every four hours.

Three thousand inebriates have applied for admission into the New York State Inebriate Asylum. Among the number are thirty clergymen.

A vessel recently arrived in England from Sebastopol, with a cargo of two hundred and thirty-seven tons of human bones, relics of the Crimean war.

It appears, upon an examination, that the average issue of copyrights for books for some years past, so far as may be ascertained, has been about three thousand per annum. New York leads in the number of copyrights, and is followed by Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

Dr. M'Lane's celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills. A singular combination, but very effective, as the following will show:

New York, Nov. 20, 1852. Knowing, from experience, the valuable qualities of Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge and Liver Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros. Pittsburgh, I have for sometime back considered it my duty, and made it my business, to make those articles known wherever I went among my friends. A short time ago I became acquainted with the case of a young girl, who seemed to be troubled with worms and liver complaint at the same time, and had been suffering for some two months. Through my persuasion she purchased one bottle of Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge, and one box of Liver Pills, which she took according to directions. The result was, she passed a large quantity of worms, and thinks that one box more of the Pills will restore her to perfect health. Her name and residence can be learned by calling on E. L. Theall, Druggist, corner of Rutgers and Monroe streets.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'Lane's celebrated vermifuge, manufactured by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can be had at all respectable drug stores.—None genuine without the signature of Fleming Bros.

Special Notices.

NOTICE. The members of the Hancock Light Guard, are hereby notified to meet at their Armory, this (SATURDAY) evening, December 10th, at their monthly meeting.
E. A. SPEAR, Clerk.
Quincy, Dec. 10, 1859. 1w

NOTICE. An adjourned meeting of the Niagara Engine Co., will be held this (SATURDAY) evening at 7 o'clock.
Per order,
F. EDWARD BENT, Clerk.
Quincy, Dec. 10, 1859. 1w

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION, at Barker's Hall, on MONDAY EVENING, Dec. 12th, at 7 o'clock.
Question for Debate.
Are the manifestations of human life that we call evil or sinful a necessity of the conditions of the Soul's progress.
Per order. C. H. PORTER, Sec'y.
Quincy, Dec. 10. 1w

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING. Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon. In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall, Mrs. M. S. Townsend, of Vermont, will speak to-morrow.
Quincy, Dec. 10. 1w

A CARD TO THE LADIES. Dr. Duponce's Golden Pills for Females. One of the most successful remedies ever discovered for female complaints. "One of the first ladies of New London," who has used them says, she considers them of so much value she would not be without them, and would cheerfully pay five dollars a box for them if she could get them no less. The ingredients of these Pills are made known to every agent, and they will tell you it is the best female medicine ever sold, at the same time perfectly harmless. Price $1 per box. Sold by Mrs. E. Hayden sole agent for Quincy.

Ladies by sending her $1 through the Quincy P. O., can have the Pills sent to any part of the country confidentially by mail.
WEEKS & POTTER, 154 W. Washington Street, Boston, wholesale agents.
S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y.
Quincy, Nov. 19th, 1859. 1y

Marriages.

In Milton, 4th inst., by Rev. Edwin Leonard, Mr. Samuel A. E. of this town, to Miss Mary E. Nutting, of Brunswick, Me.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 5th inst., Mr. John Logan, aged 56 years.
On the 7th inst., Mrs. Elizabeth, widow of the late Capt. Samuel White, aged 52 years and 5 months.

For Sale.

ONE-HALF of the whole of the Stock in the Store of the Subscribers, and the Store to Let.

We shall offer all the Goods at retail, at Cost, for CASH, from this date until the Fifteenth day of JANUARY next, as we intend to close up the business of the present firm at that time.

All persons indebted to us are respectfully requested to pay on or before that time.
DANIEL BAXTER,
JOHN A. WOOD.
Quincy, Dec. 10. 1f

"WE STILL LIVE."
The Vulture Engine Co. No. 4.

WILL HOLD A Course of Assemblies, AT EDWARDS' HALL, QUINCY POINT, commencing on THURSDAY EVENING, DEC. 15th, and every Thursday thereafter, until the course is completed.

Dancing to commence at 7 o'clock, P. M. MUSIC, Nightingale & Rowe's Band. Refreshments furnished for those who wish. A general invitation is extended to all.
Quincy, Dec. 10. 1w

COAL. At 6.00 Per Ton!!

THE subscriber, Agent for the celebrated "Hickok's Coal," now offers the best qualities of RED and WHITE ASH COAL, of various sizes, at $6.00 per ton, CASH, delivered in any part of the Town of Quincy.

This Coal has stood the test of trial by the most particular in New York and Boston, and is pronounced by all equal, if not superior to the very best Coal offered the public for family use.

Please call on the subscriber at his residence on Edwards' Hill, or Oken Adams, Quincy Point, and give this Coal a trial.
SAMUEL R. EDWARDS.
Quincy, Dec. 10 1f

Winter Caps FOR MEN & BOYS' at C. GILL & CO.'S Quincy, Dec. 10. 1f

At the Old Stand, HANCOCK ST., - - QUINCY.

SHAWLS, DOMESTICS, FLANNELS, WOOLLENS, BLANKETS, FANCY GOODS, EMBROIDERIES, TRIMMINGS, DRESS GOODS, Prints, Tibets, Lyonsese, Black Silks, Mohairs, Delaines, Cashmeres, Alpaccas, Moreens, Poil de Chevre, HOSIERY AND GLOVES, WHITE GOODS, Linens, Housekeeping Goods, SMALL WARES, &c. &c. &c.

All of which will be sold at the very LOWEST PRICES by ELBRIDGE CLAPP. Quincy, Dec 10 1f

The Green Book. JUST PUBLISHED, 150 PAGES, price 25c. One Single and Married Life, the Institutes of Marriage; its Intent, Obligations, and Physical and Legal Disqualifications; the rational treatment of all private diseases in both sexes; &c. To which is added a poetical essay, entitled "Callipædia;" or the art of having and rearing beautiful and healthy children, by the late Dr. J. C. Culverwell, Esq., M. D.

Sent free of postage, by the Publishers, Charles Kline & Co., Box 4586, New York, or Dexter & Co., wholesale agents, 113 Nassau Street, New York. Agents wanted everywhere.

Also, Gratis, an extract and sample of the above, entitled: "Dr. Culverwell's Lecture on the rational treatment of Syphilis, and private diseases generally, detailing the means by which invalids may effectually cure themselves without the use of dangerous medicines, and at but little expense to themselves."

Mail in a secure envelope, on the receipt of one stamp, to prepay postage, by addressing, CHARLES KLINE & CO., Box 4586, New York City. Feb. 19. 1y

Rubber Goods.

C. GILL & CO., are prepared to supply Men, Women, Boys, Misses and Children with Rubber Boots, Shoes and Sandals. A complete assortment of sizes always on hand, and ALL OF THE FIRST QUALITY. We keep none of that quality of Rubber Boots and Shoes that can be afforded at prices below the Manufacturer's prices, for warranted first quality, and the temptation to sell as low as some Rubber Goods are offered, is not sufficient to induce us to furnish to our customers that class of goods. A few cents saved is not always the best economy. Get the best.
Quincy, Dec. 10. 1f

Vocal Music.

MR. W. O. PERKINS. WILL, by request, open a class in Vocal Music, on DAY, Dec. 15th, 1859, at 7 1/2 o'clock, on THURSDAY, Dec. 15th, 1859, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

TERMS FOR 20 LESSONS: Gentlemen, $2.50. Ladies, 1.00. Should the weather be stormy on the 15th, the class will commence on the first pleasant Tuesday evening.

N. B. Mr. Perkins will give private instruction in Vocal and Instrumental Music, and Harmony, at pupils' residences, on reasonable terms. Communications may be left at the Patriot Office, Quincy, Dec. 10. 1w

Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the first meeting of the proprietors of the Quincy Gas Light Company will be held on the Seventh day of December instant, at the Hancock House, in Quincy, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of considering whether they will accept of the Act of Incorporation, granted to them by the Legislature of Massachusetts, of electing Officers, making By-laws, and otherwise organizing the Corporation and transacting such business as may be requisite.

JOHN FAXON, ROBT M. MORSE, { Persons named Act of Incorporation. Quincy, Dec. 10. 1w

Administrator's Notice. NOTICE is hereby given, that the Sub-criber has been duly appointed Administrator, of the Goods and Estate of ELISHA WHITE, late of Dedham, in the County of Norfolk, Physician and Druggist, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment, to N. L. WHITE, Administrator, Weymouth, Dec. 10, 1859. 3w*

To the Honorable the Judge of the Court of Probate for the County of Plymouth. The petition of Thompson Baxter, of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, humbly shews that he holds under Henry A. C. Adams, of Quincy, aforesaid, one of the heirs at law to the Estate of the late Peter Adams, of Bridgewater, in the County of Plymouth, Commonwealth aforesaid, deceased; one undivided fourteenth part of a certain lot of land lying in Quincy aforesaid, in common and undivided with Abram M. Apogah, of Quincy aforesaid, and described as follows, viz: northerly on Hingham and Quincy Turnpike, so called, five rods and nineteen and three fourths links; southerly on lot numbered five on the plan hereinafter mentioned and belonging to A. M. Apogah and the said Thompson Baxter, twenty six rods and twenty-one and a half links; southerly on land of Francis Locke, five rods and nine and one half links; and northerly on lot No. Seven, on a plan hereinafter mentioned twenty-six rods and twenty-two links, containing according to said plan one hundred and forty-six rods, it being lot numbered Six, on a plan of lots of land belonging to the heirs of Peter Adams, and another made by L. Humphrey, and dated September 3d, 1855, a copy of which plan is deposited in the Registry of Deeds for the said County of Norfolk; desiring, however, out of the lot aforesaid, a piece or strip thereof to be cut and a half rods wide across the bottom and southerly side of the same and adjoining said Francis Locke's land, to be used as a street or passage-way for the accommodation of the several lots numbered from five to fourteen inclusive on said plan to be used in common by the owners of said several lots and their heirs and assigns forever.

That your petitioner is desirous to hold and enjoy his part or share in said real estate being one fourteenth part in severalty. He therefore prays that your Honor would ordain partition thereof to be made, and his said part or share set off and divided from the rest agreeably to a law of the Commonwealth, in such cases made and provided.

THOMPSON BAXTER. Quincy, Nov. 25, 1859.

Plymouth, ss. At a Court of Probate holden at Scituate, in and for said County, on the last Tuesday of November, 1859.

UPON the foregoing petition, it is ordered, that the said petitioner notify all persons interested therein within this Commonwealth to appear at a Court of Probate to be holden at Abington, in and for said County, on the second Monday of January next, by serving them with a true copy of said petition, and this order thereon, fourteen days at least before the said second Monday of January next, and also that he notify all other persons interested therein, to appear as aforesaid, by publishing said petition with this order thereon, three weeks successively, in the public newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days before the said court, then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

WILLIAM H. WOOD, Judge of Probate. Quincy, Dec. 10. 3w

Insolvency Notice. THE Third meeting of the creditors of of Braintree, Insolvent Debtor, will be held at the Court of Insolvency, at Dedham, in the County of Norfolk, on the second day of January, at nine o'clock, in the forenoon, at which time creditors may be present and prove their claims.

E. B. STODDARD, Assessor. Weymouth, Dec. 3d, 1859. 2w

Collector's Sale in Weymouth. NOTICE is hereby given that the said will sell at Public Auction, on the first day of Jan. next, at three o'clock, P. M. premises, for the payment of the taxes thereon, for the year 1859.

A tract of Land situated near the bounds of Weymouth, in the County of Norfolk, and

RUBBER GOODS.

GILL & CO. are prepared to supply Men, Women, Boys, Misses and Children with Rubber Boots, Shoes and Sandals. A complete assortment of sizes always on hand, and all of the first quality. We keep none of that quality of Rubber Boots and Shoes that can be afforded at prices below the manufacturer's prices, for warranted first quality, and the temptation to sell as low as some cheap Rubber Goods are offered, is not sufficient to induce us to furnish to our customers that class of goods. A few cents saved is not always the best economy. Get the best.

Quincy, Dec. 10. 1f

Vocal Music.

MR. W. O. PERKINS,

Will, by request, open a class in Vocal Music for ADVANCED PUPILS, on THURSDAY, Dec. 15th, 1859, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

TERMS FOR 20 LESSONS:

Gentlemen, $1.00
Ladies, $1.00

Should the weather be stormy on the 15th, the class will commence on the first pleasant Tuesday evening.

N. B. Mr. Perkins will give private instruction in Vocal and Instrumental Music, and Harmony, at pupils' residences, on reasonable terms. Communications may be left at the Patriot Office, Quincy, Dec. 10. 3v

Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the first meeting of the proprietors of the Quincy Gas Light Company will be held on the 25th day of December instant, at the Hancock House, in Quincy, at ten o'clock in the evening, for the purpose of considering whether they will accept the Act of Incorporation, granted to them by the Legislature of Massachusetts, of electing Officers, making By-laws, and otherwise organizing the Corporation and transacting such business as may be requisite.

JOHN FAXON, } Persons named
ROBT M. MORSE, } Act of Incorporation.
Quincy, Dec. 10. 1w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Sub-scriber has been duly appointed Administrator, of the Goods and Estate of late of Dorchester, in the County of Norfolk, Physician and Druggist, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

ELISHA WHITE,

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

N. L. WHITE, Administrator.
Weymouth, Dec. 10, 1859. 3w

To the Honorable Judge of the Court of Probate for the County of Plymouth.

The petition of Thompson Baxter, of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, humbly shews that he holds under Henry A. C. Adams, of Quincy, aforesaid, one of the heirs at law to the Estate of the late Peter Adams, of Bridgewater, in the County of Plymouth, Commonwealth aforesaid, deceased, one undivided eighth part of a certain lot of land lying in Quincy aforesaid, in common and undivided with Abraham M. Apough, of Quincy, aforesaid, bounded and described as follows, viz: northerly on Hingham and Quincy Turnpike, so called, five rods and nineteen and three fourths links; southerly on lot numbered five on the plan hereinafter mentioned and being owned by A. M. Apough and the said Thompson Baxter, twenty six rods and twenty-one and a half links; southerly on land of Francis Locke, five rods and nine and one half links, and northerly on lot No. Seven, on the plan hereinafter mentioned twenty-six rods and twenty-two links, containing according to said plan one hundred and forty-six rods, it being lot numbered 88, on the plan of said land belonging to the heirs of Peter Adams, and another made by L. Humphrey, and dated September 23, 1855, a copy of which plan is deposited in the Registry of Deeds for the said County of Norfolk; reserving, however, out of the lot above described, a piece or strip thereof two and a half rods wide across the bottom and southerly side of said lot, and adjoining said Francis Locke's land, to be used as a street or passage-way for the accommodation of the several lots numbered from five to fourteen inclusive on said plan to be used in common by the owners of said several lots and their heirs and assigns forever.

That your petitioner is desirous to hold and enjoy his part or share in said real estate being one-fourteenth part in severalty. He therefore prays that your Honor would order partition thereof to be made, and his said part or share set off and divided from the rest agreeably to a law of the Commonwealth, in such cases made and provided.

THOMPSON BAXTER.
Quincy, Nov. 25, 1859.

Plymouth, ss. At a Court of Probate holden at Scituate, in and for said County, on the last Tuesday of November, 1859.

UPON the foregoing petition, it is ordered, That the said petitioner notify all persons interested therein within this Commonwealth to appear at a Court of Probate to be holden at Scituate, in and for said County, on the second Monday of January next, by serving them with a true copy of said petition, and this order thereon, fourteen days at least before the said second Monday of January next, and also that he notify all other persons interested therein, to appear as aforesaid, by publishing said petition with this order thereon, three weeks successively, in the public newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days before the said court, then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

WILLIAM H. WOOD, Judge of Probate.
Quincy, Dec. 10. 3w

The Green Book.

JUST PUBLISHED, 150 PAGES, Price 25c. One Single and Married Life, or the Duties of Marriage; its Intent, Obligations, and Physical and Legal Disqualifications; the rational treatment of all private diseases, and all diseases of the female sex, in a practical, easy, and reliable manner, by the author of "Colapadine," or the art of having and rearing beautiful and healthy children, by the late Robert J. Culverwell, Esq., M. D.

Sent free of postage, by the Publishers, Messrs. Kline & Co., Box 4856, New York, or Dexter & Co., wholesale agents, 112 Nassau Street, New York. Agents wanted everywhere.

Also, Gratis, an extract and sample of the above, entitled: Dr. Culverwell's Lecture on the rational treatment of Syphilis, and all private diseases, and the means by which invalids may effectually cure themselves without the use of dangerous medicines, and at little expense to themselves. Sent free by mail in a secure envelope, on the receipt of one stamp, to prepay postage, by addressing,

CHARLES KLINE & CO.,
Box 4856, New York City.
Feb. 19.

$200 REWARD.

WHEREAS, the Episcopal Church in this town was destroyed by fire, on SATURDAY evening the 19th inst., and there can be no doubt that it was the work of an incendiary, the above reward will be paid to any person that will give such information as will convict the person or persons who set said fire.

And the above reward will also be paid to any person who shall detect any one in setting fire to any building of the value of Two Hundred Dollars, within the Town until the First day of March next, on conviction of the offender.

DANIEL BAXTER, } Selectmen
EDMUND POPE, } Quincy.
JONA. JAMESON, } Quincy.
Quincy, Nov. 26th, 1859. 1f

$100 Reward.

THE above reward will be paid to any person who will give information to the Directors of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company, that will lead to the conviction of the incendiary who set fire to the EPISCOPAL CHURCH in this village, on the 20th inst.

STEPHEN BATES, Secretary.
Quincy, Nov. 26. 1f

$50 Reward.

WHEREAS several fires have been set in the woods in Quincy the past ten days, either carelessly or maliciously, the above reward will be paid to any person who will give such information as will convict the person or persons who set said fires.

And the above reward will be paid to any person who shall detect any one setting fires as above, on conviction of the offender, until the first day of March next.

DANIEL BAXTER, } Selectmen
EDMUND POPE, } Quincy.
J. JAMESON, } Quincy.
Quincy, May 6th, 1859. 1f

NORFOLK, ss. At a meeting of the County Commissioners for said County, holden at Dedham, in and for said County, on October 25th, A. D. 1859, by adjournment of the September meeting, next preceding.

UPON the petition of A. B. Wales and others, freeholders and legal citizens, representing that there is a certain street in the Town of Weymouth, called Commercial street, leading from Washington street in said Town, near the store belonging to the heirs of the late Cotton Tuttle, to the street called Ebenezer Humphrey, over which said Commissioners have jurisdiction, the exact location and bounds of which cannot readily be ascertained, and requesting the Commissioners to ascertain, alter, correct and establish the location of said street, erect the necessary bounds and cause a certificate thereof to be duly filed and recorded, according to the statute in such case made and provided. It appearing to the Commissioners upon investigation that said representation is correct and true, and that there has been given to all persons and corporations interested, and especially to the Town of Weymouth and the South Shore Railroad Company, the Commissioners met at the hotel known as Wales' Hotel, in Weymouth, on June 29th, 1859, at 10 A. M., at the time and place before designated, and there proceeded and viewed the route aforesaid, and heard all persons and corporations interested, and said case was there continued to the next regular meeting, and from time to time till the date thereof, and said Commissioners adjudicate that public necessity and convenience require that said street should be relocated, its bounds defined and its location established.

By the County Commissioners.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, Chairman.

On the Adjournment aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at Wales' Hotel, in Weymouth, in said County, on TUESDAY, the twenty-seventh day of December next, at ten o'clock A. M., and thence proceed to view and locate said way anew, define and establish the bounds thereof, and take such action and make such alterations therein as by law they may be authorized to do; and that an attested copy of said Adjournment, with this Order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Weymouth, and upon the President, Clerk, or Treasurer, of the South Shore Railroad Company, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said day of meeting; and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said day of meeting; and that like copies be posted up in two or more public places in said Weymouth, fourteen days at least before said day of meeting, that all persons and corporations interested, may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.
A true copy of the Adjournment on file, and Order thereon.

Attest.
EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.
Nov. 26.

Executrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executrix of the Will of

HENRY P. DOBLE,

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Trader, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

ELVIRA DOBLE, Executrix, or to W. M. B. DUGGAN, her Attorney.
Quincy, Dec. 3d, 1859. 3w

Insolvency Notice.

THE Third meeting of the creditors of

HERRICK GORE,

of Braintree, Insolvent Debtor, will be holden at the Court of Insolvency, at Dedham, in the County of Norfolk, on the second day of January next, at nine o'clock, in the forenoon, at which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.

E. B. STODDARD, Assignee.
Worcester, Dec. 3d, 1859. 2w

Collector's Sale in Weymouth.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber will sell at Public Auction, on the Twelfth day of Jan. next, at three o'clock, P. M., on the premises, for the payment of the taxes assessed thereon for the year 1859—

A tract of Land situated near the house of Nathan Tirrell, in Weymouth. Said Land is bounded by Dexter Pratt of Melrose, for Town, 80 rods; Easterly by Old Colony Railroad, Southerly by land of Cornelius Tirrell. Said Land is assessed to Dexter Pratt of Melrose, for Town, 80 rods and County purposes, in the sum of three dollars and twenty-two cents. District tax in the fifth school district, in Weymouth, in the sum of twenty-three cents.

The same will be sold as aforesaid in the name of said Pratt, for the payment of said taxes, and private charges, and the legal expenses thereon, are previously paid.

C. BATES, Collector of Taxes,
For the Town of Weymouth.
Weymouth, Nov. 26. 3*

DON'T FAIL to see SIXTH ANNUAL ANNOUNCEMENT, and brilliant offers, in our columns.

READ THAT

THE subscriber wishes to call the attention of the citizens of Quincy and vicinity to his New Stock of De Laines, Prints, Linens, Table Covers, Napkins,

HOSIERY, GLOVES, MITTENS, Clouds Hoods, Under Sleeves, and a great variety of FANCY GOODS, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS, SHIRTS, COLLARS, POCKET HANDKERCHIEFS, Bosoms, Suspenders, Gloves, Mittens, &c. &c.

Also—Just received a large lot of WORSTEDS, of every shade for working or knitting.

Please give a call at my Store on HANCOCK STREET, next door to B. F. Meservey's.

WARREN VEAZIE.
Quincy, Dec. 3. 1f

Look at This! Money Wanted!

J. W. LOMBARD has on hand a very large & desirable Stock of

Gents' Overcoats, Dress Coats, Pants, Vests, etc., etc.,

which he is selling at prices that cannot fail to give satisfaction. Also, a good assortment of

Boys' Clothing, cheap for Cash!

Call and examine for yourselves. Buy if you wish to look as much and as long as you have a mind to—free of expense.

Quincy, Dec. 3, 1859. 1f

6th Annual Announcement.

CONTINUED SUCCESS OF THE COSMOPOLITAN ART ASSOCIATION.

FROM all sections of the country subscribers to this popular Art Institution, (now in its sixth year) are being received in a ratio unparalleled with that of any previous year.

ANY PERSON CAN BECOME A MEMBER by subscribing $3 which will entitle him to 1st—The beautiful Steel Engraving, "Shakespeare and His Friends."

2d—A copy of the elegantly illustrated Art Journal, one year.

3d—A Free Season Admission to the Galleries, 548 Broadway, New York.

In addition to which, over four hundred valuable Works of Art are given to subscribers as Premiums, comprising choice Paintings, Sculptures, Engravings, &c., by the first American and Foreign Artists.

The superb Engraving, which every subscriber will receive immediately on receipt of subscription, entitled

"SHAKESPEARE AND HIS FRIENDS," is of a character to give unequalled pleasure and satisfaction. No work of equal value was ever before placed within reach of the people at a price. The Engraving is of very large size, being printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 28 inches, making a most superb ornament suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor, or office.

It can be sent to any part of the country, by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postpaid.

Think of it! Such a work, delivered free of charge, and the Art Journal, one year, for $3.

Subscriptions will be received until TUESDAY evening, Jan. 31st, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15 are entitled to six men's engravings.

Address C. L. DERRY, Secretary C. A. A., 546 and 548 Broadway, N. Y.

Subscriptions also received by C. A. HOWLAND, Hon. Sec. for Quincy and vicinity.

Quincy, Dec. 3. 1f

Painting Business.

THE subscribers having formed a copartnership in business, under the firm of

DAVENPORT & POPE,

and having opened a Shop, on the premises of George Curtis, in School Street, are now prepared to answer all orders with neatness and dispatch.

Painting, Graining, Varnishing and GLAZING.

done to satisfaction, and in a workmanlike manner.

Small as well as large jobs thankfully received; and a share of public patronage respectfully solicited.

WILLIAM DAVENPORT,
CHARLES E. POPE.
Quincy, Oct. 9. 3m

Cheap! A Good Chance.

J. F. BURRELL has a few pairs of those

$1 75 Men's Thick Sued Calf Congress Boots, which he will sell for $1.62.

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the former price $1.88, which he will sell for $1.58.

Men's Congress Boots—Old Price $2.00—for $1.75.

Ladies' Misses' and Children's Boots and Shoes for sale and warranted.

Next Door to Quincy Market House.

HANCOCK STREET.
Quincy, March 12. 1f

COAL! COAL!

THE subscriber has for sale at his Wharf the most desirable qualities of Coal, and has just received a cargo of Superior Red Ash Coal.

Also—

TREVERTON COAL,

which is equal to the celebrated Franklin Coal, and which is warranted to give entire satisfaction. I have also the celebrated

John's Coal for Furnaces,

which is too well known to comment on.

Also—All the different sizes and qualities which may be wanted—Egg, Stove, &c.

Also—Cumberland Coal from George's Creek Mines, which is free from crinoline and all impurities.

Just received a lot of Nova Scotia Wood, extra quality.

NATHANIEL WHITE.
Quincy, Nov. 12. 1f

NEW FALL AND WINTER STYLES

OF OVERCOATS,

Business Frocks, and Sacks, Dress Frocks, Pantaloon and Vests, now ready at the

ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE,
158 Washington St. Boston,

Macullar & Williams,
Boston, Nov. 5. 2m

ELEGANT STOCK OF DRY GOODS!

5 TREMONT ROW, BOSTON.

BLAKE & CO.

INVITE the attention of the public to their large and new Stock of

Rich Fall Silks, AND SILK ROBES,

Shawls, Capes, Cloaks, Cloaking, and Velvets,

RICH AND NEW STYLES.

Printed Thibets.

CHAMERES, DELAINES, VALENTIAS, &c.

We have just opened a CLOAK MANUFACTORY of our own, and our stock of Cloak, Talmas, &c., is unsurpassed. Garments made to order and warranted.

Having purchased largely from the recent New York Auctions, we are prepared to give the public great bargains in Dry Goods, particularly in SILKS.

BLAKE & CO.

5 TREMONT ROW, Opposite head of Hanover Street, BOSTON.

85 Washington St. 85

JOY'S BUILDING, Nearly opp. the head of State street. BOSTON.

STRANGERS AND OTHERS

In pursuit of a first Class

CLOTHING ESTABLISHMENT,

WHERE their orders will be promptly and faithfully executed in a style unsurpassed by any other house in the city, will please to call at above, where the most choice selections of Rich and

Fashionable Goods, Adapted to the season, will be offered at prices

correspondingly low.—We keep on hand, a large assortment of Nice Clothing for Gents' Wear. Ready Made, and equal to the nicest Custom Work.

IN OUR BOYS' DEPARTMENT.

Every variety and style of Garments suitable for Boys and Gents' wear from 7 years up, can be found, or Garments made to measure for such as desired.

In this Department we claim superiority. Our prices are uniform, and none but the best class of work will be offered for sale. A most perfect fit will be guaranteed for the most ill-formed Boy.

ORDERS SOLICITED.

CALLOW & CO.

FASHIONABLE TAILORS,
85 Washington St. Joy's Building.

Boston, Nov. 12. 6w

RARE CHANCE FOR BARGAIN'S.

Paper Hangings at Cost.

WE SHALL CLOSE OFF a large part of our PAPER HANGINGS, at very low prices, as follows:—

8 CENT PAPERS FOR 5 CENTS

10 " " " 6 " "

12 " " " 8 " "

15 " " " 10 " "

20 " " " 15 " "

25 " " " 18 " "

And all others in the same proportion. Borderings at the same low prices.

THERE WILL BE NO RESERVE.

But all can have their Choice, from our samples, as when selling at full prices.

All small remnants and odd lots still cheaper. If you are going to use Paper any time in the next six months, it will pay to buy now from this lot.

At C. Gill & Co.'s.

Quincy, Nov. 5. 1f

Now is the Time.

THE time has now come for making a change in my prices. I have marked down my

Stock and Shall Sell at Reduced Prices, and I would invite the ATTENTION OF ALL that are in want of Goods in my line, to Call and Examine them. I will assure my customers and the public generally, that an examination of my stock will convince them that there is no exaggeration in saying

My Prices are Below the market prices.

Also—A rare opportunity is given to purchasers of

Paper Hangings.

My Entire Stock is offered

AT COST,

TO MAKE ROOM FOR NEW SPRING SUPPLY.

Please look at my Papers and Prices.

CALEB PACKARD.

GOODNOW'S BUILDING, Corner of Hancock and Granite Sts.

Quincy, Nov. 5. 1f

MR. J. Q. ADAMS

Will attend at his office in Johnson's Building, from 9 o'clock, A. M., until four o'clock, P. M., every TUESDAY and FRIDAY throughout the Winter.

JOHN W. THOMAS, Sheriff.
Quincy, Nov. 5. 1f

Boys' Clothing.

THE subscriber

Poetry.

The Crop of Acorns.

BY MRS. L. H. SIGOURNEY.

There came a man, in days of old,
To hire a piece of land for gold,
And urged his suit in accents meek:
"One crop alone is all I seek;
That harvest o'er, my claim I'll yield,
And to its lord resign the field."

The owner some misgivings felt,
And coldly with the stranger dealt;
But found his last objection fail,
And honeyed eloquence prevail;
So took the proffered price in hand,
And to its lord leased out the land.

The wily tenant sneered with pride,
And sowed the spot with acorns wide;
At first like tiny shoots they grew,
Then broad and wide their branches threw;
But long before these oaks sublime,
Aspiring, reached their forest prime,
The cheated landlord moldering lay,
Forgotten, with his kindred clay.

Oh, ye, whose years unfolding fair,
Are fresh with youth, and free from care,
Should Vice or Indulgence lure,
The garden of your souls to rear,
No parley hold, reject their suit,
Nor let one seed the soil pollute.

My child, their first approach beware,
With branches break the verdant snare,
Lest, as the acorns grow and throw
Into a sun-excluding grove,
They thus, a dark, overshadowing tree,
Shut out the light of heaven from thee.

The Summer Angels.

'Tis the dark December weather,
Winds are wailing through the sky,
If you listen, you will hear them
Singing wild and singing high.
Now they toss the willow branches
Leaving o'er the window bars,
Then their moon goes softer, fainter,
Up among the silent stars.

'Tis the dark December weather,
All the summer trees are bare;
See! the latest leaves are falling,
Torn and ghostly through the air.
You may search the forest over,
You may trace the brooklet's flow,
Not an aster's eye will open,
Not a golden rod will grow.

'Tis the dark December weather,
Cold the tide creeps down the bay;
Seagulls, in their snowy circles,
Beating up to those no winter
Sailing, sailing from the Northland,
Bringing winter on their wings,
They will linger, flashing seaward,
Till the time the robin sings.

'Tis the dark December weather,
Wind and wood and wave are sad;
'Tis the dark December weather,
Yet our hearts are blith and glad.
And within them it is summer,
Rip-stomach evermore,
For God's sweetest angels hover,
Radiant-eyed about the door.

Love, as tender as the moonlight,
Hope, as shy as the dawn,
There can come to those no winter
Whom such glory shineth on!
O, the dark December weather
May overshadow sea and shore,
In our hearts the blessed angels
Make it summer evermore!

Snowflakes.

Like softest down, the snow-flakes fall,
On vale and upland, far and near,
And weave with noiseless speed, a pall
To lay upon the dying year.

How fast the old familiar look
Of all the scene is blotted out;
Not even doth the meadow brook
Give token of its whereabouts.

The meadow brook, that night and day,
When summer winds slept on the lea,
Ran sparkling on its joyous way,
Round rock and moss-bank merrily.

They bend the cedar's massy stems
Adown to reach the heavy weights,
Or make light graceful dendrons,
On privet hedge and garden gate.

And, in the oriole's wounded nest,
That swings from the elm tree's bough,
On feathered wings they light and rest,
For ah! they find it now!

And still I watch their quiet fall,
On vale and upland, far and near,
Till, blent with shadowy twilight, all
In night and darkness disappear.

Anecdotes.

"If you ever think of marrying a widow," said an anxious parent to his heir, "select one whose first husband was hung; for that is the only way to prevent her from throwing his memory into your face, and making annoying comparisons." "Even that won't prevent it," exclaimed a crusty old bachelor; "she'll then praise him by saying that hanging would be too good for you."

We heard a good joke of a party of young fellows who found fault with the butter on the boarding house table.

What is the matter with it? said the mistress. Just you ask it, said one, it is old enough to speak for itself.

"Well, Jane, this is a queer world," said a carer spouse to his wife, at breakfast; "a sect of women philosophers have just sprung up." "Indeed," said Jane, "and what do they hold?" "The strongest thing in nature," said he, their tongues.

The young lady that burst into tears has been put together again, and is now wearing hoops to prevent the recurrence of the accident.

"Do you think lobsters are healthy?" "Yes; I never knew one to complain of being out of health in my life."

"Miss, what have you done to be ashamed of that makes you blush so?" "Sir, what have the roses, and the strawberries and the peaches done, that they blush so?"

DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the Trade, and more especially the Physicians of the country, to two of the most popular remedies now before the public. We refer to

Dr. Chas. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills.

We do not recommend them as universal Cure-alls, but simply for what their name purports, viz.:

THE VERMIFUGE,
For expelling Worms from the human system. It has also been administered with the most satisfactory results to various Animals subject to Worms.

THE LIVER PILLS,
For the cure of LIVER COMPLAINTS, all BILIOUS DERANGEMENTS, SICK HEAD-ACHE, &c. In cases of

FEVER AND AGUE,
preparatory to or after taking Quinine, they almost invariably make a speedy and permanent cure.

As specifics for the above mentioned diseases, they are Unrivalled, and never known to fail when administered in accordance with the directions.

Their unprecedented popularity has induced the proprietors,

FLEMING BROTHERS,
PITTSBURGH, PA.

to dispose of their Drug business, in which they have been successfully engaged for the last Twenty Years, and they will now give their undivided time and attention to their manufacture. And being determined that Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills shall continue to occupy the high position they now hold among the great remedies of the day, they will continue to spare neither time nor expense in procuring the Best and Purest material, and compound them in the most thorough manner. Address all orders to

FLEMING BROS. Pittsburgh, Pa.

P.S. Dealers and Physicians ordering from others than Fleming Bros., will do well to write their order distinctly, and take note that Dr. M'Lane's, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburgh, Pa. To those wishing to give them a trial, we will forward per mail, post paid, a part of the United States, one box of Pills for twelve three-cent postage stamps, or one vial of Vermifuge for fourteen three-cent stamps. All orders from Canada must be accompanied by twenty cents extra.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers in Medicines everywhere.

Pennsylvania, Dec. 3 - 1y

The Best Medicine in the World.
YES, DECIDEDLY THE BEST, IS
DR. LANGLEY'S

Root and Herb Bitters.

THEY are made from the most valuable Roots, Herbs and Plants in the vegetable kingdom. They act at once upon the very seat of disease. They remove all obstructions from the internal organs—regulate the Bowels—purify the Blood—remove Humors—excite the Liver to a healthy action, give strength and tone to the stomach—cure Jaundice and Dyspepsia—create an appetite—increase and renew the circulation—remove all Bilious diseases—cure Piles, Headache, Weakness, &c., and are the best medicine ever discovered for all Female Complaints. They purify, heal, strengthen, build up, and keep in order "the house you live in."

Doctor's prescriptions clothed in Latin verbs, Now yield the palm to Langley's Roots and Herbs.

Forsoke vile drugs and cull from Nature's store, As did the Patriarchs in days of yore.

Roots, Herbs and Barks, the best in Nature's store, From North to South their healing virtues lend, And in these Bitters prove the people's friend.

They'll strengthen, warm, your bodies vigorous make, Rouse drooping spirits new blood create.

So if you wish to feel well—eat well—do well, and keep well, use this standard valuable medicine.

Only 25 cents for a pint, and 38 cents for a large Bottle.

Sold by Medicine Dealers everywhere. Orders addressed to J. O. LANGLEY, or GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., BOSTON.

Nov. 26.

FASHIONABLE

Tailoring Establishment

J. W. LOMBARD,

Has taken rooms over the store of E. Clapp, and wishes respectfully to inform his friends and the public generally that he intends to carry on

THE TAILORING BUSINESS,

In all its branches; and hopes by punctuality and strict attention to business to merit a share of patronage.

Quincy, Apr 18

Cut Flowers & Bouquets.

THE Subscribers take this method to inform the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that they are prepared to furnish

Bouquets, Wreaths, Cut Flowers,

AND FLORAL DESIGNS, Arranged in every variety of style to order.

FLOWERS for BRIDAL,

OR, FUNERAL DECORATIONS.

Furnished at all times, at short notice.

BARNES & WASHBURN,

FLORISTS.

Adams Street, Dorchester, and one mile from Neponset,

Sept. 10 3m

ATTENTION.

The Largest and Most Complete

ASSORTMENT OF

HARDWARE

DOORS

BLINDS

SASHES, &c. &c.

Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon

Bailey, Carver & Co.

Having recently made large additions to our stock of

BUILDING MATERIALS,

we are prepared to furnish them at prices to correspond with the times.

CHEAPER THAN EVER!!

We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS,

SASHES,

BLINDS,

WINDOW GLASS,

SHIELD LEAD,

FRAMING PINS,

WINDOW FRAMES,

DOOR BELLS,

SCREWS,

&c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS,—in a great Variety

ALSO—Pail, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash

Locks;

MORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S

LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;

BLAKE'S BUTTS,

AND AXLE PULLEYS.

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.

Wrought, Fancy Plate,

STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;

SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;

Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crawell's improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings.

Poster's Patent Window Supporter,

The best thing ever used in the place of weights;

DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.

DON'T FORGET

AT THE OLD STAND OF

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,

SCHOOL STREET.

Quincy, Jan. 23.

Hall's Great

SCROFULAR REMEDY.

THIS Purely Vegetable Preparation is pleasant and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, causing no vomiting or purging. It acts directly upon the primary cause of disease, regulates the Bowels, removes all vitiated secretions, giving a healthy action to the Liver and correct tone to the Stomach. It overcomes that feeling of Languor which is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and restores and restores the vital energy and Physical Strength.

In thousands of cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous Humors, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Scald Head, Tumors, Ulcers, Bronchitis, Asthma, Cough, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Fever, Sores, White Swelling, Dropsy, Boils, Barber's Itch, Piles, Old Sores, and all diseases which manifest themselves by Eczema or Eruptions on the Skin, it has been used with the most gratifying success, after every other known remedy has been tried and failed to afford relief.

It is also an effective cure for Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Costiveness and Derangement of the Urinary Organs.

It is an infallible remedy for irregularities and other diseases peculiar to FEMALES, such as Weakness and Pain in the Back, Strangury, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dizziness and Headache.

It is given with perfect safety and most desirable results in all cases, to any person from infancy to old age.

Made and sold by W.M. SMITH HALL, Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass., to whom all orders must be addressed. Sold also by Retail Dealers, No. 8 State Street, Geo. C. Goodwin, No. 99 Union Street, Boston, and all Druggists and Medicine Dealers throughout the United States.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, AGENT.

Quincy, Dec. 13.

Assessors' Notice.

THE Assessors of the Town of Quincy, give notice that they have delivered to Charles A. Cummings, Collector of Taxes, a correct list of the Taxes, together with a warrant in due form of law for collecting and paying in the same, and by a vote of the Town, all persons who shall pay their Taxes on or before the first day of September next, a discount of four per cent. will be made. And the Collector is required to pay interest on all taxes not paid in to the Treasurer on or before December 1st, 1859.

DANIEL BAXTER, Assessors of Quincy.

JONA. JAMESON, Quincy, July 2.

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Massachusetts, incorporated under the laws of that State, for the purpose of insuring property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Household, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,

WILLIAM S. MORTON,

TREASURER,

ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

SECRETARY,

STEPHEN BATES,

DIRECTORS,

Quincy, William S. Morton, Charles Brock,

Isaac W. Munroe, Dorchester,

Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,

Whitcomb Porter, Cohasset,

Stephen Bates, Solomon J. Beal,

William B. Duggan, Hingham,

Thomas Curtis, South Hingham,

R. B. Lowndes, Randolph,

Royal W. Turner, North Bridgewater,

Apollis Randall, Sumner A. Hayward,

Jonathan A. Cobb, Barnstable,

George Marston,

References, by permission:

Hox. GEORGE T. BIGELOW, of Boston,

Hox. AMASA WALKER, Jr., of Boston,

Hox. JAMES MAQUIRE, of Randolph,

Hox. SOLOMON LINCOLN, of Hingham,

Hox. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., of

Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple

April 1.

To Boot and Shoe

MANUFACTURERS.

WE wish to call your attention to the following Goods, which we are prepared to sell on the most favorable terms.

Black and Colored Dressing, finished especial-Black, Brown and Drab Cas-ly for Congress sinners.

Black Brown and Drab Felings, for snow shoes.

Lastings, all wool. Italian do Silk and Cotton Warp do.

Serge de Berri's Rubber Goggles, Webs, of beautiful quality for Congress Shoes, and Boot and Congress Webs, from 2 in. to 12 in., new style.

Gallons, black and colors, 2, 3 and 4 in. widths.

Shoe Dressing, Congress and Union Canvases.

Shoe Ribbons, Re-ettes, and Sewed Web.

Eyeballs, Cords, Shoe Laces and Strings, all sizes and lots. Shoe Buttons of all descriptions.

Linen Machine Threads,

Of the well-known XXX Golden Flax Stamp, of every description required in the manufacturing of Boots, Brogans, Shoes and Congress Work, from No. 18 to 100, from 2 to 10 cord, in Black, Drab, Grey, Orange, Yellow and W. Brown, in stitching, binding, strap and counters, topstitching and under threads. Also Shoe Thread.

Machine Silk, all colors and sizes.

Sea Island Hack Cotton, Blacks, Colored, Unbleached and White.

Spool Threads and Sewing Cotton, of all descriptions.

Manufacturers of Clothing

Will find in our stock everything in Linen and Cotton Threads required in their work, and the quality much superior to any other in use.

BROWN, DIX & Co.,

No. 52 Milk Street.

Boston, June 25

WHITE HANDS!

PERSIAN BATH

SOAP.

For the Toilet, Bath, Nursery, Shaving, and for Cleaning the Teeth.

THIS superior Soap will make the HANDS WHITE and SOFT, and is a certain remedy for CHAPPED HANDS, TANS, SUN-BURNS, CHLORID, and all medicinal purposes where a Healing and Emollient effect is desired.

Box of Yucca Soap is instantly cured by this

W.M. SMITH HALL,

Sole Proprietor, Quincy, Mass.

C. DYER, Jr., General Travelling Agent.

Price—25 cents per cake.

Sold by

Quincy Aug 22

SEASONED LUMBER,

Of all descriptions, at prices to suit the times

DIMENSION FRAMES,

Finished at short notice.

Best quality of Lumber constantly on hand.

ALSO—Good Pine Wood at $5 a Cord.

For sale at BRACKETT'S WHARF.

Quincy, May 8

Something New.

WE have just added to our stock of PAPER

HANGINGS, a large lot of the latest

styles, received direct of the manufacturers

which we shall sell cheap.

DANIEL BAXTER & CO.

Quincy, March 26

Paper Hangings.

JUST received, and for sale by the Sub-

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 17th, 1859.

NUMBER LI.

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY,
H. AVING returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stetson's Variety Store, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING,
Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of

Gold and Silver Watches,
Fob, Cuff and Vest Chains,
LOCKETS,

Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted,
Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,
Gent's Pins and Studs,

FINGER RINGS,
Together with a large assortment of

Silver and Plated Ware,
Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a

LARGER STOCK
than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted as represented.

Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.

Gold and Silver Plated Engraved.

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a careful manner, and done when PROMISED.

Quincy Oct 24

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unwholesome food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation; indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which renders the blood, depresses the energies of life, and the disease constitutes not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alternative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is compounded from the most active remedies that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the renovation of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERECTILE and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, or ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, ULCERS, BLAINS AND BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHIZOMATISM, SYPHILIS and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPPY, DYSENTERY, DEBRILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and renovate the vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their purgative properties are mild, and cleanse and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and soothing.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many of the most dangerous diseases. The agent below named is used to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Catarrhs, Hemorrhoids, Headache arising from disordered stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid action of the Bowels, Fatulence, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness, and so numerous are the cases of its cure, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its sure and powerful remedy of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the able no longer hesitate what antidote to employ in the distressing and dangerous complaint of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, and the afflicted they can never forget, and proved cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.
LOWELL, MASS.

FOR SALE BY
JES. E. HAYDEN, and all Medicine Dealers.

Quincy, Aug 6

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

TWO DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers.
Railway Village, JOSIAH BARBOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BRICK.
Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON.
Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELAND.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHOM DREW.

LIVERY STABLE.

THE subscriber having purchased the establishment of George J. Jones, on Hancock street, and made additions thereto, is prepared, at the old stand, to accommodate his friends and the public with

Horses and Carriages.

PLEASURE PARTIES furnished with teams and drivers, or single carriages, at the shortest notice.
Personal attention given to the business, and a liberal support from the public solicited.

DAVID E. ROBY.

Quincy, Nov. 13.

LIVERY STABLE.

AT Hardwick's Express Stable, on Hancock street, near the Quincy Patriot Printing Office, new and excellent CARRIAGES, with good and safe HORSES, furnished to individuals or parties, on the very best terms. Transportation of Merchandise, Furniture, &c., attended to with care and despatch.
The travelling public accommodated with good STABLES, at all times.

Good Drivers furnished, if desired.
Every effort will be made to serve patrons, and a share of support is respectfully solicited.

Hardwick's Boston Express.

PARTICULAR attention given to the purchase of Goods and to the transportation of them, and valuable Packages.
Dispatch in the collection of Notes, Drafts, and Bills.

House of Departure.

From Quincy—8 o'clock, A. M.
From Boston—2 o'clock, P. M.
OFFICES IN BOSTON—34 Court Square, (Railroad Exchange,) and 40 South Market Street.
Quincy, April 9

New Arrangement.

FURNALD'S QUINCY EXPRESS

LEAVES BOSTON, DAILY,
AT 2 12 O'CLOCK, P. M. - 43
38 South Market St. and 3 Washington St.
Quincy, June 5

BOWDITCH'S

Quincy and Boston EXPRESS.

OFFICE—39 & 40 South Market Street,
And 48 Liberty Square,
BOSTON.

SLATE AT DANIEL BAXTER & CO'S,
NIGHTINGALE'S PROVISION STORE,
AND THE HANCOCK HOUSE.

All orders, thankfully received and promptly attended to.

Quincy, Jan 22

W. M. BABBITT, M. D.,
Homeopathic Physician!
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

OFFICE HOURS:
7 to 8 A. M. 12 to 1 P. M.
6 to 7 P. M.
Quincy, Sept. 11.

GEORGE WHITE,
Counsellor and Attorney at Law,
No. 5 Tremont Street,
BOSTON.

Quincy, March 5

NATHANIEL WHITE,
—HAS FOR SALE—

LUMBER,
Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

—ALSO—
Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,
QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Communications.

For the Patriot.

Reform Needed in Communion Service.

Is it possible that in such an enlightened age as ours, that we cannot conceive the error we are committing year after year, by allowing wine to be used at our Communion Tables. If one will stop a moment to reflect upon such an inconsistent practice, tending to the ruin of thousands, rather than the salvation, how can he remain silent and countenance and practice such an impropriety. For instance, witness a young man who frees the Church and who has ever kept free of the cup which sends thousands to the drunkard's grave, shall we, I ask, permit the reproach to be cast upon us, that we were the first who placed the cup to his lips, and were the cause of his ruin. How can we escape such a charge? We cannot. Also, another class may enter, who perhaps heretofore, have led intemperate lives, and becoming sensible of their degraded condition, aroused themselves, determined never to take even one drop again, and endeavor to lead a Christian's life, and we (the Church) extending our arms to him, that he might come in and join with us in commemorating the event of Christ's Last Supper, the cup of wine is passed to him—he partakes—what follows this step? The chances are that he falls back into his former miserable condition, a drunkard. Can you thus still continue to offer the cup, when you have been the cause of consigning these persons to a life of drunkenness and wickedness. I respect Church Communion much; hence my desire in casting from it all impurity. I would substitute in the place of wine, pure water, or a colored syrup, if you choose. A few churches I am happy to learn have adopted this change. Some may argue that as Christ used wine, we ought to. There would be no harm in using liquors if it did not tend to intoxication. The wines used in his times were most probably pure and harmless to any one who partook of it. How different were they from those in our day. The effect produced by drinking our liquors is well known. If Christ himself were here on earth again, can any one doubt for a moment, he would reform such an improper practice? His aim through life was to reform mankind. Ought not that to be our aim, instead of placing things in the way tending to ruin, and this done by the Church. We must arouse ourselves and awake from our unconscious stupidity, and not permit such a grave charge to rest upon our Church longer. Let every one who has remaining in him a spark of activity keep it alive, and not allow it to rest one moment, until the Church is entirely free from the improper practice of dealing out wine to its members. A CHURCH COMMUNICANT.

For the Patriot.

low and then wash off in clean water, ready for his clean straw; he may be occasionally diseased in the liver, but this is because his master confines him in filth, frequently compelling him to reside in dark and damp cellars under slaughter houses, or stables, there to breathe the exhalations of the manure and all other obnoxious compounds. Most assuredly no other animal could pass the ordeal with anything like the health of the hog. Then his food—what disgusting stuff; often forms the sole rations of the pig, because he will eat it. Let him have light, air, water and corn, or boiled vegetables and milk, for the body of his diet, and he becomes a healthy, wholesome animal, and his flesh worthy food for mankind.

The idea of connecting pork eating with scrofula, we think is all a humbug; the Hindoos who never eat pork, and the impoverished classes in Europe, who seldom taste any kind of meat, are among the greatest sufferers from scrofula. On the other hand, the bacon and hog-and-hominy negroes of the South, and the pig-devouring nations of the South Sea, are wonderfully exempt from the disease; so, too, of the Chinese, whose almost sole meat consists of immense numbers of pigs he consumes; also, that hardy and robust class of men who ascend the extreme tributaries of the Aroostook and St. John's Rivers, where they are exposed to the severe rigors of a Northern winter, they are plentifully supplied with pork, which is their principal diet; they certainly enjoy extraordinary health—consumption never is to be found among them. As to consumption, there is high medical authority for the use of Cod Liver Oil, mainly for its supply of carbon, a purpose that a good pork diet would nearly supply as well. Except in hot weather, it is pretty thoroughly proved by high authority, that good corn-fed pork, in moderation, conduces to health, and to the durability of the system.

Miscellaneous.

Uncle Joe in Court.

Joe Bassett was a queer genius—"Uncle Joe" everybody called him—and, though possessing but very few of the goods of this world, yet he was one of the most useful men in town. If any one wanted a job done he was the man to do it. In short, he was a sort of a universal "Man Friday," and for a consideration he would perform any work which might be called for. He was a happy old fellow: as full of fun as an egg is of meat, and he could crack some very hard jokes without hurting anybody. He owned a little hut over the back of the village, to which was attached a few acres of good land; and besides this he had a cow and some other items of stock. He lived quite comfortably and the impression had gone abroad that he had managed to lay up some money.

Capt. Daniel Lober, who had recently settled in the town owned a fine piece of land adjoining Uncle Joe's lot, and he was not long in making himself very disagreeable to our good Man Friday. He was a proud, selfish person, and a little mean wretch. Uncle Joe had some geese and they ran upon Lober's land; upon which the indignant captain threatened to shoot them if he caught them there again.

"Ef' ye'd make yer fence tighter, my geese couldn't get through," meekly suggested poor Joe.

"My fence is as tight as the law requires," answered the doughty captain; and with this he walked away.

So Uncle Joe had to go to work and tighten the fence, and put larger yokes upon his geese.

Lober's next move was against Joe's hens. He swore that he would shoot them if they were not kept out of his lot. Joe built a hen house, and placed his feathered bipeds therein; but it was a sore trial to him, and the people sympathized with him, though they could not help him.

One season Capt. Lober ploughed up his land—some ten acres of it—and sowed it with wheat. The grain came on finely and the owner used to take men out there to show them his field. It was acknowledged to be the best wheat in town. But the Captain was destined to a piece of ill fortune which he had not thought of. This land was at some distance from his dwelling, and when busy at other points, a week or two might pass without his visiting it. One afternoon he came to see his wheat, and when he reached the edge of the field, he stood aghast at the sight which met his gaze. The tall stout grain was trodden and trampled down over half the lot, presenting a scene of havoc and destruction truly horrible to behold. And the assounded owner was at no loss to account for the desolation, for near the centre of the lot he saw a horse. It was a gaunt, heavily built animal, of a dingy white color; and though evidently well stricken with years, yet he capered and frisked about with marvelous spirit—now cropping a few well-filled wheat heads, and anon trampling away upon the devoted grain, as though he were treading the wine-vat.

I should not dare tell all the oaths which Capt. Lober then and there poured forth; but they were terrible ones, and the white foam stood upon his lips as he raved. As soon as he could collect his thoughts, he started for Uncle Joe's. He knew that Joe must have seen the horse in there—for the animal could not have been there less than three or four days at the work—and perhaps the depredator might belong to Joe. Just as the Captain reached the road, he met Sam Warner. Sam was not a temperance man nor did he belong to the church, but he was a particular friend to Uncle Joe, and didn't think much of Daniel Lober.

Mr. Warner, cried the Captain, trembling all over with rage, does Joe Bassett own a horse?

Yaas. Believe he does, Squire, returned Sam.

Is it a white one?
Kind of whitish.
How old is it?

Wal—'tint very old nor very young. But it's kind o' shabby round the knees.

Capt. Lober posted off to Uncle Joe's cot, and found the old fellow at work about the premises.

Mr. Bassett, he said with awful meaning, do you own a horse?

Wal—I rath'er calculate as how't I dew Squire, answered the old fellow.

And did you know that your horse had destroyed more than half of my wheat?

Jer-rew-salem! You doant say so, Squire exclaimed Joe, in terror.

It is a fact sir; and now you may settle it, or suffer the consequences.

But—Squire—rally—I can't believe it. My horse is such a quiet critter.

Are you willing to settle it? cried the Captain, madly.

But—Squire—rally—I couldn't pay ye nothin'—sartin I couldn't.

Now you see, Joe, I know that your horse has been in my field? I couldn't swear that he hadn't that's a fact.

That's enough, and with this the Captain went off. He went to one of the assessors, from whom he learned that Joe owned some two or three hundred dollars worth of property; and then he went to a lawyer and had Joe Bassett sued, setting the damage at one hundred dollars. The lawyer sent Joe a letter, but the old fellow refused to take any notice of it, and the case was carried into court. Captain Lober having sworn that he would push Uncle Joe to the last extremity.

The court was in session, and the day for the trial arrived. The room was crowded, for a whisper had gone abroad that Uncle Joe would get the best of it. Finally the case was called on, and Lober's counsel made a statement of the cause which had led to the suit, enlarging upon the damage which had been done to his client's property, and explaining how little the transgressor had seemed to care for it.

What is the defence?
Nobody seemed to know.

Is the defendant in the court?
All eyes were turned upon Uncle Joe, and he arose.

Are you the defendant in this case? asked the court.

Me? returned Joe with a vacant stare. Yes—your honor, said Lober's lawyer.

Have you not counsel, sir? the judge resumed.

Not's I knows on, replied Joe with a half foolish, half wicked look.

You are probably aware of the reason why you have been called here, pursued the court, seeming to pity the man's foolishness.

I suppose it's for some kind o' complaint Cap'n Lober's been makin'.

Exactly, said Lober's counsel. Your horse has destroyed much property belonging to my client.

Guess not, Squire, returned Joe, 'cause that's impossible. My horse couldn't do no sich thing.

What do you mean by that?
Why, I haint got no horse as is capable of doin' so much mischief.

We'll leave that for others to decide, said the counsel with a very significant nod of the head.

You own a horse?
Why—

We want none of your why's. You own—

But I want to explain. Cap't. Lober he come to me, a bilu' over with wrath, and he axed me did I own a horse, and I told him yes. Then he biled over more—made lots o' threats—and went off in a heap o' passion, afore I could explain.

But do you deny that your horse was in my client's field?

It couldn't a' been thar unless somebody put it thar.

That's not the thing. Do you deny that your horse did this damage?

Sartin I do.
Your's is a white horse?

Ruther of yallerish cast, Squire.
And poor, and old?

A leetle shabby, I think.
Then how do you know that it was not your horse that did this damage?

That's jest the pint I wanted to 'plain Squire, answered Uncle Joe very earnestly, and with imperturbable gravity. Ef' anybody'd axed me this afore I come up here, I could a' told 'em all about it.

The fact is, Squire, I never owned but one horse in the world, and I don't never expect to—'an' that ere is a—saw hoss!

The court smiled, and hid its face behind a book. The captain's counsel looked very blank, while the Captain himself turned very red, and very pale, by turns. In the mean time the spectators came high splitting with laughter. Some attempt was made to reprimand Uncle Joe for this result; but he was so honest and simple on the occasion that all blame fell where it rightfully belonged—upon the man who brought the suit. It was very easily proved that Joe never owned a live horse, and he was sent about his business.

It was a small affair, perhaps, but it made a great noise; and so hot and heavy were the remarks that came showering down upon Daniel Lober, that in less than a month he was glad to sell out and move. After this, Uncle Joe's geese and hens wandered about without fear of being shot; but his old horse never went away, save when it rode upon its master's shoulder.

The East Wind.

Take an easterly wind, differing in no appreciable nature from its neighbors, and what a nuisance it is! All creation feels it, as it sweeps like a pestilence along. Flowers droop and lose their brightness, and leaves shrivel when it touches them. Let it glide over the land, and it sinks into the depths of his native element, as though death floated on the water. In vain the angler tries his every artifice—the fish have lost their appetite, activity and merriment—they will hide until the enemy shall have passed. All animals have a horror of it! even a donkey is delicate enough to turn his back upon its cows, horses, sheep, and even pigs, give it their posteriors to play against. Man abhors it as he would a demon. Who ever heard of anybody being happy in an easterly wind?

Kill Your Fish.

A Frenchman who has recently visited Holland to inspect their fisheries, says, in speaking of them, that being surprised at the difference of Dutch fish, both fresh and salted, sea and fresh water fish, to French fish, the former being superior to the latter both in firmness and flavor, he was at the pains of inquiring into the causes which produced this difference. He discovered that it was no accident, but was the result of a simple operation. The Dutch kill their fish the moment they are taken out of the water, whereas most persons, the French among them, allow fish to expire after enduring the tortments of a long agony, which acts upon fish precisely as disease would act; softening the flesh and infecting them with principles of dissolution. Nobody eats chickens or sheep which die by disease; why should we eat fish that die by languor? The Dutch kill their fish by making a slight longitudinal incision under the tail, and if the operation is performed with a very sharp instrument, it is made so rapidly the Dutch use it even in their herring fisheries. Some other fishermen kill their fish by thrusting a long, sharp needle in the head.

Nutritive Qualities of the Onion.

The onion deserves notice as an article of great consumption in this country, and it rises to importance when we consider that in some countries, like Spain and Portugal, it forms one of the common and universal supports of life. It is interesting, therefore, to know, in addition to the peculiar flavor which first recommends it, the onion is remarkably nutritious. According to analysis, the dried onion root contains from twenty-five to thirty per cent. of gluten. It ranks in this respect, with the nutritious pea and the grain of the East. It is not merely as a relish, therefore, that the wayfaring Spaniard eats his onion with his humble crust of bread, as he sits by the refreshing spring; it is because experience has long proved that, like the cheese of the English laborer, it helps to sustain his strength also, and adds, beyond what its bulk would suggest, to the amount of nourishment which his ample meal supplies.—Harrisburg Union.

Origin of Blankets. Worsted, &c.

While Edward III., in 1337, repeated his invasion of Scotland, and ravaged the country with great fury, burning Aberdeen and many similar towns, as the historian tells us; and while he was engaged in raising an army to invade France in 1338, exacting from the impoverished English people all their wealth to waste in the war; and when he was wasting France with war, borrowing money from all foreign princes who would lend him, paying the English crown which made him a king, that he might still further extend destruction over fertile France; when in the battles which our historians and poets have so minutely recorded and loftily sung out, swords clashed with swords, and battle axes rung upon coats of mail, the warrior heroes of France, there was a servant of mankind making a noise in Bristol, which was of infinitely greater service to England than the entire conquest of Europe would have been.

This was Thomas Blanket. The noise he made was not that of the clashing sword, but of the clashing shuttle. His purpose was not to destroy what his country already possessed, but to give his country what it did not yet possess, blankets, a covering of comfort to go to bed with, to sleep under, that it might be refreshed in sound sleep, and rise in health and strength to its daily work of making mankind happier by being happier itself. Thomas Blanket was soon imitated by his neighbors, who, like himself, set up looms in their own houses, and made woollen cloth like that which he made. The cloth was named by his name; and to this day, through all time in the country, will the name be known, though nothing else is known of this weaver than that he was the first to introduce the blanket manufacture into England.

No cloth of any kind had been woven in England before the reign of Edward III. We read that in 1331 John Kemp, from Flanders introduced the weaving of cloth into England; that the king invited fullers, dyers and so forth, to come from Flanders and settle there. This policy on the part of Edward some other of his actions, prove him to have had some perception of the real resources of national well being. But he no sooner allowed the cloth manufacture to be implanted in England, than he almost rooted it up again by restrictive enactments and oppressive taxes to carry on his wars. The manufacture of the twisted double thread of woollen, called worsted, was introduced into England about this time, or soon after.

The village of Worsted, about fifteen miles from Norwich, was the first place where the thread was made, and it took the name of the village. There is no spinning nor woollen manufactures at Worsted now, but from the tombs in the graveyard, and the benefactions left to the parish, which are recorded, we have proofs that the manufacturers of Worsted were numerous, opulent, and lived there in successive generations, during several centuries.

It may also be noticed here, that after inquiring into the history of the parish and manufacturers of Worsted, we visited Linsey, which gave the name to the fabric known as Linsey Wolsey, and the Kersey and the Mere close to it in Suffolk, were the workshops where situated, in which the cloth called Kerseymere was first made.

The cloth so called now differs from the original, and there is but little trade of any kind in Kersey now. But as at Worsted, the graveyard and the church have many records of manufacturers long deceased. Their names though now Anglicised, are common in Suffolk, and are all of Flemish origin.

Winter Shoes.

Hall's Journal of comes "soggy" and damp for weeks. When you put them on for the first time they will feel as easy as an old shoe, and you may stand on damp places for hours with impunity.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Dec. 17th, 1859.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

AMUSEMENTS OF THE SEASON. Besides Assemblies, Levees, etc., and other in-door amusements, which have been promised us, preparations have been made for one of a more stirring and exciting kind. An Association of our young men, organized under the name of the "Quincy Skating Club," have leased the piece of land belonging to Lewis Bass and Daniel Baxter, lying between the Old Colony and Hancock Street, and overflowed it, by damming Webb's Brook, in the vicinity, forming an artificial lake of rare beauty, and of respectable dimensions—contiguous to the estates of Messrs. Baxter, White, Stetson and Perry on School Street, and the enclosures of the residences on Hancock street. It is admirably adapted for such a purpose—being central—easy of approach, with sufficient water, but not of a depth to endanger life, in case of an immersion. Every thing was put in readiness at an early day, and the late cold snap, completed the work—furnishing a crystallized surface as smooth as the polished mirror. It is a recreation which takes well with our people; old and young—in pairs and crinoline—have, during the past pleasant weather, visited the place in great numbers, to take part in the exciting sport. It is a healthy and pleasant exercise. It quickens the circulation—gives a buoyancy to the spirits, and to those who have familiarized themselves with this kind of locomotion, a grace and dignity to their evolutions—seemingly scarce to tread the earth, while in their aerial flights they cut the pure and bracing air.

THE HOLIDAYS are near at hand. One week from to-morrow ushers them in. Who does not reverence this time-honored festival. A season set apart by the Christian world in commemoration of the birth of our Saviour—and an epoch in the calendar of time, which has its worshippers, in the anticipation of the return of spring—of blooming meadows, and fertile fields. It is a season, also, which custom has rendered sacred—of love to draw closer the ties of friendship. With the young, likewise, it is a day of special interest; for, according to nursery tradition, it is the period when Santa Claus, the patron Saint of all good children, makes his annual visit, to bestow his blessings and favors on those he may find deserving. Messrs. Gill & Co. are doing much to have the occasion celebrated in a suitable manner. They have a large variety of rich presents, adapted to the tastes of all classes; which are well worth an examination. See their advertisement in another column.

MONSTER EGGS. Mr. Farnald, our Express Agent, showed us a few days since, a number of eggs, laid by a hen, of the Chittagong breed, which were remarkable for their size; they were nearly as large as Turkey's eggs. This is not the daily custom of this species of fowl; it is only at intervals, on certain occasions, when the fancy takes them, as evidence of what might be done, if Burnham's theory was only brought to bear practically upon the subject.

THE WEATHER. Has been very tempestuous during the week. A furious snow storm set in from the Northeast on Tuesday afternoon, and continued late into the night. Considerable snow fell, but it is so much drifted as to make but indifferent sleighing.

THE NIAGARA ENGINE COMPANY, No. 1, of this town, will celebrate the eve of the 30th, by a grand ball at the Town Hall. We wish them a happy time and the congratulations of the season.

NEW ENTERPRISE.—Frederic Gleason, Esq., of Boston, one of the most successful publishers in the country, as well as a gentleman of enlarged views and generous proclivities, announces the commencement of a new newspaper enterprise on the first of January, which will bear the shape of a magnificent literary weekly, of mammoth dimensions, and sustained by the most talented contributors. He has our cordial wishes for a brilliant result.

RAILROAD EXTENSION. The Old Colony and Fall River Railroad Company have applied to the Legislature for liberty to extend their Road to the Rhode Island Line, and to unite with any corporation which may be chartered by the laws of Rhode Island, to build a railroad from Newport to Fall River.

AN IMPORTANT ARTICLE. To repair furniture, vases, ornaments, or toys, nothing is so effectual as Upton's Steam Refined Liquid Glue; on application it secures the parts broken; instantaneously, and makes them firm and durable. See advertisement.

Boston Correspondence.

BOSTON, DEC. 15, 1859.
Congress.—Exciting Debates.—Discord among the Democratic members.—Mr. Iverson's extreme Southern views.—Senators Bigler and Pugh.—Test of Judge Douglas' views; their soundness.—The Vice President.—Return of General Scott.—City election.

Special despatches from Washington, state that the Secretary of the Treasury refuses to pay the members of Congress mileage and salary, though appropriated, on the ground that no evidence of membership exists till a Speaker's certificate is furnished. It is safe to predict that after this decision, the House will not remain long without organization. You are aware that the members receive a salary each Session of three thousand dollars, a part of which is paid to them, as it were, in advance.

The debates in both branches since their meeting have been spirited and acrimonious. The South is evidently on the offensive in the consideration of the slavery question. But few Northern members have spoken yet, and not a word has been uttered by the New England delegation in the House touching the Harper's Ferry difficulties. There is a want of harmony among the Southern members in their expressions on the slavery question. Our Southern brethren doubt the loyalty of the Northern people to the Union, including the Northern Democracy. And we are taunted by the slave-holding members in Congress with strong proclivities to Abolitionism without regard to party. A large portion of the people of the Free States are firm and abiding as the everlasting hills in their devotion and love for the Confederacy. They will stand by their country at all hazards, even at the sacrifice of their lives, fortunes, and sacred honors. They will adhere with secretiveness to the Compromises of the Federal compact. But they will not be browbeaten by the ferocious attacks of the South. There is a point where forbearance ceases to be a virtue. The threatened dissolution of the Union by a portion of the Southern people is becoming a by word. Let them dare to take the initiative in dismembering the States by withdrawing their delegations from the Halls of Congress, or reproducing the operations of the National Convention, and the Southern Democrats, and the Free States will be found ready to meet the emergency. During the debate in the Senate on Monday, Mr. Iverson took occasion to say, that on the question of the Territorial rights of the Southern people a great portion of the Northern Democracy is unsound. This was a vital question to the rights and interests of the South, and on this question he believed a large portion if not the whole of the Northern Democracy were unsound. He believed, and the Southern people believed, that under the Constitution, they had a right to emigrate to any part of the Territory, with their slave property; and when they have a right to the protection by law in the engagement of that property, and Congress has the power to give such protection, and it is its duty that this is not the position of the Northern Democracy, at least of that portion of it who follow Douglas. They deny the power of Congress over the subject. They deny that Congress can exercise jurisdiction so as to give the protection. They say the power belongs to the people of the Territories themselves, in their Territorial form, and if a sufficient number of people go into a Territory to form a political community, they have complete power to regulate the subject of slavery as they please, and that neither Congress nor any other human tribunal has the power to interfere.

Mr. Bigler, (dem.) in reply concluded by saying the Northern Democracy had stood like a bulwark between the South and the Abolitionists. Break us down (says he to Mr. Iverson) at your peril. Mr. Pugh, of Ohio, (dem.) said if the Democracy of the Northern States hold the sentiment of Mr. Iverson, we want to know a before the meeting of the Charleston Convention, and we intend to know it. Such is a specimen of the debates in the Senate. In the House, the question of Popular Sovereignty is also discussed, but in another channel. It will be seen that the South has departed from the principle of non-interference or popular sovereignty which was incorporated into the Cincinnati Platform, and on which Mr. Buchanan was elected. From the first, we have taken the position that Mr. Douglas was right on this only great question at issue. We see no reason to change that opinion, whatever may be the fate of Judge Douglas as a nominee for the Presidency. His views reaffirm justice to all the States in their sovereign powers. In other words State Rights as taught from Washington down to Mr. Buchanan. In municipal matters, including the subject of Slavery, the territories are alike sovereign. The battle for the next Presidency is to be fought on this issue. All other questions sink into insignificance compared to it. Republicanism or Democracy, to be sound, must apply to all parts of the Union. We are slow to believe that what is good democracy in the North is not good in the South, and vice versa.

Vice President Breckinridge was elected on Monday to the U. S. Senate, for six years, from the fourth of March next, by the Legislature of Kentucky. The office of Vice President will again be vacated. Important results might grow out of this election, for should the President die before the fourth of March 1861, the Speaker, if they choose one, would be the acting President. General Scott has returned to New York, from Oregon, having settled, we hope, the difficulties at San Juan Island. At any rate it is in the joint occupancy of the representatives of England and the United States. The General has had a pleasant trip to California and Oregon.

Mr. Lincoln is again re-elected Mayor, by a flattering plurality. The Aldermen and Common Council are party mixed, but the preponderating power is evidently with the Republicans. It is not probable the line of policy pursued by Mr. Lincoln will be changed, and but few renaisances from office are anticipated. It was a dangerous experiment for Mr. Lincoln to try a third heat for the Mayorality, but he was successful. x

The population of the Russian empire is estimated at sixty-one millions, double that of France or the United States.

Calif congress boots for men, boys and youths—heavy soles, custom made—warranted at C. Gill & Co's.

PRESIDENTIAL CONVENTION.—The National Executive Committee have met at Washington, and appointed Monday, April 23, 1860, as the date of holding the Presidential Convention at Charleston, S. C.

BERMUDA VEGETABLES.—The island of Bermuda is fast becoming a vast market-garden for the city of New York. The export of potatoes for the season to that city, shows an increase of nine thousand bushels. The exportation of onions has reached over eight hundred thousand pounds; while that of tomatoes amounted to four thousand five hundred and ninety-two boxes. More than thirty vessels were engaged in carrying the above mentioned produce.

LIFE OF JOHN BROWN. A Biography of this remarkable man is to be published at once, for the benefit of his family. The author is James Redpath, so prominent in Kansas annals, an intimate personal friend of Capt. Brown, and a spirited and graphic writer. He is probably better adapted for the task than any other person in the country. The work will be published by Thayer & Eldridge of Boston, and will be an elegant 12mo. volume of 400 pages, with engravings, and will also contain a fine steel portrait of Brown. We understand that the publishers are in want of Agents to circulate it in this section.

THE LADY'S ALMANAC FOR 1860.—Messrs. Brown, Taggard & Chase, No. 25 and 26 Cornhill, Boston, have just published the above miniature annual, which contains, besides the usual variety of matter in an almanac, a choice and appropriate fund of interesting intelligence that must render the volume a favorite with the ladies.

Ladies' Skates, various styles and prices, at C. Gill & Co's.

MLANE'S WORM SPECIFIC, prepared by Fleming Bros. The following, from a customer, shows the demand which this great medicine has created wherever it has been introduced:

BLOOMSBURG, Tioga Co. Pa., March 30, 1859.
Messrs. Fleming Bros.—Gentlemen:—In consequence of the great consumption of your "Worm Specific" in this place and vicinity, we have entirely exhausted our stock. We should feel obliged by your forwarding, via Corning, N. Y., 20 dozen, with your bill, on the reception of which we will remit you the money.

From the wonderful effects of said "Specific" in this neighborhood, there could be sold annually a large quantity, if to be had, (wholesale) compensated a person for trouble and expense of vending. I think I could make it to your advantage to do so.

Yours, respectfully,
WM. M. MALLORY, Per W. E. PORTER.
Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M'Lane's celebrated Vermifuge, manufactured by Fleming Bros. of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine without the signature of Fleming Bros.

LANE'S BOSTON CLOTHING ESTABLISHMENT.—Few of our Boston friends have enjoyed so marked a success in business during the last two years as the Proprietor of the celebrated Ready-Made Clothing Store, 32 Dock Square. From moderate beginnings, the business of the establishment has steadily increased until it has rivaled the most extensive clothing houses in the city. It has become the resort of buyers of all classes and professions who purchase for cash; and the business of the house being conducted on principles of economy in prices, and honorable dealing, purchasers on trial generally become permanent patrons.

TEN THOUSAND PERSONS, of their own unaided accord, have certified that no remedy ever in the market equalled Redding's Russia Salve in the curing of cuts, burns, scalds, corns, or wounds of any description. Sold everywhere, 25 cents a box.

Thick boots for men, boys and youths. A first rate lot, selling low at C. Gill & Co's.

For the Patriot
Snobocracy.

MR. EDITOR:—Grant me the privilege of seeking for information through your valuable Journal, from a class of our inhabitants calling themselves the "Aristocracy," but who, if I may be allowed to use the expression, deserve to be called the "Snobocracy." I wish to be informed if the farmer or the mechanic is entitled to be ranked with the Aristocracy? or the gentleman who has accumulated a large fortune, or has attained an intellectual position in our community? No! I answer, not one of these men are worthy of the name! But who are our "Aristocracy"? In my belief, they are the great salary gentlemen (?) who labor out of town, and who do no good to our people or town; and who get up snobacies, excluding persons from whom they are more respected and looked to with greater reverence than themselves.

This class of aristocracy do not belong to our town, but come here and swell so very large, that it is unsafe to be nigh them. I hope they will find, before they are much older, a more suitable rank than they now claim.

Calif congress boots for men, boys and youths—heavy soles, custom made—warranted at C. Gill & Co's.

AGRICULTURAL CONVENTION AND LECTURES. It is proposed to have what may be termed a great agricultural "protracted meeting" at Yale College during the present winter, to last throughout the whole month of February. The exercises are to consist of lectures by leading reliable men, eminent in the different departments of agriculture, horticulture, stock-raising, etc. About eighty lectures are provided for, two to four each day,—each lecture to be followed by conversational exercises, questions to the lectures, and discussions. Twenty or thirty gentlemen, well known in Agriculture, besides the Professors in Yale College, are engaged to take part in the exercises as lecturers and teachers, while numerous other eminent Agriculturists and Horticulturists have expressed their intention to be present and participate in the discussion.

Among the lecturers are Lewis P. Allen, Cassius M. Clay and Francis Rotch, on Cattle; Sanford Howard and Dr. Guilever, on Horses; C. L. Flint and others, on the Dairy; Hon. Marshall P. Wilder, Dr. C. W. Grant, Messrs. P. Barry and R. G. Pardee, on Fruits; Professor Porter on Organic Chemistry; Professor S. W. Johnson on Agricultural Chemistry; Professor B. Stillman, Jr. on Meteorology; J. Stanton Gould, on Grasses and Irrigation; Judge French, on Drainage; Judge Harris, on Cereals; Professor Brower, on Commercial Plants, (flax, hemp, tobacco, etc.); George B. Emerson, on Forest Trees; Dr. Constock, on Fish Culture; Donald G. Mitchell, (18 Marvel), on Rural Economy.

The whole is to be free, except the nominal charge of say ten dollars or less to meet the necessary expenses of lecturers and other incidentals. The occasion will doubtless be one of great interest to cultivators generally, and call together a large attendance from all parts of the country. Inquiries with reference to this project may be addressed to Professor John A. Porter, New Haven, (Conn.)

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

Chickens are selling in Wisconsin at three cents a pound; turkeys, geese and ducks at four. These are not "starvation prices" for consumers, whatever they may be to the introducers of such fowl proceedings.

Martin Van Buren, the eighth President of the United States, is 77 years old, having been born on the 5th of December, 1782.

The artesian well at Columbus, Ohio, has reached a depth of two thousand feet, with a prospect of a fine stream of water.

Paper money was first made by Massachusetts in 1830; by Connecticut, 1793; Pennsylvania, 1723; Maryland, 1740; Rhode Island, 1754; and in 1759 almost every province, by the English government. It was first made by the United States in 1775.

There is now in operation in the United States one mile of railway to every thousand inhabitants; in England, one to every 2,500, and in the whole of Great Britain, one to every 3,000 inhabitants.

The statistics of theyster inspector of Virginia show that about twenty millions bushels of the bivalves were taken from the Virginia waters the past year.

The town of Corinth, Me., has produced 80,000 bushels of potatoes this year.

Some of the large shoe dealers in Alexandria, Va., are going into the manufacture of boots and shoes and other articles in their lines, to encourage home manufacture.

Newport, (R. I.) has voted, 40 to 21 in favor of the projected railroad between that city and Fall River, on the terms proposed by the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad Company.

John Barry, an Irishman and a Catholic, was the first Commodore in the United States service and the "Father of the American Navy." He was commissioned by Congress in April, 1776, and served gallantly through the struggle for independence. He died in Philadelphia in 1803.

Switzerland, has no patent law, notwithstanding which manufacturers have attained a high degree of prosperity in the Swiss Confederation.

Ten boys, ranging from ten to fourteen years of age, have been arrested in Brooklyn, (N. Y.) for having committed a large number of robberies. It appeared that the boys were all connected together in a sort of gang for the prosecution of all kinds of robberies.

A Connecticut school-mistress having a troublesome big boy to manage, sat down upon him. She was a large woman, and soon subdued the "ruling passion" of her scholar.

Deaths.

In this town, 11th inst., Mrs. Joanna, widow of the late William Torrey, aged 66 years.

In Dorchester, on the 6th inst., Mr. Samuel Savil, aged 81 years.

GEORGE W. VINTON,

CONFECTIONER,

NO. 313 WASHINGTON STREET.

MR. VINTON has just received a few cases of imported Capids, Flowers and other Cake Ornaments, which he will sell at Wholesale or Retail.

Also, a large lot of Rich Figures, fine Bonbons, Cornucopias, Glass Boxes, Paper Boxes, Prisms, French Confectionery, elegant Sugar Ornaments, plain and crystallized, to decorate

Christmas Trees,

He has a few elegant FANCY BOXES, filled with the finest FRENCH CONFECTIONERY, suitable for Holiday Gifts.

The best of WEDDING CAKE constantly on hand, and made to order. FRESH PEACHES, in cans. PRESERVES and JELLIES, of all kinds.

3w—dec. 17.

Special Notices.

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION at Barker's Hall, on MONDAY EVENING, Dec. 19th, at 7 o'clock.

Question for Debate.

Has Trance speaking been productive of any good.

Per order. C. H. PORTER, Sec'y.

Quincy, Dec. 17. 1w

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING.

Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.

In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall.

Mr. James Harris, of Abington, will speak to-morrow.

Quincy, Dec. 17. 1w

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

Dr. Duponce's Golden Pills for Females.

One of the most successful remedies ever discovered for female complaints. "One of the 'first ladies' of New London," who has used them says, she considers them of so much value she would not be without them, and would cheerfully pay five dollars a box for them if she could get them no less.

The ingredients of these Pills are made known to every agent, and they will tell you it is the best female medicine ever sold, at the same time perfectly harmless. Price $1 per box. Sold by Mrs. E. Hayden sole agent for Quincy.

Ladies by sending her $1 through the Quincy P. O., can have the Pills sent to any part of the country confidentially by mail.

WEEKS & POTTER, 154 Washington Street, Boston, wholesale agents.

S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y.

Quincy, Nov. 19th, 1859. 1y

BOOKS,

TOYS,

FANCY GOODS,

A NEW AND LARGE VARIETY, PURCHASED EXPRESSLY FOR CHRISTMAS,

AND

New Year's Presents!

C. GILL & CO.,

QUINCY BOOK

AND

FANCY GOODS STORE.

Quincy, Dec. 17. 3w

FACTS FOR THE

Consideration of Economical

WHOLESALE & RETAIL BUYERS

OVER $55,000

WORTH OF

PRIME READY-MADE

WINTER CLOTHING!

To be closed off during the

NEXT THIRTY DAYS.

AT PRICES BELOW THE LOWEST

BARGAIN HITHERTO OFFERED AT

LANE'S

GREAT BARGAIN STORE.

32 DOCK SQUARE, 32

The long continued open general fall and winter weather has left us with a large supply of

UNSOLD GOODS ON HAND.

Which must be disposed of within 30 days, or our system will inevitably be allowed no goods to remain on our shelves over the season.

This stock embraces every variety of

READY-MADE

Fine, Fashionable and Heavy

WINTER GARMENTS,

ADAPTED FOR

Professional Men,

Mechanics,

Mechanics and Laborers.

LANE'S

32 DOCK SQUARE, 32.

Boston, Dec. 17. 3w

SAVE THE PIECES. —

UPTON'S STEAM REFINED

Liquid Glue.

An indispensable article in every family

for mending

FURNITURE,

VASES,

ORNAMENTS,

TOYS, &c.

THE proprietor in offering this article in the market, would most respectfully solicit the public to test its efficacy. He warrants it unequalled by any preparation of its nature, ever before offered, or in strength, purity, freedom from unpleasant odor, or in ease of application.

It is manufactured from UPTON'S GLUE, so long and so justly celebrated throughout the country.

Every frugal housekeeper should have a bottle for mending the thousand and one things, which are daily broken, and would be a total loss but for the discovery of this valuable article.

Sold by all the principal Grocers, Stationers, and Apothecaries throughout the country.

C. H. FROST, Wholesale Agent,

NO. 24 CENTRAL ST. BOSTON.

N. B. Be sure and inquire for Upton's Steam

Refined.

Boston, Dec. 17. 1m

Edridge Clapp

Offers a large and complete assortment of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods at the VERY LOWEST PRICES.

Quincy, Dec. 17. 1f

Just Received.

A GOOD assortment of Candles, different kinds and sizes. Spermaceti, Wax and French Sperm.

For Sale by

MRS. E. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Dec. 17. 1f

Collector's Sale.

I SHALL sell the following described Real Estate, situated in Quincy, at the Hancock House, on SATURDAY, Jan. 14th, 1860, at 3 o'clock P. M., for the non-payment of Taxes, given me to collect for the year, 1859.

Land on Liberty street, taxed to Edward Welch of Boston. Tax $2 10 and cost.

Land on House on Billings' Place, taxed to Charles A. Wood of Boston. Tax $21 00 and cost.

3 1/4 of an Acre of Land on Billings' Place, taxed to Thomas Thatcher of Boston. Tax $2 10 and cost.

17 Acres of Woodland, taxed to J. W. Ridge-way of Dorchester. Tax $2 15 and cost.

Land and 2 Houses near the Old Hotel, taxed to Cornelius Dancy of Dorchester. Tax $11 20 and cost.

Land on Washington street, taxed to Charles Spear of Dorchester. Tax $1 05 and cost.

4 Acres of Marsh taxed to Samuel P. Lord of Dorchester. Tax $2 80 and cost.

Land and House taxed to A. R. Day of Dorchester, or by whom owned. Tax $6 30 and cost.

21 5/8 of an Acre of Land taxed to Ansel Stephens of Dorchester. Tax $2 80 and cost.

Lots Nos. 1 and 2, on Greenleaf Place, taxed to T. G. Nichols of Dorchester. Tax $1 40 and cost.

2 1/2 Acres Land taxed to Heirs of James Adams of Milton. Tax $1 40 and cost.

1 1/2 Acres of Marsh taxed to W. F. Baker of Milton. Tax $3 80 and cost.

Land on Willard street taxed to Joseph Collis of Milton. Tax $2 10 and cost.

2 1/2 Acres of Marsh taxed to Simon Ferry of Milton. Tax $1 05 and cost.

Land taxed to the Heirs of Elisha Hunt of Randolph. Tax $1 40 and cost.

Land on Edwards' Place taxed to Prescott Nash of Weymouth. Tax 70 cents and cost.

Land of Greenleaf Place taxed to Baker & Perry, residence unknown. Tax 70 cents and cost.

Land on Edwards' Place taxed to Wm. Cahill, residence unknown. Tax 70 cents and cost.

House, Shop and Land taxed to Shadrach Wade, or by whom owned. Tax $28 00 and cost.

2 Lots on Edwards' Place taxed to Wm. Nash, residence unknown. Tax $1 40 and cost.

Land on Edwards' Place taxed to Wm. T. Mann, residence unknown. Tax $1 40 and cost.

The above will be sold at the time and place mentioned above, unless the taxes and cost are previously paid.

Quincy, Dec. 17. 3w

C. A. CUMMINGS, Collector.

Collector's Sale.

I SHALL sell the following described Real Estate, situated in Quincy, at the Hancock House, on SATURDAY, Jan. 14th, 1860, at 3 o'clock P.M., for the payment of Taxes, given due to collect for the year, 1859.

Land on Liberty street, taxed to Edward Welch of Boston. Tax $2 10 and cost.

Land and House on Edging's Place, taxed to Charles A. Wood of Boston. Tax $21 00 and cost.

3 1/4 of an Acre of Land on Billings' Place, taxed to Thomas Thatcher of Boston. Tax $2 10 and cost.

17 Acres of Woodland, taxed to J. W. Ridgeway of Dorchester. Tax $2 40 and cost.

Land and House near the Old Hotel, taxed to Cornelius Dacey of Dorchester. Tax $11 20 and cost.

Land on Washington street, taxed to Charles Spear of Dorchester. Tax $1 05 and cost.

4 Acres of Marsh taxed to Samuel P. Lord of Dorchester. Tax $2 00 and cost.

Land and House taxed to A. R. Day of Dorchester, or by whom owned. Tax $6 30 and cost.

21,270 feet of Land taxed to Ansel Stephens of Dorchester. Tax $2 80 and cost.

Lot No. 1 and 2, on Greenleaf Place, taxed 1 1/2 Acres of Free Town. Tax $1 40 and cost.

2 1/2 Acres Land, taxed to Heirs of James Adams of Milton. Tax $1 40 and cost.

1 1/2 Acres of Marsh taxed to W. F. Baker of Milton. Tax $1 40 and cost.

Land on a Willard street taxed to Joseph Corlis of Milton. Tax $2 10 and cost.

1 1/2 Acres of Marsh taxed to Simon Perry of Milton. Tax $1 40 and cost.

Land on Edging's Place, taxed to Prescott Nash of Weymouth. Tax 70 cents and cost.

Land of Greenleaf Place taxed to Baker & Perry, residents unknown. Tax 70 cents and cost.

Land and House taxed to W. P. Hickey, residents unknown. Tax $2 10 and cost.

Land on Edwards' Hill taxed to Wm. Cahill, residents unknown. Tax 70 cents and cost.

House, Shop and Land taxed to Shadrach Wade, or by whom owned. Tax $28 00 and cost.

2 Lots on Edwards' Place taxed to Wm. Nash, residents unknown. Tax $1 40 and cost.

Land on Edwards' Place taxed to Wm. T. O'Connell, residents unknown. Tax $1 40 and cost.

The above will be sold at the time and place mentioned above, unless the taxes and cost are previously paid.

C. A. CUMMINGS, Collector.

Quincy, Dec. 17. 3w

NORFOLK, ss. At a meeting of the County Commissioners held at Dedham, in and for said County, on the twenty second day of November, A. D. 1859, by adjournment of the September meeting, next proceeding.

UPON the petition of Appleton Howe and others, inhabitants of the Town of Weymouth, representing that the public convenience and necessity require the location and construction of a public highway in said Weymouth, from a point on Oak street, near the dwelling house of Allen Young and running in a westerly direction to a point on Pleasant street, near the house of Ezra Reed; and requesting the Commissioners to examine the route, locate and cause to be constructed the said road, according to the form of the statutes in such case made and provided, certain having been first given to all persons and corporations interested, the County Commissioners met at the South Weymouth Station, on the third day of February next, at 10 A. M., and on the seventh day of Nov., A. D. 1859, at 10 A. M. said Commissioners viewed the route proposed, in said petition, and said petitioners appeared, and the Town of Weymouth was then and there represented by its Officers and Agents, and said Commissioners heard all persons and corporations interested, and said case was argued and referred to the said Commissioners, and said Commissioners adjudge and determine that the public convenience and necessity require that said road should be laid out, and located, and established as a highway.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, County Commissioner.

LESLIE MANN, 2d, County Commissioner.

LUCAS POOD, County Commissioner.

On the Application aforesaid, ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Railroad Station at the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad, in South Weymouth, in said County, on THURSDAY, the second day of February next, at 10 o'clock A. M., and proceed to view and lay out and locate said highway, view all persons and corporations interested, and determine that the public convenience and necessity require that said road should be laid out, and located, and established as a highway.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, County Commissioner.

LESLIE MANN, 2d, County Commissioner.

LUCAS POOD, County Commissioner.

On the Application aforesaid, ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Railroad Station at the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad, in South Weymouth, in said County, on THURSDAY, the second day of February next, at 10 o'clock A. M., and proceed to view and lay out and locate said highway, view all persons and corporations interested, and determine that the public convenience and necessity require that said road should be laid out, and located, and established as a highway.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, County Commissioner.

LESLIE MANN, 2d, County Commissioner.

LUCAS POOD, County Commissioner.

On the Application aforesaid, ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Railroad Station at the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad, in South Weymouth, in said County, on THURSDAY, the second day of February next, at 10 o'clock A. M., and proceed to view and lay out and locate said highway, view all persons and corporations interested, and determine that the public convenience and necessity require that said road should be laid out, and located, and established as a highway.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, County Commissioner.

LESLIE MANN, 2d, County Commissioner.

LUCAS POOD, County Commissioner.

On the Application aforesaid, ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Railroad Station at the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad, in South Weymouth, in said County, on THURSDAY, the second day of February next, at 10 o'clock A. M., and proceed to view and lay out and locate said highway, view all persons and corporations interested, and determine that the public convenience and necessity require that said road should be laid out, and located, and established as a highway.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, County Commissioner.

LESLIE MANN, 2d, County Commissioner.

LUCAS POOD, County Commissioner.

On the Application aforesaid, ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Railroad Station at the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad, in South Weymouth, in said County, on THURSDAY, the second day of February next, at 10 o'clock A. M., and proceed to view and lay out and locate said highway, view all persons and corporations interested, and determine that the public convenience and necessity require that said road should be laid out, and located, and established as a highway.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, County Commissioner.

LESLIE MANN, 2d, County Commissioner.

LUCAS POOD, County Commissioner.

On the Application aforesaid, ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Railroad Station at the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad, in South Weymouth, in said County, on THURSDAY, the second day of February next, at 10 o'clock A. M., and proceed to view and lay out and locate said highway, view all persons and corporations interested, and determine that the public convenience and necessity require that said road should be laid out, and located, and established as a highway.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, County Commissioner.

LESLIE MANN, 2d, County Commissioner.

LUCAS POOD, County Commissioner.

On the Application aforesaid, ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Railroad Station at the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad, in South Weymouth, in said County, on THURSDAY, the second day of February next, at 10 o'clock A. M., and proceed to view and lay out and locate said highway, view all persons and corporations interested, and determine that the public convenience and necessity require that said road should be laid out, and located, and established as a highway.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, County Commissioner.

LESLIE MANN, 2d, County Commissioner.

LUCAS POOD, County Commissioner.

On the Application aforesaid, ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Railroad Station at the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad, in South Weymouth, in said County, on THURSDAY, the second day of February next, at 10 o'clock A. M., and proceed to view and lay out and locate said highway, view all persons and corporations interested, and determine that the public convenience and necessity require that said road should be laid out, and located, and established as a highway.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, County Commissioner.

LESLIE MANN, 2d, County Commissioner.

LUCAS POOD, County Commissioner.

On the Application aforesaid, ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Railroad Station at the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad, in South Weymouth, in said County, on THURSDAY, the second day of February next, at 10 o'clock A. M., and proceed to view and lay out and locate said highway, view all persons and corporations interested, and determine that the public convenience and necessity require that said road should be laid out, and located, and established as a highway.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, County Commissioner.

LESLIE MANN, 2d, County Commissioner.

LUCAS POOD, County Commissioner.

On the Application aforesaid, ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Railroad Station at the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad, in South Weymouth, in said County, on THURSDAY, the second day of February next, at 10 o'clock A. M., and proceed to view and lay out and locate said highway, view all persons and corporations interested, and determine that the public convenience and necessity require that said road should be laid out, and located, and established as a highway.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, County Commissioner.

LESLIE MANN, 2d, County Commissioner.

LUCAS POOD, County Commissioner.

To the Honorable Judge of the Court of Probate for the County of Plymouth.

THE petition of the County of Plymouth, in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, humbly shews that he holds under Henry A. C. Adams, of Quincy, aforesaid, one of the heirs at law to the Estate of the late Peter Adams, of Bridgewater, in the County of Plymouth, Commonwealth aforesaid, deceased; one undivided fourth part of a certain lot of land lying in Quincy aforesaid, in common and undivided with Abram M. Alrough, of Quincy, aforesaid, bounded and described as follows, viz: northerly on Highgate and Quincy Turnpike, so called, five rods and nineteen and three fourths links; southerly on lot numbered five on the plan heretofore mentioned and belonging to A. M. Alrough and the said Thompson Baxter, twenty six rods and twenty-one and a half links; southerly on land of Francis Locke, five rods; and nine and one half rods; and northerly on lot No. Seven, on the plan heretofore mentioned twenty-six rods and twenty-two links, containing according to said plan one hundred and forty-six rods, it being lot numbered Six, on a plan of lots of land belonging to the heirs of Peter Adams, and another made by L. Humphrey, and dated September 3d, 1855, a copy of which plan is deposited in the Registry of Deeds for the said County of Norfolk; requesting, however, out of the lot above described, a piece or strip thereof two and a half rods wide across the bottom and southerly side of the same and adjoining said Francis Locke's land, to be set apart as a street or passageway for the accommodation of the several lots numbered from five to fourteen inclusive on said plan to be used in common by the owners of said several lots and their heirs and assigns forever.

That your petitioner is desirous to hold and enjoy his part or share in said real estate being one fourth part in severalty. He therefore prays that your Honor would order partition thereof to be made and his said part or share set off and divided from the rest agreeably to a law of the Commonwealth, in such cases made and provided.

THOMPSON BAXTER.

Quincy, Nov. 25, 1859.

Plymouth, ss. At a Court of Probate holden at Scituate, in and for said County, on the last Tuesday of November, 1859.

UPON the foregoing petition, it is ordered, that the said petitioner notify all persons interested therein within this Commonwealth to appear at a Court of Probate to be holden at Abington, in and for said County, on the second Monday of January next, by serving them with a true copy of said petition, and this order thereon, fourteen days at least before the said Court, Monday of January next, and also that he notify all other persons interested therein, to appear as aforesaid, by publishing said petition with this order thereon, three weeks successively, in the public newspaper published in the County of Norfolk, in and for said County, on the first Monday of January next, the last publication to be fourteen days before the said court, then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

WILLIAM H. WOOD, Judge of Probate.

Quincy, Dec. 10.

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscribes heretofore appointed Administrators of the Goods and Estate of

ELIHU WHITE, late of Dorchester, in the County of Norfolk, Physician and Druggist, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

N. L. WHITE, Administrator.

Braintree, Dec. 17, 1859. 3w*

Executrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executrix of the Will of HENRY P. DOBLE, late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Tailor, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

ELLY H. DOBLE, Executrix, or to

WM. B. DUGGAN, her Attorney.

Quincy, Dec. 3d, 1859. 3w

Insolvency Notice.

THE Third meeting of the creditors of

HERRICK GORE, of Braintree, Insolvent Debtor, will be holden at the Court of Insolvency, at Dedham, in the County of Norfolk, on the 15th day of January next, at 10 o'clock, in the forenoon, at which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.

T. B. STODDARD, Assignee.

Worcester, Dec. 3d, 1859. 2w

$200 REWARD.

WHEREAS, the Episcopal Church in this town was destroyed by fire, on SATURDAY evening the 19th inst., and there can be no doubt that it was the work of an incendiary, the above reward will be paid to any person that will give such information as will convict the person or persons who set said fire.

And the above reward will also be paid to any person who shall detect any one in setting fire to any building of the value of Two Hundred Dollars, within the Town and the First day of March next, on conviction of the offender.

DANIEL BAXTER, Selectman.

EDMUND POPE, JONA. JAMESON, Quincy.

Quincy, Nov. 26th, 1859. 1f

$100 Reward.

THE above reward will be paid to any person who will give information to the Directors of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company, that will lead to the conviction of the incendiary who set fire to the EPISCOPAL CHURCH in this village, burnt on the 20th inst.

STEDDEN BATES, Secretary.

Quincy, Nov. 26.

$50 Reward.

WHEREAS several fires have been set in the woods in Quincy the past ten days, either carelessly or maliciously, the above reward will be paid to any person who will give such information as will convict the person or persons who set said fires.

And the above reward will be paid to any person who shall detect any one setting fires as above, on conviction of the offender, until the first day of March next.

DANIEL BAXTER, Selectman.

EDMUND POPE, JONA. JAMESON, Quincy.

Quincy, May 6th, 1859. 1f

DON'T FAIL to see SIXTH ANNUAL ANNOUNCEMENT, and brilliant offers, in our columns.

Grover & Baker's

CELEBRATED

FAMILY

Sewing Machines!

Over 30,000 in use

SALESROOM IN

BOSTON,

18 SUMMER STREET.

AGENCIES THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

Boston, Nov. 12

7w

DRESSMAKING.

MISS L. C. KELLY, leave to inform

her friends and former customers, that she has returned to town, and renewed her business of

DRESSMAKING!

(ON FRANKLIN STREET,

Opposite Mr. Adam Curtis' shop.)

Where she hopes by unremitting attention to her business, that she will be enabled to merit a share of that patronage which has hitherto been so liberally bestowed on her. She would have no objection to work in families by the day or week.

She would also add, that during the past four months, she has made herself acquainted with all the Modern Improvements in Dressmaking.

Quincy, Sept. 10 1f

MILLINERY

AND

DRESS MAKING.

Mrs. M. E. Curtis

WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy and

Vicinity, that she has received a

New and Fashionable Assortment

of

MILLINERY GOODS,

suitable for the season, consisting of

Velvets, Satins, Flowers Ribbons,

Ribbons, etc.

Straw, Fancy yarn Moning Bonnets, ready-made

and trimmed, or made to order.

AN EXPERIENCED MILLINER

will be ready to execute orders promptly and faithfully.

Dresses, and all the latest styles of Cloaks and outside garments, cut to order, and made to suit customers. Also, Dress Buttons, Corsets, Waistbands Skirts, Worsted Gowns, with a variety of articles too numerous to mention, for sale at very low prices, can be purchased elsewhere.

Quincy, Oct. 22. 1f

CHEAP

CHEAPER

CHEAPEST.

New Arrangement.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE LADIES.

Prices Reduced.

IN consequence of the extreme dullness in nearly all branches of business at the present time, I shall reduce my prices for

CASH AND CASH ONLY!

And from the 1st of November until January 1st, shall have and trim Bonnets for 20 cents, (former price 25 cents) shall make Plain Bonnets, (from 50 to 62 cents, (former price 75 cents.) Therefore, exert my efforts for the good of my many

Who would wish to do their own Millinery, many for so small a compensation it can be done in

GOOD STYLE

by those devoting their whole time to the business.

This is sufficient inducement, we think, for the

MOST ECONOMIZING.

to patronize those in this department of trade, and who are competent, by years of experience, of compiling a well arranged and neat Bonnet, or Trimming.

I have received a splendid assortment of

Millinery Goods

FOR FALL AND WINTER,

CONSISTING OF

Bonnets—in pretty styles, colored and white

Straw, from 50 cents to $1. Those at 50 cents

are a Decided Bargain

Ribbons—one hundred new pieces in beautiful styles and high colors from 17 to 50 cents per yard. Also a great variety of narrow ribbons pretty for children's bonnets and dress trimmings

from 10 to 16 cents.

Flowers—I have the largest variety ever before

in Quincy, of French and American manufacture, at prices varying from 10 to 42 cents.

Bonnet Velvets—From 2 to $4 per yard.

Any color desired that I have not may be obtained to order.

Bonnets—will be made from this material in

GOOD STYLE, trimmed with feathers and flowers

as low as $4.50, or higher prices as wished.

I have also another material which I will make

into bonnets for 3 to $3.50

Satins—in good variety of colors, desirable

for fashion with lace and flowers for Misses'

Bonnet.

Feathers—I have a good assortment of different colors and prices; some as low as 25 cents per yard. Also a great variety of narrow ribbons

pretty for children's bonnets and dress trimmings

from 10 to 16 cents.

Flowers—I have the largest variety ever before

in Quincy, of French and American manufacture, at prices varying from 10 to 42 cents.

Bonnet Velvets—From 2 to $4 per yard.

Any color desired that I have not may be obtained to order.

Bonnets—will be made from this material in

GOOD STYLE, trimmed with feathers and flowers

as low as $4.50, or higher prices as wished.

I have also another material which I will make

into bonnets for 3 to $3.50

Satins—in good variety of colors, desirable

for fashion with lace and flowers for Misses'

Bonnet.

Feathers—I have a good assortment of different colors and prices; some as low as 25 cents

per yard. Also a great variety of narrow ribbons

pretty for children's bonnets and dress trimmings

from 10 to 16 cents.

Flowers—I have the largest variety ever before

in Quincy, of French and American manufacture, at prices varying from 10 to 42 cents.

Bonnet Velvets—From 2 to $4 per yard.

Any color desired that I have not may be obtained to order.

Bonnets—will be made from this material in

GOOD STYLE, trimmed with feathers and flowers

as low as $4.50, or higher prices as wished.

I have also another material which I will make

into bonnets for 3 to $3.50

Satins—in good variety of colors, desirable

for fashion with lace and flowers for Misses'

Bonnet.

Feathers—I have a good assortment of different colors and prices; some as low as 25 cents

per yard. Also a great variety of narrow ribbons

pretty for children's bonnets and dress trimmings

from 10 to 16 cents.

Flowers—I have the largest variety ever before

in Quincy, of French and American manufacture, at prices varying from 10 to 42 cents.

Bonnet Velvets—From 2 to $4 per yard.

Any color desired that I have not may be obtained to order.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 24th, 1859.

NUMBER LII.

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY,
HAYDEN returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stearns's Variety Store, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING,
Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of
Gold and Silver Watches,
Fob, Curb and Vest Chains,
LOCKETS,

Camoo, Gold Stone, Jet, Fluorine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.
GOLD BRACELETS, BEAT PINS,
Gents' Pins and Studs,
FINGER RINGS.

Together with a large assortment of
Silver and Plated Ware,
Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail price.

LARGER STOCK
than ever offered before in Quincy.
All Goods warranted as represented.
Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.
G- Collins Plates Engraved—
Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a skillful manner, and done when PROMISED.
Quincy Oct 24

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatsoever, descending from parents to children, into the third and fourth generation; indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or albumen matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings, and in the skin, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which renders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous eruptions, but they have for less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the diseases which are the result of this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alternative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eczema and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blisters, Boils and Itch, Tetter, Scald Head, and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Rheumatism, Syphilis and Mercurial Diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Debility, and, indeed, all COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITiated or IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSICIAN, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely without of evade them. Their purgative properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is trusted to furnish gratis to every patient, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Catarrhes, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in the Bowels, Constipation, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Debility, and, indeed, all COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITiated or IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cures it has effected, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted of its kind, and never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.
LOWELL, MASS.

FOR SALE BY
Mrs. E. HAYDEN, and all Medicine Dealers.
Quincy, Aug 6

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.
Two DOLLARS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers:
Railway Village, JOSHUA BARBOCK.
West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE.
Milton, CHARLES BECK.
Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON.
Arlington, JOSEPH CLEVELY.
South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TURNER.
Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GELSHORN DREW.

LIVERY STABLE.

THE subscriber having purchased the establishment of George J. Jones, on Hancock street, and made additions thereto, is prepared, at the usual stand, to accommodate his friends and the public with

Horses and Carriages.

PLEASURE PARTIES furnished with teams and drivers, or single carriages, at the shortest notice.

Personal attention given to the business, and a liberal support from the public solicited.
Quincy, Nov. 12.

LIVERY STABLE.

AT Hardwick's Express Stable, on Hancock street, near the Quincy Patriot Printing Office, new and excellent CARRIAGES, with good and safe HORSES, furnished to individuals or parties, on the very best terms. Transportation of Merchandise, Furniture, &c., attended to with care and despatch.

The travelling public accommodated with good STABLES, at all times.

Good Drivers furnished, if desired.

Every effort will be made to serve patrons, and a share of support is respectfully solicited.

Hardwick's Boston Express.

PARTICULAR attention given to the purchase of Goods and to the transportation of them, and valuable Packages.

Dispatch in the collection of Notes, Drafts, and Bills.

All orders thankfully received, and carefully and expeditiously attended to.

Hours of Departure.

From Quincy—8 o'clock, A. M.

From Boston—2 o'clock, P. M.

Offices in Boston—34 Court Square, (Railroad Exchange,) and 40 South Market street.

Quincy, April 9

New Arrangement.

FURNALD'S

QUINCY EXPRESS

LEAVES BOSTON DAILY.

AT 2 1/2 O'CLOCK, P. M. EST.

38 South Market St. and 3 Washington St.

Quincy, June 5

BOWDITCH'S

Quincy and Boston

EXPRESS.

OFFICE—39 & 40 South Market Street,

And 48 Liberty Square,

BOSTON.

SLATE AT DANIEL BAXTER & CO.'S,

NIGHTINGALE'S PROVISION STORE,

AND THE HANCOCK HOUSE.

All orders thankfully received and promptly attended to.

Quincy, Jan 22

W. M. BABBITT, M. D.,

Homeopathic Physician!

HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

OFFICE HOURS:

7 to 8 A. M. 12 to 1 P. M.

Quincy, Sept. 11.

GEORGE WHITE,

Counsellor and Attorney at Law,

No. 5 Tremont Street,

BOSTON.

Quincy, March 5.

NATHANIEL WHITE,

—HAS FOR SALE—

LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

—ALSO—

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood,

QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Miscellaneous.

Making Love on an Apple Tree.

Everybody said that Nettie Gray was a beauty; none of your polished city belles, but a gay, romping, saucy piece of Nature's own handiwork—yet gentle and affectionate withal, possessing a depth of feeling and sentiment which few were able to fathom.

Now "sweet Nettie Gray," as she was called, had long been beloved by one Charlie Grafton—the handsome young merchant who kept the only store the little village of N— could boast of; where he had, for some four or five years, dealt out tea, sugar, coffee, tobacco, calicoes, silks, pins, needles, hardware, and a variety of merchandise, to the villagers and surrounding farmers. He had realized quite a little fortune; part of which he had invested in the purchase of widow Morton's beautiful cottage and grounds, which at the death of her husband, she had been obliged to dispose of and take a cheaper place where she could live less expensively, while from the surplus of the price received for the cottage, she realized a snug little income. Charlie had also taken the widow's son into the store, as his increased business made it necessary to procure assistance. The salary paid to little Johnny was a material help to his mother, and she never failed to speak a word in his praise whenever an opportunity presented.

This with the numberless acts of generosity which Charlie was never tired of performing, made him the hero of that village, and caused him to be beloved and respected by both young and old for many miles around. To say that Nettie Gray was indifferent to his many visits, or for the ardent love he entertained for her would be doing injustice to her warm appreciative heart. But the spirit of mischief seemed to possess her, and though she was uniformly kind and gentle in her disposition towards her lover, and would converse freely and unreservedly with him upon any topic, yet when he approached the subject that lay nearest his heart, she was off like a frightened bird. Not that she was afraid of him, or that the subject was distasteful to her, (for her own heart was equally interested) but she was delighted to tease him, and heartily enjoyed his discomfiture on such occasions from herself—an event which would have given her the deepest pain.

Charlie had begun to think seriously of marriage; and why not? There stood the cottage embowered in trees, many of rare fruit, uncultivated. It needed only the gentle presence of his bright-eyed Nettie to make it a paradise. His income was more than sufficient to satisfy their most extravagant wants, and why should he not marry? Many times he had visited Nettie for the express purpose of making known his wishes, but had as often been prevented from saying what he wished to say, by the little mischief's running away at the first word he uttered on the subject. To think of supplying her place from the many fair damsels in it—who would gladly have accepted his hand was out of the question. It was Nettie he loved, and Nettie only, and he felt sure she returned his affections, but how could he ever get married if he was not permitted to propose. He must resort to stratagem, he thought, and he partially formed many plans to bring the little beauty to terms, and as often abandoned them.

His mind was busy with such thoughts as one bright morning in September he walked towards Farmer Gray's mansion. He leisurely ascended the hill, at the top of which upon a level table land stood the great old house, when he was startled by a familiar voice calling out:

"Bring the ladder, Dick! I want to get down. And looking up he beheld Nettie seated in the wide spreading branches of a large apple tree that stood in the field near the road. Dick, perched upon the top-most round of a ladder that leaned against a pear tree, was quietly filling a basket with the rich fruit.

"Wait a minute, sis, replied Dick, without looking up; I've got my basket almost full. I'll come in a minute.

"Come now Dick! quick, quick, quick! again called the impatient voice of his sister.

Dick evidently began to think there was something wrong, for, as he turned around, his eye instantly caught sight of our hero coming up the road but a few rods from where they were. He instantly descended from the tree, but instead of carrying the ladder to assist his sister to descend he gave a loud shout, threw his cap into the air, cleared the wall with one bound, and ran rapidly down the hill, shouting at the top of his voice, O, Mr. Grafton, I've treed a con!

Then placing his hands upon the ground before him, he turned some five or six somersets, picked up his cap, and ran with all his might to the house. The little rogue evidently loved mischief as well as did his pretty sister.

Charlie's first thought was to go to the assistance of Nettie, and he leaped the wall and approached the tree. Taking the ladder from the pear tree, he was about placing it for her to descend, when a sudden thought suggested itself. She cannot run away from me now, and not stopping to consider the ungallant act, he grasped a lower branch, and with some gay remark, swung himself lightly up and took a seat by her side.

Nettie, who was an amiable girl and could take a joke as good-naturedly as she could give one, only laughed heartily at the trick her brother had played upon her, complimented Charlie upon his agility, and invited him to help himself to the blossoming fruit that hung in such tempting profusion about them. After chatting in a variety of themes, he determined to approach the subject, and if possible, get an intelligent answer. For some time he sat in silence, then said:

"Nettie, I have something to say to you. Ah! have you? she replied. Well, Charlie, please help me down, and you can say it as we walk to the house.

Charlie saw the mischief in her eyes, and resolved to go on without heeding her request, yet he changed somewhat in his mode of attack.

"Nettie, I am going to be married. Married! Charlie, married!

Without heeding the prayerful glance that was raised to his face, he went on.

"Yes, Nettie; my business is now very prosperous; I have a pretty home, which needs only the additional charm of a pair of bright eyes. I have found a sweet, gentle girl, whom I love with all my heart, and who is willing to become my wife, and I have resolved to marry. I have tried a long time to tell you, but you would not hear it.

Nettie had listened to this speech in utter amazement. She had long believed that she was beloved of Charlie Grafton's heart, and she meant, after she had teased him to her heart's content, to listen to his love, and become his dutiful and loving wife. But her hopes were now suddenly dashed to atoms. It was too much. A giddy faintness came over her, and but for support of Charlie's arm, she would have fallen to the ground. Charlie noticed her emotion, and feared he had gone too far. It was but for a moment, however. She soon regained her self-possession, and sat upright by his side. Her face was very pale, but her eyes flashed proudly as she replied, and there was a spice of bitterness in her tone:

"May I ask the name of her who has been honored with the offer of the hand and heart of my noble friend?

"First let me describe her. She is a beautiful girl, and possesses a warm and loving heart. She had but one fault—if fault it may be called. She delights to tease those who love her best, and often has she given me a severe heart pang. Yet, Nettie, I love her deeply and fervently, and it shall be the object of my life to guard her from harm, to protect her, as far as I am able, from the slightest breath of sorrow, and I shall be abundantly rewarded by her love. Nettie, I have now offered her my hand, though she has long possessed my heart. I do it now. Nettie, dearest, can you ask her name?

Nettie gave one long enquiring look, as though she but half comprehended his words. Will you be my wife, Nettie?

What! she replied, half bewilderingly, are not you going to be married? Are you not forever lost to me?

Yes, if you will consent to be mine.

She realized what it would be to lose him; her head sank upon his bosom, and bursting into tears she murmured:

Yes, Charlie, I will.

Soon Master Dick came bounding into the orchard, one hand filled with a huge slice of bread and butter, while with the other he tossed his cap into the air, showing that he fully comprehended the state of affairs, shouting at the top of his voice:

Hallo, Mr. Grafton, aint you glad I treed her for you?

Both greeted this sally with a burst of laughter, and soon all three were engaged in a wild romp upon the green turf.

We hardly need add that the same autumn witnessed a right merry wedding at the old mansion of former Gray.

Chewing Gum.

Trifling as the subject may appear, yet it is of importance. It is of importance to have sound teeth in middle life and old age, proper precaution must be used in childhood.

The habit of chewing gum is like applying small air-pumps to the basis of the teeth. When the gum is separated from the tooth, it forms a vacuum between itself and the tooth, and the consequence is a violent strain on the dental nerves. The bad results may not show themselves immediately, but the boy or girl who indulges in the habit may calculate on having rotten teeth when in the prime of life. Nor this is all. The habit, like tobacco chewing, induces an unnatural flow of the humors toward the mouth, where it must be ejected as saliva. This is bad enough when it can be ejected; but when, from sickness or other causes the habit must be discontinued, the result may be, and no doubt has been fatal. Let young persons and their parents take heed.—Brunswick, Maine, Telegraph.

Where the Strength Lies.
Where is the strength and safety of a people? Is it in their multitude? Look at Europe, and behold the millions the sport of a few—look at the nations and races, trampled by a tithe of their numbers in the dust—look at the myriad slaves whom a thousand tyrants and taskmen scourge in the fields and camps and dungeons. The strength of a people is not alone in multitudes. Is it in the power of revolutions and massacre, or in the bayonets they can fling to the gleam of the sun? Did bayonets save Rome—did they save Poland and Hungary and France, and Germany to the people? The strength and safety of a people lie in their knowledge of their rights and their union in defence of them. Ignorant and disunited, the greater danger of a people. They fall upon and destroy themselves. In their hands bayonets become suicidal. Give a people a true knowledge of themselves, and no power can oppose them. Liberties come with intelligence, and the unarmed, intelligent million are stronger than ignorant armed millions. The strength of the American people lies least in the number of their cannon and most in their school-houses, newspapers and books. These are indestructible weapons, to which age adds knowledge and might;—and armed with these, we are safer and stronger than soldiers bristling with murderous steel. Armed with these, millions lean together, and strike mightily, but bloodlessly as one man, through the ballot box.

Fun at Home.

Don't be afraid of a little fun at home, good people? Don't sit up your noses lest the sun should fade your carpet; and your hearts, least a hearty laugh should shake down some of the musty old cobwebs there! If you want to ruin your sons, let them think that all mirth and social enjoyment must be left on the threshold without, when they come home at night. When once a home is regarded as only a place to eat, drink, and sleep in, the work is begun that ends in gambling houses and reckless degradation. Young people must have fun and relaxation somewhere; if they do not find it at their own hearthstones, it will be sought in other, and perhaps less profitable, places. Therefore let the fire burn brightly at night, and make the home-nest delightful with all those little arts that parents so perfectly understand. Don't repress the buoyant spirit of your children; half an hour of merriment round the lamp and firelight of home blots out the remembrance of many a care and annoyance during the day, and the best safeguard they can take with them into the world is the unseen influence of a bright little domestic sanctum.—Life Illustrated.

The Good Newspaper a Teacher.

The newspaper is the great teacher of our day, furnishing no small fund of information to those to be denominated self-made men in after years. Thousands of our little, obscure boys, in the schoolroom, the street, and domestic circle, are storing away a great variety of facts and events of vast importance, which will aid them in reaching an eminence of distinction when they shall launch on the stage of public life. These faithful chroniclers are conveying to them intelligence which the accumulated volumes of years cannot furnish. They are stimulating a taste for reading, where a whole library of books would pass unnoticed and unknown. They are creating a thirst for knowledge and wisdom, while the armies of vice, idleness and corruption would be multiplied without them, and our mighty armor of safety destroyed.

Once let this grand source of occupation, physical and mental, be suspended, a multitude of unemployed would run riot in the streets,—the haunts of crime would occupy the place of industry and morality, and disorder become the order of the day. Thankful should we be that this powerful bulwark of safety, the potent instrument of good, the newspaper, is adapted alike to the means of the rich and poor. No man, woman, or child in the land need do without it. Nay, none can afford to lose its advantages. It is the only equalizer of society. It aims to defend the laborer, point out his rights, and the honest road to renown. It is his friend, and warns him against a multitude of impostors striving to profit by his ignorance and credulity. It shows the wealthy the superiority of mind over money, and urges the importance of intellectual endowments, and the folly of costly household ornaments. To the statesman and sage it is a companion and co-worker, communicating much that was previously unknown, and making much with which we are already acquainted practical. The newspaper controls, in no small degree, the sentiments of a people, and should be a welcome visitor in every true American home.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

Putting aside the Quaker.
Some years since, a Quaker, travelling through Maryland, towards the close of the day stopped at a public house on the Eastern Shore, where he intended to put up for the night. After delivering his saddle bags to the landlord, and seeing his horse taken care of, the evening being warm, he was about seating himself on the portico, which was elevated about three feet above the ground, when a person, who was drinking, came up and asked him to take a drink of grog. "I am obliged to thee," said the Quaker, "I would rather not." The other repeated his request several times; the Quaker still making the same reply. The other at last told him, if he would not drink with him he should give him the contents of his glass in his face. "Friend," returned the Quaker, "I have told thee several times, that I would not drink, and as for thy threat, thou hadst better not put it into execution; whereupon the other immediately emptied the glass in his face; the Quaker instantly arose, coolly pulled off his coat, and while laying it over the railing of the portico, said, 'the thou there Quaker, while I chastise the blackguard!' He then, being a stout, athletic man, seized the aggressor by the collar, and the waistband of his pantaloons, and threw him over the railing on the ground; observing, if he was not satisfied with that, he should be under the necessity of horse whipping him well, in order to teach him good manners.

The Mother.

As a mother, woman occupies her most important station. How many men have attributed all their worth to the early and persevering instruction of maternal affection? The story of John Newton is familiar to most of us. Though he had long abandoned himself to vice, unrestrained by the ordinary principles of morality or a regard for public opinion, yet, amid all his aberrations and obliquities, the impression made by the early pious inculcations of his mother remained riveted on his mind, and were often recalled to his recollection by the most painful 'compunctious visitings of conscience.'

The earliest ideas of children, their most valuable information, are imbibed from maternal instruction. Females are by nature peculiarly qualified for teaching. Lively and engaging in their manners; gentle and affectionate, ardent and persevering, their communications are particularly fascinating to the young mind. In truth, they generally combine the useful with the agreeable, the art of entertaining and at the same time edifying. How often has it happened that eminent men have had their young minds fostered and strengthened and matured by the early anxiety of maternal fidelity. In this way, females hold in their hands the destiny of nations. By the mother, good principles are infused and correct habits formed. She transmits to her children her opinions, her prejudices, her virtues. She is their continual companion. She is heard with respect and attention and contributes essentially to form their future character. 'When pain and anguish wring the brow,' she is the 'ministering angel' of consolation. Who has not witnessed the strength of female affection? What attachment can be compared to a mother's love? Time cannot alter it; it clings to the beloved son amid every disaster; is strengthened by calamity and becomes dearer by disgrace. While he is abused by his enemies, forsaken by his friends; degraded from his rank, and scorned by a calumniating world, she adheres to him with an unshaken and devoted fidelity; pities his errors; palliates his delinquencies and loves him with an endeared, fervid affection, because he is persecuted and friendless, and disgraced and miserable and forlorn. If, then, such is her character, who will say her mental capacity should not be enlarged by cultivation? Who will deny to her the advantages of education? Who will say that minds possessing so much native excellence, such high sensibilities, such ardent, devoted affections, should not be improved? Why should not pains be taken to render their manners winning, their morals pure, their company delightfully fascinating?

National Statistics.

The United States are composed of thirty-three States and five territories.

They contain a population of 27,000,000 of whom 23,000,000 are white.

The extent of sea coast is 12,550 miles.

The length of the ten principal rivers is 20,000 miles.

The surface of the five great lakes is 90,000 miles.

The number of miles of railroad in operation is 20,000, which cost $72,000,000.

It contains the longest railroad on the globe—the Illinois Central—which is 784 miles.

The annual value of its agricultural productions is $200,000,000.

The most valuable production is Indian corn, which yields annually 40,000,000 of bushels.

The amount of registered and enrolled tonnage is 5,407,010.

The amount of capital invested in manufactures is $600,000,000.

The annual amount of its internal trade is $500,0

Look at what 50c will purchase FOR A CHRISTMAS

New Year's Present!

Both Useful and Pleasing for the old or young.

A BEAUTIFUL BOX,

CONTAINING
A Bottle of Choice Perfumery,
A Cake of English Honey Soap,
A Good Steel Brush Portmanteau;
Or BOX No. 2, if preferred, containing a Superior English Pen Knife—A Fine Ivory Comb, and a 25 cent

Bottle of Spalding's Rosemary.

AT POLLOCK'S,
342 Washington Street,
BOSTON.

Dec 24 3w

To Let,
THE House, Shop and Stable on Granite Street, recently occupied by O. M. Pope.
Possession given immediately.
Inquire, near the premises, of
CHARLES MARSH.
Quincy, Dec 24 4t

Universal Cough Remedy for every species of LUNG COMPLAINTS,
WHOOPIING AND COMMON COUGHS,
AND SORE THROAT.

THE JUSTLY CELEBRATED
Tolu Anodyne!
THE GREAT NEURALGIC REMEDY and adapted to all
NERVOUS COMPLAINTS,
Particularly that of Nervous Headache.

THESE valuable and reliable preparations are being introduced into our State and the country, are sustained by the most reliable testimonies, and prepared by the strictest laws in Pharmacy.

To Physicians, Dealers, or invalids, we ask that you examine the circulars, which may be found with all dealers; and we do not hesitate to declare that you will find them worthy your confidence. It is the determination of the proprietors to publish none but reliable testimonials, and in every department to invite rigid inspection, that we may have the confidence sine deservit preparations.

"PRICES WITHIN REACH OF ALL."
J. W. HUNNEWELL & CO., 5, 6, 7, and 8,
Commercial Wharf, Boston, General Agents.
GEORGE J. W. HUNNEWELL, 145 Water street,
Sole Agent for New York.
Under the special supervision of JOHN L.
HUNNEWELL, Chemist and Pharmacist, to whom direct all communications. Sold by Mrs.
E. HAYDEN, Agent for Quincy, and by all responsible druggists everywhere.
Dec 24 6m

Turret and Marine Clock Com'y,
5 & 13 Water Street, Boston, Mass., Manufacture, and are prepared to finish at short notice, Cane Patent

Escapement Turret Clock.
THE PATENT UNIVERSAL CLOCK indicating the time on any number of dials, throughout the building.

The Patent Escapement Fire Alarm.
—ALSO—
HOUSE, OFFICE, CALENDER, MA-RINE AND WATCH CLOCKS, AND REGULATORS.

Also, Agents for the sale of Church and other kinds of BELLS.
Call on Stevens, Geo F Walker, Agt M G Crane.
Boston, Dec 24 3w

Reduction in Prices

PATENT MEDICINES.

AS I have a large assortment of the above named articles on hand, and wishing to dispose of them for others' good, I shall sell them at the following prices:
Ayer's Cherry Tincture, 75 cents; Ayer's Pills
12 cents; Chamberlain's Colic, 35 cents; Mon-ton's Balm, 17 cents; Rosemary and Castor Oil, 15 cents; Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, 17 cents; Haynes' Balm, 17 cents; Brown's Bronchial Troches, 17 cents; Kennedy's Discovery, 62 cents; Wright's Pills, 15 cents.

—ALSO—
Homerell's Universal Cough Remedy
AND
TOLU ANODYNE
For Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and all other popular Medicines, constantly on hand, and can be obtained at
C. C. JOHNSON,
Apothecary, corner of Hancock & Granite Sts.
Quincy, Dec 24 4t

For Sale.

ONE-HALF of the whole of the Stock in the Store of the Subscribers, and the Store to let.
We shall offer all the Goods at retail, at Cost, for CASH, from this date until the Fifteenth day of JANUARY next, as we intend to close up the business of the present firm at that time.

All persons indebted to us are respectfully requested to pay on or before that time.
DANIEL RAXTER,
JOHN A. WOOD.
Quincy, Dec. 10. 4t

"WE STILL LIVE."

The Vulture Engine Co. No. 4.

WILL HOLD A Course of Assemblies,

—AT—
EDWARDS' HALL, QUINCY POINT, commencing on THURSDAY EVENING, DEC. 15th, and every Thursday thereafter,

until the course is completed.

Dancing to commence at 7 o'clock. P. M.
MUSIC, Nightingale & Bowe's Band.

Refreshments furnished for those who wish.

A general invitation is extended to all.

Quincy, Dec. 10. 1w

BOOKS, TOYS, FANCY GOODS,

A NEW AND LARGE VARIETY, PUR-CHASED EXPRESSLY FOR CHRISTMAS,

—AND—
New Year's Presents!

C. GILL & CO.,
QUINCY BOOK

AND
FANCY GOODS STORE.

Quincy, Dec. 17 3w

At the Old Stand,

HANCOCK ST., - - QUINCY.

SHAWLS, DOMESTICS,
FLANNELS, WOOLLENS,
BLANKETS, FANCY GOODS,
EMBROIDERIES, TRIMMINGS,
DRESS GOODS,

Prints, Thibets, Lyonses,
Black Silks, Mohairs, Delaines,
Cashmeres, Alpacaes, Moreens,
Poil de Chevre,

HOSIERY AND GLOVES,
WHITE GOODS,
Linen, Housekeeping Goods,
SMALL WARES, &c. &c.

All of which will be sold at the very LOWEST PRICES by ELBRIDGE CLAPP.
Quincy, Dec 10 4t

FACTS FOR THE

Consideration of Economical
WHOLESALE & RETAIL BUYERS

OVER $55,000
WORTH OF
PRIME READY-MADE
WINTER CLOTHING!

To be closed off during the
NEXT THIRTY DAYS.
AT PRICES BELOW THE LOWEST
BARGAIN HITHERTO OFFERED AT

LANE'S
GREAT BARGAIN STORE.

32 DOCK SQUARE, 32

The long continued open genial fall and winter weather has left us with a large supply of
UNSOLD GOODS ON HAND,
Which must be disposed of within 30 days, as our system has invariably been to allow no goods to remain on our shelves over the season.

This stock embraces every variety of
READY-MADE
Fine, Fashionable and Heavy
WINTER GARMENTS,

ADAPTED FOR Professional Men,
Merchants,
Mechanics and Laborers.

LANE'S
32 DOCK SQUARE, 32.

Boston, Dec 17 3w

SAVE THE PIECES.

UPTON'S STEAM REFINED
Liquid Glue.

An indispensable article in every family
for mending
FURNITURE,
VASES,
ORNAMENTS,
TOYS, &c.

THE proprietor is offering this article in the market, would most respectfully solicit the public to test its efficacy. He warrants it unequalled by any preparation of its nature, even before offered, or in strength, purity, freedom from unpleasant odor, or in ease of application.

It is manufactured from UPTON'S GLUE, so long and so justly celebrated throughout the country.

Every frugal housekeeper should have a bottle for mending the thousand and one things, which are daily broken, and would be a total loss but for the discovery of this valuable article.

Sold by all the principal Grocers, Stationers, and Apothecaries throughout the country.

C. H. FROST, Wholesale Agent,
NO. 24 CENTRAL ST. BOSTON.

N. B. Be sure and inquire for Upton's Steam
Refined.

Boston, Dec. 17 1m

GEORGE W. VINTON,

CONFECTIONER,
NO. 343 WASHINGTON STREET.

MR. VINTON has just received a few cases of imported Cupids, Flowers and other Cake Ornaments, which he will sell at Wholesale or Retail.

Also, a large lot of Rich Figures, fine Bonbons, Cornucopias, Glass Boxes, Paper Boxes, Diapers,
French Confectionery, elegant Sugar Ornaments, plain and crystallized, to decorate

Christmas Trees.

He has a few elegant FANCY BOXES, filled with the finest FRENCH CONFECTIONERY, suitable for
Holiday Gifts.

The best of WEDDING CAKE constantly on hand, and made to order. FRESH PEACH-ES, in cans. PRESERVES and JELLIES, of all kinds. 3w—dec 17.

Grover & Baker's

CELEBRATED
FAMILY
Sewing Machines!

Over 30,000 in use.

SALESROOM IN
BOSTON.

18 SUMMER STREET.

AGENCIES THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

Boston, Nov. 12 7w

NORFOLK, ss. At a meeting of the County Commissioners held at Dedham, in and for said County, on the twenty second day of November, A. D. 1859, by adjournment of the September meeting, next preceding.

UPON the petition of Appleton Howe and others, inhabitants of the Town of Weymouth, representing that the public convenience and necessity require the location and construction of a public highway in said Weymouth, from a point on Oak Street, near the dwelling house of Appleton Howe, and running in a westerly direction to a point on Pleasant Street, near the house of Ezra Reed; and requesting the Commissioners to examine the route, locate and cause to be constructed the said road, made and provided, for the statutes in such case, made and provided, for notice having been first given to all persons and corporations interested, the County Commissioners, at the South Weymouth Station, of the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad in Weymouth, on the seventeenth day of Nov., A. D.
1859, at 10 A. M. and thence proceeded and viewed the route described in said petition, and said petitioners appeared, and the Town of Weymouth was then and there represented by its Officers and Agents, and said Commissioners heard all persons and corporations interested, and said case was argued and continued to the dispositive of said Commissioners, and they determined that the public convenience and necessity require that the said road should be laid out, and located, and established as a highway.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, County Commissioner,
SETH MANN, 2d,
LUCAS FOND,

On the Adjournment aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Railroad Station of the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad in South Weymouth, in said County, on THURSDAY, the Second day of February, next, at Nine o'clock A. M., and proceed to view and lay out and locate said highway, hear all persons and corporations interested, and take such order in relation to said Adjournment, as they may be authorized to do; and that an attested copy of said Adjournment, with this Order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Weymouth, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said day of meeting; and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot and Randolph Transcript, newspapers printed in Quincy and Randolph, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said day of meeting; and that like copies be posted up in relation to more or more public places in said town, fourteen days at least before said day of meeting, that all persons and corporations interested, may then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

A true copy of the Adjournment on file, and Order thereon.

Attest, EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk.
Dec. 17. 3w

To the Honorable Judge of the Court of Probate for the County of Norfolk,

THE petition of Thomas Baxter, of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, humbly shews that he holds under Henry A. C. Adams, of Quincy, aforesaid, one of the heirs at law to the Estate of the Late Peter Adams, of Bridgewater, in the County of Plymouth, Commonwealth aforesaid, deceased; one undivided fourteenth part of a certain lot of land lying in Quincy aforesaid, in common and undivided with Abram M. Alrough, of Quincy aforesaid, and Peter Adams, of Bridgewater,
in the County of Plymouth, Commonwealth aforesaid, Turnpike, so called, five rods and nineteen and three fourths links; southerly on lot numbered five on the plan hereafter mentioned and belonging to the Late Peter Adams, of Bridgewater,
in the County of Plymouth, Commonwealth aforesaid, and a half link; southerly on land of Francis Locke, five rods and nine and one half links, and northerly on lot No. Seven, on the plan hereafter mentioned twenty-six rods and two links, containing according to said plan one hundred and forty-six rods, it being lot numbered Six, on a plan of lots of land belonging to the heirs of Peter Adams, and another made by L. Humphrey, and dated September 24, 1859, a copy of which plan is deposited in the Registry of Deeds for the said County of Norfolk; reserving, however, out of the lot above described, a piece or strip thereof two and a half rods wide across the bottom and southwesterly side of the same and adjoining said Francis Locke's land, to be used as a street or passage-way for the accommodation of the several lots numbered from five to fourteen inclusive on said plan to be used in common by the owners of said several lots and their heirs and assigns forever.

That your petitioner is desirous to hold and enjoy his part or share in said real estate being one fourteenth part in severalty. He therefore prays that your Honor would ordain partition thereof to be made, and his said part or share set off and divided from the rest agreeably to a law of the Commonwealth, in such cases made and provided.

THOMPSON BAXTER.
Quincy, Nov. 25, 1859.

Plymouth, ss. At a Court of Probate holden at Scituate, in and for said County, on the last Tuesday of November, 1859.

UPON the foregoing petition, it is ordered, that the said petitioner notify all persons interested therein within this Commonwealth to appear at a Court of Probate to be holden at Bangor, in and for said County, on the second Monday of January next, by serving them with a true copy of said petition, and this order thereon, fourteen days at least before the said second Monday of January next, and also that he notify all other persons interested therein, to appear as aforesaid, by publishing said petition with this order thereon, three weeks successively, in the public newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed in Quincy, the last publication to be fourteen days before the said court, then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

WILLIAM H. WOOD, Judge of Probate.
Quincy, Dec. 10. 3w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator, of the Goods and Estate of

ELIHU WHITE,
late of Dorchester, in the County of Norfolk, Physician and Druggist, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

N. L. WHITE, Administrator,
Braintree, Dec. 17, 1859. 3w

Apples! Apples!!

THE subscriber has just received a large assortment of Apples, consisting of Green-ings, Baldwins, Russets, Spitzenburgs, &c., of an extra quality, and would invite the public to examine the stock.

Quincy, Nov. 12 4t

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

New Store! New Goods!

B. F. MESERVEY,
HAYNES returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one floor, north of David B. Stec-
son's Variety Store, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING.
Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of

Gold and Silver Watches,
Fob, Cut and Vest Chains,
LOCKETS,

Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted,
Coral and Marine Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, BELT PINS,
Gents' Pins and Studs,
FINGER RINGS,

Together with a large assortment of
Silver and Plated Ware,
Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a large stock of

LARGER STOCK
than ever offered before in Quincy.

All Goods warranted as represented.
Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange.

Quincy, Oct 24 4t

MILLINERY

AND
DRESS MAKING.

Mrs. M. E. Curtis

WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy and
Vicinity, that she has received a
New and Fashionable Assortment
OF
MILLINERY GOODS,
suitable for the season, consisting of Velvets, Satins, Flowers Ribbons,
Tuches, etc.

Straw, Fane and Mourning Bonnets, ready-made
and trimmed, or made to order.

AN EXPERIENCED MILLINER
will be ready to execute orders promptly and family. Dresses, and all the latest styles of Cloaks and outside garments, cut to order, and warranted to suit customers. Also, Dress Buttons, Corsets, Waistbands, Skirts, Washed Goods, with a variety of articles too numerous to mention, for sale
as low as they can be purchased elsewhere.

Quincy, Oct. 22. 4t

Boys' Clothing.

THE subscriber intends making the sale of Boys' Clothing a distinct branch of his business. In order to accommodate all he will endeavor to keep on hand a General Assortment of Sizes

AND QUALITIES.

Any garment that may be wanted that is not on hand, will be provided in one day's notice.

Please call and examine the Goods and Prices.

THOMAS DODDS.
Quincy, August 20. 4t

RUSSELL'S

New Cloth & Clothing Store
QUINCY.

THE above having leased the Rooms nearly opposite the Episcopal Church,
Cor. of Hancock and School Streets, where may be found a

Good assortment of Piece Goods, which will be sold by the yard, or Made into Garments to suit purchasers.

A WELL SELECTED STOCK OF READY MADE CLOTHING!
Suitable for Men and Boys' Wear.

His stock of Goods being entirely new,
and purchased the present season for cash, will be sold at low tariff of prices for cash and only.

A good assortment of Furnishing Goods on hand.

N. B. John Russell grateful for past favors would be happy to meet his old customers and the public, where he will be ever ready to wait on their wants.

Quincy, Oct. 15. 4t

GREELY'S

Patent Elastic Back and Centre Suspension Pants.

Patented June 29th, 1858.

THE advantages of this invention over the usual method of making PANTS is, they may be made to suit the person and still be easy as though they were uncommonly large—the elas-tics give to every motion of the body. Pants that are easy to stand in are easy to sit or stoop in.

PANTALOONS
with the above named improvement are made to order, at the TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT of the subscriber, who has bought the only right to use this patent in this town. Persons are requested to call and examine.

Quincy, July 23. JOHN A. HOLDEN.
4t

Look at This! Money Wanted!

J. W. LOMBARD has on hand a very large and desirable Stock of Gents' Overcoats, Dress Coats, Pants,
Vests, etc., etc.,

which he is selling at prices that cannot fail to give satisfaction. Also, a good assortment of Boys' Clothing, cheap for Cash!

Call and examine for yourselves. Buy if you wish to look as much and as long as you have a mind to—free of expense.

Quincy, Dec. 3, 1859. 4t

MR. J. Q. ADAMS

WILL attend at his office in Johnson's Building, from 9 o'clock A. M. until four 4 o'clock P. M. every TUESDAY and FRIDAY throughout the Winter.

Quincy, Nov 5 4t

DON'T FAIL TO SEE SIXTH ANNUAL ANNOUNCEMENT, and brilliant offers, in our columns.

READ THAT

NEW STOCK.

THE subscriber wishes to call the attention of the citizens of Quincy and vicinity to his New Stock of De Laines, Prints, Linens, Table
Covers, Napkins,
HOSIERY, GLOVES, MITTENS,
Clouds Hoods, Under Shirts, and a great variety
of

FANCY GOODS, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS, SHIRTS, COLLARS,
POCKET HANDKERCHIEFS,
Bosoms, Suspenders, Gloves, Mittens, &c. &c.

Also—
Just received a large lot of WORSTEDS, of every shade for working or knitting.

Please give a call at my Store on HANCOCK STREET, next door to B. F. Meservy's.

Quincy, Dec 3 4t

Rubber Goods.

C. GILL & CO., are prepared to supply
Men, Women, Boys, Misses and Children with Rubber Boots, Shoes and Sandals. A complete assortment of superior quality, and ALL OF THE FIRST QUALITY. We keep
none of that quality of Rubber Boots and Shoes
that can be afforded at prices below the Manufacturer's prices, for warranted first quality,
and the temptation to sell as low as some Rubber Goods are offered, is not sufficient to induce us to furnish to our customers that class of goods. A few cents saved is not always the best economy. Get the best.

Quincy, Dec. 10. 4t

COAL.

At 6.00 Per Ton!!

THE subscriber, Agent for the celebrated "Hicksville Coal," now offers the best qualities of RED AND WHITE ASH COAL, of various sizes, at $6.00 per ton, CASH, delivered in any part of the Town of Quincy.

This Coal has stood the test of trial by the most particular, in New York and Boston, and is promoted by all equal, if not superior to the very best Coal offered the public for family use.

Please call on the subscriber at his residence on Edwards' Hill, or Owen Adams, Quincy Point, and give this Coal a trial.

Quincy, Dec 10 4t

COAL! COAL!

THE Subscriber has for sale at his Wharf
the most desirable qualities of Coal, and

Poetry.

The Days of Youth.

The days of youth, those days of joy,
The hours of playful childhood,
The rambles of the little boy,
Through pasture, grove, and wildwood,
Who can forget? Where'er we roam,
What ties soever bind us,
We often think of friends and home,
And scenes we left behind us.

Who hath not oft in life recurring,
To some bird-singing ramble—
Some scene of mirth that once occurred,
At some play-fellow's gambol?
Our memories of those scenes renew—
The pasture lays before us,
The grove, the stream are each in view,
The willows waving o'er us.

We feel the nibbling perch and see
The busy-cork trembling, dangling,
So true the dream appears, that we
Are young again and angling?
From flow'r to flow'r the hum-bird skips,
The red-breast's singing o'er us;
The strawberries even tinge our lips,
That memory lays before us.

The spangled fly, the buzzing bee,
Once held between our fingers—
The peevish sports, in memory
Each slight impression lingers;
The ball, the kite, the little mill,
Of youth, now gather round me;
And e'en the flocks, all bleating still,
Most lovingly surround me.

O! Youth, best youth! though life mature
May boast of hoarded treasure, Alone thy sportive hours insure,
To mortal real pleasure.
Of art thou art all ignorance,
Of care unconscious ever;
Thy days are days of innocence,
And woe betides thee never.

Under the Violets.

BY O. W. HOLMES

Her hands are cold; her face is white;
No more her pulses course and light;
Her eyes are shut to life and light—
Fold the white vestures, snow on snow,
And lay her where the violets bloom.

But not beneath a graven stone,
To plead for tears with alien eyes;
A slender cross of wood alone
Shall say that here a maiden lies
In peace beneath the peaceful skies.

And gray old trees of cypress kind
Shall wheel their circling shadows round
To make the scorching sunlight dim
That drinks the greenness from the ground,
And drop their dead leaves on her mound.

When o'er their boughs the squirrels run,
And through their leaves the robins call,
And ripening in the autumn sun,
The acorns and the chestnuts fall,
Doubt not that she will heed them all.

For her the morning choir shall sing,
Its strains from the branches high,
And every minstrel-voice of spring,
That thrills beneath the April sky,
Shall greet her with its earliest cry.

When, turning round their dead track,
Eastward the lengthening shadows pass,
Her little mourners, clad in black,
The crickets, sliding through the grass,
Shall pipe for her an evening mass.

At last the roots of the trees
Shall find the prison where she lies,
And bear the buried dust they seize
In leaves and blossoms to the skies—
So may the soul that warned it rise!

If any, born of kinder blood,
Should ask, "What maiden lies below?
Say only this: A tender bud,
That tried to blossom in the snow,
Lies withered where the violets bloom.

Loving and Forgiving.

Oh, loving and forgiving—
Ye angel words of youth,
Years were not worth the living
If ye too had not birth!
Oh, loving and forgiving—
How sweet your mission here;
The grief that ye are sharing Hath blessings in its tear.

Oh, stern and unforgiving—
Ye evil words of life,
That mock the means of living
With never-ending strife,
Oh, harsh and unrepenting—
How would ye meet the grave,
If Heaven, as unrelenting,
Forbore not for forgive!

Oh, loving and forgiving—
Sweet sisters of the soul,
In whose celestial living
The passions find control!
Still breathe your influence o'er us
When we by passions croud,
And, angel-like, restore us
The paradise we lost.

Anecdotes.

"My dear Tom," said old Sheridan, one day, to his son, "I wish you'd take a wife."
"I have no objection, sir," said Tom, "whose wife shall I take?"

An Irish footman, having carried a basket of game from his master to a friend, waited a considerable time for the customary fee, but no present appearing, scratched his head and said, "Sir, if my master should say, 'Paddy, what did the gentleman give you?' what would your honor have me to tell him?"

A lady waited on a doctor to purchase some fashionable remedy that was to cure everything. "Lose no time, my dear madam, in using it," said the doctor, "for in less than a week it will be out of fashion."

"Tom! do you lend money now-a-days, on good security?" "Yes," "What's the security?" "Six per cent. a month, and the money as collateral!"

"Are you the mate?" said an Irishman in New Orleans to the cook of a ship lying in port. "No, but I'm the man that boils the mate."

$200 REWARD.

WHEREAS, the Episcopal Church in this town was destroyed by fire, on SATURDAY evening the 19th inst., and there can be no doubt that it was the work of an incendiary, the above reward will be paid to any person that will give such information as will convict the person or persons who set said fire.

And the above reward will also be paid to any person who shall detect any one in setting fire to any building of the value of Two Hundred Dollars, within the Town until the First day of March next, on conviction of the offender.

DANIEL BAXTER, Selectmen
EDMUND POPE, of Quincy.
Quincy, Nov. 26th, 1859. if

$100 Reward.

THE above reward will be paid to any person who will give information to the Directors of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company, that will lead to the conviction of the incendiary who set fire to the EPISCOPAL CHURCH in this village, burnt on the 20th inst.

STEPHEN BATES, Secretary.
Quincy, Nov. 26. if

$50 Reward.

WHEREAS several fires have been set in the woods in Quincy the past ten days, either carelessly or maliciously, the above reward will be paid to any person who will give such information as will convict the person or persons who set said fires.

And the above reward will be paid to any person who shall detect any one setting fires as above, on conviction of the offender, until the first day of March next.

DANIEL BAXTER, Selectmen
EDMUND POPE, of Quincy.
Quincy, May 6th, 1859. if

Notice!

THE Selectmen will meet in their Room, in the Town House the Second and Last SATURDAYS, in every month, from 3 to 5 o'clock, P. M., until further notice. Persons having business with the Town will please present it on those days.

Quincy, May 7. if

Assessors' Notice.

THE Assessors of the Town of Quincy give notice that they have delivered to Charles A. Cummings, Collector of Taxes, a correct list of the Taxes, together with a warrant in due form of law for collecting and paying in the same, and by a vote of the Town, all persons who shall pay their Taxes on or before the first day of September next, a discount of four per cent. will be made. And the Collector is required to pay interest on all taxes not paid in to the Treasurer on or before December 1st, 1859.

DANIEL BAXTER, Assessors
EDMUND POPE, of Quincy.
JONA. JAMESON, of Quincy.
Quincy, July 2. if

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, of Massachusetts, insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Firemen, Mechanics, Householders, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM S. MORTON,
TREASURER,
ISRAEL W. MUNROE,
SECRETARY,
STEPHEN BATES,
DIRECTORS,
Quincy, Milton,
William S. Morton, Charles Brock,
Israel W. Munroe, Dorchester,
Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,
Whitcomb Porter, Cohasset,
Stephen Bates, Solomon J. Bond,
William B. Duggan, Hingham,
Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gay,
R. B. Leachars, South Hingham,
Randolph, Alfred Oling,
Royal W. Turner, North Bridgewater,
South Scituate, Sumner A. Hayward,
Apollon Randall, Barnstable,
Dedham, George Marston,
Jonathan A. Cobb.

References, by permission:
HON. GEORGE T. BIGELOW, of Boston,
HON. JOSIAH QUINCY, JR., of Boston,
HON. AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield,
HON. JAMES MAQUIRE, of Randolph,
HON. SOLOMON LINCOLN, of Hingham,
HON. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy,
JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq., of Quincy.

OFFICE:
Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple
April 1. if

Cheap! A Good Chance.

J. F. BURELL has a few pairs of shoes of Boots, which he will sell for $1.62.

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the former price $1.88, which he will sell for $1.25.

Men's Congress Boots—Old Price $2.00—for $1.75.

Ladies' Misses' and Children's Boots and Shoes for sale and warranted.

Next Door to Quincy Market House.
HANCOCK STREET.
Quincy, March 12. if

SEASONED LUMBER.

OF all descriptions, at prices to suit the times.

FURNISHED at short notice.
Best quality of Lumber constantly on hand.
Also—Good Pine Wood at $5 a Cord.
For sale at BRACKETT'S WHARF.
Quincy, May 8. if

ATTENTION.

The Largest and Most Complete

ASSORTMENT OF

HARDWARE

DOORS

SASHES, 30, 30, 30,

BLINDS

Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon

Bailey, Carver & Co.

Having recently made large additions to our

stock of

BUILDING MATERIALS,

we are prepared to furnish them at prices to correspond with the times.

CHEAPER THAN EVER!!

We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS,

SASHES,

BLINDS,

WINDOW GLASS,

NAILS,

SHEET LEAD,

FRAMING PINS,

WINDOW FRAMES,

DOOR BELLS,

SCREWS,

&c., &c.

MORTICE LOCKS,—in a great Variety.

ALSO—Pad, Rim, Closet, Store and Sash

LOCKS;

MORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S

LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;

BLAKES BUTTS,

AND AXLE PULLEYS.

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds.

Wrought, Fancy Plate,

STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;

SHOVELS; DOOR SCRAPERS;

Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fastenings—Growth's

improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fastenings.

The best things ever used in the place of weights;

DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.

DON'T FORGET

AT THE OLD STAND OF

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,

SCHOOL STREET.

Quincy, Jan. 23. if

Refreshment Saloon.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies and Gentlemen of Quincy and vicinity to the

OYSTER SALOON of LOUD & VEAZIE,

JOHNSON'S BUILDING,

Hancock street, where Refreshments can be had at all hours of the day—Hot Coffee, Tea,

Pies, Cake, Confectionary and Fruit.

N. B. Families furnished with the best of Oysters.

LOUD & VEAZIE.

Quincy, Sept 24. if

Hall's Great

SCROFULAR REMEDY.

THIS Purely Vegetable Preparation is pleasant

and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, causing neither vomiting nor purging. It acts directly upon the primary cause of diseases

regulates the Bowels, removes all vitiated secre-

tions, giving a healthy action to the Liver and correcting the tone to the Stomach. It overcomes that feeling of Languor which is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and renovates and restores the vital energy and Physical Strength.

In thousands of cases of Scrofula and Scrofu-

lar Humors, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas,

Scald Head, Tumors, Ulcers, Bronchitis, Asthma,

Cough, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Fever,

Sores, White Swelling, Dropsy, Eczema, Badly's

Itch, Piles, Old Sores, and all diseases which manifest themselves by Eczema or Eruptions on the Skin, it has been used with the most gratifying

success, after every other known remedy has been

tried and failed to afford relief.

It is also an effective cure for Liver Complaint,

Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Goutiness and Derange-

ment of the Urinary Organs.

It is an infallible remedy for irregularities and

other diseases peculiar to FEMALES, such as

Weakness and Pain in the Back, Strangury, Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart,

Dizziness and Headache.

It can be given with perfect safety and most desirable results in all cases, to any person from

infancy to old age.

Made and sold by WM. SMITH HALL, Sole

Proprietor, Quincy, Mass., to whom all orders

must be addressed. Sold also by Redding & Co.

No. 8 State street; Geo. C. Goodwin, No. 99

Union street, Boston, and all Druggists and Medicine Dealers throughout the United States.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, AGENT.

Quincy, Dec. 13. if

The Green Book.

JUST PUBLISHED, 150 PAGES, Price 25c.

ON Single and Married Life; or, the Institutes of Marriage; its Intent, Obligations, and Physical and Legal Disqualifications; and rational treatment of all private diseases in both sexes, &c. To which is added a poetical essay, entitled "Callipadma;" or the art of having a beautiful and healthy children, by the late Robert J. Culverwell, Esq., M. D.

Sent free of postage, by the Publishers, Chas.

Kline & Co., Box 4586, New York, or Dexter &

Co., wholesale agents, 113 Nassau Street, New York. Agents wanted everywhere.

Gratify an extract and sample of the above, entitled: Dr. Culverwell's Lecture on the rational treatment of Spermatorethra and private diseases generally, detailing the means

without the use of dangerous medicines, and at

but little expense to themselves. Sent free by mail in a secure envelope, on the receipt of one stamp, to prepare postage, by addressing,

CHARLES KLINE & CO.,

Box 4586, New York City.

Feb. 19. if

To Boot and Shoe

MANUFACTURERS.

WE wish to call your attention to the following Goods, which we are prepared to sell on the most favorable terms.

Black and Colored Doeskins, finished especial-Black, Brown and Drab Cas-ly for Congress sinners, Black Brown and Drab Felings, for snow shoes, Lastings, all wool. Italian do. Silk and Cotton Warp do.

Serge de Berri's, Rubber Gaiters, Webs, of beautiful quality for Congress Shoes, Boot and Congress Webs, from 3 in. to 13 in., new style.

Gallons, Black and colors, 3 and 3 in. widths. Shoe Ducks; Congress and Linen Canvas. Shoes Ribbons, Rosetts, and Sandal Web. Eyelids, Conda, Shells, Laces, and Strings, all sizes and lots. Shoe Buttons of all descriptions.

Sea Island Hank Cotton, Black, Colored, Unbleached and White. Spool Threads and Sewing Cotton, of all descriptions.

Manufacturers of Clothing Will find in our stock everything in Linen and Cotton Threads required in their work, and the quality much superior to any other in use.

BROWN, DIX & Co., No. 52 Mill street. Quincy, June 25. if Barrett's Dye House.

LOUD & VEAZIE, agents of Barrett's Dye House, receive Ladies' Dresses, Cloaks, Scarfs, Ribbons, &c., and Gentlemen's Coats, Pants, Vests, which are colored and finished neatly—giving satisfaction to all.

JUST received a large lot of worsteds for dyeing, every shade and color, worsted patterns, canvas, &c.

Quincy, August 20. if

PACKARD'S

Great Regenerator for the

HUMAN HAIR,

IS now so well known to need any further recommendation from any source. Yet to satisfy the most credulous, I will publish the following testimony.

Harrison Sq., Dorchester, Mar. 30, 1859. MR. PACKARD—SIR:—I have given your Regenerator a fair trial and find it all you claim for it. My hair was very gray; it is now restored to perfect color. All the humor is removed from the scalp. In short, I have now a perfect head of hair. I feel obliged to you for the notice of the Peace and make oath to the above, if you wish it.

What it has done for him it will do for every body that will use it.

MRS. E. HAYDEN, Agent for Quincy. Also, for sale by C. C. JOHNSON. July 16. if

THE RUSSIA SALVE

VEGETABLE OINTMENT

Years, and its virtues have stood the test of time.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES BURNS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES CANCERS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE EYES.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES ITCH.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES FLEAS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCALD HEAD.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES NETTLE RASH.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES CUTS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORES.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES FILLS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES WHITLOWS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES ULCERS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES WARTS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE NIPPLES.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES FISTERS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES RINGWORM.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SCURVY.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES BUNIONS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SORE LIPS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES GROWING NAILS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPIDER STINGS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES HINGLES.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES MOSQUITO BITES.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHITRELAIRS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES PROZEN LIMBS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES WESS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES NOSE EARS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES BOILS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES SPRAINS.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES PILES.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES BRUISES.

RUSSIA SALVE CURES CHAPPED HANDS.

RUSSIA SALVE C

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

DEVOTED TO MORALS, EDUCATION, AGRICULTURE, NEWS AND GENERAL LITERATURE.

VOLUME XXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 31st, 1859.

NUMBER LIII.

GRANULAR FUEL.

Patented, June, 1852.

Manufactured from Brushwood and Twig

For Kindling Coal Fires

AND all purposes for which a quick hot fire is needed. It is intended.

By its Cheapness and Cleanliness

TO SUPERSEDE CHARCOAL.

It is especially adapted for Summer Use, when a quick fire is wanted but a short time. As it can be used in all kinds of Stoves, and being allowed to go out immediately after using, enables the consumer to practice Economy.

The extreme low price of this Fuel is also a great advantage, being but one-half the price of charcoal. It kindles quick, is clean and cheap, and will be sold and delivered at the following low prices for cash—

Under 25 bushels, 10 cents per bushel.

Over 25 " " 9 " "

Orders left at the Store of E. Clapp, Henry A. Newcomb, Peter W. Newcomb, Quincy Point, or at Badger & Hanson's Machine Shop, will be promptly attended to.

MANUFACTURED AND SOLD BY

GEORGE SAVILL, Agent.

Rear of Badger & Hanson's—Cemetery st.

Quincy, Aug. 14.

4000

POUNDS of good Salt Pork for sale at Boston prices by

DANIEL BAXTER & Co

Quincy, Sept. 27.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. It is hereditary in the constitution, pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by malarial disease, low living, disordered or unwholesome food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or morbid matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This form of corruption, which renders the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by this taint. One-quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative, and exercise, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effective remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the renovation of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERYTHEMA, and SKIN DISEASES, STY, DYSPEPSIA, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLISTERS, BLAINS AND BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER, and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, ETC., ETC., ETC., and, in fact, all the complaints arising from vitiated or impure blood. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC.

are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its various disorders, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of their properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health and energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and invigorating.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis any American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Constipation, Headache, Dropsy, Indigestion, Pains in and Morbid action of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost any section of country abounds in persons known, who have been restored from alarming, even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtue is known, the lie no longer hesitate what antidote to employ the distressing and dangerous affections of the monetary organs that are incident to our climate. As many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits the afflicted they can never forget, and proved a cure too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

PREPARED BY

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.

LOWELL, MASS.

FOR SALE BY

E. HAYDEN, and all Medicine Dealers.

Quincy, Aug. 6

Office of Publication

Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

JOHN A. GREEN, Editor.

CONDITIONS.

Two Dollars per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisements is limited to their own immediate business.

Letters and communications, (postage paid,) will receive early attention.

AGENTS.

The following gentlemen are authorized to receive pay and requested to procure subscribers:

Rayville Village, JOSIAH BARCOCK,

West District, GEORGE H. LOCKE,

Milton, CHARLES BEECK,

Dorchester, ORIN P. BACON,

Abington, JOSEPH CLEVELAND,

South Scituate, SAMUEL A. TIERNEY,

Brooklyn, (N. Y.) GERSHON DREW.

New Arrangement.

FURNALD'S

QUINCY EXPRESS

LEAVES BOSTON, DAILY,

AT 12 O'CLOCK, P. M.

38 South Market St. and 3 Washington St.

Quincy, June 5

BOWDITCH'S

Quincy and Boston

EXPRESS.

OFFICE—38 & 40 South Market Street,

and 48 Liberty Square,

BOSTON.

SLATE AT DANIEL BAXTER & CO'S,

NIGHTINGALE'S PROVISION STORE,

AND THE HANCOCK HOUSE.

33-35 All orders thankfully received and promptly attended to.

Quincy, Jan. 22

LIVERY STABLE.

At Hardwick's Express Stable, on Hancock

street, near the Quincy Express Printing

Office, new and excellent CARRIAGES,

with good and safe HORSES, furnished to individuals or parties, on the very best terms.

Transportation of Merchandise, Furniture,

&c., attended to with care and despatch.

The traveling public accommodated with good STALLING, at all times.

Good Drivers furnished, if desired.

Every effort will be made to serve patrons,

and a share of support is respectfully solicited.

Hardwick's Boston Express.

PARTICULAR attention given to the purchase of Goods and to the transportation

of them, and valuable Packages.

Dispatch in the collection of Notes, Drafts,

and Bills.

All orders thankfully received, and carefully and expeditiously attended to.

Horns of Departure.

From Quincy—8 o'clock, A. M.

From Boston—2 o'clock, P. M.

Offices in Boston—34 Court Square,

(Railroad Exchange,) and 49 South Market

street.

Quincy, April 9

LIVERY STABLE.

THILL, subscriber having purchased the establishment of George J. Jones, on Hancock street, and made additions thereto, is prepared, at the old stand, to accommodate his friends

and the public with

Horses and Carriages.

PLEASURE PARTIES furnished with teams

and drivers, or single carriages, at the shortest

notice.

Personal attention given to the business, and a liberal support from the public solicited.

Quincy, Nov. 12.

DAVID E. ROBY.

W. M. BABBITT, M. D.,

Homoeopathic Physician:

HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

OFFICE HOURS:

7 to 8 A. M. 12 to 1 P. M.

6 to 7 P. M.

Quincy, Sept. 11.

GEORGE WHITE,

Counselor and Attorney at Law,

No. 5 Tremont Street,

BOSTON.

Quincy, March 5.

NATHANIEL WHITE.

HAS FOR SALE—

LUMBER,

Nails, Lime, Brick and Sand

—ALSO—

Coal, Hard and Soft Wood.

QUINCY CANAL WHARF.

July 10, 1852.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Miscellaneous.

Wolfgang:

OR, THE WRECKER'S BEACON.

CHAPTER I.

BEFORE THE GALE.

THE good ship PATHFINDER, of New York and bound to Copenhagen, had entered the North Sea, having left the Straits of Dover two days behind.

The commander of the ship was a young man, not over-eight-and-twenty, and his name was Maurice Lester. He stood by the taffrail, gazing off upon the horizon to the eastward, ever and anon raising his hand above his head to feel if there was any wind stirring and as often casting his eyes aloft to see how the canvas hung. As he stood thus his mate approached, and spoke to him:

"What d'ye think of this, Cap'n?"

"I think we're in for a storm, sir," the mate replied. "And I tell you what it is, Griffin, he added, after sweeping the horizon again with his eye, when it came to him that he was not alone. None of your broad ocean puffs, with nothing but water to hatch wind from; but we'll have it right fresh from some of those places where they know how to make things blow."

"Then you think we'll have a hard one?" said Griffin.

"Aye," answered the captain, with almost a shudder—"I feel it in my bones."

In the meantime, Captain Lester had been watching the sea and sky as before, and he fancied that the signs of the storm were growing more and more palpable every moment. The sun was gone down in a thick bank, giving to the whole western horizon a dull, purplish-red, bloody hue, with here and there spots of a darker tinge, like openings, through the fiery cloud, looking upon a fearful blackness behind.

"Do you see how strangely it looks off there?" said the captain, raising his finger towards the point where the sun was setting. "This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be need of having them close before the coming of another day."

And others noticed the same thing, and spoke of it, too.

Seven o'clock came, and the first watch was set.

Don't go below, said the captain, as the men of the last dog-watch left their stations.

This calm can't last a great while. You had better batten down the hatches now, while there is nothing else to do; for I am sure there will be load; and tell the poor woman to keep her self warm and comfortable. But before you go, Scip, put some more wood on the fire, and make me a nice mug of flip."

These last orders were duly obeyed; and the old lady was thoroughly warmed, both in and out. And now the trusty Scipio was about to depart on his errand of mercy, when his considerate mistress interposed again.

"Stop, Scip. You need not go now, the weather has moderated."

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

Saturday, Dec. 31st, 1859.

"BORN TO NO MASTER, OF NO SECT ARE WE."

1860. The congratulations of the season are cordially due to our many friends and liberal patrons. "As we speed on, let us improve the golden moments of Time by bringing into exercise those graces of the Spirit, which descending from above, will, if loved from the heart, bear us hence at the close of our earthly career, to commence a happy new year in Heaven."

ASSAULT. We learn from the Boston Herald, that Patrick Galvin and Jeremiah Galvin of this town, wanted to get on board a train of cars of the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad, at South Boston, Saturday forenoon last, but the conductor, Mr. Wm. A. Osborne, refused to admit them, when they would put a quantity of corned beef which they held in their hands, in the baggage car. This they refused to do, and in consequence they fell upon the conductor, and beat him severely. They were arraigned before Court, in Boston, and each held in two hundred dollars bail.

BURNED TO DEATH. The Boston Traveller learns from a correspondent at South Abington that on last Wednesday forenoon, about ten o'clock, Mrs. Olive Nash, aged seventy-seven years, was standing near a stove, when her clothes took fire, and before the fire could be extinguished, the flesh dropped from her body. She lingered till half past five, and then died in great agony.

AMBIOTYPES. The great room continues at the saloon opposite the Hancock House, Chapman, the popular and well known artist, presents his customers with pictures truly lifelike and they cannot fail to be admired.

PLUMBING, &c. We would invite attention to the advertisement of S. H. Allen, whose facilities and prices, together with superior and thorough workmanship, commend him to all requiring plumbing work.

CONGRESS. No choice of Speaker. The President's Message has been delivered—a synopsis of which will be given next week.

CHANGE. Cobb's popular story, written expressly for the New York Ledger, entitled "Wolfgang," which was to commence Jan. 7th, has been postponed to Jan. 14th.

THE ICE CROP. Ice cutting has been commenced in some parts of the State where the ice is stored for home consumption, and where a thickness of eight or ten inches answers every purpose.

BLACK & BATCHELDER'S PHOTOGRAPH ROOMS. The art of Photography has arrived at great perfection in the hands of J. W. Black, who, while a partner in the firm of Whipple & Black, devoted untiring attention to that department. To obtain the advantages of superior light, he has had a Ground Glass Sky Light put up in his new and spacious rooms at 173 Washington street, Boston, where, associated with P. M. Batchelder, an experienced artist, every facility has been secured to enable the new firm to produce Photographs from miniature to life size in the highest style of the art. Mr. Black's abilities are too well known to require recommendation from us. His work is of the highest order, while his prices are moderate. For Photographs on canvas, life size; for plain Photographs, Daguerreotypes, or Ambrotypes, we commend these gentlemen to our readers; while their facilities for taking out-door views of buildings, gardens, landscapes, &c., are unsurpassed.

AMERICAN STOCK JOURNAL. We have the first number for 1860. Its contents commend it to the attention of every farmer and stock-grower, as it is devoted to the improvement of domestic animals. It is published monthly at 25 Park Row, New York City, at one dollar per year; and each number contains thirty-two large octavo pages handsomely illustrated. The engravings of the Improved Kentucky Sheep and other animals, in the number before us, are well worth the subscription price.

OVER THREE HUNDRED SHIPWRECKED.—From the commencement of the hurricane on the night of Oct. 24th last, which swept the coasts of England and Ireland, to the 29th of November, three hundred and twenty-five vessels were wrecked, and seven hundred and forty-eight lives were lost. The work of destruction was unparalleled in the maritime records of England.

THE STUDENT & SCHOOLMATE.—The January number of this interesting juvenile work is received, and its contents cannot fail to prove instructive to the reader. It is well worth one dollar a year. Published by Robinson, Green & Co., Boston, Mass.

For the Patriot.

To the Skating Club

Mr. Editor:—Recently a number of enterprising and energetic citizens organized a Skating Club in this town, and have, thus far, met with unquestionable success; but the result of such a scheme cannot be carried to perfection without the aid of the people. We would, therefore, most earnestly suggest to the projectors of this high and noble movement, to have the public well informed who the officers are, so as to enable the many skaters, who feel well disposed towards the maintenance of this healthy exercise and enjoyment, to contribute such sums as they may feel inclined.

We have been among the many who have participated in this invigorating amusement, and would feel it a duty to help defray the expenses, for we feel fettered while skating on the park—not wishing to intrude upon the kindness of the Club, though it be open to all. We therefore beg of them, thinking it would be a benefit to the Club, to see that a list of the officers, or a committee of contributions, be inserted in the Patriot at once.

With many kind wishes for the prosperity of this enterprise, we remain friends to the Club.

For the Patriot.

Gas.

As the subject of introducing gas into this town has been agitated for some time, our worthy and liberal townsmen to thoroughly investigate the matter before entering into an enterprise of this kind. The individuals who have received the charter for the purpose of bringing light into Quincy, are not residents of the town, and have no interest here, farther than getting our money; they having the supreme control of the whole affair, which gives them the monopoly of laying and furnishing the pipes, supplying meters and gas at their own price. We know they are apparently very generous, being willing to take about all the stock and do the work, if you will only get the subscribers to take it. Disinterested motives of this kind are often suspicious. We think our town had better continue to grovel along in its present state of benighted darkness, than receive the gas under these circumstances.

We are not one of those, who believe in going back to the days of dimps and candles; and like Charles Lamb and his contemporaries, have to feel round amid the uncertain flickerings of this kind of illumination to find their convivial jokes, at their social club-meetings. It is our opinion that the introduction of this method to light our dwellings, is much needed and would be a great and beneficial improvement to our village. This can be brought about by our public spirited citizens procuring a charter for a Mutual Stock Company, by which they can have control of the whole matter, and accomplish this needed object at a much less price than it can be done under the existing foreign chartered company. As near as we can estimate, the expense of laying five miles of pipe, and other suitable arrangements for its introduction, under a mutual organization, would be about eighteen thousand dollars. The same would cost, as estimated by the Company holding the Charter, about thirty thousand dollars; making the difference more than one third, which is an important item to be looked at.

We have no doubt of its success if it is carried on in this manner, as it will pay seven per cent. on about one hundred and fifty subscribers at the present rates, and perhaps more in this town, as the facilities for laying the pipes are much better than other places. We also think there are but few who would not take it, as it is a much better light than any other in use, and adds so much more to the pleasures incident to our long winter evenings. It would also enhance the value of real estate; as nearly the first question asked by those who are seeking for a rural residence: viz—have you gas? If answered in the negative, they think you are behind the times, and prefer some other place to settle; although you may be amply supplied with the other kind of gas; and we think, in this respect, we shall compare favorably with any in the State.

The prospect of having our town lighted in this manner, looks prosperous, and quite certain, as we have been informed that "one of our public spirited citizens, who has done much for the improvement of the town, has taken hold of this matter; and his well known business facilities will insure success."

COUNTIES IN MASSACHUSETTS.—There are now fourteen counties in Massachusetts. In the late trial of the kidnapping case at Barnstable, the fact was disclosed that there is no statute defining the water of Barnstable County. That deficiency is to be supplied in the revised statutes. The first settlement was made in 1629, and the several counties were incorporated in the years stated:

Essex	in 1643	Plymouth	in 1685
Middlesex	in 1643	Nantucket	in 1635
Suffolk	in 1643	Worcester	in 1731
Hampshire	in 1662	Berkshire	in 1761
Dukes	in 1683	Norfolk	in 1793
Barnstable	in 1685	Franklin	in 1812
Bristol	in 1685	Hamden	in 1811

OVER SKEPTICAL. Not long since an Irishwoman was traveling through North Quincy, and the following colloquy ensued with a resident:

"Faix, an can you tell me how far it is to Quincy?" says she.

"You are already in Quincy, my good woman."

"Aye, in troth—but how far is it to the town?" (town)

"About two miles."

"To the devil wid ye, you old blackguard; only a mile back sure, didn't they tell me 'twas three?" (three)

Resident being arithmetically vanquished—vanished.

Summary of Intelligence.

ORIGINAL AND SELECTED.

Rufus Dawes, the well-known poet and scholar, died in Washington, (D. C.) November 30th, in the fifty-sixth year of his age. The deceased was son of the late Judge Thomas Dawes, of Boston, and was a graduate of Harvard College.

Few pity us for our misfortunes—thousands hate us for our success.

The eyes of needles are punctured by a machine which, superintended by a boy, can punch twenty thousand a day.

Two boys in Texas recently killed a man for testifying in court against their mother in a case of desired divorce from their father.

Smoky Mountain, North Carolina, proves to be the highest peak in the United States, instead of Mount Washington in New Hampshire, as heretofore supposed; it is 6,700 feet high, while the latter is but 6,200 feet.

The Postmaster General has decided that the people of Virginia may not only forbid the introduction and dissemination of abolition documents within their borders, but if they are brought there in the mails, they may, by appropriate legal proceedings, have them destroyed.

There are stone bridges in China three and four miles in length.

The San Francisco Bulletin says there are still over 42,000,000 of agricultural lands belonging to the State and to the United States in California.

Governor Magoffin says in his message that Kentucky loses annually more than $100,000 by slaves escaping.

The Legislature of Alabama has passed a bill imposing a fine of five hundred dollars per day on all persons dealing in spiritual manifestations.

One of the most beautiful expressions of Longfellow, is this:—"Sunday is the golden clasp that binds together the volume of the week."

Kamehameha, King of the Sandwich Islands, has abdicated in favor of his son.—This step is attributed to the dissatisfaction of the people with his conduct in shooting his secretary, while under the influence of intoxication and jealousy.

Fire apparatus hose has been made in Boston, which will sustain a pressure of more than three hundred and thirty pounds to the square inch. The material of which it is made is cotton, and it will support a pressure more than five times as great as a steam fire-engine can cause.

It is stated by the New York Post that no less than six hundred thousand pairs of skates have been sold in that city during the past fall and present winter.

By the failure of Cook & Sargent, at Davenport, Iowa, some six hundred laborers lose their livelihood. Farmers, mechanics and business men are also sufferers by the firm's wild-cat operations.

San Francisco (Cal.) papers state that the markets in that city are now abundantly supplied with strawberries, fresh apples, pears, plums, grapes, green peas, beans, turnips, carrots, &c., all fresh picked from the gardens.

The N. Y. Courier des Etats Unis published the President's Message, in French, the translation occupying over fifteen columns of that paper.

A woman in New York City, recently sold her offspring, an infant only three days old, for five dollars.

WORMS. As this is the season of the year when worms are most formidable among children, the proprietors of M. Lane's Vermifuge, Fleming Bros. of Pittsburgh, beg leave to call the attention of parents to its virtues for the expelling of these annoying, and often fatal enemies of children. It was invented by a physician of great experience in Virginia, who, after having used it for several years in his own practice, and found its success so universal, was induced at last to offer it to the public as a cheap but certain and excellent medicine. It has since become justly popular throughout the United States, as the most efficient Vermifuge ever known, and the demand has been steadily on the increase since its first introduction to the public.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. M. Lane's celebrated Vermifuge, manufactured by Fleming Bros. of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M. Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine without the signature of Fleming Bros.

YOUTHFUL PRECOCITY. We know a little lad of only four summers who has an exalted opinion of Redding's Russia Salve. He has experienced its beneficial qualities in cases of burns and cuts, and whenever he sustains an injury he invariably insists on an application of Russia Salve. Sold everywhere for 25 cents a box.

Strumous or Scrofulous affections are the curse, the blight, the potato rot of mankind. They are vile and filthy as well as fatal. They arise from contamination and impurity of the blood, and are to be seen all around us everywhere. One quarter of all we meet are tainted with them, and one quarter of these die of them: die foolishly too, because they are curable. AYER'S SASSAPARILLA cleanses out the Scrofulous corruption from the blood, renders it pure and healthy, and effectually expurgates the foul contamination from the system. No longer groan under your Scrofulous disorders, since the irresistible AYER has provided his masterly combination of curative virtues that he calls SASSAPARILLA.—Democrat, Waterbury, Ct.

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS.—On the first of January, 1860, Gleason's Pictorial "Line of Battle Ship" will commence its second volume in an entirely new shape, with a beautiful new heading, and with new type; in short, everything about it will be new from top to toe. The Paper will also be greatly enlarged from its present form of eight pages to sixteen pages; it will be a mammoth weekly of fifteen hundred square inches, and will contain nearly double the quantity of reading matter and illustrations that it now has. A host of new contributors and artists have been engaged for it, and the most liberal arrangements have been completed, such as will enable Mr. Gleason to produce by far the finest Illustrated Journal yet published. The terms are only $2 a year for one subscriber; $3 for two subscribers; $5 for four; and $10 for ten; besides a gratis copy to the getter-up of a club of ten. Specimen copies will be sent to any one who wishes to form a club, by addressing F. Gleason, Boston, Mass.

COLD WEATHER. They have had weather at St. Paul, Minnesota, which sent the quicksilver thirty below zero.

DIVIDEND. The Old Colony and Fall River Railroad, has declared a dividend of three per cent.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK FOR JANUARY, 1860. The oldest magazine published in the United States. The largest circulation, and certainly the cheapest. Godey's circulation will be, this year, 150,000 copies.—The January number contains three steel engravings, one colored fashion-plate, containing five figures—a bride amongst them. The title-page contains five separate engravings, each one perfect in itself. "Godey's Offering for New Year's," superbly printed in colors, and a gem of the art. "The First Fall of Snow," a very reasonable engraving. In all there are seventy-nine engravings, of which twenty are full page engravings—precisely twice as many as are contained in any other magazine, and thirty more literary articles. No publisher in the world can present such a magazine as that of the January Lady's Book.

TERMS.—One copy, one year, $3; two copies, $5; three copies $6. Five copies and one to the getter-up of the club, $10. Godey's Lady's Book and Arthur's Home Magazine both one year, $9.50. Godey's Lady's Book and Harper's Magazine both one year, $4.50.

Special Notices.

NOTICE. There will be a meeting of the ADAMS LITERARY ASSOCIATION at Barker's Hall on MONDAY EVENING, Jan. 2d, at 7 o'clock.

Question for Debate. "Ought the third article of the Bill of Rights in the Constitution of this State to be restored, in regard to the support of public worship."

P. S. A full attendance is requested as business of importance will come up.

Per order, C. H. PORTER, Sec'y. Quincy, Dec. 31. 1w

SPIRITUALISTS MEETING. Services, usual hours, forenoon and afternoon.

In Johnson's (Mariposa) Hall, Mr. Townsend, of Vermont, will speak to-morrow.

Quincy, Dec. 31. 1w

A CARD TO THE LADIES. Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills for Females.

One of the most successful remedies ever discovered for female complaints. "One of the 'first ladies' of New London," who has used them says, she considers them of so much value she would not be without them, and would cheerfully pay five dollars a box for them if she could get them no less. The ingredients of these Pills are made known to every agent, and they will tell you it is the best female medicine ever sold, at the same time perfectly harmless. Price $1 per box. Sold by Mrs. E. Hayden sole agent for Quincy.

Ladies by sending her $1 through the Quincy P. O., can have the Pills sent to any part of the country confidentially by mail.

WEEKS & POTTER, 154 Washington Street, Boston, wholesale agents.

S. D. HOWE, Proprietor, N. Y. Quincy, Nov. 19th, 1859. 1y

Marriages.

In Braintree, on the 29th inst., by Rev. R. S. Storrs, D. D., Ellis Childs, Esq., of Amsterdam, New York, to Miss Fannie Hayward, eldest daughter of Dea. Elias Hayward.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 24th inst., Mr. Augustus R. Farrington, formerly of Norway, (Me.), aged 23 years.

On the 25th inst., Mrs. Ann Gallivan, aged 65 years.

At Northampton, on the 21st inst., Mrs. Bridget, wife of Mr. Patrick Gallagher, of this town, aged 48 years.

Cough Medicines. MITCHELL'S N. England Cough Syrup.

West's Botanic Balm, Jewett's Pulmonary Elixir, Laroche's Indian Pulmonic Syrup, Hart's Olive Elixir, Bland's Hungarian Balm, Pectoral Honey of Liverwort, Miller's Vegetable Expectorant, Mrs. Gardner's Balm of Liverwort, Harrison's Iceland Balm, Caine's Syrup of Marsh-Mallows, Mastic's Indian Pulmonic Syrup, Smith's, Burroughs's & Warren's Cough Syrup, Down's Vegetable Elixir, Fitch's Cough Drops, and various other articles of more recent date, for sale by

Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Dec. 31

Weymouth and Braintree

INSTITUTION FOR SAVING.

THE Annual meeting of the Weymouth and Braintree Institution for Saving, for the choice of Officers for the year ensuing, will be held at their Office, on MONDAY, January 9th, 1860, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

A. S. WHITE, Treasurer. Weymouth, Dec. 31. 2w*

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE Copartnership heretofore existing between the subscribers under the style of BAILEY, CARVER & CO.

is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All persons having demands against the firm are requested to present them, and all indebted thereto, to make immediate payment to James S. Baxter.

H. BAILEY, C. W. CARVER, J. S. BAXTER. Quincy, Dec. 31st, 1859. 3w*

Dissolution. Quincy, Dec. 19th, 1859.

NOTICE is hereby given that I, John Long, have withdrawn from the Company of Elisha T. C. Ely and Daniel F. Ely, and that I shall not be responsible for any debts contracted, nor claim any rights therefrom, after the above date.

JOHN LONG. Quincy, Dec. 31

Administrator's Notice. NOTICE is hereby given that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

THOMAS HOLLES, late of Milton, in the County of Norfolk, Gentleman, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto to make payment to

THOMAS HOLLES, Administrator. Milton, Dec. 31st, 1859. 3w*

Assignee's Notice. Court of Insolvency. Before the Hon. Geo. White, Esq., Judge of Probate and Insolvency, in and for the County of Norfolk.

THE Third meeting of the creditors of LOWELL Q. SPEAR, of Weymouth, in said County, Shoe Manufacturer, an Insolvent Debtor, will be held at a Court of Insolvency, in Dedham, in said County, on the First MONDAY next, to-wit: February 1st, at one o'clock in the forenoon, at which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.

E. S. BEAL, Assignee. N. Weymouth, Dec. 31st, 1859. 2w

S. H. ALLEN, Successor to B. F. Dudley, PLUMBER & COPPERSMITH, SAVINGS BANK BUILDING, No. 38 School St., Opposite City Hall, BOSTON.

Dec. 31 3w

Boston Traveller.

BEECHER'S SERMONS

Review of the Week.

THE BOSTON TRAVELLER publishes, every week, one of HENRY WARD BEECHER'S SERMONS, and a SPIRITED REVIEW OF THE WEEK'S NEWS, with all other News and the Markets. For sale at all NEWS DEPOSITS, and by all NEWS AGENTS.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE. WEEKLY, Single copy - - - $2 00 Ten copies - - - 10 00 And one for the getter up of the club.

SEMI-WEEKLY, Single copy - - - $3 00 WEEKLY, Ten copies - - - 20 00 And a copy to the getter up of the club.

DAILY, One copy - - - $6 00 Ten copies - - - 40 00 Two cents per single copy, or Twelve cents per week.

WORTHINGTON, FLANDERS & CO., Publishers, 31 State Street. Boston, Dec. 31 3m2p

For Fall and Winter.

THE attention of Gentlemen is called to the superior assortment of UNDER GARMENTS, and of the best quality of Cutthroat & Warner's Merino, Scotch Lamb's Wool, Angora, White and Colored; Silk Shaker Flannel, Cotton Flannel, Cotton, &c. Also, every variety of GLOVES and MITTENS, including the best Galleskin and Kid, lined with Lamb's Wool or silk, TIES and SCARFS, in new styles, Linen Cambric Handkerchiefs, Suspenders, Silk Umbrellas, &c., &c., just received and for sale at fair prices by WILLIAM C. MERRILL, 213 WASHINGTON STREET, (Opposite the Old Stand while rebuilding.) BOSTON.

N. B. The finer qualities of shirts made to order, from measure, as usual. None but the best goods used, the best sewers employed, and a good fit warranted in all cases. 3w

Reduction in Prices

PATENT MEDICINES.

AS I have a large assortment of the above named articles on hand, and wishing to dispose of them for others' good, I shall sell them at the following prices.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, 75 cents; Ayer's Pills 17 cents; Burnett's Cocaine, 38 cents; Mountain Dew, 17 cents; Rosemary and Castor Oil, 15 cents; Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, 17 cents; Haynes' Balsam, 17 cents; Brown's Bronchial Troches, 17 cents; Kennedy's Discovery, 62 cents; Wright's Pills, 15 cents.

—ALSO—

Hunnewell's Universal Cough Remedy

—AND—

TOLU ANODYNE

For Neuralgia and Rheumatism, and all other popular Medicines, constantly on hand, and can be obtained at

C. C. JOHNSON, Apothecary, corner of Hancock & Granite Sts. Quincy, Dec. 24 1f

Notice.

THE Stockholders of Quincy Canal are hereby notified that their annual meeting for the choice of Officers and transaction of such other business as may come before them, will be held at the Hancock House, in Quincy, on TUESDAY, the 10th day of January, 1860, at 2 o'clock, P. M. A full meeting is requested. JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Clerk. Quincy, Dec. 31. 2w

6th Annual Announcement.

CONTINUED SUCCESS OF THE COSMOPOLITAN ART ASSOCIATION.

FROM all sections of the country subscribers to this popular Art Institution, (now in its sixth year) are being received in a ratio unparalleled with that of any previous year. ANY PERSON CAN BECOME A MEMBER by subscribing $3 which will entitle him to

1st—The beautiful Steel Engraving, "Shakespeare and his Friends,"

2d—A copy of the elegantly illustrated Art Journal, one year.

3d—A Free Season Admission to the Galleries, 548 Broadway, New York.

In addition to which, over four hundred valuable Works of Art are given to subscribers as Premiums, comprising choice Paintings, Sculptures, Outlines, &c., by the first American and Foreign Artists.

The superb Engraving, which every subscriber will receive immediately on receipt of subscription, entitled

"SHAKESPEARE AND HIS FRIENDS," is of a character to give unparalleled pleasure and satisfaction. No work of equal value was ever before printed with reach of the people at such a price. The engraving is of a large size, being printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 42 inches, making a most superb ornament suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor, or office.

It can be sent to any part of the Old World, by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Think of it! Such a work, delivered free of charge, and the Art Journal, one year, for $3. Subscriptions will be received until TUESDAY evening, Jan. 31st, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15 are entitled to six memberships.

Address C. L. DERBY, Actuary C. A. A., 546 and 548 Broadway, N. Y. Subscriptions also received by C. A. HOWLAND, Hon. Sec. for Quincy and vicinity. Quincy, Dec. 31

Collector's Sale.

I SHALL sell the following described Real Estate, to-wit: one lot of land, situated at the corner of Washington and State Sts., in said City, on SATURDAY, Jan. 1st, 1860, at 10 o'clock P. M., for the non-payment of Taxes, given me to collect for the year, 1859.

Land and House on "Bulfinch" Plain, taxed in Charles A. Wood of Boston. Tax $24 00 and cost.

34 of an Acre of Land on Billings' Plain, taxed to Thomas Thatcher of Boston. Tax $2 10 and cost.

17 Acres of Woodland, taxed to J. W. Ridge-way of Dorchester. Tax $2 45 and cost.

Land and House on "Bulfinch" Plain, taxed to Cornelius Dacey of Dorchester. Tax $12 00 and cost.

Land on Washington street, taxed to Charles Spear of Dorchester. Tax $1 05 and cost.

4 Acres of Marsh taxed to Samuel F. Lord of Dorchester. Tax $2 80 and cost.

Land and House taxed to A. R. Day of Dorchester, or by whom owned. Tax $6 30 and cost.

21,570 feet of Land taxed to Asael Stephens of Dorchester. Tax $2 80 and cost.

Lot No. 1, on GARDEN PLACE, taxed to E. G. Nichols of Freetown. Tax $1 10 and cost.

21-2 Acres Land taxed to Heirs of James Adams of Milton. Tax $1 40 and cost.

Notice.

THE Stockholders of Quincy Canal are hereby notified that their annual meeting for the choice of Officers and transacting of such other business as may come before them, will be held at the Hancock House, in Quincy, on TUESDAY, the 10th day of Jan. 1890, at 2 o'clock, P. M. A full meeting is requested. JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Clerk. Quincy, Dec. 31. 2w

6th Annual Announcement.

CONTINUED SUCCESS OF THE COSMOPOLITAN ART ASSOCIATION.

FROM all sections of the country subscribers to this popular Art Institution. (now in its sixth year) are being received in a ratio unparalleled with that of any previous year.

ANY PERSON CAN BECOME A MEMBER by subscribing $3 which will entitle him to 1st—The beautiful Steel Engraving, "Shakespeare and His Friends." 2d—A copy of the elegantly illustrated Art Journal, one year. 3d—A Free Season Admission to the Galleries, 548 Broadway, New York.

In addition to which, over four hundred valuable Works of Art are given to subscribers as Premiums, comprising choice Paintings, Sculptures, Outfits, &c., by the first American and Foreign Artists.

The superb Engraving, which every subscriber will receive immediately on receipt of subscription, entitled

"SHAKESPEARE AND HIS FRIENDS," is of a character to give unqualified pleasure and satisfaction. No work of equal value was ever before placed within reach of the people at such a price. The Engraving is of a large size, being printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most superb ornament suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor, or office. It can be sent to any part of the country, by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage prepaid.

Think of it! Such a work, delivered free of charge, and the Art Journal, one year, for $3. Subscriptions will be received until TUESDAY evening, Jan. 31st, 1890, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15 are entitled to six memberships.

Address C. L. DERBY, Secretary C. A. A., 548 and 548 Broadway, N. Y. Subscriptions also received by C. A. H. W. LAND, Hon. Sec. for Quincy and vicinity. Quincy, Dec. 31. 2w

Collector's Sale.

I SHALL sell the following described Real Estate, situated in Quincy, on SATURDAY, Jan. 14th, 1890, at 3 o'clock P. M., for the non-payment of Taxes, given me to collect for the year, 1889.

Land and House on Balfage Plain, taxed to Charles A. Wood of Boston. Tax $24.00 and cost.

34 of an Acre of Land on Billings' Plain, taxed to Thomas Thatcher of Boston. Tax $2.10 and cost.

17 Acres of Woodland, taxed to J. W. Ridgeway of Dorchester. Tax $2.45 and cost.

Land and House on Balfage Plain, taxed to Caroline Dancy of Dorchester. Tax $11.20 and cost.

Land on Washington Street, taxed to Charles Spear of Dorchester. Tax $1.05 and cost.

4 Acres of Marsh taxed to Samuel P. Land of Dorchester. Tax $2.80 and cost.

Land and House on Balfage Plain, taxed to Charles A. Wood of Boston. Tax $24.00 and cost.

21.570 feet of Land taxed to Asael Stephens of Dorchester. Tax $2.20 and cost.

Lot No. 1, on Greenleaf Place, taxed to T. G. Nichols of Freetown. Tax $1.40 and cost.

21.2 Acres Land taxed to Henry of James Adams of Milton. Tax $1.40 and cost.

4.2 Acres of Marsh taxed to W. F. Baker of Milton. Tax $1.05 and cost.

Land on W. and street taxed to Joseph Corlis of Milton. Tax $2.10 and cost.

4.12 Acres of Marsh taxed to Simon Ferry of Milton. Tax $1.05 and cost.

Land taxed to the Heirs of Elisha Hunt of Randolph. Tax $1.40 and cost.

Land on Edwards' Place taxed to Prescott Nash of Weymouth. Tax 70 cents and cost.

Land of Edwards' Place taxed to Baker & Perry, residence unknown. Tax 70 cents and cost.

Land and House taxed to Wm P. Hayden, residence unknown. Tax $2.10 and cost.

Land on Edwards' Hill taxed to Wm Cabill, residence unknown. Tax 70 cents and cost.

House, Shop and Land taxed to Shadrach Wade, or by whom owned. Tax $25.00 and cost.

2 Lots on Edwards' Place taxed to Wm Nash, residence unknown. Tax $1.40 and cost.

Land on Edwards' Place taxed to Wm T. Osmin, residence unknown. Tax $1.40 and cost.

The above will be sold at the time and place mentioned above, unless the taxes and cost are previously paid.

C. A. CUMMINGS, Collector. Quincy, Dec. 17. 3w

Gifts, Gifts, Gifts.

PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE MY STOCK OF

CHRISTMAS

AND New Year's Presents, Consisting of all kinds of Toys and Useful Articles for the Holidays. Do not forget the young folks but Call & purchase, next door to B. F. Meserve's

WARREN VEAZIE Quincy, Dec. 24. 2s

Look at what 50c will purchase FOR A CHRISTMAS

New Year's Present!

— THAT IS — Both Useful and Pleasing for the old or young.

A BEAUTIFUL BOX, CONTAINING

A Bottle of Choice Perfumery, A Cake of English Honey Soap, A Good Steel Round Portmanteau, Or BOX No. 2, if preferred, containing a Superior English Pen Knife— Fine Ivory Comb, and a 25 cent

Bottle of Spalding's Rosemary. — AT —

POLLOCK'S, 312 Washington Street, BOSTON. 3w

BOOKS,

TOYS, FANCY GOODS, A NEW AND LARGE VARIETY, PURCHASED EXPRESSLY FOR CHRISTMAS, AND

New Year's Presents! C. GILL & CO., QUINCY BOOK

FANCY GOODS STORE. Quincy, Dec. 17. 3w

At the Old Stand, HANCOCK ST., - - QUINCY.

SHAWLS, DOMESTICS, FLANNELS, WOOLLENS, BLACK SILKS, FANCY GOODS, CASHMERE, ALPACAS, MORECUES, POILDE CHEVRES, HOSIERY AND GLOVES, WHITE GOODS, Linens, Housekeeping Goods, SMALL WARES, &c. &c. &c.

All of which will be sold at the very LOWEST PRICES by ELBRIDGE CLAPP. Quincy, Dec. 10. 2w

FACTS FOR THE Consideration of Economical WHOLESALE & RETAIL BUYERS

OVER $55,000 WORTH OF PRIME READY-MADE WINTER CLOTHING!

To be closed off during the NEXT THIRTY DAYS. AT PRICES BELOW THE LOWEST BARGAIN HITHERTO OFFERED AT

LANE'S GREAT BARGAIN STORE, 32 DOCK SQUARE. 32

The long continued open general fall and winter weather has left us with a large supply of CASOLD GOODS ON HAND, Which must be disposed of within 30 days, as our system has invariably been to allow no goods to remain on our shelves over the season.

This stock embraces every variety of READY-MADE

Fine, Fashionable and Heavy WINTER GARMENTS,

ADAPTED FOR Professional Men, Merchants, Mechanics and Laborers.

LANE'S 32 DOCK SQUARE. 32. Quincy, Dec. 17. 3w

SAVE THE PIECES. UPTON'S STEAM REFINED Liquid Glue.

An indispensable article in every family for mending

FURNITURE, VASES, ORNAMENTS, TOYS, &c.

THE proprietor in offering this article in the market, would most respectfully solicit the public to test its efficacy. He warrants it on equalled by any preparation of its nature, ever before offered, or in strength, purity, freedom from unpleasant odor, or in ease of application.

It is manufactured from UPTON'S GLUE, so long and so justly celebrated throughout the country.

Every frugal housekeeper should have a bottle for mending the thousand and kind of things which are daily broken, and would be a total loss but for the discovery of this valuable article.

Sold by all the principal Grocers, Stationers, and Apothecaries throughout the country.

C. H. FROST, Wholesale Agent, NO. 24 CENTRAL ST. BOSTON.

N. B. Be sure and inquire for Upton's Steam Refined.

GEORGE W. VINTON, CONFECTIONER, NO. 313 WASHINGTON STREET.

MR. VINTON has just received a few cases of imported Cupids, Flowers and other Cake Ornaments, which he will sell at Wholesale or Retail.

Also, a large lot of Rich Figures, fine Bonbons, Cornucopias, Glass Boxes, Paper Boxes, Drums, French Confectionery, elegant Sugar Ornaments, plain and crystallized, to decorate

Christmas Trees. He has a few elegant FANCY BOXES, filled with the finest FRENCH CONFECTIONERY, suitable for Holiday Gifts. The best of WEDDING CAKE constantly on hand, and made to order. FRESH PEACHES, in cans. PRESERVES and JELLIES, of all kinds. 3w—dec 17.

Grover & Baker's CELEBRATED FAMILY Sewing Machines! Over 30,000 in use.

SALESROOM IN BOSTON, 18 SUMMER STREET. AGENCIES THROUGHOUT THE WORLD. Boston, Nov. 12. 7w

Assignees' Notice.

THE Third meeting of the Creditors of JOHN W. HIGHT, will be held at the Court of Insolvency, at Dedham, on the 1st MONDAY of January next, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, at which meeting creditors may be present and prove their claims.

LABAN PRATT, THOS. CURTIS, Assignees. Dec. 19th, 1889. 2w

Administrator's Notice. NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator de bonis non of the Goods and Estate of

WILLIAM TORREY, late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Gentleman, deceased, and has accepted said trust. And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

SETH ADAMS, Administrator de bonis non. Quincy, Dec. 24. 3w

Administrator's Notice. NOTICE is hereby given, that the Subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Goods and Estate of

ELIHU WHITE, late of Dorchester, in the County of Norfolk, Physician and Druggist, deceased, and has accepted said trust.

And all persons having demands upon the Estate of the said deceased, are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted thereto, to make payment to

N. L. WHITE, Administrator. Braintree, Dec. 17, 1889. 3w

NORFOLK, ss. At a meeting of the County Commissioners held at Dedham, in and for said County, on the twenty second day of November, A. D. 1889, by adjournment of the September meeting, next preceding:

Upon the petition of Appleton Howe and others, inhabitants of the Town of Weymouth, representing that the public convenience and necessity require the location and construction of a public highway in said Weymouth, from a point on Oak Street, near the dwelling house of Allen Young and running in a westerly direction to a point on Pleasant Street, near the house of Ezra Keedy; and requesting the Commissioners to examine the route, locate and cause to be constructed the said road, according to the form of the statutes in such case, made and provided, (said route having been first given to all persons and corporations interested,) the County Commissioners met at the South Weymouth Station, of the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad in Weymouth, on the seventeenth day of Nov., A. D. 1889, at 10 A. M. and thereupon viewed and viewed the route described in said petition, and said petitioners appeared, and the Town of Weymouth was then and there represented by its Officers and Agents, and said Commissioners heard all persons and corporations interested, and said case was argued and continued to the date hereof, and said Commissioners adjudge and determine that the public convenience and necessity require the location and construction of the said road, and established as a highway.

NATHANIEL F. SAFFORD, County Commissioner. SETH MAON, 2d, County Commissioner. LUCAS FOND, County Commissioner.

On the Adjudication aforesaid, Ordered, that the County Commissioners will meet at the Railroad Station of the Old Colony and Fall River Railroad in Weymouth, on WEDNESDAY, the Second day of February next, at Nine o'clock A. M., and proceed to view and lay out and locate said highway, hear all persons and corporations interested, and take evidence in relation to said Adjudication as by law they may be authorized to do; and that an attested copy of said Adjudication, with this Order thereon, be served upon the Clerk of the Town of Weymouth, thirty days at least before the time appointed for said day of meeting; and also that a like copy be published three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot and Randolph Transcript, newspapers printed in Quincy and Randolph, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said day of meeting; and that like copies be served upon all persons and corporations interested in said Weymouth, fourteen days at least before said day of meeting; that all persons and corporations interested, do then and there appear and be heard if they see fit.

EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk. A true copy of the Adjudication on file, and Order thereon. Attest. EZRA W. SAMPSON, Clerk. Dec. 17. 3w

Universal Cough Remedy for every species of LUNG COMPLAINTS. WHOOPING AND COMMON COUGHS, AND SORE THROAT.

THE JUSTLY CELEBRATED Tolu Anodyne! THE GREAT NEURALGIC REMEDY and adapted to all NERVOUS COMPLAINTS, Particularly that of Nervous Headache.

THESE valuable and reliable preparations now being introduced into our State and the country are sustained by the most reliable testimonials, and prepared by the strictest laws in Pharmacy.

To Physicians, Dealers, or invalids, we ask that you examine the circulars, which may be found with all dealers; and we do not hesitate to declare that you will find them worthy your confidence. It is the determination of the proprietors to publish none but reliable testimonials, and in every department to invite rigid inquiries, that we may have the confidence due deserving preparations.

"PRICES WITHIN REACH OF ALL." J. W. HUNNEWELL & CO., 5, 6, 7, and 8, Commercial Wharf, Boston, General Agents. GEORGE H. HUNNEWELL, 145 Water Street, Sole Agent for New York.

Under the special supervision of JOHN L. HUNNEWELL, Chemist and Pharmacist, to whom direct all communications. Sold by Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Agent for Quincy, and by all respectable druggists everywhere. Dec. 24. 6w

Read and Remember. C. GILL & CO. wish to call particular attention to their large variety of Soft Hats, of brown and fine Black. Their stock has just been enlarged with well-selected articles, comprising amongst others a good assortment of the "Lodger" Hat, for men and boys. A new style of Black "Lodger" will also be shown, which is a very desirable low priced article. The excellent quality of the Hats sold by them for reasonable prices, is so well known as well as the good assortment they can give to select from, that further description is entirely unnecessary. Quincy, Sept. 3. 2w

READ THAT

Almanacs and Diaries for 1890, IN GREAT VARIETY AT THE QUINCY BOOKSTORE. Quincy, Dec. 24. 2w

New Store! New Goods! B. F. MESERVEY, HAVING returned to Quincy and taken the Store, one door north of David B. Stetson's Variety Store, in

JOHNSON'S BUILDING, Will keep constantly on hand, a large stock of Gold and Silver Watches, Fob, Cuff and Vest Chains, LOCKETS, Cameo, Gold Stone, Jet, Florentine, Painted, Coral and Mosaic Jewelry.

GOLD BRACELETS, ELEGANT PINS, GENTS' PINS and Studs, FINGER RINGS.

Together with a large assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, Clocks and Fancy Goods.

Having his Goods direct from the manufacturer, he will be enabled to sell them much less than the usual retail prices. He will also keep a LARGER STOCK than ever offered before in Quincy. All Goods warranted as represented. Old Gold and Silver taken in exchange. 32 Gold Plates Engraved &c.

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry repaired in a faithful manner, and done when PROMISED. Quincy, Oct. 24. 2w

NEW STOCK.

THE subscriber wishes to call the attention of the citizens of Quincy and vicinity to his New Stock of De Laines, Prints, Linens, Table Cover, Napkins, &c.

HOSIERY, GLOVES, MITTENS, Clouds Hoods, Under Sleeves, and a great variety of FANCY GOODS, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS, SHIRTS, COLLARS, POCKET HANDKERCHIEFS, Bosoms, Suspenders, Gloves, Mittens, &c. &c. At so

just received a large lot of WORSTEDS, of every shade for working or knitting. Please give a call at my Store on HANCOCK STREET, next door to B. F. Meservey's. WARREN VEAZIE. Quincy, Dec. 3. 2w

COAL.

At 6.00 Per Ton!! THE subscriber, Agent for the celebrated "Hicksbury Coal," now offers the best qualities of RED AND WHITE ASH COAL, of various sizes, at $6.00 per ton. Cash, delivered in any part of the Town of Quincy.

This Coal has stood the test of trial by the particular, in New York and Boston, and is pronounced by all equal, if not superior to the very best Coal offered for public use.

Please call on the subscriber at his residence on George's Hill, or on Green Street, and examine this Coal a trial. SAMUEL R. EDWARDS. Quincy, Dec. 10. 2w

COAL! COAL!

THE subscriber has for sale at his Wharf the most desirable qualities of Coal, and has just received a cargo of

Superior Red Ash Coal. TREVERTON COAL, which is equal to the celebrated Franklin Coal, and which is warranted to give entire satisfaction. I have also the celebrated

John's Coal for Furnaces, which is too well known to comment on. ALSO—All the different sizes and qualities which may be wanted—Egg, Stove, &c. ALSO—Cumberland Coal from George's Creek, which is free from ironstone and all impurities. Just received a lot of Nova Scotia Wood, extra quality. NATHANIEL WHITE. Quincy, Nov. 12. 2w

ADAMS & HERSEY, GRANITE WHARF, (Quincy Point.) HAVE just received one cargo of FRANKLIN COAL, which they will sell at $7.00 per ton.

OTHER KINDS OF Coal at $5.50 per Ton. 32—Orders left at Geo. L. Baxter & Co.'s Store, George H. Locke's, or with Geo. W. Kenison, will be early attention. Quincy, Dec. 3. 2w

Painting Business. THE subscribers having formed a partnership in business, under the firm of

DAVENPORT & POPE, and having opened a Shop, on the premises of George Curtis, in School Street, are now prepared to answer all orders with neatness and dispatch

Painting, Graining, Varnishing and GLAZING. Small as well as large jobs thankfully received; and a share of public patronage respectfully solicited. WILLIAM DAVENPORT, CHARLES E. POPE. Quincy, Oct. 9. 3w

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

NEW FALL AND WINTER STYLES

OF OVERCOATS, Business Frocks, and Sacks, Dress Frocks, Pantaloon and Vests, now ready at the

ONE PRICE CLOTHING STORE, 158 Washington St. Boston, Macullar & Williams, Boston, Nov. 5. 2m

RUSSELL'S New Cloth & Clothing Store QUINCY.

THE above having leased the Rooms nearly opposite the Episcopal Church, Cor. of Hancock and School Streets, where may be found a Good assortment of Piece Goods, which will be sold by the yard, or Made into Garments to suit purchasers.

ALSO A WELL SELECTED STOCK OF READY MADE CLOTHING! Suitable for Men and Boys' Wear.

His stock of Goods being entirely new, and purchased the present season for cash, will be sold at low tariff of prices for cash and cash only.

A good assortment of Furnishing Goods on hand. N. B. John Russell grateful for past favors would be happy to meet his old customers and the public, where he will be ever ready to wait on their wants. Quincy, Oct. 15. 2w

Boys' Clothing. THE subscriber intends making the sale of Boys' Clothing a distinct branch of his business. In order to accommodate all he will endeavor to keep on hand a

General Assortment of Sizes AND QUALITIES. Any garment that may be wanted that is not on hand, will be provided in one day's notice. Please call and examine the Goods and Prices. THOMAS DODDS. Quincy, August 25. 2w

Look at This! Money Wanted! J. W. LOMBARD has on hand a very large and desirable Stock of Gents' Overcoats, Dress Coats, Pants, Vests, etc., etc., which he is selling at prices that cannot fail to give satisfaction. Also, a good assortment of Boys' Clothing, cheap for Cash!

Call and examine for yourselves. Buy if you wish to look as much and as long as you have a mind to—free of expense. Quincy, Dec. 3, 1889. 2w

T. DODDS, MERCHANT TAILOR AND DEALER IN Ready Made Clothing, Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods!

KEEPS on hand a superior assortment of Goods adapted for the season, which he makes to measure and wears satisfactorily.

His Stock of Ready Made Clothing is made of the best material and in the best manner, which he sells at the lowest prices.

All those who wish for a good garment—and who does not?—will do well to call and examine for themselves.

Remember every garment warranted to be what it is represented. Quincy, April 30. 2w

MILLINERY AND DRESS MAKING. Mrs. M. E. Curtis

WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has received a

New and Fashionable Assortment of MILLINERY GOODS, suitable for the season, consisting of Velvets, Satins, Flowers Ribbons, Ruches, etc. Straw, Fancy and Mourning Bonnets, ready-made and trimmed, or made to order.

AN EXPERIENCED MILLINER will be ready to execute orders promptly and faithfully. Dresses, and all the latest styles of Cloaks and outside garments, cut to order, and warranted to suit customers. Also, Dress Buttons, Corsets, Watteauing Skirts, Wadded Gowns, with a variety of articles too numerous to mention, for sale as low as they can be purchased elsewhere. Quincy, Oct. 22. 2w

GROCERIES, FLOUR, AND PROVISIONS! THE Subscriber would respectfully invite the inhabitants of Quincy and vicinity to call and examine his stock of Groceries, Flour and Provisions, where they will find a Good assortment of all kinds of Goods kept commonly in a Grocery Store, which he will sell at the lowest wholesale price.

A few more chests of Old Hyson Tea at 25 cents per pound. 50 Tubs of prime dairy Butter. 200 Bushels of Cheunging and Long Red Potatoes.

All those in want of Goods will find it for their interest to call and examine, as they will find a good assortment at the lowest prices.

32—Goods delivered to any part of the Town free of expense. H. VINAL, at the Old Stand of Faxon & Brothers. Quincy, Oct. 27. 2w

SILVER SOAP. A SIMPLE preparation for cleaning Silver Plate, Jewelry, Marble, &c., by which one half the labor may be saved, without injuring the finest article. For sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, July 23. 2w

Turret and Marine Clock Com'y,

5 & 13 Water Street, Boston, Mass., Manufacture, and are prepared to finish at short notice, Crane Patent Escapement Tower Clock. THE PATENT UNIVERSAL CLOCK indicating the time on any number of dials, throughout the building.

The Patent Escapement Fire Alarm, HOUSE, OFFICE, CALENDAR, MARINE AND WATCH CLOCKS, AND REGULATORS.

Also, Agents for the sale of Church and other kinds of BELLS. DANIEL BAXTER, Collins Stevens, Geo F Walker, Agt M G Crane. Boston, Dec. 24. 3w

For Sale. ONE-HALF or the whole of the Stock in the Store of the Subscribers, and the Store to Let.

We shall offer all the Goods at retail, at Cost, for CASH, from this date until the Fifteenth day of JANUARY next, as we intend to close up the business of the present firm at that time.

All persons indebted to us are respectfully requested to pay on or before that time. JOHN A. WOOD. Quincy, Dec. 10. 2w

Just Received, A GOOD assortment of Candles, different kinds and sizes. Spermaceti, Wax and French Sperm. For Sale by Mrs. E. HAYDEN. Quincy, Dec. 17. 2w

Poetry.

The Skaters.

My child, (the good old man did say)
My child, come near to me;
Come tell thy father what this day
Hath pleasant been to thee.

Father, the bottom boy replied,
When school was done and o'er,
With a merry shout and a joyous stride
We ran for the frozen shore.

Down on the knee we in a trice
Buckled the binding strap,
And away we went on the glary ice
With a whoop, halloo, and clap.

And curious figures did we cut,
As ever were cut by skate,
The circle now, then heel to heel,
And now the figure of eight.

And away we went—nor felt no fall.
There's a hole; take care! take care!
Look out! look out! there comes the ball!
O what a bound was there!

And thus we warmed the cold away;
Our cheeks were rosy red;
But there was one whose feet did stay,
Nor on the ice did tread.

Why stand you there upon the snow,
You timid one, and cold?
Come, venture here, and we will show
And learn you to be bold.

Away we went upon the race,
With scarce a look behind,
But still the boy in the same place
To stand was yet inclined.

And then it was upon his cheeks
I saw the frozen tear;
He did not try—why should he speak,
When Nature speaks so clear?

The tear its story did relate
In language strong and sure;
No sled had he, nor yet a skate—
To buy he was too poor.

My Hollenders of burnished steel
Now on his feet appear—
O, 'tis a pleasant time to feel
I've thawed that frozen tear!

Well down, my boy, thou ever live;
Such actions never grieve;
Know thou to sleep in peace to give
Than ever to receive.

And when thy cheek, my child, to-night,
Doth thy soft pillow press,
Sink thou to sleep in peace delight,
For God thy deed will bless.

Martyrs

In the olden time were heroes—
Men with courage bold and high;
Men, who, with faith unshaken,
Feared not for the Truth to die.

In the strength of noble manhood,
For the Right their lives they gave,
Quitting not when rack or flog
Oped for them a martyr's grave!

Conscience was to them a teacher,
And its earnest voice they heeded;
Gave them strength to stand undaunted,
In the darkest trial hour.

Laws, if cruel and oppressive,
Were to them no rule or guide;
Tyrants never received their homage,
Though by thousands defied.

True to God, and true to duty,
Flatterers praise they never sought;
Nor was honor, wealth, or station,
By a life of falsehood bought.

Warm humanity was beating
In each noble, generous heart;
They, like Mary, heard Christ's teaching—
Chose with her "the better part."

And their spirit has not left us;
Men like them are living now,
With a faith like theirs unshaken,
With a soul like theirs no how.

Though the world may coldly scorn them,
And their traits may now be dim,
And the oppressor in his greatness,
Like the Levite, "stop aside!"

Though the friends they love and trusted,
Meet them with averted eye,
And, in place of kindly greetings,
Pass in silent silence by.

Though the poisoned shafts of Malice
Deeply wound the trusting heart,
And the venomous breath of Slander
Doth assail with deadly art.

Yet the true man falters never!
Still the cross he bears on high,
Knowing though it lead to Calvary,
Truth with him shall never die.

For the Master whom he loveth,
That dark way has trod before—
He will strengthen and support him,
Till life's conflicts all are o'er.

Anecdotes.

Mr. Curran, the late celebrated Irish advocate, was walking one day with a friend who was extremely punctilious in his conversation; hearing a person near him say curiously, he exclaimed, "show that man murders the English language." "Not so bad," replied Curran "he has only knocked an eye out!"

An old man picked up half a dollar. "Old man, that's mine," said a keen looking rascal, "so hand it over." "Did you see, have a hole in it?" asked the finder. "Yes it had," said the other suntuily. "Then it isn't mine."

"Joe, how many scruples are there in a drachm?" "Don't know, sir." "Eight." "Pooh! I had always taken his drachm without any scruples."

A young man who had spent a little of his own time, and a great deal of his father's money, in reading for the bar, was asked after his examination, how he got along?—"Very well," said he, "I answered one question right." "Ah, indeed," said the old gentleman, "and what was that?" "They asked me what a qui tam action was, and I told them I didn't know."

"You'll kill yourself, smoking so much, husband." "Indeed wife, I must use the weed." "Oh, very well, I guess I shall have occasion for weeds myself, pretty soon."

ATTENTION.
The Largest and Most Complete

ASSORTMENT OF

HARDWARE

DOORS

BLINDS

SASHES, &c. &c.

Bailey, Carver & Co.

Ever offered to the people of Quincy, may be found by calling upon

Having recently made large additions to our stock of

BUILDING MATERIALS,

we are prepared to furnish them at prices to correspond with the times

CHEAPER THAN EVER!!

We will sell Nails by the Ton or single Pound.

DOORS,

SASHES,

BLINDS,

WINDOW GLASS,

NAILS,

SHEET LEAD,

FRAMING PINS,

WINDOW FRAMES,

DOOR BELLS,

SCREWS,

MORTICE LOCKS,—in a great Variety.

ALSO—Pail, Rust, Closet, Store and Sash

Locks;

MORTICE, THUMB AND PEOPLE'S

LATCHES;

Porcelain, Glass, Mineral and Mahogany Knobs;

AND AXLE PULLEYS,

A good assortment of Hinges of all kinds

Wrought, Fancy Plate,

STRAP, BLIND, AND T HINGES;

SHOVELS; DOOR SCRIPERS;

Bacon's Patent Lever Blind Fast—Crawell's

improved Blind Fast. Also—A great variety of Sash Fasteners.

Foster's Patent Window Supporter,

The best thing ever used in the place of weights;

DOOR BELLS HUNG TO ORDER.

DON'T FORGET

AT THE OLD STAND OF

BAILEY, CARVER & CO.,

SCHOOL STREET.

Quincy, Jan. 23.

Rubber Goods.

C. GILL & CO., are prepared to supply

Men, Women, Boys, Misses and Children with Rubber Boots, Shoes and Sandals. A complete assortment of sizes always on hand, and ALL of the first quality. We keep

none of that quality of Rubber Boots and Shoes

that can be afforded at prices below the Manufacturer's prices, for warranted first quality,

and the temptation to sell as low as some Rubber Goods are offered, is not sufficient to induce

us to furnish to our customers that class of goods. A few cents saved is not always the best economy. Get the best.

Quincy, Dec. 10.

Hall's Great

SCROFULAR REMEDY.

This Purely Vegetable Preparation is pleasant

and agreeable to the taste, and simple in its action, causing neither vomiting, nor purging. It

acts directly upon the primary cause of diseases

regulates the Bowels, removes all vitiated secre-

tions, giving a healthy action to the Liver and correcting the action of the Stomach. It overcomes that feeling of Languor which is often experienced in the Spring and Summer, and renovates and restores the vital energy and Physical Strength.

In thousands of cases of Scrofula and Scrofu-

lous Humors, such as Salt Rheum, Erysipelas,

Scald Head, Tumors, Ulcers, Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, Inflammatory Rheumatism, Fever,

Sore, Whooping Cough, Dropsy, Blisters, Baiter's

Itch, Piles, Old Sores, and all diseases which manifest themselves by Eczema or Eruptions on the Skin, it has been used with the most gratifying

success, after every other known remedy has been

tried and failed to afford relief.

It is also an effective cure for Liver Complaint,

Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Costiveness and Derange-

ment of the Urinary Organs.

It is an infallible remedy for irregularities and

other diseases peculiar to FEMALES, such as

Weakness and Pain in the Back, Strangury, Affections of the Kidneys, Eruption of the Heart,

Dizziness and Headache.

It can be given with perfect safety and most desirable results in all cases, to any person from

infancy to old age.

Made and sold by WM. SMITH HALL, Sole

Proprietor, Quincy, Mass., to whom all orders

must be addressed. Sold also by Redding & Co.,

No. 8 State street; Geo. C. Goodwin, No. 99

Union street, Boston, and all Druggists and Medicine Dealers throughout the United States.

Mrs. E. HAYDEN, AGENT.

Quincy, Dec. 13.

The Green Book.

JUST PUBLISHED, 150 PAGES, Price 25c.

ON Single and Married Life; or, the Institutions of Marriage; its Intent, Obligations, and Physical and Legal Disqualifications; the rational treatment of all private diseases in both sexes, &c. To which is added a pointed essay, entitled "Calisthenics," or the art of having and rearing beautiful and healthy children, by the late Robert J. Culverwell, Esq., M. D.

Sent free of postage, by the Publishers, Clus-

Kline & Co., Box 4886, New York, or Dexter &

Co., Wholesale Agents, 112 N. Second Street, New

York. Agents wanted everywhere.

Also, Gratis, an extract and sample of the above, entitled: Dr. Culverwell's Lecture

on the rational treatment of Syphilis, and other private diseases generally, detailing the means by which it is not only effectually cured, but without the use of dangerous medicines, and at

but little expense to themselves. Sent free by mail in a secure envelope, on the receipt of one stamp, to prepay postage, by addressing,

CHARLES KLINE & CO.,

Box 4886, New York City.

Feb. 19.

Insurance against Fire.

THE QUINCY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY OF MASSACHUSETTS, INC.

insure Real and Personal Property against the hazard of Fire, for five years or less, on favorable terms.

Farmers, Mechanics, Householders, Traders, Merchants, and all Owners of Property not extra hazardous, are solicited to patronize this Company; every effort will be made to accommodate customers.

Letters, by mail or otherwise, from persons residing at a distance, relating to Fire Insurance, will be promptly attended to.

PRESIDENT, WILLIAM S. MORTON,

TREASURER, ISRAEL W. MUNROE,

SECRETARY, STEPHEN BATES,

DIRECTORS, Quincy, Milton,

William S. Morton, Charles Brock,

Israel W. Munroe, Dorchester,

Thomas C. Webb, H. W. Blanchard,

Whitcomb Porter, Cohasset,

Stephen Bates, Solomon J. Bond,

William B. Duggan, Hingham,

Thomas Curtis, Ebenezer Gay,

R. B. Leach, South Hingham,

Randolph, Alfred Loring,

Royal W. Turner, North Bridgewater,

South Braintree, Sumner A. Hayward,

Apollon Randall, Barnstable,

Dedham, George Marston,

Jonathan A. Cobb.

References, by permission:

Hos. GEORGE T. BIGELOW, of Boston,

Hos. JOSIAH QUINCY, JR., of Boston,

Hos. AMASA WALKER, of North Brookfield,

Hos. JAMES M. WATKINS, of Randolph,

Hos. SOLOMON LINCOLN, of Hingham,

Hos. CHARLES F. ADAMS, of Quincy,

JOSIAH BRIGHAM, Esq.,

Washington Square, Quincy, near of Stone Temple

April 1.

Cheap! A Good Chance.

J. F. BURRELL has a few pairs of those

Boots, which he will sell for $1.62.

Also—Some small sizes of another lot, the

former price $1.88, which he will sell for $1.38.

Men's Congress Boots—Old Price $2.00—for

$1.75.

Ladies' Misses' and Children's Boots and Shoes for sale and warranted.

Next Door to Quincy Market House.

HANCOCK STREET.

Quincy, March 12.

SEASONED LUMBER,

Of all descriptions, at prices to suit the times

DIMENSION FRAMES,

Furnished at short notice.

Best quality of Lumber constantly on hand.

ALSO—Good Pine Wood at $5 a Cord.

For sale at BRACKETT'S WHARF.

Quincy, May 8.

$200 REWARD.

WHEREAS, the Episcopal Church in this town was destroyed by fire, on SATUR-

DAY evening the 19th inst., and there can be no doubt that it is the work of an incendiary, and the above reward will be paid to any person that will give such information as will convict the person or persons who set said fire.

And the above reward will also be paid to any person who shall detect any one in setting fire to any building of the value of Two Hundred Dollars, within the Town until the First day of March next, on conviction of the offender.

DANIEL BAXTER, Selectmen

EDMUND POPE, of Quincy,

JONA. JAMESON, of Quincy,

Quincy, Nov. 26, 1859.

$100 Reward.

THE above reward will be paid to any person who will give information to the Directors of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company, that will lead to the conviction of the incendiary who set fire to the EPISCOPAL CHURCH in this village, burnt on the 20th inst.

Quincy, Nov. 26.

$50 Reward.

WHEREAS several fires have been set

in the woods in Quincy the past ten

days, either carelessly or maliciously, the

above reward will be paid to any person who will give such information as will convict the person or persons who set said fires.

And the above reward will be paid to any person who shall detect any one setting fires

as above, on conviction of the offender, until the first day of March next.

DANIEL BAXTER, Selectmen

EDMUND POPE, of Quincy,

JONA. JAMESON, of Quincy,

Quincy, May 6th, 1859.

Notice!

THE Selectmen will meet in their Room,

in the Town House the Second and Last

SATURDAYS, in every month, from 3 to 5 o'clock, P. M., until further notice. Persons having business with the Town will please present it on those days.

Quincy, May 7.

Assessors' Notice.

THE Assessors of the Town of Quincy give

notice that they have delivered to Charles

A. Cummings, Collector of Taxes, a correct list of the Taxes, together with a warrant in due

form of law for collecting and paying in the same, and in a vote of the Town, all persons who shall pay their Taxes on or before the first day of September next, a discount of four per cent. will be made. And the Collector is required to pay interest on all taxes not paid in to the Treasurer

on or before December 1st, 1859.

DANIEL BAXTER, Assessors

EDMUND POPE, of Quincy,

JONA. JAMESON, of Quincy,

Quincy, July 2.

To Boot and Shoe MANUFACTURERS.

WE wish to call your attention to the following Goods, which we are prepared to sell

on the most favorable terms.

Black and Colored Dressings, finished especially for Congress

Black Brown and Drab Cases, 1 Top.

Black Brown and Drab Felings, for snow shoes.

Lastings, all wool. Italian do. Silk and Cotton

Warp do.

Serge de Merins, of beautiful quality for Congress Shoes.

Rubber Gasket Webs, of beautiful quality for Congress Shoes.

Boots and Congress Webs, from 4 in. to 14 in.,

new style.

Gallons, black and colors, 4 and 4 in. widths.

Shoe Ducks; Congress and Linon Canvas.

Shos Ribbons, Rosetts, and Sandal Web.

Eyelids, Corals, Shoe Laces and Straps, all sizes and lots. Shoe Buttons of all descriptions.

Linen Machine Threads,

Of the well known XXX Golden Flax Stamp, of

every description required in the manufacturing of Boots, Breeches, Shoes and Congress Work,

from No. 18 to 100, from 2 to 10 cord, in Black,

Drab,